Content

The birth of the gods and the gods' toil, digging canals (1–11); Enki asleep in the Engur; Namma wakes him; Enki has the mother goddesses nip off clay from the Abzu and form man to bear the gods' work (12–43); the feast; the contest between Ninmaḫ and Enki: Ninmaḫ forms six defective humans (a man with weak hands, a blind man, a man with paralysed feet, an "idiot", a woman who cannot give birth, a man with no male or female organ), and Enki decrees a fate and a living for each (44–82); Enki forms the Umul ("my day is far off"), whom Ninmaḫ cannot sustain (83–102); the quarrel and its resolution (103–142, damaged).

Files

- `c.1.1.2.xml`, `t.1.1.2.xml` — ETCSL TEI source (2006 revised edition; lemmatised `<w form lemma pos label>`).
- `transliteration.md` (142 composite lines), `translation.md` — clean UTF-8 conversions by `../../../tools/etcsl2md.py`.

Manuscripts

Composite after Benito 1969, with the OB manuscripts (Nippur, Ur?, unprovenanced) listed in the XML header; a Neo-Assyrian bilingual version also exists (ORACC lists provenance Nineveh). ETCSL marks lines of the bilingual and the variants.

Line numbering

ETCSL composite line numbers (142 lines). Translation paragraphs carry the line range they cover. Lines that only some manuscripts have are numbered with letters (e.g. `9A`) or given as variants in parentheses.
