Read `../../translation-guidelines.md` first, then `../corpus.md`, `../renderings.md` (corpus, binding; it inherits the flood corpus's shared renderings), `renderings.md` (this project: the eleven monsters, the fixed repeated passages), then this file.

Scope

- Text: Enūma eliš ("When on high"), the Babylonian Epic of Creation, Standard Babylonian, all seven tablets, 1,098 lines in the eBL edition (I 162, II 162, III 138, IV 146, V 158, VI 166, VII 166).
- Story: the primeval waters Apsû and Tiāmat and the birth of the gods (I 1–28); Apsû's plan to destroy the noisy gods, and Ea's victory over him (I 29–78); the birth of Marduk (I 79–108); Tiāmat roused, her army and Qingu (I 109–162); the gods' fear: Ea and Anu fail (II); Marduk's conditions and the message to Laḫmu and Laḫamu (III); Marduk's enthronement, the battle, the splitting of Tiāmat and the making of the sky (IV); the stars, the calendar, the clouds, rivers and mountains from Tiāmat's body (V); the creation of man from Qingu's blood, the building of Babylon and Esagil, the bow, the first names (VI); the fifty names and the epilogue (VII).
- Work is split by tablet. Each tablet has its own working files (`annotated-I.rtl.md` … `annotated-VII.rtl.md`, `translation-I.rtl.md` … `translation-VII.rtl.md`) and its own section below. `translation.rtl.md` (the whole poem) is generated by `build_translation.py`.

Base text

- eBL corpus, `L/1/2` (Poem of Creation), Standard Babylonian I–VII: edition A. C. Heinrich, revision Z. J. Földi and E. Jiménez; translation B. R. Foster (with A. A. Fadhil). Folders `../../sources/eBL/Enuma-elish-SB-I/` … `-VII/` (gitignored), generated by `tools/ebl_fetch.py` on 2026-10-16. Start with each folder's `reading-edition.md`; the stems are in `glossary.md`; the notes cite the bibliography in `bibliography.md`.
- Variant reconstructions (`N (variant, other manuscripts)` in `reading-edition.md`): translate the main reconstruction; give the variant in the apparatus, and translate it there when it changes the sense (e.g. I 40 […] mūšiš lū nēḫet "[…] by night let her / may you be at rest").
- Comparison (rank 3, after forming our own reading): the eBL English (Foster), cited as "eBL". Rank 5 (history only): King 1902 (`../../sources/King-1902--Seven-Tablets-of-Creation/`), Langdon 1923 (`../../sources/Langdon-1923--Babylonian-Epic-of-Creation/`). Lambert 2013, Kämmerer & Metzler 2012 and Talon 2005 are paid and were not used; Heidel 1951 (The Babylonian Genesis) is © and was not used.
- Hebrew, register only: none consulted (Shifra & Klein 1996 is ©, not owned).

Line numbering

eBL (Heinrich) numbering, which is that of Lambert 2013 for most lines. The older literature (King, Langdon, Heidel, ANET) numbers differently in II–III, V and VI–VII; the apparatus gives the old number when a parallel in the literature depends on it. eBL's `oldLineNumbers` field (in `_raw/chapter-display.json`) gives the concordance where eBL has one.

Parallels with Genesis to watch for

A preliminary list (from the relevance survey and a first reading of the edition), to be checked in the parallels index of each tablet. The relevant commentary file is `../../../../-1010/בראשית/1-פירוש/בראשית-א_א-ב_ג-שבע_ימי_הבריאה.rtl.md` (the commentary reads תְּהוֹם, רָקִיעַ ... מַבְדִּיל, וַיִּקְרָא, the luminaries, צְבָאָם, מְלַאכְתּוֹ, וַיִּשְׁבֹּת, בְּצַלְמֵנוּ, נֶפֶשׁ חַיָּה, הַתַּנִּינִם הַגְּדֹלִים, and the contrast עָשָׂה / בָּרָא).

- I 1–8 "When on high the heavens had not been named ...": creation as naming ↔ 1:5) וַיִּקְרָא (10 ,8; the "when ... not yet" opening ↔ 2:4b–5.
- I 3–5 Apsû and Tiāmat mingling their waters ↔ (1:2) תְּהוֹם [cognate], (7–1:6) מַיִם ... מַיִם.
- I 15–16 umaššil / tamšīlu: Anu his father's equal; Nudimmud begotten as Anu's likeness ↔ (5:3) וַיּוֹלֶד בִּדְמוּתוֹ כְּצַלְמוֹ.
- I 29–78 the gods' noise disturbs Apsû's rest; Apsû's plan; Ea casts sleep on him, kills him and rests in his dwelling ↔ rest (2:2–3); Atra-ḫasīs's noise.
- I 79–108 Marduk's birth "in the heart of Apsû"; Anu creates the four winds and gives them to Marduk; Marduk "stirs up" (dalāḫu) Tiāmat ↔ (1:2) וְרוּחַ אֱלֹהִים מְרַחֶפֶת עַל פְּנֵי הַמָּיִם [divergence].
- I 129–162 (= II 15–48, III 19–52, III 77–110) Tiāmat's eleven monsters, brought into being (uštabši) by the chaos mother ↔ (1:21) וַיִּבְרָא אֱלֹהִים אֶת הַתַּנִּינִם הַגְּדֹלִים. The unit the commentary is editing now.
- IV 19–26 the constellation destroyed and restored by Marduk's word ("command, and let them be firm") ↔ creation by word, וַיְהִי כֵן.
- IV 35–60, 93–104 Marduk's weapons: the bow, the net, the seven winds, the Deluge (abūbu) ↔ Ex 14–15; the wind into Tiāmat's mouth.
- IV 135–146 Tiāmat split "like a fish for drying"; half of her set up as a roof of heaven, the skin stretched, guards posted so that her waters should not go out ↔ the רָקִיעַ dividing the waters (1:6–8). Akkadian has no raqīʿu: see `../renderings.md` §3.
- V 1–46 the stations of the great gods, the stars, the year, the twelve months, the moon (Nannaru, "luminary") and its phases, the seventh day, šapattu, the sun ↔ 1:14–18 (לְאֹתֹת וּלְמוֹעֲדִים וּלְיָמִים וְשָׁנִים; the unnamed מְאוֹרֹת).
- V 47–66 clouds, rain, mist from Tiāmat's spittle; the springs; Euphrates and Tigris from her eyes; mountains on her breasts; "he shaped heaven and earth" ↔ 1:9–10; 2:6, 10–14; 1:1.
- V 73–76 the images (ṣalmu) of the eleven monsters at the gate of Apsû, "a sign (ittu) never to be forgotten" ↔ (17–9:12 ;1:26) אוֹת, צֶלֶם.
- VI 1–38 man (lullû, "let 'man' be his name") made from Qingu's blood, to bear the gods' toil so that they may rest ↔ 1:26–28; 2:7, 15; 5:2.

- VI 39–46 Marduk divides the Anunnakkū between heaven and earth ↔ Deut 32:8.
- VI 49–66 the gods build Babylon; bricks made for a year; Esagil's "head raised" ↔ 11:3–4; the shrine as a "resting place" ↔ Ps 132:14.
- VI 82–91 the bow set in heaven as a star ↔ 9:13.
- VI 121 – VII the fifty names; naming as an act of rule ↔ 2:19–20; Ex 34:5–7.

Decisions (coordinator, before drafting)

1. Corpus renderings (`../renderings.md`) and project renderings (`renderings.md`) were fixed before drafting: the names (Tiāmat `תִּיאָמַת`, Apsû `אַפְסוּ`/`הָאַפְסוּ`, Kakka `כַּכָּא`, Nannaru `נַנָּרוּ` …), the naming verbs (nabû `קָרָא`, šuma zakāru `הִזְכִּיר שֵׁם`), the sky (ṣullulu `קַרָּה`; no `רָקִיעַ`), division (parāsu `הִפְרִיד`, zâzu `חִלֵּק`), rest (nâḫu `נָח`, pašāḫu `נִרְגַּע`), ṣalmu `צֶלֶם`, tamšīlu `תַּבְנִית`, the eleven monsters, and the full Hebrew of Tiāmat's army (I 129–162).
2. Sequential drafting by tablet (I → VII), one translator at a time. Each tablet's translator receives the Hebrew of all earlier lines that its tablet repeats.
3. Section headings: follow eBL's `isBeginningOfSection` (the `---` lines in `reading-edition.md`) and add descriptive Hebrew headings (`## 1–28: …`) in both files.
4. After Tablet I (coordinator review): (a) I 156 = II 42 = III 46 = III 104 is now `יגדלו מאמריך על כולם, על האנונכי!` (apposition, not vocative; the Tablet I translator's proposal 5). (b) Brackets in repeated lines follow each tablet's own manuscripts (guidelines §6.8 and the flood corpus rule: a word is bracketed when its root, or most of it, is broken in all manuscripts of that tablet, even if a parallel line preserves it). So I 144 `[מלחמה]` (eBL tā[hāz]i) is bracketed, I 131 [na]šû (one sign) is not, and the copies in III carry their own brackets (revised after Tablet III; `verify.py` accepts bracket-only differences in repeated lines and lists them). (c) The Tablet I translator's terms in `renderings.md` §4 (šasû = `צָעַק`, ṣalālu = `יָשַׁן`, sakāpu = `שָׁכַב`, karšu = `בֶּטֶן`, lemnu = `אוֹיֵב`, gērû = `צַר` …) are binding for II–VII. (d) After Tablet IV: wabālu = `הוֹבִיל` corpus-wide, but III 56 = III 114 libbašu âra ubla keeps `לבו נשא (אותו) לגשת`, because the Hebrew idiom (שמות לה:כא) `נָשָׂאוֹ לִבּוֹ` renders the Akkadian idiom exactly; a stated exception, not a precedent.

Open decisions for the user

1. Kakka / Gaga (Anšar's vizier, Tablet III): eBL reads Kakka; the Hebrew `קַקָּה` reads as a nursery word, so the translation uses the older reading `גַּגָּא` with a note. Alternative: `כַּכָּה` or `קַקָּא`. Resolved 2026-10-23 (`../../harmonization--2026-10-23.md` row 20): `כַּכָּא` (eBL's Kakka, a final aleph so that it reads neither `קקה` nor `ככה`; always vocalized), as in Nergal and Ereškigal.
2. Marduk = `מַרְדּוּךְ` (the current Hebrew form), not the biblical `מְרֹדָךְ` (Jer 50:2), which is noted at the first occurrence. Same policy as Ištar/`עַשְׁתֹּרֶת`.
3. Apsû with and without the article (`אַפְסוּ` the god, `הָאַפְסוּ` the place, from I 71): an interpretive choice that the Akkadian does not mark.

4. Corpus-wide: šipru "work". Enūma eliš renders it `פֹּעַל` (Tablets V–VII), Atra-Ḫasīs I renders it `מְלָאכָה`. `מְלָאכָה` pre-empts `פֹּעַל`; `מְלַאכְתּוֹ` (בראשית ב:ב–ג) hides the semantic link "work" ← "send" (šapāru / לאך), which the apparatus states (VI 37). Decide one word for both corpora. Settled by the user, 2026-10-23: `מְלָאכָה` everywhere (V 63, 141, VI 37, 57, 67 changed, tagged [equivalent] Gen 2:2–3).
5. Cognate density in the text (Tablet VII decision 4): VII renders several cognates in the text itself (`הַמּוֹצִיא יָרָק`, `מַדְשִׁיא`, `אֵד`, `רְכוּבוֹ`), as the echo rule allows when the meaning matches; the alternative is neutral words with the cognates only in the notes.
6. The fifty names: Asarluḫi as `אֲסַרְלוּחִי` (eBL) or the familiar `אֲסַלּוּחִי`; the hyphenation policy (Tablet VII decision); Nēberu counted as the 50th name (Foster's count is one lower from 36 on).
7. VII 74, 128: eBL lemmatizes the common noun "sea" (`הַיָּם`), Foster reads the goddess Tiāmat.
8. Per-tablet open decisions: each tablet section below has its own list (I: 8, II: 10, III: 8, IV: 10, V: 12, VI: 11, VII: 11). Most are single cruxes or a choice between two Hebrew words; none blocks the use of the translation.

Working rules for the tablet translators

- Follow guidelines §5 step 5 for every line: read N, L, notes and variants in `reading-edition.md`; parse every word (lemma, stem, tense, ventive, subjunctive, -ma; stems from `glossary.md`); form your own rendering; only then read the eBL translation (T) and record disagreements; run the echo check (§6.4) with the tags.
- Format exactly as `../../סיפורי-המבול-המסופוטמיים/1-אתרחסיס/annotated-I.rtl.md` and guidelines §7.2: `### <line>`, the normalization in backticks, `>` Hebrew line, then `- תרגומים: -`, `- פירוק:`, `- הקבלה:` (when relevant), `- הערות:` (when relevant). The apparatus is in Hebrew.
- Draft unvocalized, plene; vocalize names at first occurrence and ambiguous words (guidelines §5, §6.2).
- Repeated lines: copy the Hebrew of the first occurrence exactly (`renderings.md` §2–3) and mark `[מקבילה: I 129]`.
- `translation-<T>.rtl.md`: a short Hebrew introduction to the tablet, `##` section headings, numbered lines `<n> <Hebrew>` followed by two spaces (line break), footnotes only for major cruxes and key parallels. Its numbered lines must equal the annotated `>` lines (`verify.py` checks this).
- Run `python3 -I ../../tools/check_bible_quotes.py <files>` and fix every mismatch. The repository's Bible has its own verse division in places (e.g. Exodus 20: `וַיָּנַח בַּיּוֹם הַשְּׁבִיעִי` is שמות כ:י); always quote with the vocalization of `תנך-מנוקד/`.
- Record in this file, under the tablet's section: scope, sources consulted, decisions, progress log (incl. the three review passes), the tablet's parallels index (table: Line | Akkadian | Hebrew rendering | Bible | Tag | Comment), and "Proposals for the shared renderings".

Tablet I

Scope

Tablet I, eBL lines 1–162 (eBL has no section breaks for this tablet; the Hebrew headings are ours):

- 1–20 "When on high": the unnamed heavens and earth, Apsû and Mummu-Tiāmat mingling their waters, no reed-meadow yet; the gods "built" (ibbanû) inside them, generation by generation: Laḫmu and Laḫamu, Anšar and Kišar, Anu, Nudimmud (= Ea), each greater than the last.
- 21–28 the young gods' noise and dancing disturb Tiāmat; Apsû cannot reduce it; Tiāmat is silent.
- 29–58 Apsû and his vizier Mummu take counsel before Tiāmat: "by day I have no rest, by night I do not sleep"; Apsû wants to destroy the gods; Tiāmat refuses ("shall we destroy what we built?"); Mummu urges him on; the gods hear and fall silent.
- 59–78 Ea's spell: he pours sleep on Apsû, strips him of sash, crown and radiance, kills him, binds Mummu, founds his dwelling on Apsû, rests in his chamber, names the place "Apsû", and dwells there with Damkina.
- 79–104 Marduk is born ("built") in the Apsû; his superhuman body (four eyes, four ears, fire from his lips); "Mār-Utu … the son, the sun of the gods"; ten gods' radiance, fifty terrors.
- 105–110 Anu creates the four winds and gives them to Marduk to play with; Marduk makes dust and a storm, brings a wave into being and roils Tiāmat; the gods inside her get no rest.
- 111–128 the gods complain to Tiāmat (Apsû's death, the winds, their sleeplessness) and urge her to war; she agrees.
- 129–162 the fixed passage (Tiāmat's army, the eleven creatures, Qingu's elevation and the tablet of destinies), copied verbatim from `renderings.md` §2, with the full apparatus.

Files: `annotated-I.rtl.md` (162 entries), `translation-I.rtl.md` (introduction, 8 section headings, 162 lines, 18 footnotes).

Sources consulted

- eBL `L/1/2` SB I: `reading-edition.md` (N, variants, notes, parallels, ATF of ~75 manuscripts), `glossary.md` (stems), `manuscripts.md`, `_raw/chapter-display.json` (checked: no `isBeginningOfSection`, no `oldLineNumbers` for Tablet I).
- eBL English (Foster/Fadhil) as rank-3 comparison, after drafting.
- King 1902 vol. 1 (history only: lines 1–21, the "chaos" reading of mummu, "no field was formed", "in the midst [of heaven]").
- The flood corpus: Atra-ḫasīs I (noise and sleeplessness, 352–359), shared renderings.
- The repository's vocalized Bible (`תנך-מנוקד/`) via `tools/check_bible_quotes.py --show`.

- Not used: Lambert 2013, Talon, Kämmerer & Metzler (paid); Langdon 1923 (not needed for Tablet I).

Decisions

1. Naming verbs: nabû = קָרָא (בְּשֵׁם) (I 1, 76); šuma zakāru = הִזְכִּיר שֵׁם / passive הֻזְכַּר בְּשֵׁם (I 2, 8, 10). To keep קָרָא exclusive for nabû (the verb behind וַיִּקְרָא of Gen 1), šasû* "to shout, call (to)" = צָעַק (I 30, 42, 43).
2. I 1–2: eliš/šapliš = ממעל/ממטה; ammatu = קַרְקַע; šamāmū = שמים (noted as poetic).
3. I 3–4, 71: Apsû without the article while he is a person (3–70, 113, 117), הָאַפְסוּ from I 71 (the place; 76 names it). מוּמוּ־תִּיאֲמַת in I 4 with the note on mummu.
4. I 6 / I 77 *gipāru: the same eBL lemma (gipāru I) has two senses: I 6 "reed-meadow" = אָחוּ (with ṣuṣû = סְבַךְ־קָנִים), I 77 "living quarters (the giparu)" = מְעוֹן. The possible wordplay is noted in I 77.
5. I 9, 12, 81–83, 89, 128: banû = בָּנָה throughout, also of birth (בְּנָה אותו אאה, נִבְנָה, נִבְנָה מַרְדּוּךְ), bānû = בּוֹנֶה); never בָּרָא.
6. I 15: taken with Anšar as subject ("Anšar made Anu, his offspring, like (himself)"), parallel to I 16; eBL has Anu as subject. Both in the note.
7. I 16 tamšīlu = תַּבְנִית; ulid = הוליד; the I 16 ↔ Gen 5:3 parallel is explicit in the apparatus and footnote 5.
8. Rest/sleep vocabulary (the background of Gen 2:2–3): pašāḫu G נָרְגַּע, Š הִרְגִּיעַ, Š stative (110 ,63 ,50 ,38) רָגוּעַ, adverb šupšuḫiš = (75) בְּמַרְגּוֹעַ; nâḫu G נָח (75; variants of 40 and 50), D (161) הֵנִיחַ; ṣalālu* = יָשֵׁן only (G, Š = Piel יִשֵּׁן), because the fixed passage gives sakāpu = שָׁכַב (130; so also 120, 122); šittu = שֵׁנָה; qūlu = נחת. דְּמָמָה is avoided (root נוח): ṭūbātiš = (64) בְּשַׁלְוָה.
9. I 23, 108–109, 116, 119 dalāḫu: G (108 ,23) דָּלַח, stative (109) דְּלוּחָה, Š (116) הִדְלִיחַ, adverb dulluḫiš (119) בְּדִלּוּחַ.
10. karšu* = (116 ,111 ,44 ,23) בָּטֶן, with the cognate כֶּרֶשׁ (Jer 51:34) in the note: כרס sounds comic in modern Hebrew, and biblical בֶּטֶן also carries thoughts (Job 15:35).
11. I 27 elīšun = "on them" (Apsû and Tiāmat), as all manuscripts read; eBL translates "to her".
12. I 64 reḫû (sleep) = נָסַךְ (Isa 29:10); I 80 ittarḫi (conception) = הָרָה (Job 3:3).
13. I 76 imbīšum-ma apsû = "קרא לו "אפסו – the Gen 1:5 construction.
14. I 81 Marduk = מַרְדּוּךְ, first-occurrence note on מְרֹדָךְ (Jer 50:2) and בֵּל (Isa 46:1). I 80 bēlu = הָאָדוֹן (common noun).
15. I 91 ilūtu = אֱלוּת (not אֱלֹהוּת, to keep ilu = אֵל).
16. I 105, 115 šār erbetti = אַרְבַּע הָרוּחוֹת; both lines begin בנה את ארבע הרוחות.
17. I 124 zāqīqu = הֶבֶל (רוּחַ stays for šāru). I 106 mēlulu = שְׁחַק. I 107 eperu = עָפָר [cognate].
18. I 129–162: the fixed Hebrew of renderings.md §2, unchanged; apparatus as listed under that table, plus notes on 133 (עָצָב ≠ עָצַב), 136/141/143 (Deut 32:33), 138 (כֵּאלֹהִים, Gen 3:5), 146.

19. eBL's lemma glosses were overridden where the form demanded it: I 10 vs 112 izzakrū (N "were named" vs Gt "spoke"); I 67 agû "crown" vs I 108 agû "wave"; I 13 ūmū "days" vs I 143 ūmū "storms"; I 110 šārīša (eBL lemma šāriš "in the wind" vs eBL translation "her winds").

Open decisions for the user

1. I 6 / I 77 *gipāru: אָחוּ (meadow) and מְעוֹן (Ea's residence) – two Hebrew words for one Akkadian word. Alternative: a transliteration גִּפָּר in I 77, to keep the link visible in the text.
2. I 15: Anšar as subject (our choice) or Anu as subject (eBL).
3. I 48 is a crux (וזיר שאינו מסכים – עצת מומו שלו): either Mummu's advice was disloyal (eBL), or "the vizier not agreeing with the counsel of his mummu" (= Tiāmat, cf. I 4).
4. Brackets in the fixed passage: in Tablet I, eBL restores part of the root in I 131 [na]šû and I 144 tā[hāz]i, but the fixed Hebrew (מלחמה , נושאים) has no brackets, and `verify.py` requires the copy to be identical. Options: (a) leave as is (the words are certain from the copies in II–III); (b) allow `[נו]שאים / מלח[מה]` in Tablet I only and teach `verify.py` that exception.
5. I 156 fixed Hebrew `יגדלו מאמריך על כולם, האנונכי!` reads as a vocative; the Akkadian anukkī is in apposition to kalîšunu ("over all of them, the Anunnakkū"). Proposal: `יגדלו מאמריך על כולם, על האנונכי!` (would change II 42, III 46, III 104 too).
6. I 40 variant […] mūšiš lū nēḫet: the form is a stative 3fs (or short 2ms), not "may I rest" (project.md, base text section). Translated in the note as "[…] בלילה יהי נח".
7. karšu* = בָּטֶן rather than the cognate כֶּרֶס (decision 10).
8. I 110 šārīša: "in the wind" (eBL lemma, our text) or "her winds" (eBL translation).

Progress log

- 2026-10-16: read the guidelines, corpus and project renderings, the flood renderings, the Atra-ḫasīs format models, the eBL edition (N, variants, notes, ATF where needed, glossary).
- 2026-10-16: drafted `annotated-I.rtl.md` in six sections (1–28, 29–58, 59–78, 79–104, 105–128, 129–162). The fixed passage was spliced in by script from `renderings.md` §2 (the Hebrew) and `reading-edition.md` (the normalization), so that both are character-exact.
- 2026-10-16, pass (a) fidelity: removed an added `ו` (I 22); corrected I 61 ukīnšu (object suffix: `כּוֹנְנוֹ כולו`, not "for him"); checked every bracket against eBL's N: ,102 `הא[לים]` ,32 `עצ[ה]` 128 `[רע]ות` ,106 `ישחק[ו]`; I 21 anu[k]kū left unbracketed (only one sign restored, the word is certain); I 131/144 in the fixed passage: see open decision 4. Every `( )` checked (15, 86, 105, 107, 1, 8, 57, 68).
- 2026-10-16, pass (b) consistency: I 105 aligned with I 115 (`בנה את ארבע הרוחות`); checked by pairs: 2/8/10 (`בשם לא הוזכרה/הוזכרו`), ,81/82 ,23/116 ,(`רגוע`) 38/50/110 ,27/37 ,(`הופְעוּ`) 7/10 26/58/114 ,(`רעך`) 113/117 (silence words), kapādu = (130 ,111 ,55 ,52) `זמם`, bukru = `צאצא`, māru = `בן`, ṣalālu/sakāpu, šūtur = (100 ,99 ,62 ,59) `יתיר`, banû; names vocalized at first occurrence only.

- 2026-10-16, pass (c) Hebrew: vocalized ambiguous forms (הֹרָה 65, יְשֵׁן 31, כְּבֵדִי 32, נִתְּנָה 119 אַתְּ ,128 הוּסְתוּ ,96 נָפְחָה ,84 מְחוֹלֶלֶת ,80); בנחת replaced by בשלווה (64, root נוח); echo grep of the Hebrew lines for תהום רקיע תנין ברא הבדיל שבת צבא מאור – no hits except the words ישבת/יושבת/בראש.
- 2026-10-16: translation-I.rtl.md generated from the annotated > lines (script), with an introduction and 18 footnotes.
- 2026-10-16, verification: python3 -I verify.py I → "Tablet I: 162 annotated entries (eBL 162), 162 translation lines; fixed passage: 34 rows checked, 0 mismatch(es); 0 difference(s) in repeated lines; problems: 0". check_bible_quotes.py on annotated-I.rtl.md, translation-I.rtl.md and this file → 0 problems (the parallels-index cells were rewritten as "quote (reference)" so that the checker actually tests them: 62 quotations). On renderings.md: 3 pre-existing mismatches in §1–§2, see Proposals. (Repeated lines with II–IV/VI cannot be compared until those tablets exist.)

Lines shared with other tablets

- I 31 → III 3 (with Kakka for Mummu; the Akkadian differs in the name).
- I 73 → IV 123 (exact, per eBL).
- I 74 → cf. IV 125.
- I 102 → cf. VI 127.
- I 127 → cf. II 13, III 17, III 75.
- I 129–162 → II 15–48, III 19–52, III 77–110 (the fixed passage).
- Internal to I: 27 ~ 37; 38 ~ 50 (~ 110); 81 ~ 82; 105 ~ 115; 23 ~ 116; 113 ~ 117; I 161 cf. I 96 (gīru). eBL also gives external parallels outside Enūma eliš: I 11 cf. L I.9 SB II 35–36; I 22–23 cf. L I.10 SB I a+39.

Hebrew of lines that later tablets repeat (final):

- I 31: מומו, הוזיר, המיטיב את כְּבֵדִי,
- I 73: אחרי אשר את אויביו אסר, הכה,
- I 74: אאה העמיד את נצחונו על צריו,
- I 102: הבן – שֶׁמֶשׁ, שמש הא[לים]!
- I 127: סבבו אותה האלים בקרבה,

Proposals for the shared renderings

For the corpus `renderings.md` (or the project §4, which has received them):

- šasû* = צָעַק, so that קָרָא stays exclusive for nabû (Gen 1 וַיִּקְרָא).

- ṣalālu* = יָשַׁן only (Š = Piel יִשֵּׁן); sakāpu* = שָׁכַב (the fixed passage already has it). The corpus row "ṣalālu = יָשַׁן / שָׁכַב (לִישֹׁן)" should be narrowed, otherwise I 120–122 and 130 collide with the sleep verb.
- karšu* = בֶּטֶן (cognate כֶּרֶשׁ in a note).
- naṣīru = צְוָחָה (beside rigmu = שְׁאוֹן, ḫubūru = הֲמָלָה); qūlu = דְּמָמָה; šittu = שֵׁנָה.
- dâlu = נָע; alaktu = דֶּרֶךְ; kapādu = זָמַם; kamû = אָסַר (N נֶאֱסַר); nêru = הָרַג; lemnu (foe) = אוֹיֵב; gērû = צַר; ernittu = נְצָחוֹן.
- ḫarmu = רֵעַ (consort); ḫāʾiru = בַּעַל; ḫīrtu = רַעְיָה.
- atāru = יָתַר, Š stative šūtur = יַתִּיר; nakālu D = חִכֵּם, stative מְחֻכָּם (cognate נכל noted).
- kummu = חֶדֶר; kiṣṣu = קְדֻשׁ; atmanu = דְּבִיר; ešertu = מִקְדָּשׁ; gipāru (building) = מְעוֹן.
- ilūtu = אֱלוּת; ištartu (common noun) = אֱלָה.
- mēlulu = שְׁחַק; zāqīqu = הֶבֶל; abšānu = מוֹטָה (ullu stays עֹל); eperu = עָפָר; agû II (wave) = גַּל.
- reḫû (sleep) = נָסַךְ; tû = לַחַשׁ; ṣerretu = חֶבֶל הָאַף; sukkallu = וְזִיר; tamlāku = יוֹעֵץ; milku = עֵצָה; šāninu = מִתְחָרֶה; bānû = בּוֹנֶה.
- Names: Andurunna = אַנְדּוּרוּנָּה; Māri-Utu = מָרִי־אוּתוּ.
- Fixed passage: see open decisions 4–5 (I 131/144 brackets; I 156 punctuation).
- `check_bible_quotes.py` on `renderings.md` reports 3 mismatches in §1–§2 (coordinator's rows, not changed here): lemma forms in backticks directly before a reference (§1 row 3 פֶּתֶן before דברים לב:לג; §2 notes הִמְשִׁיל before ישעיהו מו:ה and מְלֵא אֶת יָדוֹ before שמות כח:מא). Suggest writing them unvocalized or quoting the verse (פְּתָנִים, וְתַמְשְׁלוּנִי, וּמִלֵּאתָ אֶת יָדָם). The rows added to §4 by Tablet I pass.

Lessons for the guidelines

- eBL lemmas can join homonyms or senses that the Hebrew must separate (I 6 / 77 gipāru "meadow" / "giparu"), and one surface form can belong to two stems (I 10 izzakrū N "were named" / I 112 Gt "spoke"). Parse the form and the context, then decide whether one Hebrew word or two.
- Check the edition's translation against the transliterations themselves: in I 27 all manuscripts read e-li-šu-un "on them", while eBL translates "to her".
- Reserve the Hebrew word of a key Genesis comparison for its Akkadian counterpart only, and move other verbs away from it even when they are natural (here קָרָא for nabû only; šasû = צָעַק). Likewise avoid Hebrew words that share the reserved root (נחת from נוח).
- A fixed passage drafted before a tablet should be checked against that tablet's brackets (here I 131, 144), since the first copy may be the most damaged.
- In `translation-*.rtl.md`, do not start an introduction line with `...`: `verify.py` reads it as a numbered verse line.

Tablet II

Scope

Tablet II, eBL lines 1–162 (eBL has no section breaks and no old line numbers for this tablet; the Hebrew headings are ours):

- 1–4 Tiāmat gathers her creatures (pitqu, "those she shaped") and draws up battle against the gods, her offspring; she is now worse than Apsû; Ea is told.
- 5–14 Ea is stunned, ponders, calms down and goes to Anšar; he repeats Tiāmat's plot: "our mother hates us … even those you built go at her side" (11–14 = III 15–18 = III 73–76).
- 15–48 the fixed passage (= I 129–162): Tiāmat's army, the eleven creatures, Qingu and the tablet of destinies, copied verbatim from `renderings.md` §2, with a short apparatus pointing to Tablet I.
- 49–70 Anšar's alarm and reproach ("you started the battle … bear it yourself"); Ea's soothing answer: Anšar "who has the power to bring into being and to destroy"; had Ea not killed Apsû, who would be alive to see this?
- 71–94 Anšar sends Ea to calm Tiāmat with his spell; Ea sees her and turns back; his report (her strength, her assembly, her war-cry; "a woman's strength is not that of a male"; "send another").
- 95–118 Anšar sends Anu to calm her with entreaty; Anu fails; his report repeats Ea's word for word (103–118 = 79–94).
- 119–128 Anšar stares at the ground; the Igigi and Anunnaki sit with covered lips; no god will go against Tiāmat.
- 129–154 Ea summons Marduk to his secret place and sends him to Anšar; Marduk: "what male has brought battle against you? It is Tiāmat, a woman … you will soon tread on her neck"; Anšar: "calm Tiāmat with your pure spell, drive the chariot of the storms".
- 155–162 Marduk's conditions (156–162 = III 58–64 = III 116–122): if he is to be the gods' avenger, they must convene the assembly and proclaim his destiny supreme, so that he decrees destinies "by the work of my mouth, in your place", and nothing he builds is changed.

Decisions

1. Fixed passage II 15–48 copied character for character from `renderings.md` §2 (by script, normalization from eBL). eBL's partial restorations in II 37–40, 42 ([šū]t, [ip]qid, [a]ddi, [ma]likūt, [li]rtabbû) are not bracketed, following the coordinator's decision 4b (the words are certain from I and III). Morphological differences from I (II 27 (u), 34 ušrabbīš for ušrabbīš(u), 36 ananti for ananta) change nothing in the sense; noted in the apparatus.
2. Rest vocabulary (the background of Gen 2:2–3): nâḫu G `נָח` (7 uzzašu inūḫu `וזעמו נח`; 51 `לא`; 65 `נוחה בטנו`); pašāḫu G (72) `נָרְגַּע`, N (`תֵּרָגַע` 102) `נִרְגַּע`, Š (150 ,100 ,77) `הִרְגִּיעַ`; tapšuḫtu `מַרְגּוֹעַ`, tanēḫu (59) `מְנוּחָה`; napāšu G = `יִנָּפֵשׁ` (100; cognate of `וַיִּנָּפַשׁ`, Ex 31:17), D = (132) `רִוַּח`.
3. šubšû* / *ḫulluqu (62, 64): `להביא לכלל הוויה ולאבד – יש עמו`, with `(הכוח)` added. ḫulluqu (D) = `אִבֵּד`, as ḫalāqu D in Tablet I (§4), not `הִשְׁמִיד`; Š ušḫalliqa (70) = `הָאֱבִיד`.
4. meḫṣu* = (76 ,74) `מַחַץ`, not `מַכָּה`: the cognate of `מחץ`, which links the line to Deut 32:39 and Job 26:12.
5. šiptu* = (110 ,86 ,78) `קֶסֶם`, so that `לַחַשׁ` stays for tû (39, 150).
6. âru* = (144 ,123 ,112 ,88 ,55) `נִגַּשׁ (אֶל)`; ṭeḫû* = (136 ,133) `קָרַב`; maḫāriš* = `נֶגֶד` (124; not `לִקְרַאת`, to keep the letters `קרא` away from nabû).
7. šuḫarruru* = (119 ,106 ,82 ,6) `הִשְׁתּוֹמֵם`, cf. Ezra 9:3 `דּוֹמֵם`/`דּוֹמִיָּה`; `וְאֶשְׁבָּה מְשׁוֹמֵם` stay for šuqammumu/šaqummiš.
8. The agāgu family = `קצף`: aggiš (12) `בְּקֶצֶף`, tušāgigu (56) `הִקְצַפְתָּ`, uggatu (78) `קֶצֶף`. uzzu/ezēzu stay `זַעַם`/`זָעַם`; kamālu = (126) `כָּעַס`; labābu = `זָעַף`.
9. 9 = 107 *maḫru abi ālidīšu anšar = `נכנס לפני האב, מולידו, אנשר`, for both (eBL translates 9 "grandfather" and 107 "his father who begot him"); 83 ba'ūli `הנכבד` differs in that word only.
10. Internal repeats rendered identically wherever the Akkadian is identical; the 12 differences reported by `verify.py` are all justified: a different word (61/63, 73/75, 81/105, 139/141, 145/147 abī / anšar / ea / ānu) or brackets only (74/76, 79/103, 80/104, 82/106, 84/108, 85/109, 87/111, 88/112, 89/113). 94/118 (ana / ina muḫḫīni) have identical Hebrew: the prepositions are synonyms here.
11. Brackets follow eBL's N: a word whose root is restored is bracketed whole (51 `[זועם]`, 84 `[בתחנונים]`, 109 `[במעשיה]`), a partly restored word partly (73 `מאמר[י]`, 79 `הר[גע]`, 77 `הולמ[ים]`, 124 `שפתי[ה]ם`, 122 `יש[בו]`, `א[נשר]`, `אביו[]`); a restored vowel or a single sign of a certain word is not bracketed (80 ḫarrānš[ū], 89 šebâm-m[a]).

12. Names vocalized at their first occurrence in II: 3 תִּיאָמַת, 1 אַפְסוּ (the dead god, no article), אֵאָה 4, אֲנַשַׁר 8, נוּדִימּוּד 58, אָנוּ 96, הָאֵאִיגִּי / הָאֲנוּנָּכִי 121, מַרְדּוּךְ 128, בָּאוּבְּשׁוּכִינַּכּוּ 159; קִינְגּוּ and חֲבּוּר are vocalized in the fixed passage. Anu (45) and the Anunnaki (42) first occur inside the fixed passage, which stays unvocalized; they are vocalized at their next occurrence.
13. Marduk's conditions (156–162), the first occurrence of a passage that III repeats twice: mutīr gimilli הַמֵּשִׁיב גְּמוּל (corpus §2); akammi אֲאֻסֹּר; uballaṭ אֲחַיֶּה; šūterā ibâ šīmtī רוֹמְמוּ, קְרָאוּ את גורלי (nabû = קָרָא; atāru Š = רוֹמֵם, because הִגְדִּיל is rabû Š and הִגְבִּיהַ is šaqû Š in the fixed passage); mitḫāriš יחדיו; epšu pîya kīma kâtunū-ma במעשה פי, במקומכם; nakāru Dt (161) הוּמַר, kept apart from enû N שָׁנָה (162, as 44); siqar šaptīya מאמר שפתי.
14. Other new terms: kapātu D (1) לִקֵּט; pitqu מְעֻצָּבִים (1, from patāqu עִצֵּב); nipru (2) נֶצֶר; tāḫāza kaṣāru (2) קָשַׁר מִלְחָמָה; ṣamādu (4) רָתַם; šanû D תִּנָּה (10, Aramaic cognate); ālittu + suffix (11) יוֹלַדְתִּנוּ; ḫarrānu נָתִיב, urḫu אֹרַח [cognate], redû Št (151) הִנְהִיג / (104 ,80 ,8) שָׂם פְּעָמָיו; šibqū תַּחְבּוּלוֹת, še'û (86 ,81) חָקַר; unnīnu תַּחֲנוּנִים; mālaku מַהֲלָךְ; adīru מוֹרָא; tukku תְּרוּעָה; emūqu כּוֹחוֹת; tēbû קְרָב; inimmû מִלָּה; nēmequ חָכְמָה; tašīmtu בִּינָה; rubû שַׂר; qaqqaru אַרְצָה (adverbial, 119); kašūšu (97) מַפָּץ; kannû יָקִיר; gašru כַּבִּיר; qardu אַמִּיץ (qarrādu גִּבּוֹר); elēṣu עָלַץ [cognate]; alālu Š הִתְהַלֵּל [cognate]; našāqu נָשַׁק; kabāsu דָּרַךְ (false friend of כבש); rikbu/rikab רָכַב [cognate]; akāšu Dt נִדְחָה; maṣû Š קִיֵּם; meḫṣu מַחַץ; zikaru זָכָר, sinništu אִשָּׁה.
15. eBL lemma slips overridden: 91 šupurši lemmatized as ṣapru "a spice" (the identical line 115 has šapāru "to send"); 57 āšiš lemmatized as asisû "copper" (rendered אוֹגֵר(?), "gatherer", with a note). eBL's English swaps 59 and 60; the Hebrew follows the normalization's order.

Open decisions for the user

1. 9 = 107 *abi ālidīšu: האב, מולידו for both. Alternative: אבי מולידו (= "his grandfather") in 9 only, which is literal and true for Ea, but would break the identity with 107.
2. 57 *āšiš milki: eBL's lemma (asisû "copper") does not fit; rendered אוגר(?) העצה ("gatherer of counsel"). Foster: "the sage counsellor".
3. 151 *rikab ūmī: a noun "chariot of the storms" (את רכב הסערות חיש הנהג, following Foster) or an imperative "ride the storms" (eBL's lemma is the verb rakābu). Both keep the cognate רכב.
4. 155 *bēlū ilī: plural אֲדוֹנֵי האלים (the normalization has bēlū, and Marduk addresses the gods in the plural from 156), against Foster's and King's singular ("Lord of the gods", Anšar).
5. 160 *kīma kâtunū-ma: במקומכם ("in your place", Foster, King) or literal כמוכם ("like you").
6. šiptu* = קֶסֶם: biblical קֶסֶם is divination; the alternative חֶבֶר (Ps 58:6 חוֹבֵר חֲבָרִים) is exact but reads as "friend" unvocalized. Settled 2026-10-21 (the lead's cross-corpus harmonization): šiptu stays קֶסֶם (not חֶבֶר), with Sum. nam-šub / tu_6 = קֶסֶם and Akk. tû = לַחַשׁ in all corpora.
7. 119 *qaqqara inaṭṭal: ארצה מביט (adverbial ארץ), to avoid קרקע (= ammatu, I 2) and אדמה (Gen 2).
8. 62 *ḫulluqu: לאבד (consistent with ḫalāqu D in Tablet I) rather than להשמיד.
9. 1 *ukappit ... pitiqša: לקטה ... את מעוצביה. Alternatives: קיבצה/כינסה (but כנס/קבץ are taken for paḫāru), יצוריה (rejected: pre-empts וייצר).

10. verify.py and brackets: internal repeats that differ only in brackets are reported as differences (9 of the 12). Proposal: let `verify.py` list bracket-only differences separately, as it does for the fixed passage.

Progress log

- 2026-10-16: read the guidelines, corpus and project renderings, the flood renderings, the Tablet I section and `annotated-I.rtl.md` (format, apparatus, the fixed passage), the Atra-ḫasīs format model, and the eBL edition of II (N, variants, notes, parallels, glossary). eBL's English was extracted separately and read only after the Hebrew of all 162 lines was drafted.
- 2026-10-16: drafted `annotated-II.rtl.md` in six sections (1–14, 15–48 by script from `renderings.md` §2 and eBL's N, 49–70, 71–94, 95–118, 119–162).
- 2026-10-16, pass (a) fidelity: every content word checked against N; additions in ( ) checked (62 `(הכוח)`, `(אדוני)` 155, `(אותה)` 152, `(שפתך)` 139/141, `(אליו)` 129, `(בפניה)` 86/110); `…` kept where eBL has … (74, 76, 123) and `( … )` in 78; brackets checked against N (51, 73, 75–80, 82–85, 87–89, 109, 113, 122, 124); `?` for uncertain meanings (52, 57, 120, 130) and `...` for uncertain translations (89, 97, 113).
- 2026-10-16, pass (b) consistency: checked by lemma across the tablet: šasû (50, 95) `צעק` (126, 129), zakāru `דיבר`, nâḫu/pašāḫu (decision 2), âru/ṭeḫû/muttiš/maḫāriš (decision 6), šuḫarruru `השתומם`, târu (82, 90, 91, 152, 162), emūqu/gapšu (87, 98, as 31), tēbû (77) `קימה` (98, katāmu (122, 139, 141) `כסה`, bānû (58, 145, 147) `בונה`, bēlu `האדון`, zikru `מאמר` (79, 103, 162, as 42), enû N `שונה` (162, as 44), epšu pî (160, as 47), šīmta šâmu (46, 61, 160). Changed: 124 `נגד` → `לקראת`; heading 1–4 (`מעוצביה` → `יצוריה`). Internal repeats compared by script (decision 10).
- 2026-10-16, pass (c) Hebrew: vocalized ambiguous forms (`לִקְטָה`, `קָשְׁרָה`, `תִּנָּה`, `הִשְׁתּוֹמֵם`, `כְּבֵדוֹ`/`כְּבֵדָהּ`, `תִּשָּׂא`, `שַׂר`, `נוּחָה`, `הַטֵּה`, `כְּבִיתִי`, `תִּתְיַגַּע`, `יִנָּפֵשׁ`, `שִׂיחַ`, `תֵּרָגַע`, `אַרְצָה`, `כְּלִקְרֶב קְרַב`, `רָכָב`, `הַנְהֵג`, `יוּמַר`, `קְרָאוּ`, `רוֹמְמוּ`, `אֲחַיָּה`, `עָלַץ`, `יְדָחוּ`); echo grep of all `>` lines for `תהום רקיע תנין ברא הבדיל שבת צבא מאור אלוהים יצר כבש רדה ברך קרא`: only `בראש` (fixed passage), (101) `לדברך` and `קראו` (158, nabû, intended).
- 2026-10-16: `translation-II.rtl.md` generated from the annotated `>` lines and headings (script), with an introduction and 16 footnotes.
- 2026-10-16, verification: `python3 -I verify.py II` → "Tablet II: 162 annotated entries (eBL 162), 162 translation lines; fixed passage: 34 rows checked, 0 mismatch(es); 12 difference(s) in repeated lines; problems: 0" (all 12 justified, decision 10). `check_bible_quotes.py` on `annotated-II.rtl.md`, `translation-II.rtl.md` and this file → 0 problems.

7	uzzašu inūḫu	וזעמו נח	וַיָּנַח בַּיּוֹם הַשְּׁבִיעִי (שמות כ:י); כְּשֹׁךְ חֲמַת הַמֶּלֶךְ (אסתר ב:א)	[cognate] (nâḫu = נוח)	Rest as the subsiding of anger.

In the Psalms the sea flees before God.
90, 114	ādur-ma rigmaša	יראתי את שאונה	מַשְׁבִּיחַ שְׁאוֹן יַמִּים שְׁאוֹן גַּלֵּיהֶם (תהלים סה:ח)	[equivalent] / [divergence]	The roar of the sea, stilled by God; here it frightens the gods.

The Hebrew link רגע comes from our rendering of pašāḫu (corpus §3), not from the Akkadian root; the concept is shared. Job 26:12 also has (74) מחץ.

In Gen 1 it is the creator's own.

Lines shared with other tablets

- II 11–14 → III 15–18, III 73–76 (III has umma "saying" for abī in III 15/73; III 16 [puḫra šit]kunat-ma restored).
- II 13 ~ I 127 (cf.; gimiršun for qerebša).
- II 15–48 = I 129–162 = III 19–52 = III 77–110 (the fixed passage).

- II 156–162 → III 58–64, III 116–122. (II 155 is not repeated: III 57 and 115 are different lines, epšu pîšu ītamâ ana yâti.)
- Internal: 9 = 107 (cf. 83); 61 ~ 63, 62 = 64; 73 ~ 75, 74 = 76; 79–94 = 103–118 (81/105 differ in the name; 94/118 in the preposition); 135 = 153; 139 ~ 141, 140 = 142; 145 ~ 147, 146 = 148. Cf. also 71 ~ I 125.

Hebrew of lines that Tablet III repeats (final; III copies them, changing only what its Akkadian changes):

- II 11: אבי, תיאמת, יוֹלַדְתֶּנוּ, שונאת אותנו! (III 15/73 umma for abī: replace אבי, by the III translator's rendering of umma.)
- II 12: אספה הקימה, ובקצף זועפת.
- II 13: סבבו אותה האלים כולם,
- II 14: אף אלה אשר אתם בניתם – לצדה הלכו.
- II 156: אם אני – המשיב גמולכם,
- II 157: אָאֱסֹר את תיאמת ואַחַיֶּה אתכם,
- II 158: הקימו אספה, רוֹמְמוּ, קִרְאוּ את גורלי!
- II 159: בְּאוּבְּשׁוּכִינַּפּוּ, יחדיו, בשמחה תשבו,
- II 160: במעשה פי, במקומכם, אגזור גורל:
- II 161: לא יומַר כל אשר אבנה אני,
- II 162: אל ישוב, אל ישונה מאמר שפתיי!
- (internal, for reference) II 9 = 107: נכנס לפני האב, מולידו, אנשר,; II 155 (not repeated): אֲדוֹנֵי האלים, גורלות האלים הגדולים (אֲדוֹנֵי):.
- Note for III: in III 116–122 eBL restores most of the lines; the Hebrew stays identical (brackets per III's own N), as for the fixed passage.

Proposals for the shared renderings

For the corpus renderings.md (§3) or the project §4 (rows added there):

- napāšu G = (יִנָּפֵשׁ) נָפַשׁ, D = רִוַּח [cognate וַיִּנָּפַשׁ ↔ ;נפש, Ex 31:17] – add to the rest-vocabulary row of corpus §3.
- tapšuḫtu* / *tanēḫu as a pair ↔ Isa 28:12 מְנוּחָה … מַרְגֵּעָה – a note to the pašāḫu / nâḫu rows.
- meḫṣu* / maḫāṣu = מָחַץ / מַחַץ [cognate] (Deut 32:39; Job 26:12) – for IV (the battle) and later tablets.
- kabāsu* = דָּרַךְ, never כָּבַשׁ (false friend; already in guidelines §6.7) – IV 129 must follow.
- redû (all stems of movement/driving) – mark [cognate?] רדה in the apparatus wherever it occurs (Gen 1:26, 28); do not render it רדה.
- rakābu* / *rikbu = רָכַב / רֶכֶב [cognate] – for IV 50ff (Marduk's chariot).
- šiptu* = קְסָם; tû = לַחַשׁ (open decision 6).
- âru* = נִגַּשׁ; ṭeḫû = קָרַב; šuḫarruru = הִשְׁתּוֹמֵם; agāgu family = קצף; kamālu = כָּעַס – these recur in III–IV.
- zikaru* = זָכָר; sinništu = אִשָּׁה (corpus-wide, for Atra-ḫasīs and VI as well).

- nakāru* Dt = הוּמַר vs enû* N = שָׁנָה.
- atāru* Š imperative / active = רוֹמֵם (stative stays יַתִּיר).
- Names: none new (Igigi, Anunnaki, Ubšukkinnaku per corpus).

Lessons for the guidelines

- Compare the lemmas of identical repeated lines. eBL lemmatized šupurši as ṣapru "a spice" in II 91 but correctly as šapāru "to send" in the identical II 115; a script that lists differing lemmas for identical normalizations would catch such slips cheaply.
- The edition's translation can render identical Akkadian differently (II 9 "grandfather" vs II 107 "his father who begot him"; II 135 "father" vs 153 "grandfather") and can reorder lines (II 59/60). Identity of the Akkadian, not of the English, governs the Hebrew.
- Reserve letters, not only roots, for a key comparison word: לִקְרַאת (root קרה) would have put the letters of קרא in a line next to the nabû line; prefer a word that cannot be misread as the reserved one.
- An echo can come from the corpus's own renderings: Job 26:12 רָגַע הַיָּם matches II 150 only because pašāḫu Š was rendered הִרְגִּיעַ. Such links are recorded as [equivalent] with an explicit note that the Hebrew, not the Akkadian, carries the shared root.

Tablet III

Scope

Tablet III, eBL lines 1–138 (eBL has no section breaks and no old line numbers for this tablet; the Hebrew headings are ours):

- 1–12 Anšar speaks to his vizier Kakka (כַּכָּא): go to Laḫmu and Laḫamu, have all the gods brought; let them converse, sit at a banquet, eat grain and drink beer, and decree destiny for Marduk; repeat my words to them.
- 13–66 Anšar's message as Kakka is to deliver it: Ea's report of Tiāmat's assembly (15–18 = II 11–14), the fixed passage of her army and Qingu (19–52 = I 129–162), Anu and Nudimmud turned back (53–54), Marduk's readiness (55–57) and his conditions (58–64 = II 156–162), "hurry, decree him your destiny, let him confront your strong enemy" (65–66).
- 67–70 Kakka's journey; he prostrates himself before Laḫmu and Laḫamu and stands up to speak.
- 71–124 Kakka repeats the message word for word (71–76 = 13–18; 77–110 = 19–52; 111–124 = 53–66).
- 125–128 Laḫmu, Laḫamu and the Igigi wail: "what has turned hostile … we do not know Tiāmat's deed".
- 129–138 the great gods stream to Anšar, rejoice, kiss, converse and sit at the banquet (133–134 = 8–9), eat, drink beer until bloated and carefree, and decree destiny for Marduk (138 = 10).

Decisions

1. Repeated lines copied character for character from their first occurrence: III 3 = I 31 with `כַּכָּא` for 76–73 / 18–15 ; `מומו` = II 11–14 with `[לאמור]:` / `לאמור:` (umma) for `אבי,` in 15/73; 19–52 / 77–110 = the fixed passage (`renderings.md` §2, spliced by script with eBL's N); 58–64 / 116–122 = II 156–162; 71–124 = 13–66; 133–134, 138 = 8–10 with the tense changed (precative → preterite / present).
2. Brackets (the prompt's rule, which supersedes coordinator decision 4b for this tablet): a Hebrew word is bracketed when its Akkadian root is wholly or largely restored in eBL's N in all manuscripts of this tablet, even when the parallel line preserves it; a word of which only an ending (case, plural, suffix) is restored is not bracketed (the פירוק says so). A word preserved in a variant manuscript is not bracketed (110: eBL brackets the whole main reconstruction, but NinNA1 preserves imtuk ina kitmuru mag[šari]). Bracketed copies are listed below ("Lines shared with other tablets").
3. Vocalization in repeated lines: names are vocalized at their first occurrence in III; where a repeated pair inside III contains a first occurrence (15/73 `נוּדִימוּד` 54/112 ,`אָנוּ` 53/111 ,`תִּיאָמַת`), both copies are vocalized, so that the pair stays identical. The fixed passage keeps its own vocalization (38 `קִינְגּוּ` ,23 `חֲבוּר` are first occurrences; 49 `אנו` and 46 `האנונכי` stay unvocalized there).
4. Kakka = `כַּכָּא` (since the 2026-10-23 harmonization; drafted as `גַּגָּא`, corpus §1, open decision 1 of the coordinator). Note in III 2: eBL Kakka, the sign ka₃ = GA; possible play on kakku "weapon" (24, 34).

5. The banquet vocabulary: qerītu = סְעוּדָה (not מִשְׁתֶּה, which would echo šatû); lišāna šakānu = שָׂם לָשׁוֹן (בשיחה) (image kept, gloss in parentheses); ašnan = דָּגָן [equivalent]; akālu = אָכַל [cognate]; patāqu* II "to drink" = גָּמָא (homonym of patāqu I "to shape" = 23/81 ,עִצֵּב; kept apart from šatû = 136 ,שָׁתָה); kurunnu transliterated כּוּרוּן; šikaru = שֵׁכָר [cognate] (flood corpus); arsu = גְּרִיסִים; sanānu D = גָּדַשׁ (uncertain; the ancient commentary glosses malû); rāṭu = צָנוֹר; ḫabāṣu G stative = נָפוּחַ (Foster "felt good" follows the D/Š sense).
6. There is no akalu "bread" in Tablet III. The food word is ašnan "grain"; "bread" (King 1902, and the coordinator's note) goes back to older readings. The akalu = לֶחֶם rendering is therefore not used here; it stays available for later tablets.
7. The gods' "relaxation" (137) is egû "to be careless, negligent", not nâḫu or pašāḫu: rendered שַׁאֲנַן (Job 3:18; Amos 6:1), so that no rest root (שבת ,רגע ,נוח) appears; רָפָה is avoided because it renders rabābu in the fixed passage (52).
8. (w)âru* D "to commission" = (71 ,13) צִוָּה, and têrtu = (72 ,14) צַו: the Hebrew keeps the Akkadian root link (têrtu is from wâru). âru G stays (56 ,55 ,11) נָגַשׁ.
9. ṣabāru* Gt "to speak" / Š "to make speak" = root (נתן לי לְמַלֵּל 14/72 ,לְמַלֵּל 5) מלל, kept apart from zakāru דִּבֵּר and atmû (57/115) שָׂח.
10. nakru* "enemy" = (66/124) יָרִיב, because אוֹיֵב = lemnu and צַר = gērû; nakāru* G = הִתְנַכֵּר (127) [cognate נכר], Dt הוּמַר (63, fixed from II); dannu* = חָזָק (עַז is nadru in the fixed passage).
11. Haste: ḫamāṭu = (חושו 65/123) חָשׁ, arḫiš = מְהֵרָה. (II has aruḫ מהר and urruḫiš חיש, both from araḫu; the overlap of roots cannot be avoided completely. Recorded as a proposal.)
12. Other new terms: še'û Gtn infinitive לַחְקֹר (5, as II še'û חָקַר); le'û = (53 ,5) יָכֹל; abāku G הֵבִיא (Š imperative 7–6 ,הָבֵא); nagbu "totality" = כֻּלָּם (7; homonym of nagbu "underground water", noted); ašriš = (68 ,4) אֶל מְקוֹם; qudmu = לְפָנִי (11; cognate קדם noted); umma = ,15) לֵאמֹר (73; šukênu = הִשְׁתַּחֲוָה (69; without אפו ארצה, which is labān appi); ešēru G = (70) הִתְיַשֵּׁר [cognate]; redû Š = שָׂם פְּעָמָיו (67, as II 8); garāšu N = (129) נָהַר; napḫaru + suffix = (126) כֻּלָּם; nâqu = הֵילִיל; marṣiš = בִּמְרִירוּת; ṣibit ṭēmi = (... ,127) אֲחִיזַת עֵצָה; ḫidûtu = שִׂמְחָה; našāqu N = הִתְנַשֵּׁק; aḫu u aḫu = אָח וְאָח; elīta = בְּקוֹל רָם (as I 36).
13. Variants recorded: the Assyrian manuscript AššNA1 reads ana anšar for ana marduk in 10 and 138 (the Assyrian recension's Anšar = Aššur); III 40 NinNA1 and III 98 BabaNB3 have tebû for dekû (קימת המדון); 44 NinNA2 qātuššu; 49 BabaNB2 enūti; 69 BabaNB3 šapalšun; 70 BabaNB3 ikmis izzaz-ma; 6 NinNA1 ana maḫrīka; 8 lušbū in two manuscripts; BabaNB1 omits 16–51 and 77–123 (it jumps from 15 to 52 and from 76 to 124).
14. eBL's English differs in 9 / 134 ("produce of the field ... the vine": the Akkadian has grain and kurunnu-beer), 57 / 115 (epšu pîšu is the object, not a temporal clause), 136 ("felt good" vs the G stative "distended"), 132 (the restoration "of the gods" is Foster's).

Open decisions for the user

1. Kakka / Gaga: גַּגָּא kept (coordinator's open decision 1). Further thought: eBL's normalization kaka reflects the sign values ka₃-ka₃, which can equally be read ga-ga; Lambert and George read Kakka. A neutral Hebrew כַּכָּא would follow eBL without the nursery sound of קַקָּה. (Adopted 2026-10-23.)
2. Brackets in the fixed passage of III (decision 2): 18 lines of the two copies carry brackets that Tablets I–II do not have. This follows this tablet's instructions and is allowed by verify.py, but it reverses coordinator decision 4b for Tablet III. Alternative: drop them, as in I and II.
3. 9 / 134 *kurunnu: transliterated כּוּרוּן. Alternatives: מִמְסָךְ (Isa 65:11, a drink poured for a god), or שֵׁכָר (but that is šikaru, 136).
4. 137 egû = שַׁאֲנַנוּ: carries both "at ease" and "complacent". Alternatives: הִתְרַשְׁלוּ (literal, but flat), הִתְעַצְּלוּ.
5. 127 is a crux: עלינו [עצה] אחיזת קנתה אשר עד ,התנכר מה? (with Foster: "what has gone wrong, that she has taken action against us?"). Alternative literal reading: "what has changed, so that (she) has taken hold of our plan?"
6. 135 *usanninū: גדשו (after the ancient commentary's malû); alternative הזרימו (eBL dictionary: "make flow in a channel?").
7. 8 / 133 *lišāna šakānu: ישימו לשון (בשיחה) keeps the Akkadian image; alternative ישוחחו (but שָׂח is reserved for atmû).
8. 66 nakru = יָרִיב (decision 10); alternative שׂוֹנֵא (but zêru is 15 , שׂנא).

Progress log

- 2026-10-16: read the guidelines, the corpus and project renderings, the flood renderings, the Tablet I and II sections and annotated files (format, the fixed passage, II 11–14 and 155–162), and the eBL edition of III (N, variants, notes, parallels, glossary, the ATF of every non-repeated and every broken line). eBL's English was extracted to a separate file and read after the draft.
- 2026-10-16: drafted annotated-III.rtl.md in five sections: 1–18 by hand; 19–52 by script (fixed Hebrew from renderings.md §2 + eBL's N + this tablet's brackets + a short per-line apparatus); 53–76 by hand; 77–110 by script; 111–138 by hand.
- 2026-10-16, pass (a) fidelity: every content word checked against N; added material in ( ) checked (8/133 (בשיחה), (אותו) 56/114 – added in this pass, since ubla has no object suffix –, 135 (בהם)); brackets checked against N line by line (rule of decision 2): 127 [עצה] added (most of ṭēmīni is restored); 12, 14, 15, 16, 36–38, 40–45, 49, 91, 98, 105–124, 130, 131, 133 checked; endings-only restorations left unbracketed (6, 21–35, 46, 48, 50, 129, 134–138). ... in 25/83 (attāʾu), [...] in 132; ... in 41/99, 42/100, 127, 135.

- 2026-10-16, pass (b) consistency: names vocalized once (decision 3); (10) לְמַרְדּוּךְ fixed (prefix vocalized with the name); formula and lemma checks: zakāru (70 ,12 ,2) דיבר, šasû (125) צעק, âru G נגש / D צוה, maḫāru (66 ,53) עמד מול, šapāru שלח, šīmta šâmu ,10) גזר גורל (138 ,130 ,65 ,62, elīta בקול רם (as I 36), muttiš אל מול (as II 8), itūra arkiš חזר לאחור (as II 82), maḫāriš נגד, epšu pî מעשה פי, atmû שח, kabattu כָּבֵד, elēṣu עלץ, qaqqaru אַרְצָה; the internal pairs compared by verify.py.
- 2026-10-16, pass (c) Hebrew: הֵילִילוּ → יללו (126; unvocalized it reads as future); vocalized בְּשְׂתוֹת (136), יַשְׁבוּ / יָשְׁבוּ (133 / 8), נָהֲרוּ (129), אַרְצָה (69), שַׁאֲנָנוּ, כְּבֵדָם, עָלַץ (137), יִגְמְאוּ / גָּמְאוּ, צְוֵנִי, לְמַלֵּל, תַּנֵּה, הָבֵא. Echo grep of all > lines for תהום רקיע תנין ברא הבדיל שבת צבא מאור אלוהים יצר כבש רדה ברך קרא נח מלאכ צלם דמות: only בראש (fixed passage 39/97) and קְרָאוּ (60/118, nabû, intended).
- 2026-10-16: translation-III.rtl.md generated from the annotated headings and > lines (script), with an introduction and 12 footnotes. King 1902 consulted for the history of the banquet lines (added to the apparatus of 9, 136, 137).
- 2026-10-16, verification: python3 -I verify.py III → "Tablet III: 138 annotated entries (eBL 138), 138 translation lines; fixed passage: 34 rows checked, 0 mismatch(es); 6 difference(s) in repeated lines; problems: 0". The 6 differences are all justified by the Akkadian: I 31 / III 3 (the name), II 11 / III 15 and II 11 / III 73 (umma for abī; plus the vocalized name), III 8 / 133, 9 / 134, 10 / 138 (precative vs preterite / present). 76 further pairs (III with I, II and III) differ in brackets only (the broken copies listed below), and the fixed passage reports 18 bracket-only copies (allowed). check_bible_quotes.py on annotated-III.rtl.md, translation-III.rtl.md and this file → 0 problems.

Lines shared with other tablets

- III 3 ~ I 31 (name only: מומו / כַּכָּא).
- III 15–18 = II 11–14 (15: umma for abī); III 73–76 = 15–18.
- III 19–52 = III 77–110 = I 129–162 = II 15–48 (the fixed passage). Bracketed copies (this tablet's breaks): 36, 37, 38, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 49; 91, 98, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110.
- III 58–64 = III 116–122 = II 156–162 (116–122 bracketed in their second halves).
- Internal: 13–14 = 71–72 (14 bracketed); 53–57 = 111–115 and 65–66 = 123–124 (111–115, 123 bracketed); 8–10 ~ 133–134, 138 (tense).

- Hebrew of lines that later tablets may repeat: IV opens with the gods' answer; the banquet lines (8–9 / 133–134) and 10 / 138 are the forms to reuse if Marduk's destiny or the banquet recur: ישימו לשון (בשיחה), בסעודה יֵשְׁבוּ, / דָּגָן יאכלו, יִגְמְאוּ כּוּרוֹן, / לְמַרְדּוּךְ, המשיב גמולם, יגזרו גורל! (and past forms שמו … . / דגן אכלו, גָּמְאוּ כורון, / למרדוך, המשיב גמולם, גוזרים גורל!).

Proposals for the shared renderings

For the corpus renderings.md (§3) or the project §4 (rows added there):

- egû* "to be careless" = שַׁאֲנַן – a fourth "repose" word, kept apart from nâḫu / pašāḫu / napāšu; add a note to the rest-vocabulary row of corpus §3 that the banquet's ease (III 137) is egû.
- patāqu* II "to drink" = גָּמָא, šatû* = שָׁתָה, šikaru* = שֵׁכָר (flood corpus), qerītu* = סְעוּדָה, ašnan* = דָּגָן, akālu* = אָכַל [cognate]; reserve akalu = לֶחֶם [equivalent] (with akalu ~ אֹכֶל noted) for its first real occurrence (VI–VII?).
- nakru* = יְרִיב; nakāru G = הִתְנַכֵּר [cognate]; dannu* = חָזָק.
- (w)âru* D = צִוָּה (with têrtu = צַו); âru G stays נָגַשׁ.
- ṣabāru* Gt/Š = מִלֵּל.
- šukênu* = הִשְׁתַּחֲוָה (without אפו ארצה, which stays for labān appi).
- Haste: ḫamāṭu = חָשׁ, arḫiš = מְהֵרָה; the corpus may want to align araḫu / urruḫiš (II: / מהר חיש) in IV–VII.
- Kakka: see open decision 1.

Lessons for the guidelines

- A repeated passage can be the best-preserved or the worst-preserved copy. When a later copy is broken and the earlier one intact, keep the brackets of the broken copy (verify by "brackets-only" comparison), and state the bracket rule once in the file header; otherwise each translator invents a different threshold (I 32 עצ[ה], II 73 הולמ[ים], III whole words only).
- Vocalize a name in both members of an internal repeated pair when the first member is the name's first occurrence; otherwise the pair differs in niqqud only and the verification script reports a false difference.
- Check the coordinator's expected vocabulary against the edition before drafting: the prompt expected akalu "bread" in III 129–138, but the text has ašnan "grain"; the "bread" goes back to King 1902's reading of the same lines.
- Homonyms inside one poem need separate Hebrew (patāqu I "shape" / II "drink"; nagbu "totality" / "underground water"), and the apparatus should name the other homonym, since ancient commentaries (NinNACom1) already played on them.

Tablet IV

Scope

Tablet IV, eBL lines 1–146 (eBL has no section breaks and no old line numbers for this tablet; the Hebrew headings are ours):

- 1–18 the gods set up a princely dais; their acclamation: "you are honoured among the great gods … your command is Anu" (3–4 = 5–6), "to raise and to bring low is your hand", "you are our avenger" (13 ~ II 127, 156), kingship over everything; mercy to the god who trusts, death to the god who takes up evil.
- 19–26 the test: a constellation (lumāšu) is set up; "destroy and build – command, and let them be firm" (22); at his word it is destroyed and built again (25–26).
- 27–34 the gods rejoice and bless (karābu): "Marduk is king"; sceptre, throne, palû, an irresistible weapon; "go, cut Tiāmat's throat; let the winds carry her blood as good news" (32 ~ 132).
- 35–58 the weapons: bow, arrow and bowstring, mace, quiver, lightning, flame, the net, the four winds (Anu's gift), seven winds he builds, the Deluge (49 = 75), the storm chariot with four named horses, Battle and Strife at his sides, armour of terror and radiance.
- 59–70 the march; Marduk inspects Tiāmat and Qingu; Qingu and his gods are confused.
- 71–92 Tiāmat's spell and lie (73–74 broken at the beginning); Marduk raises the Deluge and challenges her ("why have you risen … you named Qingu your consort … let us fight single combat"); Tiāmat goes mad, shrieks, casts spells.
- 93–104 the duel: the net, the evil wind into her open mouth, the belly distended, the arrow splits the belly, cuts the heart; he binds her, extinguishes her life, stands on her corpse.
- 105–122 her forces scattered, her gods netted and imprisoned; the eleven creatures (ištēn-ešret nabnīti) roped and trampled; Qingu bound, counted with the dead gods (Uggu); the Tablet of Destinies taken and sealed.
- 123–134 (123 = I 73; 125 ~ I 74) Marduk returns to Tiāmat, crushes her skull, severs her veins, the north wind carries her blood as good news; the fathers rejoice and send gifts.
- 135–146 the lord rests, inspects the corpse, divides the šerkuppu and builds artful things; he splits her like a fish for drying; half of her he sets up as a roof for the heavens, stretches the skin, posts guards ordered not to let her waters out; crosses the heavens, sets them opposite the Apsû, measures the Apsû and founds Ešgalla/Ešarra as its replica; Anu, Enlil and Ea are settled in their cult-places.

Decisions

1. Repeated lines: IV 123 = I 73 copied character for character (`אחרי אשר את אויביו אסר, הכה`); IV 125 follows the frame of I 74 (`העמיד את נצחון ... על ...`) and changes only what the Akkadian changes (ernitti anšar, nakirī, kalîš); 3–4 = 5–6 (only the vocative differs; Anu vocalized in both 4 and 6); 49 = 75 (75 `[נשא]` bracketed, the verb is broken in all manuscripts); 69 / 107 differ only in the pronoun (-šu / -ša); 13 mutirru gimillīni = `המשיב גמולנו` (after II 127, 156; III 10); 32 / 132 share `לבשורה` and wabālu 59 ;`יבל` b = III 67b (`לאורחו שם פעמיו`); 122 echoes the fixed passage 157 (`הצמיד ... אל חזהו`).
2. IV 19–26, creation by word: lumāšu = `מָזָל`; abātu = `הָרַס`, banû = `בָּנָה` (N `נִבְנָה`), qabû = `אָמַר`, kânu* Gt liktūnā = `וַיִּכּוֹנוּ` (the root of `וַיְהִי כֵן`); 23 epšu pîka kept as a nominative heading (`מעשה פיך – ייהרס המזל!`), no added preposition.
3. karābu* = (28) `בָּרַךְ`, by meaning (the natural Hebrew for "bless, greet, pray"), tagged [equivalent] with Gen 1:22, 28 `וַיְבָרֶךְ`; the apparatus states that karābu is not cognate of ברך (it is the source of `כְּרוּב`).
4. The weapons: qaštu `קֶשֶׁת` [cognate]; mulmullu `חֵץ`; rakābu Š `הִרְכִּיב`; kânu D `כּוֹנֵן` + matnu `יָתֶר` (= Ps 11:2 `כּוֹנְנוּ חִצָּם עַל-יֶתֶר`); miṭṭu `אַלָּה` (not `מַטֶּה`, which would import Ex 14:16); išpatu `אַשְׁפָּה` [cognate]; berqu `בָּרָק` [cognate]; nablu `לְהָבָה`; sapāru `רֶשֶׁת`; imḫullu `רוּחַ־רָעָה` (hyphenated; the gloss šāra lemna set off by dashes); meḫû `סוּפָה`, ašamšūtu `סוּפַת־אָבָק`, imsuḫḫu `עַלְעוֹל`; abūbu `מַבּוּל` with the note that here it is a weapon; narkabtu `מֶרְכָּבָה` [cognate]; naṣmadu `צָמֶד` [cognate]; naḫlaptu `חֲלִיפָה` [cognate]; šammu `סַם` [cognate].
5. The four winds (43) by meaning: `דָּרוֹם, צָפוֹן, קָדִים, מַעֲרָב`; the images (šadû "mountain", amurru "Amurru") in the note.
6. wabālu* = `הוֹבִיל` (cognate 134 ,132 ,32 ;יבל), so that `נָשָׂא` stays for našû. (III 56 had `נשא` for wabālu in the idiom "his heart carried him"; noted as a proposal.)

7. ṣabātu*: G (96) תָּפַס, Š/Št הִצִּיב (139 ,42 ,34: "posted, stationed"); aḫāzu stays אָחַז (37 ,18 Š הֶאֱחִיז).
8. The duel: karšu בֶּטֶן (Tablet I), with כֶּרֶשׁ and Jer 51:34 in the note; ṣânu טָעַן ("load, fill till bloated"; also 115 טעונים אימות) – not נָפַח (= napāḫu); esēlu N צָבָה (Num 5:27); nepelkû Š פָּעַר; ḫepû (137 ,101) בָּקַע; batāqu D בִּתֵּק [cognate]; šalāṭu פִּלַּח; la'ātu בָּלַע; belû D כִּבָּה; šalamtu גְּוִיָּה.
9. Five enemy words kept apart: lemnu אוֹיֵב (fixed), gērû צַר, nakru יָרִיב, zayyāru שׂוֹנֵא (from zêru = שָׂנֵא, III 15), ayyābu (124) קָם – although ayyābu is the cognate of אוֹיֵב, which is fixed for lemnu in the line just before (123 = I 73); the cognate is stated in the note.
10. parāru* Dt (106) = פּוּרְרוּ (cognate; Ps 74:13 פּוֹרַרְתָּ ... יָם); uptarrira parsed as Dt (passive, like the parallel N issapḫa), as eBL translates.
11. kamāru* (112) = מִכְמֹרֶת [cognate] (Hab 1:15), following eBL's lemma "in the trap"; eBL's English follows kamāru "heap".
12. The sky (135–140) per corpus renderings §3: nâḫu נָח (135, the only נח of the tablet), zâzu D חִלֵּק, nikiltu מְחֻכָּמוּת (root link with nakālu D חִכֵּם, I 62, 93), ḫepû בָּקַע, nūnu דָּג, mašṭû מִשְׁטָח (Ezek 26:5; 47:10), mišlu מַחֲצִית, ṣullulu קְרָה, šadādu מָתַח, mašku עוֹר, maṣṣaru נוֹצֵר, (w)âru D רָקִיעַ. צָוָה does not occur.
13. 136 šerkuppu = הַמְצוּלָה (italic: uncertain translation), following eBL's note (Malku II 37 serkuppu = tâmtu "sea") and Foster's "brine"; the old reading "(flesh of) the foetus" and the lemma gloss "reed marsh" are in the note.
14. 141 ašratu = זְבוּל (a poetic word for heaven as the gods' seat, 1 Kgs 8:13; Isa 63:15). eBL's English "firmament" is recorded as a false echo (Vulgate firmamentum = רָקִיעַ). ebēru = עָבַר [cognate], hence etēqu (10) = הִסִּיג (Deut 19:14).
15. 142–146: meḫret לְעֻמַּת (Eccl 7:14); maḫāru Št הִשְׁוָה; mašāḫu מָדַד (cognate of Aramaic משח noted); binûtu מִבְנָה; tamšīlu תַּבְנִית; Ešgalla אֶשְׁגַּלָּה, Ešarra אֶשַׁרָּה; māḫāzu מָחוֹז; ramû G (2) הִתְיַשֵּׁב, Š (146) יְשֵׁב – the same Hebrew root as ašābu (112 ,15) יָשַׁב; noted.
16. Other new terms: rubûtu נְסִיכוּת; nadû (a dais) עֲרָךְ (1; elsewhere הֵטִיל); sāgu אוּלָם; zanānūtu כַּלְכָּלָה; qibītu אֲמִירָה; šanānu (lā šanān) אֵין מִתְחָרֶה; sarāru/sartu כָּזָב; lullû IV שָׁקַר(?); napalṭû N הָחֱטִיא; râsu D נִפֵּץ; gamālu חָמַל (cognate גמל noted); tabāku יָצַק (flood corpus); parā'u גָּדַע; da'āpu הָדַף; palû תְּקוּפַת מְלוּכָה; ḫaṭṭu שֵׁבֶט; tešmû הַקְשָׁבָה; rēṣu עוֹזֵר; ašarēdu בָּכִיר; šagāšu קָטַל; raḫāṣu שָׁטַף; mupparšu מְעוֹפֵף; sapānu רָמַס; rašbu אַיִל, rašubbu מַבְעִית, galtu נוֹרָא; ḫalāpu stat. עָטוּ; kullu הֶחֱזִיק; tamāḫu G (62) תָּמַךְ but הִצְמִיד in 122 (echo of I 157); ešû נָבוֹךְ (70 ,67); seḫû מְשֻׁבָּשׁ; barû בָּחַן; ṭeḫû קָרַב (as II); qerēbu Št הִקְרִיב, Gt הִתְקָרֵב; dâṣu בְּזָה; rēmu רַחֲמִים [cognate]; rakāsu חָגַר; šašmu דּוּ־קְרָב; maḫḫûtu מְשֻׁגָּעַת (not מִתְנַבְּאָה, to keep the root of nabû/נביא out); šanû ṭēmu שְׁנָה טַעַם (1 Sam 21:14); manû שָׁנַן (91, "recite"), מָנָה (120, "count"); šêlu לָטַשׁ (Ps 7:13); elēpu Gt נִשְׁתַּרֵג; šuparruru פָּרַשׂ; wuššuru שִׁלַּח; esēru עָצַר (cognate אסר noted; אָסַר = kamû); šebēru שָׁבַר; dumāmu אֲנָקָה; šērtu עֹנֶשׁ; kalû כָּלָא; kišukku שָׁבִי; mīlu gallê גֵּאוּת־שֵׁדִים; kartappu נוֹהֵג; kasû D כָּפַת; Uggu אֵלֵי הַמָּוֶת(?); ekēmu נָטַל; kanāku חָתַם, kišibbu חוֹתָם; nizmatu חֵפֶץ; ṣibittu תְּפִיסָה; letû D רָסַק; ušultu עוֹרֶק; riāšu שָׁשׁ; igisû תְּשׁוּרָה; šulmānu שַׁלְמֹנִים [cognate].

17. eBL's English departs from its own normalization in 44 (the net, not the winds, as Anu's gift), 51 ("his side" for idušša), 76–77 (igmilu "conciliatory", ṭubbātu "friendliness" against the normalized ikmilu, tubbâti < tebû), 85 (concessive lū), 144 ("the likeness of Esharra"), 145 (locatives). The Hebrew translates the normalization; each case is in the apparatus.

Open decisions for the user

1. 136 *šerkuppu: הַמְצוּלָה (a poetic "sea", after eBL's Malku note). Alternatives: a transliteration סֶרְכֻּפּוּ with the note; "reed marsh" (סְבַךְ הַקָּנִים, the dictionary lemma, which would strengthen the link to Ps 136:13 יַם-סוּף); the old "foetus".
2. 145 syntax: "Ešarra, which he built (as) the heavens" vs. eBL's three locatives (Ešgalla, Ešarra, heaven) for 146. The Hebrew אשגלה, אשרה אשר בנה, השמים – keeps both open.
3. 77 / 76: we translate the normalization ("why have you risen, lifted on high … who was angry"); eBL's English reads ṭubbātu / igmilu ("why do you put on a friendly face … who acted conciliatory"). This changes the scene (open hostility vs. feigned friendliness).
4. 28 karābu = בֵּרְכוּ: by meaning, with a [equivalent] tag to Gen 1:22. Alternative הֵרִיעוּ / לְשָׁלוֹם would avoid any contact with וַיְבָרֶךְ, but would hide a real conceptual parallel (blessing by the gods of their new king vs. God's blessing of his creatures).
5. 124 ayyābu = הַקָּם instead of the cognate אוֹיֵב (decision 9). Alternative: give אוֹיֵב to ayyābu and change lemnu to רָשָׁע/מֵרַע everywhere (would change I 73 = IV 123).
6. 29 *palû: תקופת מלוכה (eBL lemma) or "staff (of office)" (Foster), i.e. מַטֵּה הַשִּׁלְטוֹן.
7. 120 *Uggu: אֱלִי הַמָּוֶת(?) (by meaning) or the transliteration אוּגּוּ.
8. 2 / 146 *ramû: ישב / התיישב share the Hebrew root of ašābu; alternative הִשְׁכִּין / שָׁכַן for ramû (keeps the verbs apart, but לשלטון שכן is awkward).
9. 62 / 122 *tamāḫu: G תמוך in 62, but הצמיד in 122 to echo I 157 (Š הצמידה). Alternative: תמך in both (strict lemma consistency, the echo lost).
10. 85 *lū: precative ("let your army be harnessed!") or concessive (eBL: "though your main force is drawn up").

Progress log

- 2026-10-16: read the guidelines, corpus and project renderings, the flood renderings, the Tablet I–III sections and annotated files, the Atra-ḫasīs format model, and the eBL edition of IV (N, variants, lemmas, notes, parallels, the full glossary; ATF where a reading mattered). eBL's English was extracted to a separate file.
- 2026-10-16: drafted the Hebrew of all 146 lines (scratch file) before reading eBL's English; then compared with eBL and King 1902 and wrote annotated-IV.rtl.md in five sections (1–34, 35–58, 59–92, 93–122, 123–146).

- 2026-10-16, pass (a) fidelity: every content word checked against N. Changed: 23 `במעשה מעשה פיך` → `פיך` – (the Akkadian has a nominative, no preposition); 37 `(בה)` marked as added; 97 `לבלוע` → `לבולעו` (no object in the Akkadian); 44, 109, 117, 132, 138, 142 additions in ( ) checked. Brackets: only 71 `[לחשה]` and 75 `[נשא]` (roots broken in all manuscripts); 76 [a]na, išpurš[i] (one sign / an ending) not bracketed; 73–74 `…` for the lost beginnings. `?` for 70, 72, 73, 74, 120, 124; `…` for 116, 136.

142	uštamḫir meḫret apsî šubat nudimmud	(אותו) השווה לעומת האפסו, מושב נודימוד	וַיַּבְדֵּל בֵּין הַמַּיִם אֲשֶׁר מִתַּחַת לָרָקִיעַ וּבֵין הַמַּיִם אֲשֶׁר מֵעַל לָרָקִיעַ (בראשית א:ז); גַּם אֶת זֶה לְעֻמַּת זֶה עָשָׂה הָאֱלֹהִים (קהלת ז:יד)	[divergence]	An upper structure set as the counterpart of the lower waters (Apsû): the same two-storey cosmos as Gen 1:7.
143	imšuḫ-ma bēlu ša apsî binûtuššu	מדד האדון את מבנה האפסו	מִי מָדַד בְּשָׁעֲלוֹ מַיִם וְשָׁמַיִם בַּזָּרֶת תִּכֵּן (ישעיהו מ:יב)	[equivalent]	Measuring the waters and the heavens; תִּכֵּן = bašāmu in our renderings (35).
144	ešgalla tamšīlašu ukīn ešarra	את אשגלה, תבניתו, כונן – את אשרה	אֵת תַּבְנִית הַמִּשְׁכָּן וְאֵת תַּבְנִית כָּל כֵּלָיו (שמות כה:ט); כּוֹנֵן שָׁמַיִם בִּתְבוּנָה (משלי ג:יט)	[equivalent] (tamšīlu / תבנית); [cognate] (kânu D = כונן)	The heavens built as a temple on the pattern of another structure.

Proposals for the shared renderings

For the corpus `renderings.md` (§3) or the project §4 (rows added there):

- karābu* = בָּרַךְ [equivalent] (not cognate; source of כְּרוּב), so that later blessings (VI–VII) align with IV 28.
- wabālu* = הוֹבִיל [cognate יבל] corpus-wide; נָשָׂא for našû only. (III 56 לבו נשא (אותו) could become לבו הוביל (אותו); the coordinator decides.)
- ṣabātu* G = תָּפַס, Š/Št = הִצִּיב; aḫāzu = אָחַז.
- Enemy words: add zayyāru = שׂוֹנֵא and ayyābu = קָם (cognate of אוֹיֵב, noted) to the row of lemnu/gērû/nakru.
- Weapons and the duel (for V 73–76, VI 82–91, VII): qaštu קֶשֶׁת, mulmullu חֵץ, miṭṭu אַלָּה, išpatu אַשְׁפָּה, sapāru רֶשֶׁת, imḫullu רוּחַ־רָעָה, abūbu (weapon) מַבּוּל, narkabtu מֶרְכָּבָה, ḫepû בְּקַע, šalamtu גְּוִיָּה, kamāru מִכְמֹרֶת, ṣerretu חֶבֶל הָאַף.
- The sky: add ašratu = זְבוּל and meḫretu = לְעֻמַּת to corpus §3 (row šamû), with the note that eBL's English "firmament" (IV 141) is a false echo; mašṭû = מִשְׁטָח; šerkuppu (open decision 1).
- rēṣu* = עוֹזֵר (with Job 9:13 עֹזְרֵי רָהַב as the standing [equivalent]).
- barû* = בָּחַן, ešû* = נָבוֹךְ, manû* = מָנָה (count) / שָׁנַן (recite).

Lessons for the guidelines

- The edition's English can import Genesis vocabulary. eBL renders ašratu (IV 141) "firmament", the Vulgate's word for רָקִיעַ, though the Akkadian is a plain poetic word for heaven. Read the rank-3 translation after drafting also as an echo check of its own: a familiar biblical word in a modern translation may have no basis in the original.

- A cognate can be unavailable because the corpus already gave its Hebrew word to another lemma (ayyābu ~ אוֹיֵב, while אוֹיֵב = lemnu, fixed by a repeated line). Then choose a distinct word and state the cognate in the note; do not break a fixed repeated line for it.
- Prefer the cognate noun even when the verb of the same root has another Hebrew rendering (ṣamādu = רָתַם, but naṣmadu = צָמַד; ḫalāpu stative עָטוּ, but naḫlaptu = חֲלִיפָה): the noun often has an exact Hebrew cognate that the verb lacks.
- Check the stem of homographic forms against their parallel: uptarrira (IV 106) is D perfect or Dt preterite; the parallel N issapḫa in the same line decides for the passive.
- Hidden cognates come in clusters around one image. Around the bow (IV 35–38): kânu D + matnu = כּוֹנְנוּ ... עַל-יֶתֶר (Ps 11:2), išpatu = אַשְׁפָּה; around the duel (IV 97–112): karšu = כָּרֵשׁ (Jer 51:34), parāru = פּוֹרַרְתָּ (Ps 74:13), šebēru = שִׁבַּרְתָּ (Ps 74:13), kamāru = מְכִמֹּרֶת, batāqu = בְּתֵּק. When one cognate turns up, search the same biblical passage for the others.

Tablet V

Scope

Tablet V, eBL lines 1–158 (eBL has no section breaks and no old line numbers for this tablet; the Hebrew headings are ours). The most damaged tablet of the poem (eBL: 44 lines intact, 107 partial, 7 lost; 61–119 rest largely on one manuscript, HuzNA1):

- 1–11 stations (manzāzu) for the great gods; stars and constellations as their images; the year and its boundaries; twelve months of three stars each; Nēberu's station "to mark their bonds"; Enlil's and Ea's stations; gates in both of Tiāmat's ribs, bolts left and right; the zenith in her liver.
- 12–26 Nannaru (the moon) made to appear and entrusted with the night, "jewel of the night, to mark the days"; Marduk's charge to the moon: horns at the beginning of the month, a half-crown on the seventh day, šapattu (full moon) at mid-month, facing the sun, waning, the day of disappearance, conjunction on the 30th; then (broken) the sun / Šamaš, "sworn" against murder and oppression.
- 27–46 broken: lines on Šamaš, the end of the month, the day of disappearance, "he built the day", the year, New Year (zagmukku), regularity, a bolt of the exit, the watches of night and day.
- 47–66 the world from Tiāmat's body: her spittle into clouds; wind, rain, mist, her venom heaped up – kept in Marduk's own hand; her head heaped over, the underground waters opened, Euphrates and Tigris opened from her eyes, nostrils sealed, distant mountains heaped on her teats, springs bored, her tail bound as the durmāḫu ("great bond"), the Apsû under his feet, her thighs as the pegs/braces of heaven, her (other) half roofed and the earth established (62 ~ IV 138); his net spread out and emptied; "he shaped heaven and earth" (65).

- 67–76 the rites devised; nose-ropes (of the captive gods) handed to Ea; the Tablet of Destinies taken from Qingu given to Anu; the battle-gear hung up; the eleven creatures: their weapons broken, bound at his feet; images (ṣalmu) of them set up at the gate of the Apsû, "never to be forgotten – let it be a sign (ittu)".
- 77–106 the gods rejoice; Laḫmu and Laḫamu, Anšar's embrace ("king of well-being"), gifts from Anu, Enlil and Ea, Damkina's exultation, Usmû appointed vizier of the Apsû; the Igigi and Anunnaki prostrate themselves and kiss his feet: "This is the king!"; Marduk, girded with the dust of combat, is anointed and robed; radiance, crown, the mace (95 = IV 37), feet set on the mušḫuššu, the staff of well-being; (broken) enthronement.
- 107–116 Laḫmu and Laḫamu to the Igigi: "formerly the son, now your king"; the name Lugaldimmerankia; the gods give him kingship: "whatever you command, we will do".
- 117–130 Marduk's speech: above the Apsû, opposite Ešarra, below the heavens, he will make a house, "the seat of my delight"; the gods coming up from the Apsû and down from heaven will lodge there (nubattu); its name will be Babylon, "houses of the great gods"; a festival there.
- 131–158 the gods' reply: "who but you has authority over what your hands built?"; "make our lodging in Babylon forever; let them bring our regular offerings"; (broken) toil, joy, the light; prostration; "formerly the son, now our king"; mace and staff; "let him make the plans, all craftsmanship … we".

Decisions

1. Repeated lines: V 95 = IV 37 copied character for character (נשא את האַלָה, האחיז (בה) את ימינו;; the last sign of ušāḫi[z] is restored, the word is certain, so no brackets). V 62 ~ IV 138, V 73 ~ IV 115, V 74 ~ IV 111: the shared words are copied (את מחציתה, קַרָה; ואחד־עשר מבנים,; עצר, אשר;) and only what the Akkadian changes is changed (62 no iškunam-ma, erṣeta uktinna; 73 nabnīssa ša tiāmtu ibnû; 74 ḫepû בְּקַע instead of šebēru שְׁבֵּר). Internal: 126 = 128 and 134 = 136 identical; 109 / 153 differ only in marduk / bēlu (and brackets); 110 / 154 in the suffix; 125 / 127 in "from the Apsû / come up" vs "from heaven / come down"; 133 / 135 in mimma / qaqqari; 130 / 138 share only nubattu = מלון.
2. The moon and the sun (12–29). nannāru = נַנָּרוּ (a name, never יָרֵחַ/מָאוֹר); šamšu (lemma "sun", 19, 21, 22) = שֶׁמֶשׁ, Šamaš (lemma the god, 25, 29) = שַׁמַּשׁ; both vocalized at every occurrence, because unvocalized they are the same word. šūpû = הוֹפִיעַ; qiāpu* "to entrust" = (12, 84) מָסַר, because paqādu (84) is the cognate of פקד and keeps הִפְקִיד/פָּקַד (fixed passage I 152). šukuttu = עֲדִי (13 šuknat mūši עֲדִי הלילה); agû = כֶּתֶר; qarnu = קֶרֶן; nebû = נָגַהּ; sebūtu = הַשְׁבִּיעִי (הַיּוֹם); mašlu = חָצוּי (kept apart from mišlu מַחֲצִית); šapattu = כֵּסֶה; maḫāru* Št = הִשְׁתַּוּוָה (18, 22, 40; IV 142 uštamḫir השווה); šanānu G = הִתְחָרָה; bubbulu = הַיְלֶמוּת (יוֹם); šalāšû = הַשְּׁלוֹשִׁים (יוֹם); arḫišam = יָרֵחַ בְּיִרְחוֹ (after חֹדֶשׁ בְּחָדְשׁוֹ, with warḫu = יָרֵחַ).
3. The calendar (1–8): manzāzu = מְקוֹם עֲמִידָה; bašāmu = תִּכֵּן; uddû = סְמֵן throughout (3, 6, 13 ×2, 16, 52, 124); miṣru = גְּבוּל with maṣāru D תָּחַם (the cognate מֵצַר/Aram. מְצָרָא noted, not used: unvocalized מצרים reads "Egypt"); rašādu Š = (98, 6, 123) יִסֵּד; riksu* = מוֹסֵרָה (6, 63; Ps 2:3), because קָשַׁר/קֶשֶׁר belongs to kaṣāru (II 2; V 49); arnu = עָוֹן; egû = שָׁאֲנַן (as III 137).
4. Tiāmat's body (47–66). rupuštu = רִיר; erpetu = עָנָן and imbaru = עֲרָפֶל both occur (49, 51) and are kept apart (the proposed cognacy erpetu ~ עֲרָפֶל is noted); kaṣāru = קָשַׁר; sabā'u Š = הֵנִיד (49, 63; not הֵנִיעַ, since נע = dâlu); zanānu* Š = הִגְשִׁים (with zunnu = גֶּשֶׁם), not הִמְטִיר, which would create an echo of Gen 2:5 that the Akkadian (not cognate) does not have; kaṣāṣu = זָרְזִיף (uncertain); qatāru Š = הָעֱשִׁין (the cognate קִיטוֹר noted; הִקְטִיר is cultic); šapāku = שָׁפַךְ [cognate] (53, 57) because צָבַר is kamāru (51); nagbu = מַעֲמַקִּים; šebû = שָׂבַע [cognate] (54, 89); peḫû = סְתֹם; ezēbu = עָזַב [cognate]; ṣertu* = דַּד, not שַׁד, so as not to create a Hebrew שד/שדי pun the Akkadian lacks; namba'u = מַבּוּעַ [cognate?] (not מַעְיָן, Gen 7:11); palāšu D = נִקֵּב; kuppu = בּוֹר; rakāsu* "to bind" = רָכַס [cognate] (59) – IV 85 had חָגַר for the Gt stative "harnessed", which does not fit binding a tail, and קָשַׁר is kaṣāru; durmāḫu transliterated דּוּרְמָחוּ; retû = (יתדות השמים 61) תָּקַע; šipru = (63, 141) פֹּעַל, not מְלָאכָה, although the semantic development (mission → work) is the same: the [equivalent] is in the apparatus; patāqu = עָצֵב (65, vocalized).
5. The images and the sign (73–76): nabnītu + suffix = מִבְנָיָהּ (so that מִבְנָיָהּ ... בָּנְתָה keeps the Akkadian nabnīssa ... ibnû); ḫepû = בְּקַע (corpus), suitable for sticks/maces; esēru = עָצַר (IV 111); ṣalmu = צֶלֶם; ṣabātu Š = הִצִּיב; aḫrâtaš = מֵעַתָּה; mašû N = נִשְׁכַּח; ittu = אוֹת.

6. Gifts, homage, regalia (67–106): pelludû = חֻקּוֹת (kept apart from parṣu פָּלְחָן); ṣabātu Št "to make take hold" = הִתְפִּיס (68; root of G תָּפַס); tāmartu* = (70, 83) שַׁי – the exact semantic equivalent is תְּשׁוּרָה (both from verbs of seeing; 1 Sam 9:7), but תְּשׁוּרָה is igisû (IV 134), so it is noted only; tabālu* = (70) הוֹלִיךְ – I 68 had נָטַל, but project §4 gives נָטַל to ekēmu (IV 121) and both verbs stand in V 69–70; qiāšu = הֶעֱנִיק, qīštu = מַתָּנָה; alālu II = תָּלָה (as IV 38, 51); apāru = עִטֵּר; redû G = נָהַג (Št הִנְהִיג, II 151); edēru = חִבֵּק (as I 53); alālu III Š with object = הִלֵּל; nawāru Š = הֵאִיר; tuqsiqqû = מַחֲלָצָה; Usmû = אוּסְמוּ; šukkallūtu = וְזִירוּת; paqādu = פָּקַד; kanāšu = כָּרַע; lalû = (89, 122) נִעַם; ebēḫu D = אָזַר (90; Ps 93:1 הִתְאַזָּר); tarbuʾu = אֲבָק; labāku Š = הִשְׁרָה; edēqu Dt = הִתְעַטֵּף (as I 68) with tēdīqu = מַעֲטָה; rašubbatu = בְּעָתָה; ušparu = מַטֶּה (miṭṭu stays אַלָּה, ḫaṭṭu שֶׁבֶט); azamillu = שַׂק; emāšu transliterated אֶמָּשׁוּ; aštû = כֶּס; simakku = נָוֶה.
7. Kingship and Babylon (107–158): the one-line speech formula (108) and the two-line formula (117–118) per corpus §2; narāmu = אָהוּב; qâlu = הֶאֱזִין; Lugaldimmerankia = לוּגַל־דִּימֶר־אַנְקִיָּה; zikru = זֵכֶר (vocalized זִכְרוֹ); kaʾinimmaku = נוֹסַח; zanānu II = כִּלְכֵּל; ḫašmānu = הַכָּחֹל (not תְּכֵלֶת, the cognate of another Akkadian word, takiltu); meḫretu = לְעֻמַּת; ašratu = זְבוּל; epēšu = עָשָׂה even for "making" a house (122), בָּנָה stays for banû; nubattu = מָלוֹן; purussû = גְּזֵרָה; nabû = קָרָא (129, vocalized אֶקְרָא); šuma zakāru = (137) הִזְכִּיר שֵׁם; nadû of a building = עָרַךְ (138, as IV 1; not הִנִּיחַ, root נוח); isinnu = חַג; sattukku = תָּמִיד; mānaḫtu = יְגִיעָה; kullumu = הֶרְאָה; nepelkû Š = הִרְחִיב (פֶּעַר ;148 in IV 100 was the mouth); dâku = רָצַח (הָרַג ;25 = nêru); ḫabālu = עֹשֶׁק; ummânūtu = אֻמָּנוּת.
8. qaqqaru* as a noun (121 qaqqarša, 135 eli qaqqari) = קַרְקַע. Project §4 gives qaqqaru = אַרְצָה (adverbial, II 119), which does not fit a noun with a suffix; אֶרֶץ is erṣetu (62, 65) and אֲדָמָה is avoided (Gen 2). קַרְקַע is also the rendering of ammatu (I 2, the only occurrence). Recorded as an open decision.
9. Brackets follow eBL's N by the coordinator's rule: a word is bracketed when its root, or most of it, is broken in all manuscripts (e.g. 18 [ירח בירחו], 19 [יביט], 22 [בשלושים], 57 [הרים], 62, 68 [מחציתה], 69 [חבלי האף], 74 [לוח], 75 [נשקיהם], 76 [בשער], [הציב], 79 [מעתה], 84 [חיבק], 92 [מסר], 93 [השרה], 94 [מעטה], 96 [זוהר], 98 [החזיק], 99 [על נחש־הזעם], 109 [תלה], [מרדוך], 131, 137, 138, 146, 152, 153, 156, 157); a restored ending, a restored first or last sign of a certain word, or a restored suffix is not bracketed (4, 5, 9, 17, 20, 21, 55, 58, 69 [qi]ngu, 77, 78, 85, 95, 127, 129, 155). eBL's … outside brackets is …, broken stretches […]; one scribal omission, 77 ḫa<dîš>, is ⟨שמחה⟩.
10. eBL's English departs from its normalization in 16 ("six days": an old reading of zakāri), 23 ("I d[efined?]": restored verb), 38, 45 (restored verbs), 63 ("completed his task": another verb), 68 ([têr]ēti "instructions" against N [ṣerr]ēti "nose-ropes"), 89 ("[sang his praises]"), 121 ("firmament" for ašratu, as in IV 141), 126/128 ("here"/"there" for the same ašruššu), 130 ("we shall hold" for 3 pl. ippušū), 142 ("[he shall rest from]": restored), 147 (eninnu "now", against eBL's lemma Eninnu, the temple; the Hebrew follows Foster, with (?)), 157 ("plans" for eṣrēti, against eBL's lemma erṣetu "earth"; the Hebrew follows Foster, מזימות). Each case is in the apparatus.

Open decisions for the user

1. 121 / 135 qaqqaru = קַרְקַע (decision 8): this shares קרקע with ammatu (I 2). Alternatives: אֶרֶץ (clashes with erṣetu in the neighbouring lines), תַּשְׁתִּית (modern).
2. 12 / 84 qiāpu = מָסָר instead of the prompt's הִפְקִיד (reserved for paqādu, 84 and I 152).
3. 70 / 83 tāmartu = שַׁי rather than the exact תְּשׁוּרָה (taken by igisû, IV 134). Alternative: move igisû to שַׁי/מִנְחָה and give tāmartu תְּשׁוּרָה (would change IV 134).
4. 59 rakāsu = רָכַס (cognate) against IV 85 חָגַר (context "harnessed"): two Hebrew words for one lemma. Alternative: רָכַס everywhere (would change IV 85), or חָגַר here (does not fit).
5. 63 / 141 šipru = פֹּעַל rather than מְלָאכָה: the semantic equivalence with מְלַאכְתּוֹ (Gen 2:2–3) is real (both "mission" → "work"), but the words are not cognate, so the Hebrew avoids pre-empting it. Alternative: מְלָאכָה with the [equivalent] tag in the note.
6. 50 zanānu Š = הִגְשִׁים, not הִמְטִיר (Gen 2:5): same reasoning.
7. 57 ṣertu = דַּד, not שַׁד/שָׁדַיִם: avoids a Hebrew-only pun on שַׁדַּי; the link with Gen 49:25 (שָׁדַיִם) is made in the apparatus.
8. 119 ḫašmānu = הַכָּחֹל: alternatives a transliteration (חַשְׁמָנוּ) or תְּכֵלֶת (rejected: cognate of takiltu, a different word).
9. 147 *eninnu "now" (Foster) vs. the temple Eninnu (eBL lemma); 157 *eṣrēti "plans" (Foster) vs. erṣetu "earth" (eBL lemma). The Hebrew follows Foster in both, marked uncertain.
10. 25 *šamaš: the god (eBL lemma) – שַׁמַּשׁ; Foster translates "the sun". Lines 19–22 have the common noun. The Hebrew follows the lemmas, which makes the shift from the sun to the god visible.
11. 17 sebūtu = בַּשְׁבִיעִי השביעי (יום) with "(יום)" in parentheses (one Akkadian word); alternative בַּשְׁבִיעִי alone.
12. 2 *tamšīlšunu "their likeness" taken as the gods' likeness (the stars as images of the great gods of line 1); alternative: "their (the stars') likenesses", i.e. the constellations as star-pictures (Foster: "the star images").

Progress log

- 2026-10-16: read the guidelines, the corpus and project renderings, the flood corpus renderings, the Tablet I–IV sections of this file, the Tablet IV annotated and clean files (format, IV 19–20, 35, 37, 103, 111, 115, 138), the eBL edition of V (N, variants, lemmas, notes, the ATF of the doubtful lines) and the whole V glossary. eBL's English (T) was extracted to a separate scratch file and not read until the Hebrew of every line had been formed.
- 2026-10-16: drafted `annotated-V.rtl.md` in five sections (header + 1–26, 27–46, 47–66, 67–106, 107–158), then compared with eBL's English and King 1902 and wrote the comparisons into the apparatus.

- 2026-10-16, pass (a) fidelity: every content word checked against N. Changed: 25 a trailing `...` removed (nothing follows ḫabāla in N); 70 `ראשית השי` → `כראשית –` and `העניק` → `העניק אותו (אותו)` (no object suffix certain); 92 `ב(ברוש)` → `בברוש` (the preposition is not in the Akkadian). Brackets checked word by word against N (decision 9); `( )` additions checked (12, 14, 17, 21, 36, 37, 49, 52, 58, 64, 70, 71, 75, 92, 101); `...` for uncertain translations (20, 50, 59, 61, 66, 82, 114, 119, 157); `?` in 147.
- 2026-10-16, pass (b) consistency: checked by lemma across the tablet: uddû, manzāzu, izuzzu Š, banû, bašāmu, eṣēru/uṣurtu, šakānu, kânu D, maḫāru Št, šamšu/Šamaš, qerēbu Št, šigaru, elâti, sabāʾu Š, šapāku, petû, wabālu, tāmartu, qiāpu, apsû, nubattu, šukênu, zakāru, qabû, melammu, rašubbatu, miṭṭu, ušparu, tešmû, šulmu, lalû, šebû, puḫru, abbūšu, bēlu, šarru, ašruššu, purussû, epēšu, šipru, ūmu, šattu, warḫu. Names vocalized at their first occurrence in V only (`[מַרְדּוּךְ]` 48 is restored; Anu at 70; Laḫmu and Laḫamu at 78). Earlier tablets' Hebrew words were grepped for collisions with the new terms: changed 6 / 66 riksu `מוֹסֵרָה` → `קשר` (collision with kaṣāru 49 , `קשר`); 25 dâku `רצח` → `הרג` (collision with nêru); 70 tabālu checked against I 68 (decision 6). Internal repeated pairs compared by `verify.py`.
- 2026-10-16, pass (c) Hebrew: vocalized ambiguous forms (, `הוֹפִיעַ` , `בְּכְבֵדָה` , `תִּכֵּן` , `יְסֵד` , `יְשַׁאֲנַן` , `עֲדִי` , `צָר` , `בְּזִרוֹחַ` , `חָצוּ` , `בַּבָּסָה` , `תִּשְׁתַּוֶּה` , `הִתְמַעֵט` , `תִּתְחָרֶה` , `צְעַד` , `דִּינוּ` , `מַשְׁבָּע` , `יִנָּתֵן` , `אַל יְהִי` , `בְּתֹם` , `הַנִּיד` , `הַגְּשֶׁם` , `זַרְזִיף` , `הַעֲשֵׁן` , `צְבֹר` , `סְתֵם` , `נְקֵב` , `קֶרֶה` , `עִצֵּב` , `הִתְפִּיס` , `מִבְנֶיהָ` , `בְּקַע` , `תִּשְׁכַּח` , `שָׁשָׂה` , `הִלְלָה` , `הֵאִירָה` , `שַׁיְּהּ` , `מְנַשְּׁקִים` , `אַפָּם אַרְצָה` , `מְאָזָּר` , `בְּעָתָה` , `שַׁקּוֹ` , `מוּשָׁב` , `כְּסוֹ` , `בִּנְוָהוּ` , `הַאֲזִינוּ` , `זִכְרוֹ` , `בִּטְחוּ` , `נֹסַח` , `קַרְקָעָהּ` , `הָחֲיָנוּ` , `תְּמִידֵנוּ` , `בָּנוּ` , `אֶקְרָא` , `אַיְּסֵד`); `קִימַת הרוחות` → `קום הרוחות` 50 (tēbû = `קִימָה`, project §4). - 2026-10-16: `translation-V.rtl.md` generated from the annotated headings and `>` lines (script), with an introduction and 30 footnotes.
- 2026-10-16, verification: `python3 -I verify.py V` → "Tablet V: 158 annotated entries (eBL 158), 158 translation lines; fixed passage: 34 rows checked, 0 mismatch(es); 1 difference(s) in repeated lines; problems: 0". The one difference, V 109 / V 153, is justified by the Akkadian ([mardu]k / bēlu; the brackets differ as well). V 95 = IV 37 identical; 126 = 128 identical. `check_bible_quotes.py` on `annotated-V.rtl.md` , `translation-V.rtl.md` and this file → 0 problems (after correcting Prov 8:25 `הָטְבָּעוּ`, Isa 35:7, Job 26:13 `בָּרַח`, Job 40:25, Ps 66:9, Ps 76:12, Isa 61:3 to the repository's text).

Night "entrusted" vs. given "to rule".

Lines shared with other tablets

- V 95 = IV 37 (exact).
- V 62 ~ IV 138; V 73 ~ IV 115; V 74 ~ IV 111 (shared words copied).
- V 1–2 echo IV 19 (lumāšu); V 98 echoes I 141 (mušḫuššu); V 69 refers back to IV 121–122 and I 157 (the Tablet of Destinies); V 116 has the frame of I 126; V 152 has the frame of IV 20; V 112 and 152 the name Lugaldimmerankia (VI 139 ff.).
- Internal: 109 ~ 153, 110 ~ 154, 125 ~ 127, 126 = 128, 130 ~ 138, 133 ~ 135, 134 = 136.
- Hebrew of lines that later tablets may repeat or echo: 112 ; לוּגַל־דִּימֶר־אַנְקִיָה – זִכְרוֹ, בוּ בְּטָחוּ; 118–117 מרדוך פתח את פיו ואמר, / אל האלים, אבותיו, דבר דיבר:; 126 שם יהי מלונכם, לקבל את אספתכם.; 129 אֶקְרָא את שמו בָּבֶל – בתי האלים הגדולים;; 135 / 133 על כל אשר / על הקרקע אשר בָּנוּ ידיך,; 151 השתחוו לו האלים, אומרים לו:.

Proposals for the shared renderings

For the corpus `renderings.md` (§3) or the project §4 (rows added there):

- qiāpu* = מָסַר (V 12, 84), so that הִפְקִיד/פָּקַד stay for paqādu [cognate פקד]. The corpus §1 note on Nannaru could cite V 12 with מָסַר.
- maḫāru* Št = הִשְׁתַּוָּה (V 18, 22, 40; IV 142 הִשְׁוָה) and šanānu* G = הִתְחָרָה (V 22; IV 4 אֵין מִתְחָרֶה).
- Moon vocabulary for VII and the companions: šukuttu עֲדִי, nebû נָגַהּ, mašlu חָצִיר, bubbulu הַהֵיעָלְמוּת (יום), šalāšû הַשְׁלוֹשִׁים (יום), arḫišam יָרֵחַ בְּיָרֵחַ; and the rule: שָׁמֶשׁ / שַׁמַּשׁ vocalized at every occurrence when both occur in one text.
- riksu* = מוֹסָרָה and rakāsu* "to bind" = רָכַס [cognate] (V 6, 59, 66); the coordinator should decide whether IV 85 (חָגַר, rakāsu Gt "harnessed") stays.
- tabālu* = הוֹלִיךְ (V 70) vs. ekēmu נָטַל (IV 121, §4): I 68 has נָטַל for tabālu; a decision for the corpus is needed (they recur in VI–VII).
- tāmartu* = שַׁי, with תְּשׁוּרָה (= igisû) noted as the exact equivalent.
- šipru* = פֹּעַל (not מְלָאכָה); mānaḫtu* = יְגִיעָה (with dullu עָמָל) – both matter for VI (the gods' toil laid on man) and Gen 2:2–3, 5:29.
- zanānu* Š = הִגְשִׁים (not הִמְטִיר); zanānu* II = כִּלְכֵּל.

- šapāku* = שָׁפַךְ (also of earth and mountains), since צָבַר is kamāru in this project; a note to the flood corpus row (צָבַר / יָצַק / שָׁפַךְ).
- namba'u* = מַבּוּעַ, ṣertu* = דַּד, ḫallu* = יֶרֶךְ, zibbatu* = זָנָב (body words of Tiāmat).
- sattukku* = תָּמִיד, isinnu* = חַג, pelludû* = חֻקּוֹת (cult words for VI–VII).
- qaqqaru* (noun) = קַרְקַע – see open decision 1; the coordinator may prefer to move ammatu (I 2) to another word.
- lalû* = נוֹעַם; ebēḫu* = אָזַר; edēqu* = הִתְעַטֵּף, tēdīqu* = מַעֲטֶה (as I 68); ušparu* = מַטֶּה; aštû* = כֶּס; simakku* = נָוֶה; emāšu transliterated.
- Names: Usmû = אוּסְמוּ; Lugaldimmerankia vocalized לוּגַל־דִּימֶר־אַנְקִיָּה (corpus §1 form, used).

Lessons for the guidelines

- A name can be the hidden echo. Nannaru means "luminary": the closest lexical contact between Ee V and Gen 1:16 is a divine name that the Hebrew text has as a common noun (הַמָּאוֹר). Transliterating the name keeps the comparison honest, but the apparatus must say what the name means, or the echo is hidden.
- Two words that are identical unvocalized (שָׁמֶשׁ the sun / שַׁמַּשׁ the god) must be vocalized at every occurrence when both occur in one text, not only at the first occurrence.
- Semantic twins without cognacy (šipru / מְלָאכָה, tāmartu / תְּשׁוּרָה): both developed the same meaning from the same image. Record them as [equivalent] in the apparatus and in the parallels index; whether the translation uses the twin depends on whether it would pre-empt a key comparison.
- Check new terms against the Hebrew already in the earlier tablets, not only against the renderings tables: קֶשֶׁר for riksu collided with kaṣāru (II 2), הָרַג for dâku with nêru (I 69), and tabālu had already received נָטַל in I 68 (later given to ekēmu in §4). A grep of the `>` lines of all earlier tablets for every new Hebrew word is cheap.
- When the edition's lemma and its own translation disagree on the word itself (V 147 Eninnu / "now", V 157 erṣetu / "plans"), translate the reading that the context and the manuscripts support, mark it uncertain, and record both.
- In a damaged tablet the modern translation's restorations can manufacture parallels: Foster's "[he shall rest from]" (V 142) would make a Gen 2:2–3 parallel out of a lacuna. The parallels index must say so in the row itself.

Tablet VI

Scope

Tablet VI, eBL lines 1–166. eBL marks section breaks only in the list of names (before 123, 133, 135, 137, 139, 143, 147, 151, 155, 157, i.e. before each name); the Hebrew headings for 1–122 are ours. No old line numbers. The tablet is well preserved: only 1–4 and 16 have words broken in all manuscripts (38 manuscripts).

- 1–16 Marduk's plan: "I shall knot blood and bring bone into being, I shall make lullû stand – let 'man' be his name; … let the toil of the gods be laid on them, that they may rest"; he will change the ways of the gods and divide them in two. Ea's counsel: let one god, their brother, be given up, destroyed, and let people be shaped; let the guilty one be given up.
- 17–38 The assembly: "Who made the strife, made Tiāmat rebel?" – "Qingu." Qingu is bound before Ea, the guilt is laid on him, his blood is cut; from his blood Ea builds mankind and lays the gods' toil on it, releasing the gods; "that work is not fit to be understood"; Nudimmud built by Marduk's ingenuity.
- 39–54 Marduk divides the Anunnakkū above and below: 300 in heaven as a guard, as many for the earth, 600 in all; he allots their shares. The grateful Anunnakkū offer to build a dais, "Your chamber – let it be our lodging", where they will rest.
- 55–66 Marduk orders Babylon built; its bricks are moulded for a year; in the second year Esagil's head is raised, the ziggurat of the Apsû built, a seat founded for Anu, Enlil, Ea and Marduk.
- 67–81 The dedication: the gods' own shrines, the 300 Igigi and 600 of the Apsû assemble; Marduk seats the gods at a banquet ("This is Babylon, the seat of your dwelling"); a ritual in Esagil; the orders and designs established; the stations of heaven and earth distributed; the fifty great gods and the seven gods of destinies.
- 82–94 The bow: Marduk lays it before the gods; Anu kisses it ("let her be my daughter"), names it Long-wood, Reacher and Bow-star, sets it in heaven among the gods; a throne is set up for Marduk.
- 95–122 The gods' oath (a self-curse; water and oil; touching their throats), kingship given; Anšar names him Asarluḫi; the gods' decree on his rule (shepherdship of the black-headed, offerings, temples, "the likeness of what he made in heaven let him make on earth", people divided as to gods – "for us he is our god"); "let us name his fifty names".
- 123–166 The first nine names, each explained by learned etymology (table below); Anšar, Laḫmu and Laḫamu named three each and charge the gods to pronounce his names; the gods take counsel in Ubšukkinnaku. The list continues in VII.

Decisions

1. The creation of man (5–8, 32–38, 129–130), vocabulary: dāmu = דָּם (singular, as in Atra-ḫasīs I 206 בבשרו ובדמו, although the Akkadian is plural); kaṣāru* = קָשַׁר (דם אֶקְשֹׁר 5; also 24/30 קשר מלחמה), not צָבַר (= kamāru, §4); eṣemtu = עֶצֶם [cognate]; šubšû = הֵבִיא לִכְלֵל הֲוָיָה (the verb of Tiāmat's monsters, I 146); lullû = קַדְמוֹן, amēlu = אָדָם, amēlūtu = הָאֱנוֹשׁוּת, nišū = הָאֲנָשִׁים; banû = בָּנָה; patāqu N = (14) יִעָצְבוּ.
2. emēdu* "to lay on, impose" = הֵשִׁית (עַל) (8 passive 130 ,36 ,34 ,32 ,יוּשַׁת): the biblical verb of imposing a penalty or sin (אַל נָא תָּשֵׁת עָלֵינוּ חַטָּאת, Num 12:11; Ex 21:22). Not הֵטִיל (= nadû) and not הֶעֱמִיס (našû Št in the fixed passage). The commonly proposed cognacy emēdu ~ עמד is noted as [cognate?].
3. arnu* = עָוֹן (32 ,26 ,16; project §4, V 7), not 26 .אָשָׁם arnuššu lušaššâ = את עוונו אַשִּׂיא (אותו) – the Hebrew idiom of Lev 22:16 (וְהִשְּׂיאוּ אוֹתָם עֲוֹן אַשְׁמָה), same verb (našû Š = נשא Hiphil) and same object.
4. wuššuru* = (34) שִׁלַּח, as in the flood corpus and IV, not שִׁחְרַר; the release of the gods from corvée is compared with שַׁלַּח אֶת עַמִּי (Ex 5:1).
5. šipru* = פֹּעַל throughout (37, 57, 67), never מְלָאכָה; the [equivalent] with מְלַאכְתּוֹ (Gen 2:2–3) is made explicit in the apparatus of 37 and 67 and in footnote 9 (both words develop "mission, sending" → "work": šapāru "to send" / לאך "to send").
6. The division of the gods (10, 39–46, 79, 119, 145): zâzu = חָלַק everywhere (including 119, the division of mankind "as to gods"); isqu* "lot, share" = חֵלֶק (גּוֹרָל ;46 is šīmtu): the resulting חילק את חלקם is a Hebrew-only figura (stated in the note); maṣṣartu = (42) מִשְׁמֶרֶת; ḫamšat šušši* = חֲמֵשׁ שְׁשִׁיּוֹת (69 ,42: the sexagesimal form kept, "= 300" in the note), nēr = שֵׁשׁ מֵאוֹת (69 ,44: a unit word, rendered as the number). No צָבָא: there is no ṣābu in the tablet.

7. Babylon (49–66): šubarrû = פְּטוֹר (דְּרוֹר ;49 stays for andurāru); dumuqqû = תּוֹדָה; parakku = דּוּכָן; kummu = חָדָר; nubattu = מָלוֹן; pašāḫu Š intransitive = נָרְגִּיעַ (54 ,52; Isa 34:14 הִרְגִּיעָה); nēmedu = מִשְׁעָן; nadû (a building) = (144 ,93 ,53) עָרַךְ; zīmu = זִיו (פָּנִים ;56 = pānu); epēšu = עָשָׂה (57, not "build"); libittu = לְבֵנָה, labānu = (לָבְנוּ 60) לָבַן [cognate ↔ Gen 11:3]; zaqāru = (58) זָקַף; allu = מַעְדֵּר; tarāku = הָלַם; rēša ullû = הֵרִים אֶת רֹאשׁוֹ (62; the line explains the name Esagil, Sum. é-sag-íl "house whose head is raised"); ziqqurratu = זִקּוּרַת; elû adj. = רָם (63 הָרָמָה, keeping the link with 62 הרימו); tarbītu = גְּדֵלָה; narmû = מָדוֹר (מְעוֹן ;72 = gipāru, נָוֶה = simakku); nagû / nigûtu = רִנָּה / רִנָּן; zarbābu = גְּבִיעִים; taqribtu = הַקְרָבָה (root qrb kept without deciding between "offering" and "intercession"); paramāḫu = דּוּכָן־הַנַּעֲלָה.
8. The bow (82–94): qaštu = קֶשֶׁת [cognate]; kakkab qašti = כּוֹכַב הַקֶּשֶׁת; wapû Š = הוֹפִיעַ (90; Št passive 118 יוּפְעוּ; Š stative 122 מוּפַעַת); gisgallu* = תַּחְנָה (מְקוֹם עֲמִידָה ;91 stays for manzāzu); atḫû = אַחִים (אָחְיָהּ 91: the suffix is feminine – the bow's brothers, not Anu's as in Foster); nâdu = שְׁבַח (הִלֵּל ;136 ,85 = alālu Š). The three names: "מַשִּׁיג", "עֵץ־אָרֹךְ" (kāšid), "כוכב הקשת".
9. The oath (97–98): arāru = מְאֵרָה (noun; [cognate] ארר); zakāru D = הִזְכִּיר (97, not אָמַר); tamû = נִשְׁבַּע; lapātu = לָפַת [cognate?]; napištu = נָפֶשׁ (here "throat", with the note).
10. The gods' decree (99–122): enūtu = גְּבִירוּת (אֲדָנוּת ;106 = bēlūtu, 100); rēʾûtu* = רוֹעוּת (107; not רְעִיָּה, because רעיית already renders ḫīrtu, I 78); binītu* = בְּנוּיִים (152 ,107; root בנה kept, distinct from nabnītu מִבְנִים and binûtu מִבְנָה); ṣalmāt qaqqadi = שְׁחוֹרֵי הָרֹאשׁ (flood corpus), with the false-friend note ṣalmu "black" ≠ ṣalmu "image"; aḫrâtaš ūmī = לְאַחֲרִית הַיָּמִים (108; aḫrâtaš alone = 136 ,מַעֲתָּה); nindabû = מִנְחָה; zāninūtu = כַּלְכָּלָה; eṣēnu Š = הֵרִיחַ (causative sense, 111); qutrinnu = קְטוֹרֶת; diʾu = בִּימָה; riāšu Š = הֵשִׁישׁ; tamšīlu = (112) תַּבְנִית; baʾūlātu = נְתִינִים; puqqu D = (115 ,103 ,19) הִקְשִׁיב; mašālu G stative = מָשׁוּל.
11. 113 uddû = הוֹדִיעַ – a stated deviation from corpus §3 (סְמֵן): here the verb takes a person and an infinitive ("let him teach the black-headed to fear him"), which סְמֵן cannot carry; הוֹדִיעַ is from ידע, the cognate of idû. palāḫu = פָּחַד (§4, IV 108), not יָרֵא as the prompt suggested (יָרֵא = adāru, II 90).
12. Speech and naming verbs: nabû = קָרָא only (51, 88, 101, 120, 121, 123, 139, 147, 151, 154, 155, 157, 159, 165); its derivative nību = (21) קְרִיאָה; zakāru D / šuma zakāru = הִזְכִּיר (שֵׁם) (,97 166 ,160 ,143 ,108; N 114 יוּזְכְּרוּ); zakāru Gt = דִּבֵּר; zikru "name" = (102 ,51) זֵכֶר, "utterance" = (161 ,140 ,1) מַאֲמָר. i + precative 1 pl. = הבה + future (51–54, 102, 121, 154, 164): 121 is הבה נקרא את חמישים שמותיו (the prompt's נִקְרָא נָא would be ambiguous with the N stem unvocalized).

13. Other new terms: alkakātu = הֲלִיכוֹת (43 ,9; Ps 68:25; דֶּרֶךְ stays for alaktu); nakālu D = חִכֶּם; kabātu D = כִּבֵּד; šanû III Št = שָׁנָה (43, "did again"; 9 šanû IV D = שִׁנָּה, eBL's lemma, with Foster's "double" in the note); nabalkutu Š = הִמְרִיד; kittu = נְכוֹנָה (22; Ps 5:10); malku = נָגִיד (מֶלֶךְ ;28 = šarru); eršu = פִּקֵּחַ (חָכָם ;35 = apkallu, נָבוֹן = ḫasīsu); gimratu = כְּלָלוּת; merītu = מִרְעָה, mašqītu = מַשְׁקֶה [cognate], urû = אֲרֻוָה [cognate], ṭaḫādu D = (124) דִּשֵּׁן; šāpû = סוֹרֵר (125, a sixth enemy word); šapšāqu = מְצוּקָה; kayyāna = בְּקִבְיעוּת; šikittu = מַתְכֹּנֶת (129; Ex 30:32); napšu = נָפֶשׁ; napšuru = לְמִחוֹל; enēnu = הֶעֱנִישׁ; nannû = מְצֻוָה; palāsu N = הִבִּיט; tukultu = מִבְטָח; šabāsu = רָגַז; tayyāru = מְתֻרַצָּה; muštālu = שׁוֹקֵל; rapāšu = רָחַב; lâṭu = בּוֹלֵם; taklimtu = מַרְאֶה; adāru Š stat. = מְבֻעָתִים; ašāru = סָקַר; pušqu = מֻצַּר; raʾābu = רָחַד (רָעַד ;146 is tarāru, IV 90, 108); nâšu = זָע (נָע = dâlu); gešṭû = חָלוּץ; lamassu = אֱלַת־מָגֵן; nêšu Š = מְחַיֶּה (Piel; balāṭu D = הֶחֱיָה); kašāru = תִּקֵּן; abtu = הָרוּס; egru = עִקֵּשׁ; ellu / mullilu = מְטַהֵר / טָהוֹר; zāninu = מְכַלְכֵּל; nadānu Št = נָתַן (זה לזה); mēsû = טְקָסִים; miliktu = עֵצָה.
14. Names: transliterated from eBL's normalization, hyphenated by Sumerian elements where these are clear, vocalized at the first occurrence in the tablet (table below). Asarluḫi* = אֲסַרְלוּחִי (eBL asarluhi; Foster and most literature Asalluḫi): open decision 1. Marukku (eBL) = מַרוּכּוּ, not Marukka (Foster). The text's own explanations are translated as they stand (127 māru šamši = הבן – שָׁמֶשׁ האלים explains amar-utu; 141 explains Lugal-dimmer-ankia; 62 explains Esagil).
15. Repeated lines: 24 = 30 identical, including the final dash and the vocalized תִּיאָמַת/הִמְרִיד in both (as in the vocalized pairs of III). 15 / 95 differ only in tense (precative / preterite, the one difference verify.py reports). Internal "cf." pairs share their Hebrew word for word where the Akkadian agrees: 1 ~ 55 (... מרדוך, בשומעו), 25 ~ 13 (יְנֻתַּן לִי), 29 ~ 25 ~ 23 (אשר בנה את התגרה), 130 ~ 34 ~ 8 (עמל האלים, הֵשִׁית, והם), 129 ~ 33 (בנה), 115 ~ 103 ~ 19 (למעשה פיו ... יקשיבו), 52 (הבה נַרְגִּיעַ בקרבו!), 54 ~ 163 ~ 105 (המשיב גמולנו), 147 ~ 123 (אשר ... קרא לו אביו, אנו), 150 ~ 144 (את מושבנו בַּמֵּצַר). ~ I 102 uses I 102's words (הבן, שָׁמֶשׁ, האלים); 2 = IV 136's בונה מְחַכָּמוֹת; 37 = I 94's 7 להבין ... נאה follows Atra-ḫasīs I 183 (קדמון – אדם ...).
16. Brackets: only 1 דּוּךְ[מַר] (partial: one syllable of two restored), 3 [מעשה] (most of epšu restored), 4 [את אשר]; 2 [ub]bal and 16 [š]a (prefix / one sign) unbracketed, as the פירוק says.
17. Readings where the Hebrew departs from eBL's English: 33 and 130 (singular subject, with the normalization, against Foster's plural / and with Foster against the long ū in 130 – both noted); 66 (inaṭṭala singular: "he looks toward its horns", against Foster's "its pinnacles were facing", marked ?); 81 (uktinnū active D, left ambiguous); 89 (lū kāšid a name "Reacher", not a wish); 91 (feminine suffix: the bow's brothers); 114 (with Foster: N "be invoked"); 152 (kīma binûtīšu "as his own creatures", against Foster's "in accordance with its meaning"); 154 (eBL's reading i nibbûšu, not von Soden's "let us praise"); 137 (muštāl "deliberating" against eBL's lemma šâlu II "to rejoice").

Open decisions for the user

1. Asarluḫi: אֲסַרְלוּחִי (eBL's normalization asarluhi) or אֲסַלּוּחִי (the common reading Asalluḫi, Foster). The same question for VII (the name recurs).
2. 113 uddû = הוֹדִיעַ (a deviation from corpus §3 סְמֵן, decision 11). Alternative: keep סְמֵן and accept an unidiomatic line, or adopt הוֹדִיעַ as the rendering of uddû with a personal object corpus-wide.
3. emēdu* = הֲשִׁית (decision 2), which brings Num 12:11 into view. Alternative: הֲטִיל (Atra-ḫasīs I 237 הטלתי על האדם) – but הֲטִיל is nadû in Enūma eliš.
4. 46 isqu = חֵלֶק: the Hebrew חילק את חלקם creates a figura that the Akkadian (zâzu … isqu) lacks. Alternative: (חילק את מנתם) מָנָה.
5. 5 *dāmī: singular דם (as the flood corpus) against the Akkadian plural; דָּמִים would be literal but carries the Hebrew sense "bloodshed, blood-guilt".
6. 42, 69 *ḫamšat šušši: חמש שישיות (the sexagesimal form) or simply שלוש מאות.
7. 66 crux (decision 17): Marduk looking at Esagil's horns (our reading of the form) or the horns facing the base of Ešarra (Foster).
8. 138 *lā ʾiṭ karassu: בולם בטנו ("restraining his feelings") or Foster's "all-encompassing" (מקיף). The line recurs in VII 155.
9. 107 rēʾûtu = רוֹעוּת (modern-sounding but transparent) vs. רְעִיָּה (homograph of ḫīrtu's רעייתו) or a verbal rendering ירעה את שחורי הראש (loses epēšu).
10. 35 eršu = פִּקֵּחַ (to keep חָכָם for apkallu); Atra-ḫasīs I 188 has החכמה for erištu. The corpus may want one word for eršu in both.
11. The names' hyphenation: מָר־שָׁא־כּוּשׁוּ is hyphenated by a Sumerian analysis (mer-šà-kúš-ù) that is commonly given but not certain; מַרוּכִּי and מַרוּתוּכִּי are not hyphenated (no clear analysis). Tablet VII should follow one policy.

Progress log

- 2026-10-16: read the guidelines (whole), the corpus and project renderings, the flood corpus renderings, the Tablet I–V sections of this file, the annotated files of I–V (by index: every Hebrew line with its normalization and parse, grepped per lemma), Atra-ḫasīs I 174–246, the Tablet V annotated and clean files as format models, and the eBL edition of VI (N, variants, lemmas, notes, glossary entries for every stem used). eBL's English (T) was split off into a separate scratch file.
- 2026-10-16: drafted the Hebrew of all 166 lines (scratch `draft.txt`), then read eBL's English and King 1902 (VI 1–7) and revised; wrote the apparatus in six sections (1–16, 17–38, 39–54, 55–81, 82–122, 123–166), assembled into `annotated-VI.rtl.md` by script (normalizations copied from eBL's N by script, so they are character-exact).

- 2026-10-16, pass (a) fidelity: every content word checked against N (table of N | Hebrew for all 166 lines). Changed: 133 `מַרוּכָּה` → `מַרוּכָּה` (eBL's N has marukku); 2 `בונה` → `לבנות` (finite, as IV 136); 24 / 25 the redundant `זה` dropped (ša ibnû = `אשר בנה`); 36 no initial `ו` (none in the Akkadian); 66 rewritten after re-reading the form inaṭṭala; 88 order; 89 `ו` dropped. Additions in ( ) checked: 2, 8, 9, 16, 26, 59, 70, 86, 119, 123, 129, 162. Brackets: 1, 3, 4 only (decision 16). `?` in 66, 118; `...` in 138.
- 2026-10-16, pass (b) consistency: checked by lemma across the tablet and against I–V (the decisions above); new Hebrew words grepped against all earlier `>` lines: changed 107 `רוֹעוּת` → `רְעִית` (collision with I 78 `רעייתו`) and 146 `יֶחֱרְדוּ` → `ירעדו` (collision with tarāru `רעדו`, IV 90, 108). Names vocalized at their first occurrence in VI only (`דּוּךְ` 1, `לְאֵאָה` 3, `הָאֲנוּנְכִי[מַר]` 20, `הָאִיגִיגִי` 27, `לְלוּגַל־דִּימֶר־אַנְקֵיָה` 28, `קִינְגוּ` 29, `נוּדִימוּד` 38, `לְאָנוּ` 41, `בָּבֶל` 57, `אֲסַגִּיל`, and 30, `תִּיאָמַת` 24, `אֲסַרְלוּחִי` 101, `אֲנַשַׁר` 66, `אֲשַׁרָה` 64, `לְאָנְלִיל` 62, `הָאַפְסוּ`, the names 133–155, 157 `לַחְמוּ וְלַחָמוּ`, `בְּאוּבְּשׁוּכִינַכּוּ` 162); `שָׁמָשׁ` vocalized (127, the only occurrence). Repeated lines compared by `verify.py` and by eye (decision 15).
- 2026-10-16, pass (c) Hebrew: vocalized ambiguous forms (`אֶקְשֹׁר`, `עָצָם`, `אֶבְנָה`, `יוּשַׁת`, `יַרְגְּעוּ`, `אֲשַׁנֶּה`, `אֲחַכֵּם`, `מְכַבְּדִים`, `מְחַלְּקִים`, `תִּנָּה`, `יִנָּתֵן`, `יְעַצְּבוּ`, `יִכּוֹנוּ`, `נְכוֹנָה`, `שִׂיחוּ`, `עִמְּדִי`, `הִמְרִיד`, `אַשִּׁיא`, `תֵּשְׁבוּ`, `נְגִיד`, `הֵשִׁיתוּ`, `גְּדָעוּ`, `שְׁלַח`, `הַפְקַחַ`, `כְּלֻלוּתָם`, `שְׁשִׁיוֹת`, `שָׁנָה`, `צָר`, `צְוָה`, `חֻלָּקָם`, `פְּטוֹרֵנוּ`, `שַׁמְתָּ`, `נִקְרָא`, `זְכֹרוֹ`, `נַרְגִּיעַ`, `נָעֹרֵךְ`, `מִשְׁעָן`, `הֵאִיר`, `זִיוּ`, `תְּעָצַב`, `זְקָפוּ`, `הָלְמוּ`, `מַעְדֵּר`, `לָבְנוּ`, `לְעֻמַּת`, `זְקוּדַת`, `הָרָמָה`, `תִּכְּנוּ`, `מְדוֹרָכָם`, `רַבְּנוּ`, `שְׁבוּ`, `רְנָה`, `הַקְרֻבָה`, `אֵלַי`, `מְחֻכָּמָת`, `אֶחָיהָ`, `מְאֵרָה`, `לָפְתוּ`, `רוֹמֵם`, `מַגְבָּה`, `גְּבִירוּתוֹ`, `רוֹעוּת`, `בְּנוּיָו`, `שְׁכְחָה`, `יַרְיַח`, `בִּימוֹתֶיהָן`, `יַשִּׁישׁ`, `יוֹדִיעַ`, `אֲלֵיהֶן`, `יוּזְכְּרוּ`, `כְּלֵאלָה`, `אֲלוֹתֵיהֶן`, `יוּפְעוּ`, `מוּפַעַת`, `מָשׁוּל`, `מְמוֹצָאוֹ`, `מִרְעָה`, `מַשְׁקָה`, `מְדַשֵּׁן`, `אַרְוֹתֵיהֶם`, `הַסּוֹרְרִים`, `מַתְכֹּנֶת`, `נָפָשׁ`, `לִמְחֹל`, `בְּמִצְוָתוֹ`, `מְבֻעָתִים`, `בַּמֵּצַר`, `יֶחֱרְדוּ`, `הַמְּחַיֶּה`, `שְׁלֹשָׁה`, `הַחָלוּץ`, `אֵלַת־הַמָּגֵן`); `קיבל האדון את הקשת – את נשקו ...` (apposition marked). Echo grep of all `>` lines for `תהום רקיע תנין ברא הבדיל שבת צבא מאור מלאכ אלוהים יצר כבש רדה ברך צלם דמות נח קרא עצב`: only `קרא` (nabû, intended), `עצב` (patāqu, 14, 58, vocalized, intended), and `נח`/`רדה` inside `מרדוך`, `אנחנו`, `מנחות`.
- 2026-10-16: `translation-VI.rtl.md` generated from the annotated headings and `>` lines (script), with an introduction and 30 footnotes.
- 2026-10-16, verification: `python3 -I verify.py VI` → "Tablet VI: 166 annotated entries (eBL 166), 166 translation lines; fixed passage: 34 rows checked, 0 mismatch(es); 1 difference(s) in repeated lines; problems: 0". The one difference, VI 15 / VI 95, is justified by the Akkadian (liphurūnim-ma / iphurūnim-ma: precative / preterite). `check_bible_quotes.py` on `annotated-VI.rtl.md`, `translation-VI.rtl.md` and this file → 0 problems (after correcting one fragment, `עָשָׂה` cited as Gen 1:26).

Proposals for the shared renderings

For the corpus `renderings.md` (§3) or the project §4 (rows added there):

- emēdu* = `הֵשִׁית (עַל)` (the gods' toil, guilt); flood corpus Atra-ḫasīs I 237 has `הטלתי` – the corpus should choose one verb for the two creation-of-man texts (open decision 3).
- arnu* = `עָוֹן` confirmed for corpus §3, with the idiom arna šuššû = `הִשְׂיא עָוֹן` (Lev 22:16).

- šipru* = פֹּעַל to corpus §3 as a Gen 2:2–3 key term ([equivalent] מְלָאכָה, the "sending" etymology), so that the companions (Atra-ḫasīs uses מלאכה for šipru, I 180, 197, 233) can be aligned – a real inconsistency between the two corpora on the key word for מְלַאכְתּוֹ.
- isqu* = חֵלֶק; gisgallu* = תַּחֲנָה; narmû* = מְדוֹר; taqribtu* = הַקְרָבָה; nindabû* = מִנְחָה (check against the flood corpus surqinnu = מִנְחָה: a collision if both occur in one text); mēsû* = טְקָסִים.
- alkakātu* = הֲלִיכוֹת; binītu* = בְּנוּיִים; rēʾûtu* = רוֹעוּת; enūtu* = גְּבִירוּת; šikittu* = מַתְכֹּנֶת; napšu* = נֶפֶשׁ.
- Emotion / fear verbs: šabāsu = רָגַז (with ezēzu זעם, agāgu קצף, kamālu כעס, labābu זעף); raʾābu = חָרַד (tarāru רעד); nâšu = זָע (dâlu נע); adāru G יָרֵא, Š הִבְעִית; palāḫu פָּחַד.
- Enemy words: add šāpû = סוֹרֵר, egru = עִקֵּשׁ.
- Names: Asarluḫi (open decision 1); נָרִי־לוּגַל־דִּימֶר־אַנְקִיָה, אֲסַרְלוּחִי־ מָר־שָׁא־כּוּשׁוּ, מַרוּתוּכּוּ, מַרוּכּוּ for corpus §1; Esagil's meaning ("house whose head is raised") to the corpus §1 note, since VI 62 is the text's own explanation.
- uddû* with a personal object = הוֹדִיעַ (VI 113; open decision 2).

Lessons for the guidelines

- A creation verb shared across a text is the strongest hidden echo: šubšû ("bring into being") is used for Tiāmat's monsters (I 146) and for man (VI 5), exactly the two objects of בָּרָא in Gen 1 (1:21, 1:27). A per-lemma index of the whole poem (all > lines with their lemmas) makes such distributions visible; a line-by-line reading misses them.
- Check a new Hebrew word against the Hebrew of the earlier tablets as a string, not only as a lemma: רְעִיַּת (shepherdship) is spelled like רעיית (consort, I 78); ירעדו was already tarāru. An index file of all earlier > lines (tablet, line, normalization, Hebrew, parse) grepped for each new word catches both kinds of collision in seconds.
- Watch the two corpora for the same key word in different Hebrew: Atra-ḫasīs renders šipru מְלָאכָה, Enūma eliš פֹּעַל. A corpus-level table of the Gen 1–3 key terms with their rendering in every text would prevent it.
- The text's own etymologies are data: in VI the poem explains Esagil (62), Marduk (127) and Lugal-dimmer-ankia (141) by translating their Sumerian elements; translating the explanation literally, and saying in the note which element it renders, keeps the reader able to check the learned etymology.

Tablet VII

Scope

Tablet VII, eBL lines 1–164 = 166 entries (eBL numbers 62a/62b and 121a/121b separately; the prompt's "1–166" is the entry count, the last line is 164). eBL marks no section breaks and gives no old line numbers for this tablet (checked in `_raw/chapter-display.json`); the Hebrew headings are ours, one per name, as in Tablet VI. 54 witnesses (24 library/school tablets, 30 commentaries, quotations and god lists). Only 163–164 are badly broken.

- 1–135 the names 10–50 (the list continues from VI 123–156), each with the poem's own explanation: Asarre, Asaralim, Asaralimnunna (1–8: cultivation, barley and flax, "who brings forth the green"); Tutu and its four sub-names (9–34: purification, the spell, rest of the gods, mankind built to release the defeated gods, reviving the dead); Šazu and five sub-names (35–56: knower of hearts, truth and falsehood distinguished, the enemies uprooted); Enbilulu and four sub-names (57–69: irrigation, pasture and watering, the edû-flood, furrows, "who rains abundance, makes the green sprout"); Sirsir, Malaḫ (70–77: the mountain heaped on Tiāmat, Tiāmat his "vehicle" and he her sailor); Gil, Gilima, Agilima, Zulum, Mummu, Zulummu (78–88: grain and ewe, the seed of the land, the earth built above the waters, "builder of heaven and earth"); Gišnumunab … Kinma (89–108: maker of all people from the defeated gods' substance, the gods' bond, counsellor of Ea); Dingiresiskur, Girru, Addu, Ašaru (109–123: house of prayer, the gods' gifts, the four quarters of mankind his creatures, the storm that covers the sky and gives food below); Nēberu (124–135: the crossing of heaven and earth, his star, the courses of the stars, the gods shepherded like sheep, Tiāmat bound for ever).
- 136–142 the extra names: Enlil gives him his own title "Lord of the Lands"; Ea rejoices and gives him his own name "Ea" with the bond of his rites and all his instructions.
- 143–162 the epilogue: the fifty names "by the word 'Fifty'"; they are to be kept and taught (the "first one" shows them, the wise confer, the father repeats to the son, shepherd and herdsman open their ears) so that the land flourishes; his word is firm, no god can face his anger; the text was written down "for the later ones to hear"; his name is to be invoked wherever water is drunk; "the song of Marduk, who bound Tiāmat and took kingship".
- 163–164 a broken colophon-like end (Anu, Enlil, Ea, Bēlet-ilī; Babylon and Esagil).

Decisions

1. Names (table below). Transliterated from eBL's normalization and vocalized at the first occurrence; a hyphen joins a sub-name to its main name as eBL does (tutu ziʾukkina = טוטו־זיאוכנה, as VI asarluhi-namtila), and an internal hyphen is used only at a clear Sumerian word boundary (asar-, lugal-, en-, šà-zu, dingir-, ir-, dumu-, and the X-rim / X-gurim pairs). This answers Tablet VI's open decision 11 with one policy. Tutu = טוּטוּ (the same god as in the flood corpus's אוּבַר־טוּטוּ); Addu = אַדּוּ (= flood corpus אֲדַד, noted); Malaḫ = מַלָּח (the word malāḫu itself, [cognate] מַלָּח); Mummu = מוּמוּ (corpus §1); Nēberu = נֶבֶרוּ (corpus §1). "Lord of the Lands" (136) and "Ea" (140) are translated in the text, like the bow's names in VI 89–90, because they are Akkadian titles, not Sumerian names.
2. Counting the names. Our count runs from VI's nine (Marduk … Asarluḫi-Namru; VI 101 Asarluḫi not counted) to Nēberu = 50, counting Zulummu (87) and not counting Lugalduku (100, a separate god or title). "Lord of the Lands" and "Ea" are extra names (51–52), and 143 ("by the word 'Fifty'") ties the fifty to Enlil's number. Foster numbers Zulummu and Gišnumunab both "35", so his count from 36 on is one lower (Nēberu = 49, "Lord of the World" = 50). The headings say "הַשֵּׁם הַ־N".
3. The ordinal formulas: šanîš / šalšiš / rebîš = שנית / שלישית / רביעית; ina šanî / ina rebî / ina ḫamši / ina šešši = בשני / ברביעי / בחמישי / בשישי (different Akkadian, different Hebrew). Naming verbs as Tablet VI: nabû = קָרָא (144 ,137 ,136 ,76 ,19; nabû adj. "called" = 58 ,קָרוּא; nibûtu = 102 ,קְרִיאָה); zakāru Gt/N = (160 ,61 ,50 ,15) הִזְכִּיר / הוּזְכַּר; zikru "name" = (139 ,137 ,54) זֵכֶר, "utterance" = (143) מַאֲמָר.

4. The Genesis vegetation verbs are rendered by their cognates, because the Akkadian words are the cognates and the meanings match (guidelines §6.4 rule 2): šūṣû (Š of aṣû) = הוֹצִיא and urqītu = (הַמּוֹצִיא יֶרֶק 2) יֶרֶק; dešû* D = הִדְשִׁיא (מַדְשִׁיא יֶרֶק 69, מַדְשִׁיאָם 57; Dt 150 תַּדְשֵׁא); zēru = (79) זֶרַע; mēreštu = חֲרִישׁ [cognate erēšu / חרש] (62 ,1b); palgu = (63) פֶּלֶג; edû* = אֵד (61, the accepted etymon of Gen 2:6 אֵד); rukūbu* = רְכוּב (77, = Ps 104:3); laḫru = (79) רַחַל; tīlu = (78) תֵּל; šalgu = (82) שֶׁלֶג; nāqidu = (148) נוֹקֵד; markasu = רֹכֶס (95, from rakāsu רָכַס). Where the cognate would create an echo the Akkadian does not have, it is avoided: zanānu Š = הִגְשִׁים (69, not הִמְטִיר), berātu = אגמים (60, not מְקֻוֶה), ṣīru = נַעֲלֶה (96, not עֶלְיוֹן), wussû Dt = מֻפְלִים (40, not הִבְדִּיל).
5. Rest: pašāḫu = נִרְגַּע (10 = VI 8 יֶרְגְּעוּ – והם!), nâḫu = נָח (128 ;יָנוּחוּ 11 lā nâḫiš ואינו נח). No ,שבת מנוחה or other rest word elsewhere in the tablet.
6. tiāmtu* in 74 and 128 is lemmatized by eBL as the common noun "sea" (tiāmtu I), while 70, 71, 77, 90, 91, 103, 116, 132, 162 have the goddess (Tiamat I). Following corpus §1 ("when the eBL lemma is the common noun tâmtu 'sea', use יָם"), 74 and 128 have הַיָּם, with a note and footnote 11 (after her death Tiāmat is the sea). Foster has "Tiamat" in both (open decision 2).
7. VII 155 is not identical to VI 138. eBL and project §3 list VII 155 = VI 138, but the Akkadian differs (VI 138 rapaš libbašu lāʾiṭ karassu; VII 155 rūqu libbašu rapaš karassu). Following "differ only where the Akkadian differs", the shared words are copied (רחב ,בטנו ,לבו) and the rest follows VII: רחוק לבו, רחב בטנו, (rūqu = רָחוֹק as libbu rūqu הלב הרחוק, II 61, VII 118). This is the one difference verify.py reports.
8. Brackets checked against the manuscripts, not only against N. eBL's N brackets several words that one manuscript preserves: 12 [irass]un (SipNB1 i-ra-at-su#-un), 159 u[ll]û (SipNB1 ul-lu#-u₂#), 162 tiā[mta i]kmû (SipNB1 ti#-amta# ik#-mu#); by the bracket rule (broken in all manuscripts) they are not bracketed. Brackets remain only in 163 ([...], ו[אנ ...]) and 164 ([...], [... ל]אֲסַגִּי). One-sign restorations (6, 7, 9, 39, 40, 41, 64, 69, 81, 88, 91) are not bracketed and the פירוק says so.
9. eBL lemma slips overridden: 131 ṣēni lemmatized as ṣēnu "evil" – it is ṣēnu "sheep" (כצאן); 34 lemnūti lemmatized as lemuttu "evil" – the form is the masc. pl. of lemnu "evil ones" (הרעים); 62b ṣēri lemmatized as ṣēru "back" – here "steppe" (עֲרָבָה); 111 imaḫḫarūni is singular (Neo-Assyrian subjunctive -ūni), as Foster has it, not plural.
10. Readings where the Hebrew departs from Foster: 3 kabti agrees with milki ("the weighty counsel"), not with the god; 10 lillil is G ("let their shrines be pure"), not D ("he shall purify"); 76 šī lū kīam introduces 77 ("she shall be thus: Tiāmat is his vehicle"), not "so be it" after the name; 95 šarru is nominative (apposition "the king, the bond of the gods"), not construct; 132 lisīq u likri are G intransitive with napištaša as subject ("her life be narrowed and shortened"); 134 Marduk subject of lišši only, Tiāmat of uktāl and lirēq (Foster: Marduk throughout; open decision 5); 135 Foster's "firmament" for ašru is a false echo of רָקִיעַ (as ašratu in IV 141; King 1902 already showed from commentary R. 366 that ašru here means "heaven"); 143–144 the line break kept (Foster moves "The Fifty" to 144); 161 Foster adds a verb ("Let them sound abroad"), the Akkadian has only inannam-ma "now".

11. New terms (all checked as strings against the > lines of I–VI): see the rows added to renderings.md §4. The main families: praise verbs (dalālu פָּאַר, šarāḫu D הִדֵּר, šamāru Gt סְלְסֵל, zamāru זִמְרָה, beside nâdu שִׁבַּח, alālu הִתְהַלֵּל/הִלֵּל, nagû רִנֵּן); abundance words (ḫegallu שָׂפַע, nuḫšu עֲתֶרֶת, ṭuḫdu דָּשֶׁן, maʾdû רֹב, ṣimru הוֹן, kubuttû כָּבוֹד, mašrû עֹשֶׁר, išpiku אָסָם); irrigation and field words (gugallu מְמַגָּה, miṭirtu תְּעָלָה, palgu פֶּלֶג, īku סוֹלְלָה, absinnu תֶּלֶם, apkīsu חָרִיץ, šerʾu מַעֲנָה, qerbetu כַּר, rîtu מַרְעִית, nawû נָאוֹת, edû אֵד); the eighth enemy word zāwiānu = מְשַׁנֵּא; raggu = רָשָׁע; šarāku = (73 ,1) הִנְחִיל; dabābu = (157 ,39) הֶגֶה / הֶגֶא; etguru = מְפַתֶּל; wussû = הִפְלָה; mā = כָּךְ:; emqu = מַשְׂכִּיל; māliku = מְיַעֵץ; šaṭāru = כָּתַב; bêlu = שָׁלַט; šupêlu = הֶחֱלִיף; nekelmû = הִקְדִּיר (פָּנִים); šâbu = רָטַט; kadrû = מַשְׁאֵת; erbu = הַכְנָסָה (keeps the link with erēbu Š הִכְנִיס).
12. šanû* D in 147 = יְתַנֶּה (project §4: šanû D "repeat" = תִּנָּה), which shows the cognate link with Mishnaic שָׁנָה / Aramaic תְּנָא "to teach by repetition". The apparatus states that שְׁנַן (Deut 6:7) is not the cognate (שנן "to sharpen"), only the semantic [equivalent].

Open decisions for the user

1. Asarluḫi / Asarre: Tablet VI's open decision 1 (אֲסַרְלוּחִי vs אֲסַלּוּחִי) bears on VII 1–5 too (Asarre, Asaralim, Asaralimnunna = אֲסַרֶּה, אֲסַר־אָלִים, אֲסַר־אָלִים־נוּנָּה, following eBL's asar-).
2. 74, 128 הַיָּם vs תיאמת (decision 6): we follow eBL's lemma and the corpus rule; Foster (and the prompt) read the goddess. A reader of Gen 1:2 may prefer the name. Either way the note gives tiāmtu ~ תְּהוֹם.
3. The cognate renderings of decision 4 (הַמּוֹצִיא יָרָק, מַדְשִׁיא יָרָק, אֵד, זֶרַע, רְכוּבוֹ) put Genesis vocabulary into the text. They are the cognates with matching meanings (guidelines §6.4 rule 2), but they are the densest Genesis echoes in the poem; the alternative would be neutral words (מצמיח צמחייה, גאות, כלי שיט) with the cognates in the notes only.
4. 155 (decision 7): רחוק לבו, רחב בטנו, differs from VI 138 because the Akkadian differs. The coordinator may want to remove the pair from project §3 (it is "cf.", not "=").
5. 134: subjects of lišši-ma lā uktāl lirēq ana ṣâti (Marduk / Tiāmat, decision 10) – יִשָּׂא (אותה), ולא תִּוּחָזַק, תִּרְחַק לָעַד! vs Foster's "He shall proceed unhindered, he shall persevere till distant days".
6. 121a *mummu erpēti: שאון העננים after the ancient commentaries (mummu = rigmu); the alternative is to transliterate מוּמוּ העננים (the eBL lemma is the name Mummu). lištakṣibam-ma יַקְצִיב(?) is a guess.
7. The name count (decision 2): Nēberu = 50 (ours) or 49 (Foster); "Lord of the Lands" = extra (ours) or 50 (Foster).
8. Hyphenation of names (decision 1): one policy for VI–VII; VI's מָר־שָׁא־כּוּשׁוּ fits it (šà boundary), VI's unhyphenated מַרוּתוּכּוּ/מַרוּכּוּ too.
9. šarāku* = (73 ,1) הִנְחִיל: this brings in the root of בְּהַנְחֵל עֶלְיוֹן גּוֹיִם (Deut 32:8), already a parallel of zâzu (VI). Alternative: נָתַן / חָנַן (= nadānu) and זָכָה. הֶעֱנִיק (= qiāšu) are taken.
10. ašru* (135) = המקום (literal, with the note "= heaven") or השמים/המרום in the text (sense).
11. mā* = (139 ,128) כָּךְ: to keep it apart from umma לֵאמֹר (III 15); alternative לֵאמֹר for both.

Progress log

- 2026-10-16: read the guidelines (whole), the corpus and project renderings, the flood renderings, the coordinator sections and the Tablet I–VI sections of this file, the Tablet VI annotated and clean files (format, the names 123–166), and the eBL edition of VII (N, variants, lemmas, notes, parallels; ATF of the doubtful lines). Built a scratch index of all I–VI `>` lines with their normalizations, and grepped it for every Akkadian lemma and every new Hebrew word.
- 2026-10-16: drafted the Hebrew of all 166 lines before reading eBL's English (scratch), then read Foster and revised (3, 18 passive, 51, 76–77, 111 singular, 121a); identified L II.1 (Theodicy) and L III.11 (Syncretistic Hymn) through the eBL API; consulted King 1902 and Langdon 1923 for 1–5, 129–135, 146–158. Wrote the apparatus in seven sections (header + 1–8, 9–34, 35–56, 57–79, 80–114, 115–142, 143–164); the normalizations were inserted by script from eBL's N (character-exact).
- 2026-10-16, pass (a) fidelity (table of N | Hebrew for all 166 lines): every content word checked. Changed: brackets removed in 12, 159, 162 after checking the ATF (decision 8); 163 Anu un-vocalized (already vocalized in 6); 51 `(זה לזה)` → `(עצה זה לזה)` (the Št₂ has no object here); 61 the name line given the same frame as the other sub-names (`"..." – ... –`); 128/129/139 speech quotation marks removed (they nested with the name's quotation marks). Additions in ( ) checked: 4, 44, 49, 51, 55, 62a, 74, 75, 99, 106, 128, 134, 137, 145, 147, 153. `...` for uncertain translations: 1, 8, 27, 58, 60, 63, 67, 84, 121a, 127, 135; `?` in 86, 105, 121a.
- 2026-10-16, pass (b) consistency: names vocalized at first occurrence in VII only (`אָנוּ, אֶנְלִיל`, `אֵאָה` 6; `טוּטוּ` 9; `שָׁאֲזוּ` 35; `אֶן־בִּילוּלוּ` 57; `תִּיאָמַת` 70; `אַנְשַׁר` 102; `קִינְגּוּ` 105; `הָאִיגִיגִי` 137 – added in this pass; `מַרְדּוּךְ` 149; `בֵּלְת־אִילִי` 163; `בְּבָבֶל וּבְאֵסַגִּי[ל]` 164; every name of the list); shared phrases with I–VI copied (decision 7 and "Lines shared" below); lemma checks: kânu G/D (`כונן`, `ייכון`, `נכון`, `מכונן`, `כֵּן`), ešēru Š/Št₂ `יישר`, nasāḫu `נסח`, ḫalāqu D `איבד`, ayyābu `קם`, wabālu Gtn `יוביל שוב ושוב`, kullu `החזיק`/Dt `הוחזק`, banû `בנה`, šubšû `הביא לכלל הוויה`, uddû `סימן`, ṣabātu G `תפס`/Š `התפיס`, šapāku `שפך`, mašālu `משול`/`נמשל`, egû `שאנן`, enû `שונה`, uzzu `זעם`, šabāsu `רגז`, têrtu `צו`, parṣu `פולחן`, riksu `מוסרה`, zikru `מאמר`/`זכר`.

Echo grep of all `>` lines (niqqud stripped) for `תהום רקיע תנין ברא הבדיל שבת צבא מאור מלאכ אלוה יצר צלם דמות רדה כבש ברך`: only `ברא` (92); `נח` only for nâḫu (128) and inside `מנחיל`, `קרא` only for nabû (19, 76, 136, 137, 144); `מנחות`, `מנחלים` only for patāqu (135, vocalized); `עצב`.
- 2026-10-16: `translation-VII.rtl.md` generated from the annotated headings and `>` lines (script), with an introduction and 30 footnotes.

Proposals for the shared renderings

For the corpus `renderings.md` (§3) or the project §4 (rows added there):

- Gen 1–2 vegetation and water cognates to corpus §3 as key terms: dešû D = הִדְשִׁיא [cognate ↔ תַּדְשֵׁא, Gen 1:11]; urqītu = יֶרֶק [cognate, Gen 1:30]; aṣû Š = הוֹצִיא [cognate ↔ וַתּוֹצֵא, Gen 1:12]; zēru = זֶרַע [cognate]; edû = אֵד [cognate, Gen 2:6]; mašqītu = מַשְׁקֶה [cognate]; palgu = פֶּלֶג; rukūbu = רְכוּב [cognate, Ps 104:3]. These matter for project 2 (Enki and Ninḫursaĝ, the Song of the Hoe), where the same words recur.
- ṣēru* = עֲרָבָה (= Sum. edin, flood corpus rule) also for the Akkadian word.
- mēreštu* / erēšu = חָרַשׁ / חָרִישׁ [cognate].
- Names: the 41 names of the table above for corpus §1; Tutu = טוּטוּ (link with אוּבַר־טוּטוּ); Addu = (אֲדַד =) אַדּוּ; the hyphenation policy of decision 1.
- Praise verbs (one Hebrew root each): nâdu שְׁבַח, alālu Š/Št הִתְהַלֵּל/הִלֵּל, nagû רָנַן, dalālu פֵּאֵר, šarāḫu D הִדַּר, šamāru Gt סְלְסֵל; zamāru זִמְרָה [cognate, Ex 15:2].
- Enemy words: add zāwiānu = מְשַׁנֵּא and raggu = רָשָׁע.
- Corpus §1 Tiāmat row: add that VII 74 and 128 are lemmatized as the common noun (הַיָּם), so the rule is applied there (open decision 2).
- Project §3: correct "VI 138 | VII 155" to "cf." (decision 7).
- `verify.py`: eBL's `Parallels:` field marks VII 155 / VI 138 as exact, though the Akkadian differs; the script could compare the two normalizations and print "Akkadian differs" next to such pairs, so that a justified difference is visible as such.

Lessons for the guidelines

- Check the edition's brackets against the manuscripts. eBL's normalization brackets words that a single manuscript preserves (VII 12, 159, 162: all preserved in SipNB1); a bracket rule "broken in all manuscripts" must be applied to the ATF, not to the normalization.
- A list of epithets is dense with cognates. The fifty names are almost all participles and nouns of everyday life (sowing, watering, herding, grain, seed, furrow, canal); these are exactly the words of Gen 1:11–12, 29–30 and 2:5–15, and many have Hebrew cognates (הוציא, ירק, דשא, זרע, אד, פלג, משקה, רחל, נקד). Read such lists word by word against the Genesis lexicon; the narrative tablets have fewer.
- "Equal" parallels in the edition's list may not be equal. eBL's parallel-lines list gives VII 155 = VI 138, but the lines share only three words. Compare the normalizations before copying a repeated line.
- eBL's `Parallels:` sigla can be resolved with the API (`/api/texts/L/2/1` → Theodicy; `/api/texts/L/3/11` → Syncretistic Hymn to Marduk); a sibling text sometimes holds the closest parallel (the Hymn's "barley and flax" for VII 2).

Whole-poem observations

The poem opens with a world that does not yet exist because it is not yet named: "when on high the heavens had not been named (lā nabû), below the earth had not been called by name (šuma lā zakrat)" (I 1–2), and the gods themselves come into being as they are "named" (I 10). It closes with the opposite movement: a single god who receives fifty names (VI 121 – VII 144), plus the titles of the two older gods (VII 136, 140), so that the naming that once brought the world into being is now concentrated in one ruler, and every name is a function in the world (cultivation, watering, judgement, the stars). Naming in Enūma eliš is therefore both creation (I) and enthronement (VI–VII), and the same two verbs (nabû = קָרָא, šuma zakāru = הִזְכִּיר שֵׁם) carry both. Genesis 1 keeps the first function and drops the second: God names day, night, heaven, earth and seas (וַיִּקְרָא אֱלֹהִים לָאוֹר יוֹם, Gen 1:5, 8, 10), which fixes what they are, but nobody names God, and the plants, stars and animals are left unnamed (or named only by kind). Gen 2:19–20 transfers the act of naming to the creature (וַיִּקְרָא הָאָדָם שֵׁמוֹת לְכָל הַבְּהֵמָה), as Ee VI–VII transfers it to the gods; but where the gods name their creator to make him king, man names the creatures below him. The content of the names in VII also mirrors Gen 1's third and fourth days: the god who "brings forth the green" and "makes the green sprout" (VII 2, 69: ירק, הדשיא, הוציא), gives "the seed of the land" (79), waters the land with the edû-flood (61; Gen 2:6 אֵד), builds the earth above the waters (83) and fixes the courses of the stars (130) – everything that Gen 1 assigns to God's word, without the names, and that Gen 1:11–12 assigns to the earth itself (תַּדְשֵׁא הָאָרֶץ, וַתּוֹצֵא הָאָרֶץ).

Coordinator's review (2026-10-16, after Tablet VII)

- Line counts: I 162, II 162, III 138, IV 146, V 158, VI 166, VII 166 = 1,098 annotated entries and 1,098 translation lines, in eBL order (`verify.py`: 0 problems).
- Repeated lines: the fixed passage (Tiāmat's army, 34 lines × 4 copies) is identical in all copies (0 mismatches; the copies in III carry their own brackets). eBL lists 14 further pairs whose Hebrew differs; each was checked, and each follows a difference in the Akkadian (vocative, name, mood/tense, pronoun, bēlu/marduk; VII 155 / VI 138 share only three words). 108 pairs or fixed-passage copies differ only in brackets (allowed).
- Echo scan: no `>` line in any tablet contains מאור, צבא, שבת, הבדיל, ברא, תנין, תהום, רקיע or תבה (script over all 1,098 lines).
- Bible quotations: `check_bible_quotes.py` reports 0 problems on all annotated and translation files, `translation.rtl.md`, `project.md`, both `renderings.md` files and `../parallels-index.md`.
- Generated files: `translation.rtl.md` (`build_translation.py`, header and tablet introductions in `build_translation--head.rtl.md` and `build_translation--intros.rtl.md`; 0 problems) and the table of `../parallels-index.md` (`build_parallels_index.py`; 296 rows + 16 Atra-ḫasīs I cross-references).
- Coordinator decisions taken during the run are listed under "Decisions (coordinator…)" above (I 156 wording; the bracket policy; wabālu and the III 56 exception; the Tablet I terms binding for II–VII).
- Not done / for a later session: no Hebrew rank-3 check (no modern Hebrew translation available); Lambert 2013 not consulted (paid); the old-numbering concordance (King, Langdon, ANET) is given only where a parallel depends on it.
