Changelog 14

Binding for all six projects in this folder. See `corpus.md` for the editing rule: project translators propose additions in their `project.md`, and the corpus coordinator merges them here.

Echo tags follow guidelines §6.4: [cognate], [equivalent], [divergence], [absent].
"Seed" entries were set before drafting (2026-10-16). Change one only with a note in the Changelog below, and then update every project that uses it.

2026-10-23 harmonization, batch C (row 19, revised): bâ'u "pass along, go" = צָעַד (עָבַר is reserved for its cognate ebēru "cross", חָלַף is etēqu's); changed lines: project 4, U r. 11′ → עובר צועד, U r. 19′ [כקרב] צעדה על האנשים ההשמדה [כקרב] → עברה על האנשים ההשמדה. ; and, not in the table (the survey missed them: their parses name bâ'u without italics), the same line in Atra-ḫasīs III iii 12 (kept identical to U r. 19′) and Gilg. Atra-ḫasīs's `translation-III.rtl.md` and the clean files of projects 2 and 4 (no builder) were changed with the annotated lines and checked against them by script; `translation.rtl.md` of Atra-ḫasīs rebuilt.

4. Register reminders specific to the corpus

- Sumerian and Greek texts use the same Hebrew for the same concept: the Sumerian a-ma-ru = מַבּוּל, the boat = סְפִינָה, and so on. Berossus's Greek πλοῖον = סְפִינָה, while σκάφος and λάρναξ get their own rendering with a note.
- Speech: the gods' speech is formal and short, so keep it so. Don't add emotion words that aren't in the Akkadian.
