Session `session_01UnH1L4Kc1gLBgeBiiyg8G8` (title `Round5/Run2: Hurro-Hittite myths`), branch `translation-round-5-run-2`, 2026-10-30 21:03 – 2026-10-31 ~02:10 UTC, inside quota range A (one agent at a time throughout). Model: Opus 5.5 for the coordinator and every sub-agent.

Done

The whole selection of the plan row, nine texts, 3,164 lines, in the new corpus `מיתוסים-חתיים-וחוריים/`. Each text has an annotated file (`annotated-<KEY>.rtl.md`: the line, תרגומים, פירוק (the HPM German, read after drafting), הקבלה with tags, הערות), an intro, a built clean translation, and Proposals / Progress in its project's `project.md`.

Project	KEY: text	Base	Lines
1--אילויאנקה וחדמו/	IL: Illuyanka (CTH 321; IL 8–17 = the fifth-day dossier's KBo 3.7 i 9–20)	HPM "Mythen der Hethiter" (Rieken et al., CC BY-SA)	128
	HE: the Song of Ḫedammu (CTH 348.I.1–29, all 29 fragments)	HPM	698
2--מחזור קומרבי/	KU: the Song of Emergence / Kingship in Heaven (CTH 344)	HPM	296
	UL: the Song of Ullikummi (CTH 345.I.1–3.2 and fragments I.4–10)	HPM	812
3--שירת השחרור/	SR: the Song of Release, the Hittite side only (CTH 789: KBo 32.13, 14, 15, 16, 19, 10, 17)	our composite from TLHdig 0.3 (CC BY 4.0)	422
4--זלפה-אפו ואלקונירשה/	ZA: the Tale of Zalpa (CTH 3.1, KBo 22.2)	our composite from TLHdig	36
	AP: Appu and his two sons (CTH 360.1–4)	HPM	204
	EL: Elkunirša and Ašertu (CTH 342.1.1–2.5)	HPM	301
5-טליפינו/	TE: Telipinu, first version (CTH 324.1)	HPM	267

The Hurrian of the Song of Release is out of scope (the run brief): the bilingual's Hurrian lines (`lg="Hur"` in TLHdig) are not translated; the Hittite translation lines (`lg="Hit"`) are, one row per tablet line.

Also: the corpus files (`corpus.md`, `renderings.md` M0–M3 and the machine tables §H2–§H9, `translator-brief--myths.md`, `parallels-index.md` with key findings and 216 rows, `build_parallels_index.py`); five print stubs (`הדפסה/מיתוסים-חתיים-וחוריים/`); sources: 84 HPM myth editions (`sources/HPM/MYTH--CTH-*`, parsed files committed, raw HTML ignored), the TLHdig folders CTH-3, 324, 342, 344, 345, 348, 360, 789 (committed); tools: `hpm2md.py` kind `MYTH`; `hittite_tools.py` with nine new keys, multi-edition keys, the myth tables scoped to the myth keys, cached tables, and the dossier identity check (`verify IL`); the composites `composite-SR.tsv` (with its generator) and `composite-ZA.tsv`.

Shared files (one commit at the end): STATUS, the plan row, guidelines §5.2 and §6.7, history (story + changelog), sources-registry, tools.md, and the source READMEs.

Process: the coordinator found the bases (HPM's myth index, which Round 4 had missed), extended the tool, built the two composites (checked by `comp-check`, pushed before the first line), fixed the renderings, gates and formulas and wrote the brief; then four translators one at a time (translator 1: IL, HE in two parts; 2: KU, UL in two parts; 3: SR; 4: ZA, AP, EL, then TE), each merged, verified and committed at once; then seven review agents one at a time: fidelity (three groups:
172 lines fixed), consistency (67 entries; splits recorded in renderings M3), Hebrew (two halves: 48 lines and 85 headings; the intros).

Verification

- `python3 -I -B tools/hittite_tools.py verify --strict` (all 18 Hittite keys, the Laws, Instructions and rituals included): 0 problems; entries = base lines for every key; translations = the `>` lines. IL ↔ dossier: identical
  (after the 4 revisions pending in the myth renderings §H8). 8 repeated-line notices, all justified in their entries (UL 3.1:45/46/51 feminine; AP 1:32/33 2sg; EL 1.2:20 feminine; the two old ones, HL1 180/186 and AM 101/189).
- `hittite_tools.py selftest`: 60 lines, 0 failures (9 new myth lines).
- `comp-check SR` (422 rows) and `comp-check ZA` (36 rows): 0 problems.
- `מיתוסים-אוגריתיים/3-תיק-היום-החמישי/dossier_tools.py verify --strict`: 0 problems (the dossier untouched).
- `tools/check_bible_quotes.py` over every `.md` file of the folder outside `sources/`: 0 problems (translators caught several remembered verses, e.g. Mic 1:6, in their drafts).
- The intros were scanned with the reserved-word gates of all three Hittite renderings files: no hit.

Key findings

For the Bible (all typological; the notes say so; details and verses in `parallels-index.md`):

- Gen 1:21 (IL, HE): in both Anatolian serpent myths the god is in danger and wins by a trick – a feast and a mortal helper (Illuyanka, the serpent bound with a cord ↔ Job 40:25, 29), Ištar's nakedness (Ḫedammu, nekumant- עירום ↔ Gen 2:25). Ea's speech: killing mankind would starve the gods of offerings (↔ Gen 8:20–22, Atra-ḫasīs). The god of Gen 1:21 creates the תַּנִּינִם and is never beaten.
- Gen 6:1–4, 9:22 (KU): kingship in heaven by revolt (Alalu, Anu, Kumarbi, nine years each); Kumarbi bites Anu's loins (paršina-, KU 35 – not the literature's "knees", a rejected emendation) and becomes pregnant with gods; the stone given him to eat, the cult stone (↔ Hesiod's Kronos; Gen 28:22), the god born from his head.
- Gen 11:4 and Gen 1:6–7 (UL): the stone child grows on Upelluri's shoulder until he reaches heaven; Ea cuts him off with "the old copper cutter with which they cut heaven and earth apart" (UL 3.1:219) – the separation as a past act of craft, against Gen 1's separation by the word (no הִבְדִּיל, no רָקִיעַ in any line). SR's tower parable (AN.ZA.GÀR, its top brought near heaven) is the corpus's closest wording to Gen 11:3–4.
- Lev 25:10, Deut 15, Jer 34 (SR): the god demands the release of Ebla's captives, the assembly refuses, the city is threatened with breaking like a vessel – the strongest parallel of the run is Jer 34:8–22 (a release proclaimed and revoked); דְּרוֹר is never in a line: the link runs through Hurrian kirenzi = Akk. andurāru.
- Exod 2:3 (ZA): thirty sons set adrift in containers sealed with fat, raised by the gods, nearly marrying their sisters (Lev 18:9).
- Gen 15, 18 (AP): the rich childless man, "the gods will give you one son" (AP 1:59), Wrong and Right.
- Gen 14:19, 22 and Gen 39 (EL): Elkunirša = אֵל קֹנֵה אָרֶץ [cognate through the Canaanite name]; Ašertu's advance and slander (↔ Potiphar's wife).
- Ps 44:24, Jer 14:5, 1 Kgs 18:27 (TE): the god who withdraws in anger, the animals that reject their young, the bee that wakes the sleeping god, the anger buried in bronze cauldrons in the dark earth; the return undoes the disaster word for word.

For the ancient mind: a pantheon in dynastic politics (viziers, messengers with staff and wind-shoes, banquets of welcome); gods who need human offerings and say so; monsters engineered by a deposed father; heaven and earth once cut apart with a tool; festivals that re-enact the myth (Nerik's purulli, the priest Kella's frame and the priests' ranking); Ḫupašiya's bargain with a goddess and his loss of home; Kamrušepa's analogical magic; a city legend that turns into Hittite politics (Zalpa); the comedy of Appu (lying down in his shoes; the Sun-god's "go home and sleep with your wife"); a Canaanite domestic drama on a Hittite tablet (Elkunirša); a song about debt-slavery and the god who demands release.

Decisions taken (minor, by the coordinator, under the user's standing rule)

- Placement: a new corpus `מיתוסים-חתיים-וחוריים/` with five projects (the serpents; the Kumarbi cycle; the Song of Release; the three tales; Telipinu). Ḫedammu stays here; the lead adds it to the fifth-day dossier.
- Bases: the HPM "Mythen der Hethiter" editions wherever they exist (found through the portal's own index; fetched with the new `hpm2md.py` kind `MYTH`); our TLHdig composites for Zalpa (KBo 22.2 alone: KBo 3.38 is not in TLHdig) and for the Song of Release (the `lg="Hit"` lines of its seven main tablets, in Neu's narrative order). Multi-fragment compositions are one key each, labelled `<fragment>:<clause>`, in HPM's fragment order.
- Scope: Telipinu version 1 only; the Song of Release's seven main tablets; the Kumarbi fragments (CTH 346) fetched but not translated (none of them was in the plan's list).
- Tool: the myth renderings' H-tables apply to the myth keys only (they reserve `צַדִּיק`, `בַּעַל`, which the Laws use rightly); the law and ritual tables apply to every key, as before.

- Renderings (all in renderings.md M1–M3): the formulas F30–F38; MUŠ נחש, UR.SAG גבור, nekumant- ערום, AN.ZA.GÀR מגדל, ḫattalu- בריח as gates; dankui- tekan האדמה האפלה; parā tarnumar שחרור; paršina- מתניים; kuer- חתך; Appu's sons יָשָׁר / רַע; Elkunirša and Ašertu transliterated; the Sun-goddess of the Earth אֲלַת־הַשֶּׁמֶשׁ שֶׁל הָאֲדָמָה; GULGULLATU גולגולת [cognate] and tarna- "head-top" קודקוד?; ḫatuga- נורא; the partial-restoration rule (a sign or an ending restored → no bracket).
- Gate fixes in the other Hittite tables (proposed by the translators, applied by me after re-verifying every key): the law §H3 גר row no longer takes a bare ש prefix (it read שגר "sent" as ש־גר); licences widened for חטא (wašdul), הקריב (BAL, šippan-), שמר (ḫāli, É.EN.NU.UN), שכב (šēš-), טהר (par-ku), כשפים (UḪ₇); the law §H2 Sun-god row skips the Sun-goddess of the Earth; the ritual §H2 Mammai row no longer fires inside šamamma.
- Accepted from the translators: SISKUR מנחה in the myths (a split from the rituals' טקס), pul- פּוּל, Ì שומן (food) / שמן (anointing), ḫandant- הגון, ḫuwappa- רשע, and the other rows listed in each Proposals.
- The dossier's Illuyanka excerpt was revised in four places, recorded for the lead in renderings §H8 (the dossier is untouched): ואל הסערה – את כל האלים → vocalized (the DINGIR trap); → ואֵינָרָה [...ל]זִיגָּרְתָּה (only INA is lost); וערכה הכול לָרֹב → והכינה הכול בשפע: (ḫandai- and mekki as in the whole corpus); ובדודים – דוד ... דוד ... דוד → ובכלים – כלי ... כלי ... כלי ({DUG}palḫi-).

Questions for the user

None that block. Two minor choices could be revisited:

1. SISKUR "offering / ritual" is מנחה in Ḫedammu (the gods' offerings from mankind) but טקס in the rituals: keep the split by sense, or one word?
2. Appu's sons are named by meaning, רַע and יָשָׁר ("Wrong" and "Right"), so the pun with "the evil road" / "the right road" stays visible; צַדִּיק was avoided to keep Gen 18:23–25 out of the line. Transliterate instead?

Problems and skipped items

- No quota stop: every gate said GO (range A, `five_hour` `allowed`).
- Left (recorded in `corpus.md`): Telipinu versions 2–9 (CTH 324.2–9) and the other vanishing-god myths; the Kumarbi fragments (CTH 346.1–21, fetched); the 67 small Hittite fragments of the Song of Release (≈ 490 lines); the Hurrian side of the Song of Release (out of scope); the Hittite Gilgameš, Kešši, Gurparanzaḫ and the other HPM tales (not in the plan).
- Zalpa rests on one manuscript (KBo 22.2): its New Script duplicate KBo 3.38 is not in TLHdig; the obverse-reverse gap is marked. The Song of Release has no open modern translation: rank 3 was only the translators' memory, never quoted.
- The brief's literature was wrong three times and the translators corrected it from the tablets: Anu's "knees" (paršina- "loins"), Ištar's nakedness in Ullikummi (she dresses: the nakedness is Ḫedammu's), Telipinu's shoe (the text says "he made the right run left"); and Appu's details (the god's promise is "one son"; the cow's human calf is not in our fragments; the Sun-god passes the case to Ištar).
- Escapes left in the files (`[היתר שער: ...]`, `[היתר שם: ...]`, `[סטייה מן הנוסחה: ...]`), each with its reason; some became unnecessary after the gate fixes (harmless). The law formula F8 (pāi `ייתן`) still fires on the imperative "give!" and on Appu's narrative present (escaped; restricting F8 to the law keys is left for the lead), and the ritual F18 fires on the noun aššul in the Song of Release.
- Uncertain readings (cruxes) are marked in the texts and listed in each project's Proposals; the fragments of Ḫedammu stay in HPM's order, not the story's.
- A few mistakes of the coordinator's own pre-set rows were caught by the translators (the `illuyank` name row against the dossier's `הנחש`; F35's `liliwant` vs liliwanduš; the Ullikummi and Upelluri name regexes).

Cross-corpus splits left for the lead

- Ḫedammu into the fifth-day dossier (the plan), and the 4 pending revisions of the dossier's Illuyanka excerpt in `מיתוסים-חתיים-וחוריים/renderings.md` §H8 (apply to `מיתוסים-אוגריתיים/3-תיק-היום-החמישי/annotated-IL.rtl.md`, then delete the rows; `verify IL` and `dossier_tools.py verify` check both sides).

- SISKUR מנחה (myths) / טקס (rituals); ḫenkan המוות (Zalpa) / מגפה (rituals); waḫnu- סובב (KU) / המיר (Instructions); ḫarnink- השמיד (myths) / השחית (HL2 107.2); ḫarp- הצטרף (myths) / נפרד (Laws); šarra- חצה (songs) / חלק (Appu, the Laws); maz(z)-; the full list of splits kept by sense is renderings M3.
- שליח for both ṬĒMU and ḫalugatalla-; שיגר for peya- and uiya-; קרן for SI and kalmara-.
- kupri- "bitumen" (HE 25:15–17) = the Akkadian loan kupru = כֹּפֶר [cognate, Gen 6:14], escaped twice past the law §H3 כפר row (NEVER): a licence for kupri is proposed.
- חרון (Hittite karpi-) is also Gilgameš's word for libbātu; השמיד also the Sumerian ḫalam (flood references):
  cross-language, allowed by the 2026-10-30 principles.
- The Kumarbi cycle ↔ Hesiod's Theogony is compared only in the apparatus (no Hebrew aligned); the Ullikummi cutter ↔ Enūma eliš's split Tiāmat and the creation corpus's "no הבדיל" rule (guidelines §6.7) are consistent.
