Session `session_01UnH1L3mJ547LSY8avuhBU7` (title `Round5/Run3: Ugaritic epics`), branch `translation-round-5-run-3`, 2026-10-31, inside quota range A (one agent at a time throughout). Model: Opus 5.5 for the coordinator and every sub-agent.

Done

The whole selection of the plan row, plus three ritual texts, 1,424 lines, as projects 4–7 of the existing corpus `מיתוסים-אוגריתיים/` (the tool extended, not rebuilt). Each tablet has an annotated file (`annotated-<KEY>.rtl.md`: the CUC line filled by the tool, the Hebrew, פירוק with tags, תרגומים, הקבלה, הערות), an intro, the built clean translation, and a section (decisions, open decisions, progress with the three passes and the review, proposals) in its project's `project.md`.

Project	Tablets	Base	Lines
`4-אקהת/`	Aqhat: KTU 1.17, 1.18, 1.19	CUC v0.2.8 (KTU³)	189 + 76 + 224 = 489
`5-כרתא/`	Kirta: KTU 1.14, 1.15, 1.16	EUPT 2025 for the readings (rank 1), on CUC's line skeleton	300 + 136 + 267 = 703
`6-הרפאים/`	the Rephaim: KTU 1.20, 1.21, 1.22; the royal funerary liturgy KTU 1.161	CUC	23 + 14 + 60 + 34 = 131
`7-טקסים/`	rituals: KTU 1.40 (atonement / purification), 1.119 (a month's offerings and the prayer for a besieged city), 1.39 (a sacrifice list)	CUC	43 + 36 + 22 = 101

Also:

- EUPT: its TextAPI serves KTU 1.14–1.16 (Kirta), CC BY-SA 4.0. Saved in `sources/EUPT/`: the README, the raw HTML
  (git-ignored by `sources/EUPT/.gitignore`, re-fetched by the tool) and the converted `text/KTU-<t>.json` / `.md` (committed). Converter: `tools/eupt2md.py`.
- `ugarit_tools.py`:
  - 16 new keys;
  - the `eupt` command;
  - EUPT's transliteration added to a Kirta line's licence text;
  - new gates: `נָדָר`, `בְּכוֹר`, `קֶשֶׁת`, `מַצֵּבָה`, `יָתוֹם`, `אַלְמָנָה`, `נָשָׂר`, and the root כפר;
  - formula checks for rḫp (the root רחף), mt rpi and mt hrnmy;
  - selftest rows;
  - licence fixes made by the translators (listed below).
- `build_parallels_index.py`:
  - the new keys added;
  - it keeps hand-written blocks in place (it had deleted the dossier's RV 1.32 note);
  - it writes a file only when the file changes.
- Corpus files:
  - `renderings.md` §12–§12.9 (the epics' names, terms, gates; one merge record per translator part; the review);
  - `translator-brief--ugaritic.md` §9;
  - `corpus.md` (the new projects, reading order, what is left);
  - `parallels-index.md` (Round 5 run 3's key findings at the top; 1,390 rows).

- Print stubs: `{טקסים-7,הרפאים-6,כרתא-5,אקהת-4}/מיתוסים-אוגריתיים/הדפסה.rtl.md`.
- Shared files, edited once at the end:
  - `STATUS.md` and the plan row;
  - guidelines §5.2 ("Ugaritic epics": four lessons) and §6.7 (the epics' renderings, false friends and traps);
  - `history.md` (the story and the changelog line);
  - `sources-registry.md` §4.4r (EUPT re-checked);
  - `tools.md`.

Process:

1. The coordinator set up the tool, renderings and brief, then checked EUPT and found Kirta.
2. Three translators worked one at a time, each resumed for its later tablets: translator 1 Aqhat (1.17; then 1.18–1.19), translator 2 Kirta (1.14; then 1.15–1.16), translator 3 the Rephaim + 1.161, then the rituals. Each did its own three passes. The coordinator merged every part's Proposals into the renderings, re-verified and committed.
3. One independent fidelity reviewer then went through all 16 tablets, resumed per batch.

The fifth-day dossier (`3-...`) was not edited. Its `project.md` came out of the new parallels builder byte-identical.

Verification

- `python3 -I -B ugarit_tools.py verify --strict` (all 30 tablets): 0 problems.
  - It lists 11 repeated-line differences: the 4 old ones and 7 new ones in Kirta and Aqhat. Each is the tablet's own change (command vs execution tense, yḥd / aḥd, hyt / hmt ...) and is justified in its entry.
- `ugarit_tools.py selftest`: 51 lines, 0 failures.
- `ugarit_tools.py build`: run. The translations equal the `>` lines (checked by verify).
- `3-תיק-היום-החמישי/dossier_tools.py verify --strict`: 0 problems (the dossier untouched).
- `tools/check_bible_quotes.py` over all 900 `.md` files of the folder outside `sources/`, the shared files included:
  0 problems.
- `build_parallels_index.py`: 1,390 rows.

- Three self-review passes per tablet (fidelity, consistency, Hebrew), logged in the project sections. Then an independent fidelity review of every tablet: 194 lines fixed.
  - Kirta: 96 (1.15–1.16: 70; 1.14: 26).
  - Aqhat: 63.
  - The Rephaim and rituals: 35.
  - About 85% were brackets (the partial-restoration rule, words the tablet preserves). The rest:
    - two lost verbs (1.16 I:39–40, 61–62);
    - person, number and tense;
    - three imperatives that read like their executions;
    - an addition outside `( )`;
    - legible words left untranslated;
    - one participle that manufactured Gen 1:2's form (1.18 IV:32).
  - Every fix carries a `(תיקון סוקר: ...)` note.
- `tools/sources_sync.py fetch` (started first thing): 1,358 ok. 9 FAILED: four OBO PDFs from zora.uzh.ch with their text extracts, and the ORACC epsd2 bulk (oracc is unreachable from this environment). 5 CHANGED (eBL Atrahasis-MB-Priv, Gilgamesh-OB-II, Maqlû II; two archive.org texts). None of them concerns Ugaritic.

Key findings

The full list, with lines and tags, is at the top of `מיתוסים-אוגריתיים/parallels-index.md`.

For the Bible

1. Gen 1:2's `מְרַחֶפֶת` has its Ugaritic cognate (rḥp) in Aqhat, used of birds of prey over a victim.
   - Anat's eagles hover over Aqhat as he eats (1.18 IV:20, 31). Anat "hovered" (IV:32: past, as the reviewer corrected).
     The eagles hover over Danel's house of mourning (1.19 I:32).
   - With 1.108:8, the subject is always a winged goddess or her birds.
   - Deut 32:11's eagle over its young is the closer biblical use. Gen 1:2 is a [cognate] with a divergence of subject and setting.
2. The son's duties (1.17 I:26–33, four copies): the son takes his father's hand when he is drunk and carries him when he is sated with wine. Against Gen 9:20–27 this is a [divergence]: in Ugarit a duty without shame, in Genesis the scene of Ham's sin. The son also sets up the stele of the father's god (2 Sam 18:18, Gen 35:14, 20).

3. Danel, the righteous of Ezek 14:14:
   - he judges the widow and the orphan at the gate (Ex 22:21, Deut 10:18, Jer 5:28);
   - he feeds a god as his guest, with Gen 18:2's idiom "he lifted his eyes and saw";
   - his son is granted after an incubation (Gen 15:2–4, 28:11; 1 Sam 1).
4. Immortality offered and refused (1.17 VI). Anat offers "no death". Aqhat answers "the death of all men I shall die" (Gen 2:17, 3:4, 3:22; Num 16:29).
5. The curse on the rain, "seven years … eight" (2 Sam 1:21, 1 Kgs 17:1). The towns nearest the murder are cursed "for all generations" (Deut 21:1–9, where such a town atones; Gen 4:10–12).
6. Kirta and the Torah's war laws:
   - the new bridegroom goes out to war (Deut 20:7, 24:5: the same three words, the opposite rule);
   - the besieger refuses the peace gifts (Deut 20:10–11);
   - the god's offer of wealth is refused for an heir, in a dream (1 Kgs 3:5–15, Gen 15:1–3);
   - the conditional vow (Gen 28:20–22) is forgotten and punished (Deut 23:22).
7. The youngest made firstborn (1.15 III:16 abkrn ↔ Deut 21:16 בְּכֹר): what the Torah forbids. The heir is nursed by goddesses (Isa 60:16).
8. "Do gods die?" (1.16 I–II ↔ Ps 82:6–7). The healer is pinched from clay by El (קָרַץ טיט ↔ Job 33:6), where Gen 2:7 has יָצַר and עָפָר: the verb is the finding. The son charges his father that he no longer judges the widow (Isa 1:23, Ps 82:3, 2 Sam 15:4), and the father curses the son (Gen 9:25, 49:4).
9. The Rephaim (רְפָאִים):
   - in 1.20–1.22 they are guests who ride to a feast;
   - in 1.161 they are summoned to a king's burial, the throne weeps, and Šapšu sends the king "down … to the dust".
     Against Isa 14:9 this is a [divergence], since there the Rephaim rise from their thrones; cf. Isa 47:1, Gen 3:19;
   - 1.161 ends in "peace" for the new king (Ps 122:7);
   - "the sacrifice of the shades" ↔ Ps 106:28 זִבְחֵי מֵתִים.
10. KTU 1.40 against Lev 16 and Lev 4:
    - the offering is "borne" (nš) up to the father of the gods, not away, and it is a donkey or a ram;
    - the city's groups by status include the resident alien גֵּר (Lev 4; Num 15:26);
    - sins are listed as possibilities (Num 21:4 וַתִּקְצַר נָפֶשׁ);
    - the root כפר is not on the tablet.

11. KTU 1.119: the prayer for a besieged city (Ps 121:1; Judg 11:30; Gen 28:22). The famous "firstborn" offering is not on the tablet: it reads dkr "male". So 2 Kgs 3:27 is a parallel of situation only.

Famous details that are not on the tablets, each found by a translator or the reviewer:

- the "wine of El's choice" (1.22 I:20);
- the firstborn of 1.119;
- Kirta's "eight wives" (they are brothers);
- the bridegroom exempt from war.

For the ancient mind

- A son is defined by his duties to his father, alive and dead.
- A goddess covets a bow, offers immortality, kills through her eagles, and weeps.
- A land dies with its heir. A father cuts open birds to find a bone to bury.
- A sister arms herself under a woman's dress: the answer to "shall women hunt?".
- A king wants sons more than gold. He obeys a dream to the letter, forgets one vow and sickens. His children cannot believe a king can die. The gods are silent seven times, and El makes the healer himself. Kingship is judging the widow.
- The dead kings come to feast, and are sent down to the dust. A whole city, its foreigners included, is purified with a donkey borne up to the gods.

Decisions taken (minor, by the coordinator, under the user's standing rule)

- Placement and scope:
  - projects 4–7 of `מיתוסים-אוגריתיים/`;
  - KTU 1.161 added to the Rephaim project, although it is outside the plan's range 1.39–1.148, because it is the Rephaim's own ritual and the key witness for Isa 14:9 / Ps 88:11;
  - from the 1.39–1.148 selection: 1.119 and 1.39.
- Kirta's base: EUPT (2025, collated, CC BY-SA) is rank 1 for the readings. CUC keeps the line skeleton and the parses; about 55 departures from KTU³ are marked `EUPT:`. EUPT's translations and notes were read only after drafting.
- The new gates and checks (renderings §12): the rḫp check, and the root כפר gated to kpr.

- Collisions settled:
  - adr / aliy(n) both אַדִּיר: an accepted split, the formula kept.
  - ḥẓ takes חֵץ; qṣʿt stays חצים.
  - zbl "carried" הַסָּבוּל, so that dw keeps דָּוֶה.
  - ṯrrt 1.100:64 : הנשגבת was changed, since its old העזה collided with ʿz.
  - šqrb הקריב / ṯʿ הגשה; rišyt ראשית, so 1.22's prʿ became תנובה.
  - ilnym אֱלִיִּים (the corpus form).
- Accepted as noted splits:
  - nrt / nyr נִיר;
  - ḥtṯ / ksp כסף;
  - aṯr / aḫr אחר;
  - ʔtw / bwʾ בא;
  - ddn (1.161) דִּדָּן beside dtn דִּתָּן;
  - dmm / dm;
  - smkt / mrym.
- Translators' tool fixes, all reviewed and kept:
  - `eupt --tr`;
  - EUPT in the licence text;
  - the licences of the נדר, כסא, גד, אור and גדל gates (ur "fire", npṣ בגדי, the deletion in k{i}si, mḏr, mdgl);
  - the rḫp check accepts plene ריחפ.
- The translators' own open decisions (e.g. uzr, l aḥwy, mhr št, ṯar um, npy טָהֳרָה, ġbr גִּבְרֵי, ilhm transcribed) stand as drafted. Each is translated with the defensible choice and the alternative is in its note; the full lists are in the project sections.

Questions for the user

None that block, and none that need the user under the standing rule. Each tablet's `### Open decisions for the user` lists its cruxes (about 40 in all, e.g. uzr "girded" or "offering", 1.16 mtm "men" or "the dead", npy "purification" or "atonement"). Each is translated with a choice and noted. They are left for the user's review of the drafts.

Problems and skipped items

- No quota stop. Every gate said `GO range=A agents=1` (`five_hour`, `allowed`).

- Left (recorded in `corpus.md`):
  - the rest of KTU 1.39–1.148 (1.41 / 1.87, 1.43, 1.46 …);
  - 1.113 (the king list);
  - the letters.
- Aqhat and the Rephaim stay on KTU³: EUPT has not published them. Re-check them when it does.
- Small items left in the Baal Cycle (renderings §12.4–§12.9):
  - dt גידי against gd גִּיד;
  - gmr אביר against ibr אַבִּיר;
  - yp יֹפִי against ysmt יופי;
  - irš (1.3 V:28 תחפצי);
  - išryt / 1.3 V:31.
- Coordinator slip, corrected: the Kirta `project.md` was first made from Aqhat's by `sed` and carried the Aqhat translator's sections. Translator 2 noticed, and the sections were removed.
- A builder fault, fixed: a translator ran `build_parallels_index.py` once by mistake, and it deleted the dossier's
  RV 1.32 block. The translator restored the block by hand, and the builder now keeps such blocks.
- Some entries of repeated lines carry only a `[מקבילה: …]` note (the parse is at the first copy). The reviewer checked each one and added a פירוק wherever the line differs from its parallel.
- `sources_sync.py`: the 9 failures and 5 changes listed under Verification; none affects this run.

Cross-corpus splits left for the lead

- mšr (1.40) מֵישָׁרִים is the cognate of Akk. mīšarum מֵישָׁרִים (the law corpus): consistent across the languages.
- ġzr גִּבּוֹר here, while the Hurro-Hittite myths gate גִּבּוֹר to UR.SAG. This is cross-language and allowed by the 2026-10-30 principles; noted.
- ṯ῾ הגיש / הגשה, and dbḥ / šlmm שלמים / זבח, against the Hittite rituals' SISKUR מנחה / טקס: different languages, noted.
- יָתוֹם / אַלְמָנָה: Ugaritic cognates here. The law corpus has almattum אַלְמָנָה and Sum. nu-ma-su אלמנה:
  consistent.
- נָשָׂר = Akk. erû נָשָׂר (Etana) = Ug. nšr: consistent.
- קֶשֶׁת: Ug. qšt, Akk. qaštu (Erra), and the Hesiod corpus: consistent across the languages.
- Danel דָּנְאֵל: the Bible's Dan'el. No other corpus has him.

- The fifth-day dossier: untouched. Run 2's four pending revisions and Ḫedammu remain for the lead.
