Read `../../translation-guidelines.md` first, then `../corpus.md`, `../renderings.md` (corpus, binding; it inherits the flood corpus's shared renderings), `renderings.md` (this project), then this file.

Scope

Seven short texts that, with Enūma eliš (project 1), make up the Mesopotamian evidence for Genesis 2–3 (and Gen 1:26–28): man from clay or from the ground, the "not yet" chain, the work of the garden, the food of life refused, Dilmun, the forbidden plants and the curse, the rib, primeval humans without bread or clothing. From item 2 of `../../curated-translation-candidates.md`; relevance in `../../curation-surveys/relevance-survey--2026-10-16.md` (§A 2–7, 13); availability in `../../curation-surveys/availability-survey--2026-10-16.md`.

One project, one pair of files per text. Each text has its own `annotated-<N>-<Name>.rtl.md` and `translation-<N>-<Name>.rtl.md`, and its own section below (scope, sources, decisions, open decisions, progress log, parallels index, proposals). `translation.rtl.md` (all seven) is generated by `build_translation.py`; `verify.py` checks every text.

7	KAR 4 ("When heaven had been separated from earth": man from the Alla gods' blood)	Sumerian–Akkadian	SEAL 1600 (`../../sources/SEAL/KAR-4/`), checked against eBL's VAT 9307 and K 4175 transliterations	≈ 75 composite lines	`annotated-7-KAR-4.rtl.md`

Line numbering

Each text keeps its base edition's numbering:

- Adapa: eBL, with the recension as prefix: `MB 1'` … `MB 78'` (eBL primes the Amarna tablet's lines), `SB a+1` … `SB f+10` (eBL numbers the six NA fragment groups a–f by their first preserved line: a+1–24, b+1–13, c+1–19, d+1–9, e+1–22, f+1–10). The older literature cites the Amarna tablet as fragment B, lines 1–71 (Izre'el 2001), and the Nineveh pieces as fragments A, C, D: the apparatus gives the old number where a parallel depends on it.
- Sumerian texts: ETCSL composite numbers (with ETCSL's letters, e.g. `9A`). The Ur manuscript of Enki and Ninḫursaĝa (ORACC P346086) by its column and line, with the concordance to the composite.
- Founding of Eridu: tablet lines `obv. 1` … `obv. 40`, `rev. 1'` … (eBL ATF = King's numbering for the obverse).
- KAR 4: SEAL's line numbers (= Pettinato / Lambert 2013 numbering of the composite; each line has a Sumerian and an Akkadian half).

- Adapa: the sage given wisdom but not eternal life; the bread and water "of death" that are of life, refused on a god's warning ↔ 2:17, 3:3–5, 3:22–24; the garment and the oil ↔ 3:21; Anu's laughter; the gatekeepers Dumuzi and Gizzida ↔ the cherubim (3:24)?; the breaking of the South Wind's wing by a word (the conjurer).
- Enki and Ninḫursaĝa: Dilmun pure, without predators, illness or old age ↔ 2:8–17 (and Isa 11:6–9, 65:25); fresh water brought up from the earth ↔ 2:6, 2:10; the eight plants eaten and named ↔ 2:16–17, 3:6, 2:19–20; the curse "until he dies I shall not look at him with the eye of life" ↔ 3:14–19; the eight healing deities, Nin-ti "lady of the rib / of life" ↔ 2:21–22, 3:20 (debated); birth in nine days ↔ 3:16 (weak).
- Enki and Ninmaḫ: the gods' toil and complaint; man formed from the clay of the Abzu to bear the basket ↔ 2:5, 2:7, 2:15; Namma as mother; the six defective humans and the fates/livelihoods decreed for them ↔ Ex 4:11 (`מִי שָׂם פֶּה לָאָדָם אוֹ מִי יָשׂוּם אִלֵּם אוֹ חֵרֵשׁ אוֹ פִּקֵּחַ אוֹ עִוֵּר`) and Lev 21:17–23 (the priest with a blemish, who may eat but not approach); the barren woman ↔ 11:30 etc.; Umul.
- Song of the Hoe: heaven separated from earth (↔ 1:6–8, never `הִבְדִּיל`); humans breaking through the ground like plants at Uzumua ↔ 2:7, 3:19, 3:23; the hoe and the brick mould.
- Grain and Sheep: "not yet" chain ↔ 2:5; primeval humans without bread or clothes, eating grass like sheep, drinking ditch water ↔ 1:29–30, 2:16, 2:25, 3:7, 3:18–19, 3:21, 3:23, 4:2 (Abel and Cain), 9:3; grain and sheep created by the gods and sent down.
- Founding of Eridu: the chain of "not yet" ↔ 2:4b–5; "all the lands were sea" ↔ 1:2, 1:9; the reed raft on the face of the waters and the dust poured beside it ↔ 1:2 (`עַל פְּנֵי הַמָּיִם`), (`עָפָר`) 2:7; mankind created with Aruru, then cattle, Tigris and Euphrates, grass, reeds ↔ 2:7–14, 2:19; cities ↔ 4:17, 10:10, 11.
- KAR 4: heaven separated from earth; the gods' council "what shall we make?" ↔ 1:26 `נַעֲשֶׂה`; humans from the blood of slain Alla gods ↔ Enūma eliš VI, Atra-ḫasīs I; the first humans named (Ullegarra and Annegarra) and set to work the fields "for ever" ↔ 2:5, 2:15, 3:23.

Decisions (coordinator, before drafting)

1. Corpus renderings (`../renderings.md`, which inherits `../../סיפורי-המבול-המסופוטמיים/renderings.md`) bind every text; the Sumerian conventions of the flood corpus's project 3 (`../../סיפורי-המבול-המסופוטמיים/3-סיפור-המבול-השומרי--זיוסודרה/`) bind the four Sumerian texts. This project's `renderings.md` adds the terms of Gen 2–3 that recur across the seven texts, fixed before drafting, and every translator extends it.
2. Sequential drafting, one translator at a time, in the order 1 → 7; each later translator receives the Hebrew of the cross-text terms fixed by the earlier ones (`renderings.md`), and the coordinator reviews each text before the next starts.
3. Section headings: follow the edition's sections where it has them (eBL `isBeginningOfSection`; ETCSL translation paragraphs), and add descriptive Hebrew headings (`## 1–28: …`) in both files.

4. Sumerian aspect (flood project 3, Decisions 1): the ORACC `morph` field decides ḫamṭu / marû; narrative ḫamṭu → Hebrew past; narrative marû → Hebrew participle by default (noted); ga- → cohortative; ḫe₂- → jussive.
5. Bilinguals (6, 7): translate the Akkadian line where it survives; the Sumerian goes into the apparatus, and where it says something different, the Hebrew line notes it (`{שומרית: ...}` is not used; differences are in the apparatus, and the clean translation gives a footnote only when the difference matters for the comparison). Where only the Sumerian survives, translate the Sumerian and say so in the line's apparatus.
6. Adapa: MB (the Amarna tablet, the fullest version of the story) and SB (the Nineveh fragments) are translated as two sections of one file, each line from its own manuscript(s); where they overlap, identical Akkadian gets identical Hebrew.

Open decisions for the user

The per-text lists are in each section below; the coordinator's summary of the most important ones is in "Coordinator: status, harmonization and open decisions" at the end of the file.

Working rules for the text translators

- Follow guidelines §5 step 5 for every line: read the edition (eBL `reading-edition.md`; ETCSL `transliteration.md` and the TEI XML; ORACC `*--lemmatised-morph.md`; SEAL `.md`), parse every word (Akkadian: lemma, stem, tense, ventive, subjunctive, -ma; Sumerian: lemma, the verbal chain from the ORACC `morph` field, ḫamṭu/marû, case markers); form your own rendering; only then read the rank-3 translation (eBL Foster; ETCSL; SEAL) and record disagreements; run the echo check (§6.4) with the tags.
- Format exactly as `../1-אנומה-אליש/annotated-VI.rtl.md` and guidelines §7.2: a Hebrew header block (base text, numbering, signs, comparison translations, tags, reserved words), `## <range>: <Hebrew heading>`, then per line `### <label>`, the original in backticks, `>` Hebrew line, `- הקבלה -` , `- תרגומים:` , `פירוק:` (when relevant), `- הערות:` (when relevant). The apparatus is in Hebrew. Labels exactly as in "Line numbering" above.
- Draft unvocalized, plene; vocalize names at first occurrence in the text and ambiguous words (guidelines §5, §6.2).
- `translation-<N>-<Name>.rtl.md`: `# <Hebrew title>`, a short Hebrew introduction (what the text is, date, manuscripts, edition, how to read the signs), `##` section headings, numbered lines `<label> <Hebrew>` followed by two spaces, footnotes `[^n]` only for the major cruxes and key parallels. Its numbered lines must equal the annotated `>` lines (`python3 -I verify.py <N>`).
- Run `python3 -I ../../tools/check_bible_quotes.py <files>` and fix every mismatch. Quote the Bible with the vocalization of `תנך-מנוקד/` (the repository's verse division can differ: check with `--show`).

- Record in this file, under the text's section: scope, sources consulted, decisions, open decisions for the user, progress log (including the three review passes), the parallels index (table with exactly these columns: `| Line | Original | Hebrew rendering | Bible | Tag | Comment |`), proposals for the shared renderings, lessons for the guidelines.
- Do not edit `../renderings.md`, `../parallels-index.md`, `../corpus.md` or the guidelines: proposals go into this file; the coordinator merges them. You may extend this project's `renderings.md` (add rows; do not change rows fixed by an earlier text without a note in its Changelog).

<!-- Text sections are appended below by the text translators, in order. -->

Text 1: Adapa

Scope

- Text: Adapa (and the South Wind), Akkadian, both recensions in eBL `L/1/7`: MB (the Amarna tablet VAT 348 = EA 356, 14th cent. BCE; 78 lines `MB 1'`–`MB 78'`, the fullest version of the story; beginning lost) and SB (five Neo-Assyrian pieces, 7th cent.: MLC 1296, K 15072, K 8743, K 8214, K 9994; 97 lines in six groups `SB a+1` … `SB f+10`). 175 entries, all translated (lines of which only traces survive have `…`/`[…]` entries).
- Files: `annotated-1-Adapa.rtl.md` (Hebrew header; per line: eBL normalization, Hebrew, parsing, Foster + our departures, parallels with tags, notes with the old line number), `translation-1-Adapa.rtl.md` (introduction, 15 sections, 8 footnotes). Both were generated from line-by-line data files by a small builder script (session scratchpad; not kept in the repo), which copies eBL's normalization and Foster's translation verbatim and computes the old line numbers from eBL's ATF.
- Sections: MB follows eBL's section breaks (`---` before 7', 15', 39', 53', 62', 69', 78'); SB has none in eBL, so its sections (a–f) follow eBL's fragment groups, with plot headings.
- Old numbering (concordance): the older literature cites the Amarna tablet as "fragment B", lines 1–71 = the tablet's own lines (obverse 1–36, reverse 37–71), which is also SEAL's numbering; eBL's notes cite it that way too (e.g. the note on MB 58' cites Izre'el "ad 51'" = tablet r 15). Every MB entry gives it: the warning = B 29–32, the bread of life = B 60–65, Anu's laughter = B 66, "you shall not live" = B 68, "return him to his earth" = B 70. For SB, every entry names the manuscript and tablet line; MLC 1296 = fragment A (a+N = A N; "wisdom he gave him, eternal life he did not" = A 4), K 8743 = C, K 8214 = D (Anu's laughter = D 4′). eBL's `oldLineNumbers` field is empty for this text.

Sources consulted

- Rank 1: eBL `L/1/7` (Mitto, rev. Földi, Heinrich, Jiménez): `../../sources/eBL/Adapa-MB/`, `Adapa-SB/` (`reading-edition.md`, `glossary.md`, `manuscripts.md`, `bibliography.md`, `_raw/text.json` intro). Second opinion on the MB transliteration: SEAL 1557 (`../../sources/SEAL/Adapa-MB-EA-356/`), which differs from eBL at MB 15' (i-de = idû "to know", eBL idī "arms") and MB 5' (lu-ú-še-bi-ir as one form).
- Rank 2: the eBL dictionary glosses in `glossary.md` (stems checked there for every verb); the eBL API once (`/api/texts/L/2/2`, to identify the parallel cited at SB c+5 as Ludlul bēl nēmeqi).
- Rank 3, after drafting: Foster's translation (eBL T lines). Earlier editors only through eBL's notes: Izre'el 2001, Dietrich 1991, Kienast 1978, von Soden 1976, Picchioni 1981, Kämmerer 1998, Edzard 2002, Dalley 1989, Foster 2005, Lambert (folios; review 2003), Peterson 2017 (MB Sumerian, Nippur), Cavigneaux 2014 (Sumerian, Meturan).
- Not available (paid / not owned), not used: Izre'el 2001 (Adapa and the South Wind, MC 10, the standard edition), Cavigneaux 2014, Peterson 2017, Picchioni 1981, Dietrich, Kämmerer, Hecker (TUAT), Foster's Before the Muses, Dalley. No pirate copies were searched for.

Decisions

1. Two recensions, one file; each line from its own manuscripts. Identical Akkadian gets identical Hebrew, brackets excepted (MB 16' = SB c+12; MB 20' = SB c+17; MB 18' ≈ SB c+15; SB c+4 = c+10; within MB 21'/44', 23'/46', 24'/47', 27'/50', 11'/40'/55'); slight differences get equally slight differences (25' "30 ;'49 / 26' ;"בארץ" 48' / "בארצנו" damiqta / 63' banīta; SB e+1–3 "אמר לו" for iqbīšum against MB "לקחו לו" for ilqûniššum).
2. Brackets follow eBL's N and the ATF per word, by the creation-corpus rule: a word is in `[ ]` when its root or most of it is broken; one broken sign of a certain word is not bracketed (the parsing says so); partial brackets where part of the word survives. Scribal omissions (SB a+11 ⟨עושה⟩, a+17 ⟨המלך⟩?) are `⟨ ⟩`.
3. Key verbs by distribution. The whole text was checked for akālu, šatû, balāṭu, mâtu/mūtu, labāšu, pašāšu, nadānu, leqû, târu, ṣiāḫu, šebēru: leqû = לָקַח frames the story (MB 14' "let them take him here", 68'–72' "they took (fetched) for him" ×4, 77' "take him and return him"); akālu/šatû only in the warning (33'–34'), the offer (68'–70'), the question (74') and the excuse (76'); labāšu G/Gt/N = לָבַשׁ, Š (17', restored) = הִלְבִּישׁ; târu (77', partly restored) = הֵשִׁיב, cognate of שׁוּב (so שָׁב is used for nothing else: saḫāru = חָזַר, SB e+18).
4. Terms (cross-text renderings as used): akalu = לֶחֶם; akal balāṭi / akala ša mūti = / לֶחֶם הַחַיִּים לֶחֶם הַמָּוֶת (both construct in Hebrew; the Akkadian difference ša/construct is in the note); mê balāṭi / mê mūti = מֵי הַמָּוֶת / מֵי הַחַיִּים; napištu dārītu = חַיֵּי נֶצַח; balāṭu G stative = (לֹא תִחְיֶה) חָיָה; nēmequ חָכְמָה, uznu בִּינָה, ḫasīsu תְּבוּנָה (atra ḫasīsa = רַב־תְּבוּנָה), tašīmtu הַבְחָנָה (new); lubāru = בָּגַד, ṣubātu = שִׂמְלָה (new), karru = מַעֲטֶה אֵבֶל (new); šamnu = שֶׁמֶן, pašāšu = סָךְ; ṣiāḫu = צָחַק (Gtn by doubling the verb: וְיִצְחָקוּ וְיִצְחָקוּ); apkallu = חָכָם; banû (verb) = בָּנָה.

5. "Good" words kept apart so that (טוֹב וָרַע ↔) טוֹב appears only where the Akkadian is its cognate ṭābu (SB e+20): damqu = נָאָה (MB 30'), banû (adj.) = יָפֶה (MB 31' '65 ,'63 ,פָּנִים יָפוֹת שְׁאֵינָהּ יָפֶה).
6. The South Wind: šūtu (a single word, "the South") = רוּחַ הַדָּרוֹם as the acting, winged figure; רוּחַ is the Hebrew idiom, not šāru (cf. תֵּימָן alone as the south wind, Song 4:16, Ps 78:26). Enūma eliš IV 43 renders the same word דָּרוֹם in the list of directions; both are kept, by function. The construction ša šūti kappaša = כְּנָפָהּ שֶׁל רוּחַ הַדָּרוֹם (anticipatory genitive), construct kappi šūti (SB e+13) = כְּנַף רוּחַ הַדָּרוֹם.
7. Echo control, choices against a ready Genesis word: nazāru = גִּדֵּף (not קִלֵּל/אָרַר); qaqqaru = קַרְקַע (not אֲדָמָה, which would manufacture the 3:19 echo and the אָדָם/אֲדָמָה pun); lapātu = לָפַת (not נָגַע, cf. 3:3); qabû "order (something for someone)" = אָמַר לוֹ (not צִוָּה, cf. 2:16); mār šipri = שָׁלִיחַ (not מַלְאָךְ); karru not שַׁק (Akk. saqqu is its cognate); arkât ūmī = לְאֹרֶךְ יָמִים (cognate ark-; not לְעוֹלָם, not בְּאַחֲרִית הַיָּמִים); ina ūmīšu / inūmīšu = בָּעֵת הַהִיא (corpus; not בַּיָּמִים הָהֵם). The cognates that do carry the comparison are rendered by them and tagged: leqû לָקַח, akālu אָכַל, lā לֹא (apodictic prohibition, = לֹא תֹאכַל), mūtu מָוֶת, labāšu לָבַשׁ, ṣiāḫu צָחַק, târu הֵשִׁיב, šebēru שָׁבַר, šuklulu שִׁכְלֵל (the Shafel itself), zēru זֶרַע, kussû כִּסֵּא, ṭebû הִטְבִּיעַ, qerēbu קָרַב.
8. Deviation from Enūma eliš (project 1): there ṭeḫû = קָרַב; here qerēbu (its cognate) occurs too (MB 53'), so ṭeḫû = נָגַשׁ and קָרַב is kept for qerēbu. Not a change of the corpus file (קרב is not in its §0–3), only of the project-1 glossary's usage. Also dagālu = צָפָה (Gilg. XI 93 uses הִסְתַּכֵּל for palāsu Gt; EE uses הִבִּיט for palāsu N, kept here).
9. Readings followed (eBL against older editors), each marked and discussed in the apparatus: MB 5' precative stative lū šebir "let it be broken" (not lušebbir "I will break"); MB 15' idī "arms" (von Soden; majority and SEAL: īdi "he knew"); MB 58' "halfway, crossing" (Peterson; older and CDA: "the sea became smooth"), italic; MB 60' ultamṣil "plunged?" (Izre'el), italic; MB 65' lā banīta; MB 75' statement "לא תחיה!" (Foster: question); SB a+6 šeddi (alt. riddi); SB a+17 <šar>-ru.
10. Names (vocalized at first occurrence in each recension): אֲדָפָה, אֵאָה, אָנוּ, אִילַבְּרַת (Ilabrat, vizier; šukkallu = וְזִיר, as in Enūma eliš), דּוּמוּזִי (note: = יחזקאל ח:יד ,תַּמּוּז; not assimilated in the text), גִּיזִּידָה (the text's Gizzida; note: = Ningišzida נִינְגִּשְׁזִידָּה), נִינְכַּרַךְ, אֲנוּנְכִי, אֲרִידוּ. The old Adapa/אָדָם name comparison is mentioned only to be rejected (MB 11').

Open decisions for the user

1. MB 15': eBL's "Ea, (he) of heaven, touched his arms" (followed, italic) or the majority reading "Ea, who knows (the ways of) heaven, touched him" (SEAL too). The second strengthens the Ea / snake comparison (3:5 ,כִּי יֹדֵעַ אֱלֹהִים).
2. MB 58': "as I crossed the sea, in its middle" (eBL/Peterson, followed) or the older "the sea was smooth (like a mirror)" (CDA).
3. MB 75' lā balṭāta: statement "לא תחיה!" (followed; most translators) or Foster's question "Won't you live?".

4. karru = מַעֲטֵה אֵבֶל (Isa 61:3 מַעֲטֵה ... תַּחַת ... אֵבֶל) or the more common בִּגְדֵי אֵבֶל (2 Sam 14:2, where it stands with "do not anoint with oil" – the Adapa pair). בגד was avoided because it renders lubāru.
5. qaqqaru (MB 77') = קַרְקָעוֹ (followed, echo control) or the more natural אַדְמָתוֹ, which would put אֲדָמָה (3:19, 3:23) into the text.
6. šūtu = רוּחַ הַדָּרוֹם (followed) or הַדָּרוֹם alone, like תֵּימָן in Song 4:16 (closer to the single Akkadian word, but harder to read).
7. šēdu (SB a+6) = רוּחַ־מָגֵן (followed) – שֵׁד is the cognate but means "demon" in Hebrew (false friend).
8. pašīšu (SB a+9) = מָשׁוּחַ (the Hebrew priestly root משח) or a form of סוך, to keep the link with the oil of MB 36'/72'.
9. Dumuzi = דּוּמוּזִי in the text (followed, as for all deities) or the biblical תַּמּוּז (Ezek 8:14).
10. Old sigla of the SB fragments: A = MLC 1296, C = K 8743, D = K 8214 follow the conventional labels; Izre'el's sigla for K 15072 and K 9994 could not be checked (his edition is paid). Buying Izre'el 2001 would also resolve the restorations eBL cites from it (MB 16', 17', 60').
11. Print stub and combined file: ../../הדפסה/סיפורי-הבריאה-המסופוטמיים/2-טקסטי-בריאה-ועדן.rtl.md and the project's generated translation.rtl.md are the coordinator's (outside this text's remit).

Progress log

- Drafting (2026-10-16): all 175 lines, MB then SB, from eBL N/L/notes and glossary.md; parsing per word; Foster read after each line's draft; echo check per line, and the key-verb distribution over the whole text (Decision 3).
- Review (a) fidelity (full read-through of the clean translation against N and the ATF): bracket placement corrected at MB 14' (קְחוּהוּ[וְיִ]: qu survives), MB 20' (לַשָּׁ[מַ]יִם, two signs broken), SB e+1–e+2 (אמר unbracketed: one sign broken), e+9 (שָׁם unbracketed); SB e+5 ina ilī מכל האלים מבין האלים → (no "all" in the Akkadian); SB a+8 של → משל (ša anunnakī); SB a+12 ša eridu של ארידו → לארידו.
- Review (b) consistency (repeated lines compared as strings; lemma-level check against the corpus and project renderings and against the > lines of Enūma eliš and Gilgameš XI): dagālu צפה → הסתכל (collision with Gilg. XI 93 palāsu Gt); wapû Š made one form (לְהוֹפִיעַ, e+11, f+7); duplicated Foster quotations removed from the apparatus; the MB/SB pairs listed in Decision 1 verified identical.
- Review (c) Hebrew (read aloud): SB e+11 word order and infinitive smoothed; MB 26'/49', 31', 63' kept literal but readable; the doubled Gtn verbs (22', 29', 52') kept as the deliberate rendering of the iterative.
- Checks: python3 -I verify.py 1 → OK (175 entries = eBL's line list; translation = annotated > lines). tools/check_bible_quotes.py on both files and this file → 0 problems (106 checked quotations in the annotated file). The > lines contain none of the reserved words of renderings.md §3 (טובה once, SB e+20, for ṭābu, its cognate).

Line	Original	Hebrew rendering	Bible	Tag	Comment
SB a+6	ea … ibnīšu	אאה … בנאו	וַיִּיצֶר יְהוָה אֱלֹהִים אֶת הָאָדָם עָפָר מִן הָאֲדָמָה (בראשית ב:ז)	[divergence]	Adapa "built" by Ea (banû = בָּנָה, cf. וַיִּבֶן, ב:כב); no material (clay, dust) named.
SB a+4	nēmeqa iddiššu napišta dārīta ul iddiššu	לו נתן חכמה; חיי נצח לא נתן לו	וְעֵץ הַחַיִּים בְּתוֹךְ הַגָּן וְעֵץ הַדַּעַת טוֹב וָרָע (בראשית ב:ט)	[divergence]	Two divine gifts (wisdom, eternal life) vs two trees; the man gets the first only. nēmequ is not "knowledge" (דַּעַת).
MB 68'	akal balāṭi	לחם החיים	וְעֵץ הַחַיִּים (בראשית ב:ט)	[equivalent]	Food that gives (eternal) life; bread and water, not a tree's fruit.
MB 14'	lilqûniššu annikâ	ויקחוהו הנה	וַיִּקַּח יְהוָה אֱלֹהִים אֶת הָאָדָם וַיַּנִּחֵהוּ בְּגַן עֵדֶן (בראשית ב:טו)	[cognate]	leqû = לקח: the man "taken" to the divine place. The verb is partly restored.
SB a+10–a+13	nuḫatimmūta ippuš; akala u mê … ippuš; paššura irakkas	את הבישול עושה; את הלחם והמים … עושה; את השולחן עורך	לְעָבְדָהּ וּלְשָׁמְרָהּ (בראשית ב:טו)	[divergence]	The first man's work: Adapa serves the gods (cooks, fishes, sets their table); Adam tends the garden. Thematic only.
MB 33'	akala ša mūti … lā takkal	לחם המוות … לא תאכל!	לֹא תֹאכַל מִמֶּנּוּ (בראשית ב:יז)	[cognate]	lā + present = לֹא + imperfect, the apodictic prohibition; akālu = אכל. A god forbids eating in the divine realm.

Line	Original	Hebrew rendering	Bible	Tag	Comment
MB 33'–34'	akala ša mūti; mê mūti	לחם המוות; מי המוות	כִּי בְּיוֹם אֲכָלְךָ מִמֶּנּוּ מוֹת תָּמוּת (בראשית ב:יז)	[cognate]	mūtu = מות. The warning says the food kills; in both stories it turns out not to (Adapa: it was bread of life; Adam: he does not die that day).
SB a+6	ibnīšu	בנאו	וַיִּבֶן יְהוָה אֱלֹהִים אֶת הַצֵּלָע (בראשית ב:כב)	[cognate]	banû = בנה, the verb of building a human.
MB 15'; SB c+4, c+10	ea; mūdû libbi ilī rabûti	אאה; היודע את לב האלים הגדולים	וְהַנָּחָשׁ הָיָה עָרוּם מִכֹּל חַיַּת הַשָּׂדֶה (בראשית ג:א)	[divergence]	The clever adviser on what to eat: Ea, god of wisdom, forbids; the snake urges. Ea is not a snake; no עָרוּם in the text.
MB 76'	ea bēlī iqbâ lā takkal lā tašatti	אאה, אדוני, אמר לי: לא תאכל, לא תשתה!	אָמַר אֱלֹהִים לֹא תֹאכְלוּ מִמֶּנּוּ (בראשית ג:ג)	[cognate]	The human quotes the divine prohibition; Adapa to justify not eating, the woman before eating.
MB 33'–34' / 68'–70'	ša mūti → balāṭi	לחם המוות לחם → החיים	לֹא מוֹת תְּמֻתוּן (בראשית ג:ד)	[divergence]	A divine warning shown to be misleading. Who misled? Edzard: Ea's words were deliberately conditional; SB e+4–e+6: Anu laughs "at what Ea had done". In Genesis the snake contradicts God. Adapa obeys and loses life; Adam disobeys and loses life.

Line	Original	Hebrew rendering	Bible	Tag	Comment
SB c+4	mūdû libbi ilī	היודע את לב האלים	כִּי יֹדֵעַ אֱלֹהִים כִּי בְּיוֹם אֲכָלְכֶם מִמֶּנּוּ (בראשית ג:ה)	[cognate]	idû = ידע: the adviser knows the gods' mind. The line is half restored (from c+10).
MB 65'	ša šamê u erṣeti ukellinši	את אשר לשמים ולארץ הראה	וְהְיִיתֶם כֵּאלֹהִים יֹדְעֵי טוֹב וָרָע (בראשית ג:ה)	[divergence]	Divine knowledge given to man: "heaven and earth" / "good and evil", two merisms of totality. Given by Ea, not taken.
MB 69'	ilqûniššum-ma ul īkul	לקחו לו, ולא אכל	וַתִּקַּח מִפִּרְיוֹ וַתֹּאכַל וַתִּתֵּן גַּם לְאִישָׁהּ עִמָּהּ וַיֹּאכַל (בראשית ג:ו)	[divergence]	The exact inversion: others take, the man does not eat. leqû/akālu = לקח/אכל [cognate].
—	—	—	וַיֵּדָעוּ כִּי עֵירֻמִּם הֵם (בראשית ג:ז)	[absent]	No nakedness or shame in Adapa: he arrives clothed (in mourning) and is given a garment as a guest.
MB 2', 59'; SB e+15	šūtu; šūtu izīqam-ma	רוח הדרום; רוח הדרום נשבה	מְתְהַלֵּךְ בַּגָּן לְרוּחַ הַיּוֹם (בראשית ג:ח)	[absent]	Only thematic: a wind at the turning point. Adapa's šūtu is a person (winged, cursed, sickness-bringing) and has no word šāru; רוּחַ in our Hebrew is idiom. Not a parallel.

MB 74'	ammīni lā tākul lā taltī	למה לא אכלת, לא שתית?	הֲמִן הָעֵץ אֲשֶׁר צִוִּיתִיךָ לְבִלְתִּי אֲכָל מִמֶּנּוּ אָכָלְתָּ (בראשית ג:יא)	[divergence]	The god's question about eating, inverted: "why did you not eat?" vs "did you eat?".
MB 76'	ea bēlī iqbâ	אאה, אדוני, אמר לי	הָאִשָּׁה אֲשֶׁר נָתַתָּה עִמָּדִי הִוא נָתְנָה לִּי מִן הָעֵץ וָאֹכֵל (בראשית ג:יב)	[divergence]	The man's defence points to another (Ea's instruction / the woman's gift).
SB e+4	ānu ana epšet ea … iṣīḫ	אנו על מעשה אאה … צחק	הַנָּחָשׁ הִשִּׁיאַנִי וָאֹכֵל (בראשית ג:יג)	[divergence]	Deception acknowledged: in SB Anu sees through Ea's trick; in Genesis the woman blames the snake's deceit.
MB 5', 61'	kappaki lū šebir; attazar	כנפך תהי שבורה!; גידפתי	אָרוּר אַתָּה מִכָּל הַבְּהֵמָה (בראשית ג:יד)	[divergence]	An effective curse on a creature; but here the man curses (and is tried for it), there God curses after the sin. nazāru is not arāru (no ארר).
SB e+12	zēr amīlūti	זרע האנושות	וּבֵין זַרְעֲךָ וּבֵין זַרְעָהּ (בראשית ג:טו)	[cognate]	zēru = זרע; Adapa is "seed of mankind" (a mortal). Weak; listed for the word.

SB e+11	bēlūssu … šīmta išīm	את אדנותו … גורל גזר	אֲרוּרָה הָאֲדָמָה בַּעֲבוּרֶךָ (בראשית ג:יז)	[divergence]	The god decrees the man's lot after the eating scene: honour and exemption for Adapa (e+9–e+11), a curse for Adam. Context fragmentary.
SB a+10, a+12	nuḫatimmūta ippuš; akala … ippuš	את הבישול עושה; את … הלחם עושה	בְּזֵעַת אַפֶּיךָ תֹּאכַל לֶחֶם (בראשית ג:יט)	[cognate]	akalu = לחם. Adapa makes bread for the gods; Adam will eat bread by toil.
MB 77'	liqâšū-ma terrāšu ana qaqqarīšu	קחוהו והשיבוהו אל קרקעו	עַד שׁוּבְךָ אֶל הָאֲדָמָה כִּי מִמֶּנָּה לֻקָּחְתָּ (בראשית ג:יט)	[cognate]	târu = שוב, leqû = לקח, qaqqaru ≈ אדמה [equivalent]. Rests on a restoration: [te]rrāšu is partly restored and liqâšū-ma barely legible.
MB 17'	karra [ultalbissu]	מעטה אבל [הלבישו]	וַיַּלְבִּשֵׁם (בראשית ג:כא)	[cognate]	labāšu Š = the Hiphil: a god clothes the man. Restored (Izre'el), and the garment is mourning wear.

Never כְּתֹנֶת in the text.
MB 36', 72'; SB e+2	šamna … piššaš; ittapšiš	שמן … סוך; וסך	וַיַּעַשׂ יְהוָה אֱלֹהִים לְאָדָם וּלְאִשְׁתּוֹ כָּתְנוֹת עוֹר (בראשית ג:כא)	[absent]	The oil has no counterpart in Gen 3. It belongs with the garment as the end of mourning (2 Sam 12:20; 14:2, below).
SB a+4	napišta dārīta ul iddiššu	חיי נצח לא נתן לו	וְעַתָּה פֶּן יִשְׁלַח יָדוֹ וְלָקַח גַּם מֵעֵץ הַחַיִּים וְאָכַל וָחַי לְעֹלָם (בראשית ג:כב)	[equivalent]	The central parallel: the wise man has divine knowledge but not eternal life. חַיֵּי נֶצַח, not חַיֵּי עוֹלָם, so as not to pre-empt לְעֹלָם.
MB 65'–67'	ammīni ea … ukellinši; nīnu mīnâ nippussu	למה אאה … הראה; אנחנו מה נעשה – לו?	הֵן הָאָדָם הָיָה כְּאַחַד מִמֶּנּוּ לָדַעַת טוֹב וָרָע וְעַתָּה (בראשית ג:כב)	[equivalent]	Divine deliberation in the first person plural after the man has gained divine knowledge. Opposite outcomes: Anu offers life, YHWH prevents it.

MB 68'	akal balāṭi liqâniššum-ma līkul	לחם החיים קחו לו, ויאכל!	וְלָקַח גַּם מֵעֵץ הַחַיִּים וְאָכַל (בראשית ג:כב)	[cognate]	The same two verbs in the same order, leqû … akālu = … לקח אכל, with the life-giving food as object; feared in Genesis, ordered in Adapa.
MB 75'	lā balṭāta	לא תחיה!	וָחַי לְעֹלָם (בראשית ג:כב)	[equivalent]	balāṭu "live" (not cognate of חיה). The loss of eternal life, here caused by not eating.
MB 75'	ai nišī …	אוי, האנשים …	עַד שׁוּבְךָ אֶל הָאֲדָמָה (בראשית ג:יט)	[equivalent]	If "alas for the (poor) people" refers to mankind, the first sage's loss is mankind's mortality, as Adam's is. Rests on a broken word (da-a-[x-t]i).
MB 14', 41'; SB c+3	šupur; šūbilaššu; mār šipri išappar	שלח; הובילהו; שליח שולח	וַיְשַׁלְּחֵהוּ יְהוָה אֱלֹהִים מִגַּן עֵדֶן (בראשית ג:כג)	[equivalent]	Sending: in Adapa the man is sent for, up to heaven; in Genesis he is sent out of the garden. šapāru ≈ שלח, not cognate.
MB 77'	[te]rrāšu ana qaqqarīšu	בוהו אל[השי] קרקעו	וַיְשַׁלְּחֵהוּ יְהוָה אֱלֹהִים מִגַּן עֵדֶן לַעֲבֹד אֶת הָאֲדָמָה אֲשֶׁר לֻקַּח מִשָּׁם (בראשית ג:כג)	[divergence]	Return to earth after the failed chance of immortality; but no expulsion as punishment, and in SB a privileged status follows (e+9–e+11). Restored verb.

No כְּרוּבִים in the text.
MB 42'; SB c+11	ḫarrān šamê	דרך השמים	לִשְׁמֹר אֶת דֶּרֶךְ עֵץ הַחַיִּים (בראשית ג:כד)	[equivalent]	"The road of heaven", guarded at its gate, vs "the way to the tree of life". ḫarrānu = דֶּרֶךְ, not cognate.
SB e+9	maṣṣarta iškun	משמרת שם	לִשְׁמֹר אֶת דֶּרֶךְ עֵץ הַחַיִּים (בראשית ג:כד)	[equivalent]	maṣṣartu "guard / duty" laid on Adapa (Foster: "duty"); thematic and uncertain. maṣṣartu is from naṣāru (נצר), not שמר.
MB 14'; MB 77'	lilqûniššu annikâ; liqâšū-ma terrāšu	ויקחוהו הנה; קחוהו והשיבוהו	וְאֵינֶנּוּ כִּי לָקַח אֹתוֹ אֱלֹהִים (בראשית ה:כד)	[cognate]	leqû = לקח: the first of the antediluvian sages is "taken" to heaven and returned; Enoch, the seventh antediluvian, is "taken" and not returned. Partly restored.

Proposals for the shared renderings

For the corpus `renderings.md` (and for later texts of this project, which `renderings.md` §4 already binds):

1. šūtu: רוּחַ הַדָּרוֹם when it is an acting wind (a figure), דָּרוֹם in lists of directions (Enūma eliš IV 43); first-occurrence note that the Akkadian has the single word.
2. leqû = לָקַח [cognate] (incl. "fetch for", leqû + ventive + dative = לָקַח לוֹ); târu G/D = הֵשִׁיב / שָׁב [cognate of שוב] – then keep שוב for târu only (saḫāru = חָזַר).
3. Clothing: karru = מַעֲטֶה אֵבֶל; ṣubātu = שִׂמְלָה (beside lubāru בֶּגֶד, lubuštu לְבוּשׁ).

4. kullu D "hold out, proffer" = הוֹשִׁיט; nazāru "revile, curse" = גִּדֵּף (so that אָרַר = arāru and קִלֵּל = Sum. aš bal stay apart).
5. "Good": ṭābu = טוֹב only; damqu = נָאֶה; banû (adj.) = יָפֶה (pānū banûtu = פָּנִים יָפוֹת; lā banû = שֶׁאֵינוֹ יָפֶה).
6. Knowledge words: add tašīmtu = הַבָּחָנָה; šuklulu = שִׂכְלֵל [cognate, the Shafel] (↔ כְּלִיל, Ezek 28:12); rapša uzni (Ea's epithet) = רְחַב הַבִּינָה; mūdû = הַיּוֹדֵעַ [cognate].
7. Approach verbs: qerēbu = קָרַב [cognate]; ṭeḫû = נִגַּשׁ; kašādu = הִגִּיעַ; dagālu = צָפָה; palāsu N = הִבִּיט (as in Enūma eliš). The corpus should decide whether Enūma eliš's ṭeḫû = קָרַב is changed to נִגַּשׁ (it would then collide with âru = נִגַּשׁ there; alternative for ṭeḫû: קָרַב everywhere and qerēbu = הִתְקָרֵב).
8. Court words: šukkallu = וְזִיר (as Enūma eliš); mār šipri = שָׁלִיחַ (not מַלְאָךְ); maṣṣartu = מִשְׁמֶרֶת (as Enūma eliš); šubarrû = חֲרוּת (since the 2026-10-23 harmonization פָּטוֹר, as Enūma eliš and Advice to a Prince; not דְּרוֹר, which is andurāru; not חָפְשִׁי, false friend of ḫupšu); arkât ūmī = לְאֹרֶךְ יָמִים [cognate]; bābu (of a god's house, heaven) = שַׁעַר; ḫarrānu = דֶּרֶךְ; qaqqaru = קַרְקַע (not אֲדָמָה).
9. Names: Ilabrat = אִילַבְּרַת; Dumuzi = דּוּמוּזִי (note תַּמּוּז); Gizzida = גִּזִּידָה, Ningišzida = נִינְגִּשְׁזִידָה; Ninkarrak = נִינְכַּרַךְ; Adapa's epithet atra ḫasīsa = רַב־תְּבוּנָה (= the name Atra-Ḫasīs, corpus).
10. False friends (for guidelines §6.7): šēdu (protective spirit) ~ שֵׁד (demon) – render רוּחַ־מָגֵן; sakātu "be silent" ~ הַסְכִּית (Modern "listen"; biblical הַסְכֵּת "be silent") – render שְׁתַק; Adapa ~ אָדָם (no relation).

Lessons for the guidelines

- Generate both files from one line-by-line data file when the base edition is eBL: a small builder that copies eBL's N and T verbatim, computes the old line numbers from the ATF and writes the annotated and the clean file together removes every N-typo and every annotated/clean mismatch; `verify.py` then only confirms.
- The old "fragment B" numbering of the Amarna Adapa tablet is the tablet's own line count (obverse 1–36, reverse 37–71), recoverable from eBL's ATF line labels (`o N'` → N, `r N` → 36 + N); eBL's own notes cite earlier editors in that numbering. Check this for any eBL text whose `oldLineNumbers` is empty.
- When a text has several "good" adjectives (damqu, banû, ṭābu), give each its own Hebrew word, and reserve טוֹב for the cognate ṭābu: otherwise the translation itself manufactures echoes of טוֹב וָרָע and לֹא טוֹב.
- Prefer a cognate verb pair over a cognate noun: the strongest find of this text is verbal – leqû … akālu (MB 68') = וְלָקַח … וְאָכַל (Gen 3:22), and leqû/târu (77') = (3:19) לָקַחְתָּ … שׁוּבְךָ – invisible in the English translations ("bring him … let him eat"; "take him back").
- Read the later recension against the earlier one for the "who deceived whom" question: the SB line "Anu laughed at what Ea had done" (e+4) settles a crux that the MB alone leaves open; translate every recension even when fragmentary (guidelines §5, "Translate the minor recensions too").

Text 2: Enki and Ninḫursaĝa

Scope

- Text: Enki and Ninḫursaĝa ("the Dilmun myth"), Sumerian, Old Babylonian copies (19th–18th cent. BCE); ETCSL 1.1.1 = ORACC Q000332. The whole composite: 305 entries (ETCSL lines 1–36, 40–49, 49A–49V, 50–126, 126A–126CC, 127–132, 142–159, 164–187, 190–230, 235–241, 245–281), all translated; lines of which only traces survive have `...`/`[...]` entries. Lines lost without a number (37–39, 133–141, 160–163, 188–189, 231–234, 242–244) are marked between the entries.
- Manuscripts (ETCSL, after Attinger 1984): N = CBS 4561 (Nippur, PBS 10/1 1; the main six-column tablet); Ur = UET 6/1 1 (U 7754; ORACC P346086); L = AO 6724 (TCL 16 62; Louvre, unknown provenance). Recension tags in the Hebrew lines: `{נוסח אור}` for 49A–49V and 253 (Ur only); `{כ"י הלובר}` for 126A–126CC (ETCSL: "a ms. of unknown origin" – the only such manuscript is AO 6724; an inference, not stated by ETCSL); `{לא בכ"י ניפור}` for 177 (ETCSL "1 line not in the ms. from Nibru"; Ur does not preserve this section, so the witness is presumably L).
- Files: `annotated-2-Enki-Ninhursag.rtl.md` (Hebrew header; 43 sections following ETCSL's translation paragraphs; per line: ETCSL transliteration, Hebrew, parsing with the ORACC morph, ETCSL + our departures, parallels with tags, notes with the Ur comparison); `translation-2-Enki-Ninhursag.rtl.md` (introduction, the same sections, 23 footnotes). The clean file is generated from the annotated `>` lines by a scratch script (session scratchpad, not kept), so the two are identical by construction; `python3 -I verify.py 2` → OK.
- Content: Dilmun pure, without predators, illness, old age or mourning – and without fresh water (1–28); Ninsikila's complaint and Enki's water brought up from the earth (29–62), with the Ur version's blessing of the foreign lands and their goods (49A–49V); Enki's unions over three (L: four) generations of goddesses, with nine-day pregnancies (63–185); Uttu's demand for fruit, Enki watering the gardener's land and coming disguised as the gardener (147–185); Ninḫursaĝa removes his semen and grows eight plants, which Enki looks at, has his vizier pick, eats, "decides the fate of" and "knows the heart of" (186–219); Ninḫursaĝa's oath "with the eye of life, until he dies, I shall not look at him" (220–221); the fox brings her back (222–246); she seats Enki at her vulva and gives birth to eight healing deities from his eight aching body parts, among them Nin-ti from the rib (247–271); their destinies (272–280); doxology (281).

Sources consulted

- Rank 1: ETCSL 1.1.1 (`../../sources/ETCSL/1.1.1--Enki-and-Ninhursaga/`: `transliteration.md`, `c.1.1.1.xml` with ETCSL's lemmas).

- Rank 2: ORACC Q000332 (`../../sources/ORACC/epsd2-literary--Q000332--.../Q000332--lemmatised-morph.md`): citation form and `{morph;base}` for every word – used for ḫamṭu/marû and the prefix chains in every line; ORACC P346086 (the Ur manuscript, `../../sources/ORACC/epsd2-literary--P346086--.../`), compared line by line (concordance below); the ePSD2 glossary (`gloss-sux.json` in `../../sources/ORACC/_bulk/epsd2-literary.zip`, read in place); ETCSL bulk concordance searches (`../../sources/ETCSL/_bulk/etcsl-unzipped/etcsl/transliterations/`) for ur₅ ḫe₂-na-nam-ma (1.4.1 89; 1.8.2.2 216), igi nam-til₃-la (1.6.2 389; 2.5.4.01 103; 2.5.4.02 41; 2.5.4.15 7; 2.5.5.5 13), nam-erim₂ … kud (1.8.1.4 20; 1.8.1.5.1 137; 2.5.4.01 380), a … dug₄ "to water" (1.7.4 A 10; 2.4.2.14 24; 2.4.4.3 1–2; 4.08.05), giri₁₇-zal, dirig ga-ri, ambar-ra im-da-la₂, NI-buluĝ₃ (only this text).
- Rank 3: ETCSL's English translation (`translation.md`). Note (honesty): the ETCSL translation was in view from the start (it was read together with the transliteration when the sources were opened), so the rule "own reading first" (guidelines §3) was kept per line only in the sense that every line was parsed from the morph before its ETCSL rendering was compared; every departure is recorded in the line's `תרגומים`.
- Not available, not used: Attinger 1984 (ZA 74, the edition), Jacobsen 1987 (The Harps that Once…), Katz 2007, Kramer 1945 (BASOR SS 1, the ti/rib proposal; cited from general knowledge only), Römer 1993 (TUAT), Bottéro & Kramer 1989. No pirate copies were searched for.

Decisions

1. Aspect (project Decisions 4): narrative marû → Hebrew participle (`מְצִיץ`, `אֵינוֹ מַשְׁמִיעַ` … – e.g. 11–28, 55–57, 65–66, 93, 174–176, 181, 203–218); ḫamṭu → past (`גָּזַר`, `קִבְּלָה`, `יָלְדָה`); ga- → cohortative (`אֶטְעָה`, `אֶתְּנָה`, `אֹמְרָה`, `אִיעָצֵךְ`, `אֲנַוְּטָה`); ḫe₂- → jussive (`תִּנָּשֵׂא`, `יִהְיֶה`, `תִּשְׁתֶּה`, `יַעֲלוּ`); bara- (221) → emphatic negative vow (`לֹא אַבְּיט`); na- affirmative + me (`na-nam`) → `אָכֵן`.
2. Formulas fixed at the first occurrence and verified by script (identical Hebrew wherever the Sumerian is identical; differences only where the Sumerian differs: 102–104 without -a-ni; 114–115 imperative vs 91/94 question; 126M u₃-; 126Q/185 -kam; 164–166 ḫamṭu "brought" vs 174–176 marû "gives"). Table: `renderings.md` §4, Text 2.
3. Ur and Louvre material: lines found only in one manuscript keep their ETCSL number and get a recension tag at the start of the Hebrew line (guidelines §6.8). For lines that Ur shares with the composite (1–23, 251–268) the Ur wording is given in the apparatus (`נוסח אור: …`), translated when the sense differs (5, 12, 15, 19, 20–22).
4. Sexual vocabulary: the Sumerian nouns are plain anatomical words, so the Hebrew uses sober anatomical nouns, neither coarse nor euphemistic: ĝiš₃ = `זַכְרוּת`, gal₄-la = `עָרְוָה`, ur₂ = `חֵיק`, ḫašₓ = `יָרֵךְ`; the verbs: nu₂ = `שָׁכַב`, ĝiš₃ du₃/dug₄ = `בָּעַל`, ne su-ub = `נָשַׁק`, a šag₄ ri = `יָצַק מַיִם בָּרְחֵם`; a "water/semen" stays `מַיִם` (the Sumerian image), the parsing gives the sense.
5. Water words: a dug₄ = `הִשְׁקָה` (72; precedent flood project 3 A 10); a si = `מִלֵּא מַיִם`; ed₃ (of water) = `עָלָה`; a dug₃ = `מַיִם מְתוּקִים` vs a sis = `מַיִם מָרִים`; ki-ta = `מִן הָאָרֶץ`. Each is the natural Hebrew word; the Gen 2:6 overlaps are tagged, not created.

6. "Good" words: sag₉ = אָאָה (as Akk. damqu), sig₅ = מְעֻלָּה, dug₃ = טוֹב (general; = Akk. ṭābu) / מָתוֹק (water). טוֹב occurs only in 49Q–49R.
7. The oath (220): mu X nam-erim₂ kud = שְׁבוּעָה נִשְׁבָּעָה X עַל שֵׁם (ETCSL corpus: nam-erim₂ kud is "to swear an oath"); ETCSL's "cursed" is recorded; no קלל/ארר. "The eye of life" (221) = עֵין הַחַיִּים (a known Sumerian idiom of the life-giving divine look).
8. Nin-ti (269): the name is transliterated (נִין־תִּי), with both senses of TI (ti "rib", ti(l) "to live") in the note and footnote; צֵלָע is used only for ti in 268. The note states that the Hebrew has no corresponding pun.
9. Deviations from renderings.md §2, by meaning (Changelog there): ki "earth (below)" = הָאָרֶץ without an (43, 54); zi as the body part = נֶפֶשׁ (264; elsewhere 239 ,70 ,חַיִּים); du₃ of trees = נָטַע? (227; elsewhere בָּנָה).
10. Echo control, choices against a ready biblical word: dar = חֻגְלָה (not קוֹרֵא); niĝ₂ al di = דְּבַר־ חֵפֶץ (not ג:ו ;ב:ט ,נָחְמָד); ul … ti = הִפְרִיחַ? (not עֲדָנָה, root of עֵדֶן); 1-a "first" = תְּחִלָּה (not בָּרְאשׁוֹנָה, letters of בָּרָא); ḫe₂-am₃ "consent" = יְהִי־נָא (not יְהִי); tag = מְשֻׁשׁ (not נָגַע); mu pad₃ = יִנָּקֵב (not יִקָּרֵא); ur₅ ḫe₂-na-nam-ma = כְּךָ אָכֵן הָיָה (not וַיְהִי כֵן); gu₃ de₂ = צָעַק / פּוֹנָה (never קָרָא); u₂-sar-ra = צָמַח־הָעֲרוּגָה (not יָרָק). The reserved words of §3 do not occur in the Hebrew lines except צֵלָע (268, ti), הִשְׁקָה (72, a dug₄), גַּן/גִּנָּן (171–156, kiri₆), עָפָר (222 ,156, saḫar), יָדַע (219, zu), טוֹב (49Q–R, dug₃) – each its word's meaning, each tagged.
11. Names: Uttu = אוּטוּ (with ט, vocalized at every occurrence: never confusable with Utu אוּתוּ, also always vocalized, nor with אוֹתוֹ); Magan = מָגָן always vocalized; Ningiriutud hyphenated נִין־גִּירִי־אוּ־תּוּד so that the sequence "אותו" never appears; Sumer = שׁוּמֶר (Kengir; not שִׁנְעָר); Elam, Ur, Uruk in biblical forms (place names, guidelines §6.4.6).
12. ORACC vs ETCSL: ETCSL's composite is translated; ORACC's different lemmatisations are noted where they change the sense (30 nam "fate"; 73 Ninḫursaĝa ergative; 96 dirig "exceed"; 187 a = "cry"; 265 Nazi = Nanše?).

Open decisions for the user

1. 73: ETCSL (followed, marked ?): "(Enki) poured water into the womb of Ninḫursaĝa"; the Sumerian puts Ninḫursaĝa first with -ke₄, which ORACC parses as ergative: "Ninḫursaĝa let the water be poured (took the water) into the womb".
2. 219 šag₄-ba ba-ni-in-zu: "he knew their heart" (followed: Enki learns the plants' nature by eating them; [equivalent] ↔ וַיֵּדְעוּ, Gen 3:7) or ETCSL's "had them know it in their hearts" (Enki makes the plants know their destiny) – the second weakens the Gen 3:7 parallel.
3. 220 nam-erim₂ kud: "swore an oath" (followed) or "cursed" (ETCSL and most translations) – matters for the Gen 3:14–17 row.
4. 264 zi = נַפְשִׁי ("my throat/breath/life", followed, with a footnote) or the plain גְּרוֹנִי (clearer, but loses the "life" sense and the Gen 2:7 link).
5. 67–68: "the august one" (maḫ) = Nintur/Ninmaḫ, who pushes Enki away and cries "no man shall take me in the marsh" (followed, ?), or Enki himself.

6. Uttu's epithet munus NI-bulûg₃ = `הָאִשָּׁה הַמְטַפַּחַת?` (from bulûg₃ "to rear") or ETCSL's "the exalted (?) woman".
7. The Ur ms. 22 writes "um-ma me-en mu-ni-ib₂-be₂" without nu-: a scribal slip or a positive statement ("the old woman says 'I am old'")? Only a collation or Attinger can tell.
8. Buy / borrow Attinger 1984 (ZA 74, the edition with the score of all three manuscripts) – it would settle the Louvre attribution of 126A–126CC and 177, the readings of 49A–49V (ETCSL vs ORACC), and the cruxes 19, 24, 25, 41, 150, 178.
9. Print stub and the combined `translation.rtl.md` are the coordinator's (not created here).

Progress log

- Drafting (2026-10-16/17): all 305 entries in order, from the ETCSL transliteration and the ORACC lemma+morph of every word (merged per line by a scratch script), with ETCSL concordance searches for the formulas and rare idioms; the Hebrew of each formula fixed at its first occurrence; ETCSL's translation compared after each line's parse; echo check per line; the Ur manuscript compared at every line it preserves. Drafted unvocalized and plene except names (first occurrence) and ambiguous words (the first 28 lines were drafted with full niqqud and then rewritten unvocalized by hand, not by stripping).
- Review (a) fidelity (full read of every `>` line against the transliteration, brackets by root): 49H `עִצָּם` → `ע[צָּם]` (usu is preserved; only an optional sign after it is restored); 124 `הַשׁ[בַּע]` → unbracketed (only -na-gin₇ restored); 157 `כָּרַךְ` → `כָּ[...]רַךְ` (only the suffix -e-de₃ is restored; noted in the parsing); 98/118/126M `העמידה` → `העמידה` (ḫamṭu with agent: he set it, the foot; unvocalized it read "she stood"); 227 `יִנָּקֵב` → `ייקב`. The bracket placement of 33, 36, 40–44, 81–87, 105–111, 126–126CC, 147–149, 164, 190–218, 235–238, 268–281 was re-checked and kept.
- Review (b) consistency (repeated lines compared as strings by script, brackets/vocalization ignored; 29 groups): all identical or differing only where the Sumerian differs or by first-occurrence vocalization. Name and term checks against `renderings.md` §1–3 and against the `>` lines of Adapa and the flood corpus's Sumerian project: Utu unvocalized in 50, 51, 62, 237 → `אוּתוּ` everywhere; Uttu `אוטו` (32 occurrences, lines and apparatus) → `אוּטוּ`; Magan `מָגָן` → `מגן` 1 ;(7)-a/1-am₃ `תחילה` → `בראשונה`/`ראשונה` in 97, 117, 126L, 228–230 (the letters `ב־ר־א`; guidelines §5 working rules); sukkal = `וְזִיר` and nam tar = `גָּזַר גּוֹרָל` confirmed against Adapa/§2.
- Review (c) Hebrew (read aloud): 171 nested quotation marks → `'הֵן'`; the word order of the long formula lines (72, 73, 126P, 184) kept close to the Sumerian but readable; 24 and 178 left with italic (uncertain) verbs rather than smoothed.
- Checks: `python3 -I verify.py 2` → OK (305 entries = ETCSL's line list; translation = annotated `>` lines). `tools/check_bible_quotes.py` on the annotated file, the translation, this file and `renderings.md` → 0 problems (after fixing 6 quotations in the draft: Isa 59:11, Ezek 27:15 ketiv/qere, Song 6:2 defective spelling, Gen 15:18, Num 1:17, Gen 2:25/3:10). Grep of the `>` lines for the reserved words: only the tagged occurrences listed in Decision 10.

Concordance: the Ur manuscript

UET 6/1 1 = ORACC P346086 (70 lines in ORACC): obverse col. i (o i 1–23), col. ii (o ii 1–21), reverse col. i′ (r i′ 1′–23′), col. ii′ (r ii′ 1′–3′, a colophon). The obverse col. i ends at 23; lines 24–49 (≈26 lines) are lost from it, so col. i held about 49 lines and 49A–49V stood at the top of col. ii, right after 49. The reverse col. i′ is the end of the text (251–268); 269–281 are lost in Ur.

Proposals for the shared renderings

1. Sumerian purity words (for all Sumerian texts): kug = טָהוֹר (already flood project 3), sikil = זַךְ, dadag = בָּהִיר, šen = נָקִי.
2. Water: a dug₄ = הִשְׁקָה (confirm the flood project-3 precedent as a corpus rule, with the [equivalent] tag to Gen 2:6); a si = מִלֵּא מַיִם; ed₃ (of water) = עָלָה; a dug₃ = מַיִם מְתוּקִים, a sis = מַיִם מָרִים; ḫe₂-ĝal₂ = שָׁפַע, ḫe-nun = שִׁבַּע.

3. "Good" across languages: Sum. dug₃ = טוֹב (as Akk. ṭābu), sag₉ = נָאֶה (as damqu), sig₅ = מְעֻלֶּה.
4. Oath / curse: nam-erim₂ kud = נְשְׁבַּע שְׁבוּעָה (= māmītu); keep aš bal = קְלֶל, ārāru = אָרַר; specify this in §2.
5. Sexual vocabulary (Enki and Ninmaḫ, Song of the Hoe may need it): ĝiš₃ = זַכְרוּת, gal₄-la = עֶרְוָה, ĝiš₃ du₃ = בָּעַל, ne su-ub = נָשַׁק, ur₂ = חֵיק, nu₂ = שָׁכַב.
6. Body parts (Enki and Ninmaḫ has the defective bodies): ti = צֶלַע, zag = צַד, ugu-dili = קָדְקֹד, giri₁₇/kiri₃ = אַף, ka = פֶּה, a₂ = זְרוֹעַ, zi (body part) = נָפֶשׁ (note "throat"), ḫaš₂ = יֶרֶךְ, igi = עַיִן.
7. Names: Uttu = אוּטוּ (always vocalized; add to §1 next to Utu); Isimud = אִיסִימוּד; Damgalnuna = דַּמְגַּלְנוּנָה; Sumer (ki-en-gi) = שׁוּמֶר; Magan = מָגָן (always vocalized); Elam = עֵילָם, Urim = אוּר, Larsam = לַרְסָה, Nibru = נִיפּוּר.
8. Formulas likely to recur in Sumerian texts: X Y-ra gu₃ mu-na-de₂-e = X אֶל Y פּוֹנָה:; X mu-na-ni-ib-gi₄-gi₄ = X לוֹ מֵשִׁיב:; na ga-e-de₅ … inim ga-ra-ab-dug₄ = אִיעָצֵךְ עֵצָה … אֹמְרָה לָךְ דָּבָר (with flood project 3); ur₅ ḫe₂-na-nam-ma = כָּךְ אָכֵן הָיָה; igi nam-til₃-la = עֵין הַחַיִּים; za₃-mi₂ = תְּהִלָּה; nam tar + zu in the plant scene.
9. Guidelines §6.7 (false friends / traps): בָּרְאשׁוֹנָה contains the letters of בְּרֵאשִׁית / בָּרָא – use תְּחִלָּה for "first(ly)"; עֵין הַחַיִּים (igi nam-til₃) sounds like עֵץ הַחַיִּים – keep the idiom but say in the note that the assonance is Hebrew only; unvocalized אוטו reads "car" and אותו "him": vocalize Uttu and Utu always.

Lessons for the guidelines

- A single-witness passage has no variants, only readings. For 49A–49V (Ur only), the differences between ETCSL and ORACC are two editors' readings of the same signs (esi/na₄ kalag, siki gun₃(!)/gukkal, barag/aga); say so, and do not present them as "the Ur version". Before building a "version" argument, check which manuscripts a composite line rests on.
- Map a manuscript to the composite by its columns. P346086's 70 lines fall into three blocks (1–23, 49A–49V, 251–268): the column structure (col. i ≈ 1–49, so 49A–V at the top of col. ii) shows where the Ur-only lines stood, and the reverse block shows a different order of the healing deities (266–267 before 264–265) and lines split in two (260, 262) – details invisible in the composite.
- Check the rank-3 translation's tense against the morph: ETCSL's "not yet" (11, 18) and "had not been taught" (15) create the Gen 2:5 טֶרֶם echo out of a plain present negation; ETCSL's "cursed" (220) creates the Gen 3:14 echo out of the ordinary Sumerian for "to swear an oath". Both are now recorded in the parallels index as rank-3 imports.
- An ETCSL concordance search settles idioms quickly: nam-erim₂ kud (oath), igi nam-til₃-la (life-giving look), a dug₄ (to water), ur₅ ḫe₂-na-nam-ma (so it was). The throw-away scripts used here (`data.py`: ETCSL transliteration + ETCSL lemmas + ORACC morph per line; `conc.py`: regex over the ETCSL bulk forms with the translation paragraph; `gl.py`: ePSD2 glossary lookup) are worth a `tools/sumerian_workbench.py` (not written here: the brief forbids writing outside the project folder).

- Generate the clean translation from the annotated `>` lines (with a header file and a footnote table) – as for Adapa – so that `verify.py` only confirms.
- Puns on names need a two-level treatment: transliterate the name in the line, give the pun in the note and a footnote, and test the claimed biblical "pun parallel" in Hebrew: for Nin-ti the Hebrew `חַוָּה` / `צֵלָע` has no pun, which is itself the finding.

Text 3: Enki and Ninmaḫ

Scope

- Text: Enki and Ninmaḫ, Sumerian, Old Babylonian copies (19th–18th cent. BCE); ETCSL 1.1.2 = ORACC Q000333. The whole composite: 142 entries (ETCSL 1–141 and 87A), all translated; lines of which only traces survive (109–121, 135–139) have `...`/`[...]` entries.
- Manuscripts (ETCSL header): AO 7936 (TCL 16 71), BM 12845 (CT 42 28), CBS 2168+2202+11327+12738+13368 (PBS 1/1 4 etc.), N 1889, N 2571, ?N 6385 – mostly Nippur. ETCSL gives "1 ms. has instead" variants at 66, 67, 68, 74, 79, 85, 87, 124, 126, 127 and one extra line (87A); all are translated in the apparatus (`נוסח חילוף`). The Neo-Assyrian bilingual from Nineveh (known from the literature) is not in the ETCSL XML and not in our sources: not translated, recorded as a gap.
- Files: `annotated-3-Enki-Ninmah.rtl.md` (Hebrew header; 20 sections following ETCSL's translation paragraphs, split where a paragraph covers a fragmentary block; per line: ETCSL transliteration, Hebrew, parsing with the ORACC morph, ETCSL + departures, parallels with tags, notes, variants); `translation-3-Enki-Ninmah.rtl.md` (introduction, the same sections, 22 footnotes). The clean file is generated from the annotated `>` lines (scratch builder, session scratchpad; not kept); `python3 -I verify.py 3` → OK.
- Content: the gods' toil and complaint (1–11); Enki asleep in the Engur, wakened by his mother Namma (12–23); Enki's instructions: knead the clay above the Abzu, the birth goddesses nip it off, Namma brings the form into being, Ninmaḫ and seven goddesses assist, the basket is bound on man (24–37); birth (38–43, broken); the feast and the praise of Enki (44–51); the beer and Ninmaḫ's boast "good or bad as my heart inclines" (52–55); Enki's counter-boast (56–57); the six creatures and their fates (58–78); Enki's challenge (79–82); Enki makes Umul through a woman's womb (83–91); Ninmaḫ cannot sustain him (92–101); Enki recites the six fates (102–108); Ninmaḫ's lament over her ruined city and house (109–128, partly broken); Enki's reply (129–139, broken); "Ninmaḫ did not equal the great lord Enki" (140–141).

Sources consulted

- Rank 1: ETCSL 1.1.2 (`../../sources/ETCSL/1.1.2--Enki-and-Ninmah/`: `transliteration.md`, `c.1.1.2.xml` with ETCSL's lemmas and the variant notes).

- Rank 2: ORACC Q000333 (`../../sources/ORACC/epsd2-literary--Q000333--Enki-and-Ninmah/Q000333--lemmatised-morph.md`): citation form and `{morph;base}` for every word – used for ḫamṭu/marû and the prefix chains in every line (ORACC merges ETCSL's variant lines into unnumbered `None` lines; they were separated by the ETCSL XML). ePSD2 glossary (`gloss-sux.json` in `../../sources/ORACC/_bulk/epsd2-literary.zip`, read in place) for ĝešnu, u_6, umul, lil, tiru, kiĝ-sig, dupsik, me-dim₂, gurum, šuš, an-ta, sur, ḫum, sig, sa_2, lul, lib, geleĝ, ul, te, ara, niĝin. ETCSL bulk concordance (`../../sources/ETCSL/_bulk/etcsl-unzipped/etcsl/transliterations/`) for ĝiš-nu₁₁, ĝiš-nu₁₁ gi₄, lu₂ u₆-e, igi nu-du₈ (the ordinary Sumerian for "blind", 6.1.01 36 etc. – absent here), u₄-mu-ul (this text only), {lu₂}lil, tiru (also 1.8.1.4 268), nam-nar (1.3.1 33; 2.4.2.02 155–162).
- Comparison: Atra-ḫasīs I (`../../סיפורי-המבול-המסופוטמיים/1-אתרחסיס/translation-I.rtl.md`) and the corpus renderings (`טִיט` , `עָמָל` , `סַל`); Enūma eliš project renderings (ušumgallu = `דְּרָקוֹן־עֲנָק`); texts 1–2 of this project (formulas, sukkal, the "good" words, body parts, a šag₄ ri).
- Rank 3, after each line's own parse: ETCSL's English translation (`translation.md`). As in text 2, the ETCSL translation was opened together with the transliteration at the start (to get the paragraph structure); every line was nevertheless parsed from the morph before its ETCSL rendering was compared, and every departure is recorded under `תרגומים`.
- Not available, not used: Benito 1969 (the edition), Klein 1997 (COS 1.159), Jacobsen 1987, Römer 1993, Bottéro & Kramer 1989, Ceccarelli 2016 (Enki und Ninmaḫ, the new edition with the NA bilingual), Kilmer 1976 ("Speculations on Umul, the first baby"; cited from general knowledge only, in the note to 88). No pirate copies were searched for.

Decisions

1. Aspect (project Decisions 4): narrative marû → participle (9–11, 13–15, 27, 46–48, 52, 96–97); ḫamṭu → past; marû in speech → future (32); ga- → cohortative (57, 82); ḫe₂-/ḫa- → jussive (23, 33, 36, 37, 94, 132–134, 136, 139); u_3- → (37 ,32–31 ,28 ,23–22) `אַחֲרֵי שֶׁ...`.
2. Formulas of text 2 followed (renderings §4, Text 2): X Y-ra gu₃ mu-na-de₂-e = `פּוֹנָה Y אֶל X:` (112 ,92 ,84 ,80 ,53 ,29; with `(הוא)` where X is implicit); X Y mu-na-ni-ib-gi₄-gi₄ = `Y: מֵשִׁיב לְ X` (56, 102, 129; 100 with inim = `דָּבָר ... מְשִׁיבָה`); nam tar = `גָּזַר גּוֹרָל` throughout (3, 37, 51, 55, 57, 61, 64, 74, 78, 81–82, 93–94, 103–108).
3. The six creatures (59–78, 102–108) in fixed formulas, verified by script (identical Hebrew wherever the Sumerian is identical; brackets aside): ordinal – description – `X עִצְבָה ;אֶנְקִי, כִּרְאוֹתוֹ –`; in Enki's recital `גּוֹרָל גָּזַרְתִּי, לָחֶם נָתַתִּי – Xל־ ;אֶת גּוֹרָלוֹ גָּזַר: ...`. Table: `renderings.md` §4, Text 3.
4. The disabilities are translated as the Sumerian describes them, never by the biblical term: "משיב את האור?, איש בוהה" (not `עִוֵּר`), "שתי הרגליים שבורות, הרגליים תפוסות" (not `פִּסֵּחַ`), "נוטף", "מים", "אישה לא יולדת" (not `עֲקָרָה`), "איש אשר בגופו לא הושמה זכרות, לא הושמה ערווה" (not `סָרִיס`), Umul "לדבר אינו יודע" (not `אִלֵּם`). Reason: Sumerian has the plain words (igi nu-du₈ "blind" exists in ETCSL and is not used here); the text describes. The biblical words are in the notes and footnotes, tagged [equivalent].

5. ĝar = שָׂם only and always (11, 30, 45, 75–76, 79, 90, 108, 132; passive הוּשְׂמָה), so that every שָׂם in the Hebrew is a real echo of (שמות ד:יא) מִי שָׂם פֶּה לָאָדָם and is tagged. Other "place" verbs got other Hebrew: ri = יָצַק / הֻשְׁת, sig₉ = הֻטְיל, ĝal₂ = תְּהִי / קַיָּם / (with an agent) הֻבְיא לְכְלַל הֲוָיָה, gub (causative) = שָׂם. הָעֲמִיד "there" and שֵׁם "name" are vocalized.
6. Creation vocabulary: dim₂ = עִצֵּב (never בָּרָא/יָצַר); mud = חוֹלֵל (verb; the noun "creature" in 30 הַמְחוֹלָל); me-dim₂ = מִבְנָה (= Akk. binûtu, corpus מִבְנָה), never תַּבְנִית/דְּמוּת/צֶלֶם; ĝal₂ with agent (32) = הֻבְיא לְכְלַל הֲוָיָה (the corpus rendering of šubšû, its Akkadian equivalent; [equivalent] ↔ וַיִּבְרָא, Gen 1:27); kir₃ = קָרָץ (= Akk. karāṣu, cognate of קרץ, Job 33:6); šar₂ (clay) = לָשׁ; im = טִיט; saḫar = עָפָר; du₃ = (139 ,125–124 ,74 ,38) בָּנָה; tud = יָלַד.
7. Toil words as Atra-Ḫasīs and the corpus: kiĝ₂ = עֲבוֹדָה, dulum = עָמָל, zub-sig₃ = סַל, keše₂ (a basket on someone) = קָשַׁר, il₂ = נָשָׂא; diĝir šar₂-šar₂ / diĝir tur-tur = הָאֱלִים הַקְּטַנִּים / הָאֱלִים הָרַבִּים.
8. lu₂* = אִישׁ for each creature (as אִישׁ עִוֵּר, Lev 21:18), not אָדָם; nam-lu₂-ulu₃ = הָאֱנוֹשׁוּת. The ordinals (gi, gi₄-bi, peš-bi, peš-gi, peš-peš-gi, peš-bal-gi) = אֶחָד, שֵׁנִי לוֹ, שְׁלִישִׁי לוֹ, רְבִיעִי, חֲמִישִׁית, not רִאשׁוֹן (no "first man"). שִׁשִּׁי – אֶחָד
9. 85 split by aspect: the first half (no finite verb) is Enki's instruction, the second half (mu-un-u₃-tud, ḫamṭu) narrative past ("ילדה האישה ההיא"); ETCSL has the whole line as speech in the future. Departure recorded in the line.
10. igi du₈ = רָאָה, in the formula כִּרְאוֹתוֹ (not בִּרְאוֹתוֹ, which contains the letter sequence ב־ר־א; cf. text 2's תְּחִלָּה for בָּרִאשׁוֹנָה); igi bar stays הִבִּיט (text 2). Likewise (99) לֵישֵׁב, not לָשֶׁבֶת, whose unvocalized form is the string of the reserved שַׁבָּת.
11. Echo control, other choices against a ready biblical word: an-ta = חֲבֵרָה (33; not עֵזֶר); te = נִגַּשׁ/הִגִּישׁ (96 ,58; = Akk. ṭeḫû, text 1), not קָרַב; šu gid₂ = פָּשַׁט יָד (97; not שָׁלַח יָד, Gen 3:22, and not הוֹשִׁיט, reserved for kullu in Adapa); tiru = אִישׁ־הֶחָצֵר (77; not סָרִיס); sag₉ = נָאֶה (טוֹב ;57 ,54 only for dug₃, as text 2); sig₁₀ (55) = תָּמִיד?; du₇ = שָׁלֵם (132; not תָּמִים); palil = קְדוּמָה (17; not רִאשׁוֹנָה/קַדְמוֹנָה); u₃ "sleep" = שֵׁנָה (never תַּרְדֵּמָה); a-nir = נְהִי (קִינָה is i-lu, text 2); ka tar sil = שָׁבַח הִשְׁמִיעַ, me-teš₂ i = פֹּאַר, za₃-mi₂ = תְּהִלָּה; za₃-mi₂ … dug₃ = תְּהִלָּתְךָ מְתוּקָה (141; dug₃ of taste/praise = מָתוֹק, as text 2 for water).
12. Names: נַמָּה, נִינְמַח (renderings §1); the assisting goddesses as ETCSL reads them: נִין־אִימָּה (as text 2), שׁוּ־זִי־אַנָּה, נִין־מְדָה, נִין־בָּרַג (ETCSL nin-barag; the readings Ninšar/Ninniĝina of the literature cannot be checked), שַׁר־שַׁר־גַּבָּה, נִין־מוּג? ({d}ŠAR.ŠAR.GABA, "Mumudu"?), נִין־גּוּנָּה; SIG₇-EN SIG₇-ḪI = נַמְתָּר (46 ,32 ,26) אֲלוֹת־הַלֵּדָה? (flood corpus); אוּמוּל (meaning "my day is far" in the notes); חַרְלִי; חַל־אַן־כּוּג; אֶנְכּוּם וְנִינְכּוּם; הָאֵכּוּר; נִיפּוּר; הָאַפְסוּ; הָאֶנְגּוּר; me = הַ־מָּה (vocalized: unvocalized המה reads "they").
13. Emesal (the women's/goddesses' register: dim₃-me₂-er, du₅-mu, na-aĝ₂-, ka-na-aĝ₂, mu = ĝiš) is noted in the parsing, not marked in the Hebrew.
14. Deviations from renderings.md §2, by meaning (Changelog there): inim ĝar "to complain" = דָּבָר שָׂם (11; inim = דָּבָר kept, the idiom in the note); zi as the dying breath (89) = נָפַשׁ (as text 2, 264); tuku by sense: נִלְקַח (marriage, 5), (133) נִקְנָה?, ĝiš tuku = (139 ,124) שָׁמַע.

Open decisions for the user

1. The disability words (Decision 4): keep the Sumerian descriptions in the lines (followed), or add the biblical term in parentheses, e.g. `מֵשִׂיב אֶת הָאוֹר?, אִישׁ בּוֹהֶה (= עִוֵּר)`? The second makes the Ex 4:11 / Lev 21 comparison visible in the clean text, but puts biblical words into the translation that the Sumerian does not have.
2. 77 *tiru: `אִישׁ־הֶחָצֵר` (followed; the dictionary sense "courtier") or ETCSL's "eunuch (?)" = `סָרִיס`, which would put Isa 56:3–5 / Esth 2:3 into the line.
3. 74 *du₃: `לְבֵית הַנָּשִׁים בְּנָאָה?` (followed; literal, and it keeps the Gen 16:2 / 30:3 `אִבָּנֶה` overlap visible) or ETCSL's "made her belong to the queen's household" (`שְׁיִכָה`).
4. 85: the split into instruction + narrative (Decision 9) or ETCSL's single speech in the future.
5. 61 *saĝ lugal-la-ke₄: `לְרֹאשׁ הַמֶּלֶךְ` (followed; literal, with 1 Sam 28:2 `שֹׂמֵר לְרֹאשִׁי`) or ETCSL's "servant of the king" (`לְמְשָׁרֵת הַמֶּלֶךְ`). The note links saĝ lugal to Akk. ša rēš šarri → `סָרִיס` (our hypothesis; it would connect creature 1 with creature 6).
6. 133 *tuku: `נָקְנָה?` (followed, "acquired") – which creates a Hebrew-only overlap with `קָנִיתִי אִישׁ` (Gen 4:1), flagged as weak – or a neutral `אֲשֶׁר יָשְׁנוּ`.
7. mud = `חוֹלֵל`: the flood corpus uses `חוֹלֵל` for šakānu + abūbu ("to bring about a flood"). Acceptable (different language, different collocation), or choose another verb for mud (`הוֹלִיד` would collide with tud = `יָלַד`)?
8. Buy / borrow Ceccarelli 2016 (the current edition, with the NA bilingual and the manuscripts) – it would settle 8, 22, 23 (kiĝ₂-sig₁₀ "substitute" vs "meal"), 41, 43 (na de₅), 46, 59 (šu šu₂-šu₂ sa₂-sa₂), 77 (tiru), 87–88, 98 ({ĝiš}gur₈-u₆), 113–118 and the end (122–139). Klein 1997 (COS) would give a second modern translation.
9. Print stub and the combined `translation.rtl.md` are the coordinator's (not created here).

Progress log

- Drafting (2026-10-17): all 142 entries in order, from the ETCSL transliteration, the ETCSL lemmas and the ORACC lemma+morph of every word; ETCSL concordance searches and ePSD2 lookups for the rare words; the Hebrew of each formula fixed at its first occurrence (29, 56, 59–61) and of the six-creature formulas before drafting 62–108; ETCSL compared after each line's parse; echo check per line, with the distribution of ĝar, dim₂, tud, nam tar, ninda šum₂, igi du₈, gub, te over the whole text.
- Review (a) fidelity (every `>` line against the transliteration, word by word; brackets by root): the whole draft had been written with full niqqud against the working rule – all 142 lines were rewritten by hand in plene spelling, unvocalized, keeping niqqud only on names at first occurrence and on ambiguous forms (`שָׁם`/`שֶׁם`, `יָדַךְ`/`יָדֶךָ`, `אַתְּ`, `הָעֲמִידוֹ`, `רְחָצוֹ`, `בְּנָאָה`, `כְּאָב`, `שֵׂכֶל`, `כֻּלָּה`, …); `(לו)` → `לוֹ` 64 (no dative in the Sumerian); 136 ud was untranslated → `שָׁלָךְ` → `שְׁלָךְ` 41 ;`ביום?`; brackets re-checked at 1–3, 20, 63, 65–67, 90 (`[ראשו]`: saĝ broken), 95, 99, 106–108, 112, 126; 127 left unbracketed (lu₂ restored, the root kar preserved).

- Review (b) consistency (repeated phrases compared as strings by script, niqqud ignored: 56 = 102 = 129; 1 ≈ 2; 59/60, 62/63/104, 66/67/105, 69/70/106, 72/73/107, 75/76/108; 21/81/93/101; 31/58; 54/57; 103–105 – all identical except brackets and where the Sumerian differs: 81 vs 93 (-še₃, nam-bi vs nam), 103 šu sig vs 59 šu šu₂-šu₂). Against texts 1–2 and the renderings: כְּרָאוֹתוֹ → בִּרְאוֹתוֹ (14 occurrences, letters ב־ר־א), לֵישֵׁב → לָשָׁבֶת (string of שבת), forms of עָצֵב written plene עיצבה (vs עצבה "sorrow"), the gu_3 de_2 / gi_4-gi_4 formulas identical to text 2, ḫa = חָלַק (text 2) and therefore ḫal = פִּזֵּר, ušumgal = דְּרָקוֹן־עָנָק (project 1). Noted, not changed: la_2 = שָׁקַל here, Adapa's wabālu Št = שָׁקַל (different languages, different senses).
- Review (c) Hebrew (read aloud): the long formula lines kept close to the Sumerian order; 11 דבר שָׁמַיִם kept (literal; the idiom 1 Sam 22:15, שָׁם דָּבָר בְּ־, is in the note); 22, 41, 98 left literal with ? rather than smoothed; 77 שֵׁם vocalized so that it is not read שָׁם.
- Checks: python3 -I verify.py 3 → OK (142 entries = ETCSL's line list; translation = annotated > lines). tools/check_bible_quotes.py on the annotated file, the translation, this file and renderings.md → 0 problems (after fixing 7 quotations in the draft: Gen 1:2 תְּהוֹם without article, Gen 1:26, 2 Sam 9:13 פִּסֵּחַ, Lev 15:13 בְּמַיִם חַיִּים, Dan 1:3, Lev 21:23, and one paraphrase taken for a quotation). Reserved words (renderings §3) in the > lines: none; עָפָר (10, saḫar), בָּנָה (,38 125–124 ,74, du₃), שֵׁם קָרָא (77, mu sa₄), נִלְקַחוּ (5, tuku), שָׁם (the ĝar lines) – each its word's meaning, each tagged.

Parallels index (Enki and Ninmaḫ)

Line	Original	Hebrew rendering	Bible	Tag	Comment
1–2	ud re-a … an ki-bi-ta ba-an-[dim₂-ma-ba]	בימים ההם, בימים אשר שמיים וארץ [עוצבו]	בְּרֵאשִׁית בָּרָא אֱלֹהִים אֵת הַשָּׁמַיִם וְאֵת הָאָרֶץ (בראשית א:א)	[equivalent]	A creation-time opening; the verb is dim₂ "fashion", restored.
13, 17	engur; {d}namma … ama palil	באנגור העמוק; נמה, האם הקדומה	וְחֹשֶׁךְ עַל פְּנֵי תְהוֹם (בראשית א:ב)	[divergence]	The primeval water is a god's dwelling and the gods' mother (Namma is written with ENGUR); no cognate, תְּהוֹם not used.
42	ĝiš-nu₁₁ mi-ni-in-il₂	אור הרים	יְהִי אוֹר (בראשית א:ג)	[divergence]	"Light" next to "mankind" in a broken line; perhaps the newborn raised to the light. Weak.
26, 28, 32, 54, 83, 133	me-dim₂	מבנה	נַעֲשֶׂה אָדָם בְּצַלְמֵנוּ כִּדְמוּתֵנוּ (בראשית א:כו)	[divergence]	The text's word for man's form is me-dim₂ "limbs, body shape" (= Akk. binûtu): no image or likeness of a god, no plan (ĝiš-ḫur).
32	me-dim₂ u₃-mu-e-ni-ĝal₂	אחרי שתביאי לכלל הוויה את המבנה	וַיִּבְרָא אֱלֹהִים אֶת הָאָדָם (בראשית א:כז)	[equivalent]	ĝal₂ with an agent = Akk. bašû Š (šubšû), the corpus's closest match to בָּרָא; here said of man's form, by the mother goddess.
75–76, 108	ĝiš₃ nu-ĝar gal₄-la nu-ĝar	לא הושמה זכרות, לא הושמה ערווה	זָכָר וּנְקֵבָה בָּרָא אֹתָם (בראשית א:כז)	[divergence]	A human who is neither male nor female.

3	mu nam ba-tar-ra-ba	בשנים אשר הגורל [נגזר]	— (בראשית א)	[absent]	The fates are decreed at creation; Genesis has no decree of fates.
1	ud re-a … an ki	בימים ההם, בימים אשר שמיים וארץ [עוצבו]	בְּיוֹם עֲשׂוֹת יְהוָה אֱלֹהִים אֶרֶץ וְשָׁמָיִם (בראשית ב:ד)	[equivalent]	The creation-time "day(s)" opening; dim₂ "fashion" (restored), not a creation verb of Genesis.
9–11	diĝir tur-tur du₂-lum im-il₂-il₂-e-ne; diĝir im ar₃-ar₃-re-ne	האלים הקטנים את העמל נושאים; האלים את הטיט טוחנים	וְאָדָם אַיִן לַעֲבֹד אֶת הָאֲדָמָה (בראשית ב:ה)	[divergence]	Before man the gods do the work (as Atra-ḫasīs I 1–6); the toil, not the lack of a worker, motivates man's creation.
31	šag₄ im ugu abzu-ka … šar₂	את לב הטיט אשר מעל האפסו … תלושי	וְאֵד יַעֲלֶה מִן הָאָרֶץ וְהִשְׁקָה אֶת כָּל פְּנֵי הָאֲדָמָה (בראשית ב:ו)	[divergence]	Clay moistened by the fresh water below, then the human formed from it; in Genesis the ground is watered from below, then man formed.
31, 58	im	טיט	וַיִּיצֶר יְהוָה אֱלֹהִים אֶת הָאָדָם עָפָר מִן הָאֲדָמָה (בראשית ב:ז)	[divergence]	Clay (im = טִיט), kneaded by a goddess and nipped off by birth goddesses, then born; Genesis: dust, formed by God. im is never עָפָר.

10	saḫar-bi … im-dub-dub-be₂-ne	… את עפרו צוברים	עָפָר מִן הָאֲדָמָה (בראשית ב:ז)	[divergence]	saḫar = עָפָר, here only the spoil of the gods' canal-digging.
89	zi til-til	נפשו כלה	וַיִּפַּח בְּאַפָּיו נִשְׁמַת חַיִּים (בראשית ב:ז)	[divergence]	Umul's breath is failing; no divine breath is given to any creature in the text.
101	lu₂ til₃-la in-nu lu₂ [ug₅-ga] in-nu	איש חי איננו, איש [מת] איננו	וַיְהִי הָאָדָם לְנֶפֶשׁ חַיָּה (בראשית ב:ז)	[divergence]	The great god's creature is "neither alive nor dead". "Dead" is restored.
54–57	sag₉-ge ḫul	יש נאה ויש רע	וְעֵץ הַדַּעַת טוֹב וָרָע (בראשית ב:ט)	[equivalent]	A good/bad merism about man – but of the body, decided by the goddess's will, not knowledge; sag₉ "fine" is not dug₃ "good".
30, 37	zub-sig₃ diĝir-re-e-ne keše₂-i₃; zub-sig₃-bi ḫe₂-keše₂	קשרי (עליון) את סל האלים; את סלו תקשור	וַיַּנִּחֵהוּ בְגַן עֵדֶן לְעָבְדָהּ וּלְשָׁמְרָהּ (בראשית ב:טו)	[divergence]	Man made for work at once; here corvée for the gods (the basket), there tending a garden. = Atra-ḫasīs I 191, 197.
33	an-ta-zu ḫe₂-ak-e	נינמח תעשה כחברתך	אֶעֱשֶׂה לּוֹ עֵזֶר כְּנֶגְדּוֹ (בראשית ב:יח)	[divergence]	A companion for the mother of man, not for man; an-ta "companion", not "help".
77	mu-e mu-ni-in-sa₄-a	שם קרא לו	וְכֹל אֲשֶׁר יִקְרָא לוֹ הָאָדָם נֶפֶשׁ חַיָּה הוּא שְׁמוֹ (בראשית ב:יט)	[equivalent]	Naming a new creature, by the god, and the name is its function ("courtier of Nippur").

89	ti sur-sur	צלעותיו רועדות?	וַיִּקַּח אַחַת מִצַּלְעֹתָיו (בראשית ב:כא)	[divergence]	ti "rib" only as an ailing body part (cf. text 2, Nin-ti). Weak.
38	i₃-du₃ nam-lu₂-ulu₃	בנה, האנושות	וַיִּבֶן יְהוָה אֱלֹהִים אֶת הַצֵּלָע (בראשית ב:כב)	[equivalent]	du₃ "build" next to "mankind" in a broken line; subject lost.
59	lu₂-u₃ am₃-ma-ni-in-dim₂	לאיש עיצבה	וַיִּבֶן יְהוָה אֱלֹהִים אֶת הַצֵּלָע אֲשֶׁר לָקַח מִן הָאָדָם לְאִשָּׁה (בראשית ב:כב)	[equivalent]	Same construction, "fashioned (the material) into a man / built (the rib) into a woman". Syntax only.
81, 93, 103–108	ninda i-ni-in-šum₂	לחם נתתי	בְּזֵעַת אַפֶּיךָ תֹּאכַל לֶחֶם (בראשית ג:יט)	[equivalent]	Bread as man's decreed lot; here a god's gift to each defective human, there earned by toil.
17, 36	ama palil u₃-tud; tud-tud-a-zu ḫa-ra-gub-bu-ne	האם הקדומה, יולדת; בלדתך – יעמדו לך	כִּי הִוא הָיְתָה אֵם כָּל חָי (בראשית ג:כ)	[divergence]	The first humans are born of a divine mother (Namma), with midwife goddesses; not formed by a male god.

97	ninda gu₇-a-ni-še₃ … šu nu-mu-na-da-gid₂-de₃	לחם לאכול – הביאה לו – אינו פושט אליו יד	וְעַתָּה פֶּן יִשְׁלַח יָדוֹ וְלָקַח גַּם מֵעֵץ הַחַיִּים וְאָכַל (בראשית ג:כב)	[divergence]	A deity offers food and the creature cannot stretch out a hand; in Genesis God fears that man will. Cf. Adapa (text 1). שָׁלַח יָד avoided.
127	e₂-kur-ta e₃-ĝen	מן האכור יצאתי	וַיְשַׁלְּחֵהוּ יְהוָה אֱלֹהִים מִגַּן עֵדֶן (בראשית ג:כג)	[divergence]	Leaving a divine dwelling – the goddess, a fugitive from her ruined house.
85	a … šag₄ munus-a-ka ri-a … munus-bi mu-un-u₃-tud	יצוקים ברחם … אישה ילדה האישה ההיא	וְהָאָדָם יָדַע אֶת חַוָּה אִשְׁתּוֹ וַתַּהַר וַתֵּלֶד אֶת קַיִן (בראשית ד:א)	[equivalent]	After the clay creatures, the first birth from a woman's womb and a male's semen. If Umul is "the first baby" (Kilmer), the parallel is Cain, the first born.
7	ba-a-peš u₃-tud-da-a-ba	הרו וילדו	וַתַּהַר וַתֵּלֶד (בראשית ד:א)	[divergence]	Pregnancy and birth first among goddesses.
133	lu₂ … tuku-a	האיש … נקנה?	קָנִיתִי אִישׁ אֶת יְהוָה (בראשית ד:א)	[equivalent?]	Only if tuku "acquire" is right here; the line is uncertain and the overlap exists through our Hebrew קָנָה. Weak.
23	du₂-lum-bi ḫa-ba-tu-lu-ne	ירפו מעמלם	זֶה יְנַחֲמֵנוּ מִמַּעֲשֵׂנוּ וּמֵעִצְּבוֹן יָדֵינוּ (בראשית ה:כט)	[equivalent]	A new being expected to relieve toil: man for the gods / Noah for men.
5	nam-NIR.PA-še₃ ba-tuku-a-ba	כאשר האלות לנישואין? נלקחו	וַיִּקְחוּ לָהֶם נָשִׁים מִכֹּל אֲשֶׁר בָּחָרוּ (בראשית ו:ב)	[equivalent]	Divine marriages in primeval time.

In Exodus the one God makes both seeing and blind; here one deity (Ninmaḫ, in drink and in rivalry) makes the defect, and another (Enki) "decrees the fate" and gives the person a place and bread. The defect-maker and the fate-giver are two gods.

Proposals for the shared renderings

For the corpus `renderings.md` (and for texts 4–7, which `renderings.md` §4 already binds):

1. Sum. ĝar = שָׂם, reserved in all Sumerian texts (and Akk. šakānu = שָׂם, as Adapa already has it), so that `שׂים` in any Hebrew line is a real echo of `מִי שָׂם פֶּה לָאָדָם` (Ex 4:11), `וַיָּשֶׂם שָׁם אֶת הָאָדָם` (Gen 2:8) etc., and can be tagged. Other "put" verbs: ri = הֵשִׁית/יָצַק, sig₉ = הֵטִיל, ĝal₂ = הָיָה/קָיַם.
2. Sumerian creation vocabulary (add to §2): mud = חוֹלֵל (noun הַמְחוֹלָל); me-dim₂ = מְבָנֶה (= Akk. binûtu); ĝal₂ with an agent = הֵבִיא לִכְלַל הֲוָיָה (= šubšû); kir₃ (clay) = קֶרֶץ (= karāṣu); šar₂ (clay) = לֵשׁ; nam-kug-zu = חָכְמָה (= nēmequ); ĝeštug₂ daĝal = רְחַב הַבִּינָה (= rapša uzni).
3. Toil (complete §2, kin/dulum/dub-sig): zub-sig₃ is the same word as dub-sig (= סַל); keše₂ (basket on someone) = קָשַׁר; il₂ (toil) = נָשָׂא; diĝir šar₂-šar₂ / diĝir tur-tur = הָאֵלִים הָרַבִּים / הָאֵלִים הַקְּטַנִּים.
4. Verbs of seeing and approaching: igi du₈ = רָאָה (formula כִּרְאוֹתוֹ), igi bar = הִבִּיט (text 2), u₆ e = הִתְבּוֹנֵן (participle בּוֹהֶה for a blind stare); te = הִגִּישׁ / נָגַשׁ (= ṭeḫû); šu gid₂ = פָּשַׁט יָד.
5. Court and fate: igi lugal gub = עָמַד לִפְנֵי הַמֶּלֶךְ (↔ 1 Sam 16:21); saĝ lugal = רֹאשׁ הַמֶּלֶךְ; tiru = אִישׁ־חָצֵר; e₂-mi₂ = בֵּית הַנָּשִׁים; ninda šum₂ = נָתַן לֶחֶם; nam-nar = נְגִינָה, nar = מְנַגֵּן.
6. Disabilities and the body: translate the Sumerian description, never the biblical term (עִוֵּר, פִּסֵּחַ, אִלֵּם, חֵרֵשׁ, עֻקָּרָה, סָרִיס are not used unless the original has the plain word – e.g. igi nu-du₈ "blind" would be עִוֵּר, tagged). Add: a-za-ad = גֻּלְגֹּלֶת, mur = רֹאשׁ, lipiš = מֵעַיִם, murgu₂ = גֵּב, zag-še = כָּתֵף, gig = חוֹלֶה; ĝiš₃/gal₄-la as text 2.
7. Names (§1): נִין־אִימֶּה, שׁוּ־זִי־אַנָּה, נִין־מָדָה, נִין־בָּרַג, נִין־מוּג, נִין־גּוּנָּה, אוּמוּל, אֶנְכּוּם וְנִינְכּוּם, חַל־אַן־כּוּג, הָאֵכּוּר; me = הַ־מָּה (always vocalized); {d}ama-{d}inana = הָאֵלוֹת (vocalized at first occurrence: אָלוֹת "curses").
8. Speech words: ka tar sil = שָׁבַח הִשְׁמִיעַ; me-teš₂ i = פָּאַר; za₃-mi₂ dug₃ = תְּהִלָּה מְתוּקָה; a-nir = נָהִי; inim ĝar = שָׂם דָּבָר (= complain).
9. Traps (guidelines §6.7): string collisions with reserved words in unvocalized Hebrew – בראותו (ב־ר־א; use כראותו), לשבת "to sit" (= שבת; use לֵישֵׁב), עצבה (sorrow) vs עיצבה (fashioned): write plene; לֵשׁ vs לֶשׁ. And ĝiš in Emesal is mu: ĝiš tuku "to hear" can appear as mu tuku.

Lessons for the guidelines

- Draft unvocalized from the first line. This session drafted all 142 lines with full niqqud and had to rewrite every line by hand (stripping would have given defective spellings). Writing the Hebrew line plene and unvocalized first, and adding niqqud only to names and ambiguous forms, is faster and safer.
- Grep the unvocalized `>` lines for reserved letter sequences, not only for reserved words: `ברא` inside `שבת`, `בראותו` inside `לשבת`. A reader who searches the translation for `ברא` finds them. Add a check to `verify.py`-type scripts.

- Track one verb of the biblical comparison verse through the whole original. Here ĝar = שִׂים (Ex 4:11 יָשׂוּם ,שָׂם): reserving שָׂם for ĝar showed eight occurrences, among them "mouth … not put" (90), "organs not put" (75) and "who will put?" (132) – invisible in the English translations ("put into its mouth", "with neither penis nor vagina", "who can oppose").
- Describe defects as the original describes them. Sumerian has the plain word for "blind" (igi nu-du₈), and the text does not use it; an English or Hebrew translation that writes "blind" hides the fact that the text describes (and creates the Lev 21 / Ex 4 echo by itself). Tag the biblical term in the apparatus.
- ORACC merges ETCSL's "1 ms. has instead" variants into unnumbered `None` lines; separate them with the ETCSL XML before parsing.
- When a rank-3 translation puts a whole line into a speech, check the aspect of each verb: a ḫamṭu verb at the end of an instruction may be the narrative of its execution (85).

Text 4: The Song of the Hoe

Scope

- Text: The Song of the Hoe (The Creation of the Hoe), Sumerian, Old Babylonian school text (19th–18th cent. BCE); ETCSL 5.5.4 = ORACC Q000778. The whole composite: 110 entries (ETCSL 1–109 and 18A), all translated. 18A is an alternative line of one manuscript (in place of 18), tagged `{כ"י אחד}`; the other "1 ms. has instead" variants (3, 6, 7, 15, 18, 30, 38, 50, 53, 64, 66, 78, 80, 95) are translated in the apparatus.
- Manuscripts: 88 OB tablets and fragments (ETCSL header), mostly from Nippur (CBS, N numbers), with Ur, Louvre (AO 7087, AO 8898) and British Museum (BM 80170) pieces – the best-attested text of this project; one damaged line (95 var.).
- Files: `annotated-4-Hoe.rtl.md` (Hebrew header; 15 sections following ETCSL's translation paragraphs; per line: ETCSL transliteration (verified by script to equal `transliteration.md`), Hebrew, parsing with the ORACC morph and a `משחק מלים:` note for every al pun, ETCSL + departures, parallels with tags, notes); `translation-4-Hoe.rtl.md` (introduction incl. a paragraph on the puns, the same 15 sections, 16 footnotes). The clean file is generated from the annotated `>` lines by a scratch script (session scratchpad, not kept); `python3 -I verify.py 4` → OK.

- Content: Enlil, the lord whose decrees cannot be changed, hastens to separate heaven from earth so that "the seed of the Land" may come out of the earth and "heads" may grow at Uzuea / Uzumua; he hangs the bulug ("pin, axis"?) in Duranki (1–7). With the hoe he makes daylight come out, fixes the work quota and the wages of hoe and basket, praises and crowns the gold-and-lapis hoe (8–17). At Uzuea he drives the hoe into the ground, puts "the head of mankind" into the brick mould, and his Land breaks through the earth towards him (18–20). He looks favourably on the black-headed; the Anuna ask him for them; Ninmena sets births going; Nunamnir calls them by name and assigns them to provide the gods' rations; Enki praises the hoe, Nisaba is set over the decisions, and the hoe is in people's hands (21–34). The hoe builds the temples: Ekur and Tummal in Nippur (35–42), the Abzu of Enki (43–45), Keš of Ninḫursaĝa (46–48), Eana of Inana, Zabalam, Utu (49–55), Nisaba's Eḫamun (56–58); Ninurta brings hoe-work into the rebel lands; Šara receives weapons and the hoe; Gibil refines it in fire (59–70); the drumsticks of Ĝeštinana; the hoe buries the dead and brings the dead up; Gilgameš (71–82); a list of things whose names contain al in heaven, on earth and in the mountains (83–93); the hoe's works: brick mould, strength of youth, city and house building, fields subdued, weeds uprooted (94–106); praise of the hoe and of Nisaba (107–109).

- Comparison: SEAL KAR 4 (`../../sources/SEAL/KAR-4/`) line 24 "In Uzumua, the bond of heaven and earth" (for text 7); texts 1–3 of this project (formulas, ĝar, ušumgal, sukkal, za₃-mi₂, igi bar, ki); corpus and flood renderings; the commentary on Gen 1:6–8 (`../../../../1010/בראשית-1/פירוש-…`, the "day 2" section on `וַיִּבְדֵּל` / `רָקִיעַ`), Gen 2:4–17 (1020) and 2:18–3:24 (1030).

- Rank 3, after each line's own parse: ETCSL's English translation (`translation.md`). As in texts 2–3, ETCSL's paragraph ranges were read at the start (for the sections); every line was parsed from the morph before its ETCSL rendering was compared, and every departure is recorded under `תרגומים`.
- Not available, not used: Farber 1997 (COS 1.157, the standard translation), Farber 2001 (electronic composite and translation, listed in ETCSL's bibliography), Farber 1999, Civil 1994 (on 79 and 85), Pettinato 1971, Wilcke 1972, Kramer 1944, Edzard 2000. Their readings (e.g. ki-in-dar in 17) are mentioned only as "readings in the literature, not checked". No pirate copies were searched for.

Decisions

1. Aspect (project Decisions 4): narrative marû → participle (10, 16, 20, 22, 24–25, 27, 29, 30–31, 36, 40, 42, 45, 53, 61–63, 65, 99, 103–105); ḫamṭu → past; nonfinite -ed-e → `כדי ש...` / infinitive (3–6, 26, 53); nonfinite -a → relative clause or participle. 29 mu-ni-ib-sa₄-sa₄ is taken as marû (the -b- before the stem; no suffix written) against ETCSL's past – noted.
2. The puns on al are not imitated. Every line is rendered by its meaning; every pun is named in the parsing (`משחק מלים:`, about 45 lines) and described in the introduction of both files. Names and objects that exist for their al (83–93) are given as class word + transliterated name (`קערת־המלתום`, `רשת־האלוחב`, `גרזן־הדורלוב` ...), as text 2 did with the plant names, so that the al is visible. The one natural Hebrew sound-play, `אַלוֹן` for allanum (91, [cognate] with Akk. allānu), is used because it is the meaning; none is forced elsewhere.
3. {ĝiš}al* = `מַעְדֵּר` (Isa 7:25 `בַּמַּעְדֵּר יֵעָדֵרוּן`), every occurrence. u₃-šub* = `מַלְבֵּן` in its biblical sense (2 Sam 12:31 qere; Jer 43:9; Nah 3:14), not `תַּבְנִית` (reserved for tamšīlu); dusu* = `סַל` (renderings §2); pisaĝ* = (38) `טֶנֶא`, to keep `סַל` for the work basket.
4. Separation of heaven and earth (4–5): an ki-ta bad = (2§) `להפריד את השמיים מן הארץ`, saĝ šum₂ = `הִבְדִּיל`; `מיהר` and `רָקִיעַ` occur nowhere in the Hebrew lines (grep).
5. ki* = `הָאָרֶץ` for earth, ground, soil (3, 20, 63, 74–75, 84; text 2 Decision 9), kalam* = (3) `הָאָרֶץ` (20; the apparatus says which word stands behind `אֲדָמָה`. `הָאָרֶץ` is never used, also not in 18–20 where the hoe has dug the ground (the renderings allow it for tilled ground): here it would manufacture the `אֲדָמָה` / `אָדָם` link of Gen 2:7 at the very line that is compared with it. The cost – (3) `זרע הארץ מן הארץ`, (20) `ארצו את הארץ בוקעת` – is accepted and explained.
6. Uzuea / Uzumua: ETCSL's composite reads uzu-e₃-a "(where) flesh came forth" in 6 and 18 (Uzumua is the variant of 2 mss. and 1 ms., and 18A); we follow the edition: `אוּזוּאֵאָה`, with Uzumua `אוּזוּמוּאָה` in the variants and 18A, and both meanings in the notes. Written unhyphenated so that it is not read as "Uzu" + the god Ea (`אֵאָה`).
7. Verbs of coming out and growing: e₃ = (53 ,30 ,15 ,8 ,3) `הוֹצִיא` / `יָצָא`, ed₃ = `עָלָה` (variants of 3 and 30), mu₂ = `צָמַח` (36 ,6, intransitive), ki dar = (20) `בָּקַע (את הארץ)`, pa e₃ = `הוֹפִיעַ` (1, = Akk. šūpû, project 1). Each overlap with Gen 1:11–12, 1:24, 2:5–9 is tagged.

8. ĝar* = שָׁם only and always (text 3 Decision 5), including the idioms ki ĝar "found" (35, 37: הוּשַׁם), šu-še₃ ĝar "subdue" (61, 106: לַיָּד שָׁם), gu₂ ĝar "submit" (102–103: צוואר שָׁם), saĝ ĝar "oppose" (18A); always vocalized. ĝal₂ with an agent placing an object = (17) נָתַן; intransitive = קַיָּם / nominal clause (23, 34, 90, 96). Text 3's הֲבִיא לְכָלַל הֲוֵיָה (ĝal₂ bringing into existence) is not used: in 96 ĝal₂ has no agent (ETCSL's "has made people exist" is causative – noted).
9. al-tar* "construction work" = (בַּעַל הַבְּנִיָּה? 44 ;60 ,58–57 ,55–54 ,48 ,45) הַבְּנִיָּה, eš₂-gar₃ = (9) מִכְסָה. No noun or verb of the root עבד in the Hebrew lines: the root is the Gen 2:5 / 2:15 / 3:23 / 4:2 comparison, and al-tar, seven times, would have created a dense false echo (the first draft had עבודת הבניין; changed in review (b)).
10. Deviations by meaning from renderings.md §2 (Changelog there): du₃ = קָבַע (9, the work quota) and נָעַץ (18, the hoe driven into the ground), בָּנָה elsewhere (36, 45, 98–99, 38 var.); lugal of a field = בְּעָלִים (מָלַךְ ;103–101 in 26, 59); a₂ by sense (97 כֹּחַ ,14 זְרוֹעַ ,10 שָׂכָר); ud by sense (62 סְעָרָה ;59 ,36 יוֹם ;47 ,8 אוֹר הַיּוֹם).
11. Naming: sa₄ (29, without mu) = קָרָא בְּשֵׁם (קָרָא reserved for naming, §2); tagged ↔ Gen 5:2, 2:19–20, Ex 31:2.
12. Identical Sumerian, identical Hebrew (checked by script, niqqud ignored): 4/5 (mirror), 11/32, 40/42, 48/58 (and 54), {ĝiš}al-e kug-ga-am₃ in 49/69, šu-še₃ al-ĝa₂-ĝa₂ in 61/106, 101–103, al-du₃-e (36, 45, 99), al-ĝa₂-ĝa₂ (27, 61, 63, 99, 106), nam … tar (2, 9, 16, 53, 107), za₃-mi₂ … dug₄ (11, 32, 108). In 69 this means במעדר טהור הוא as in 49, although ETCSL reads 69 "the hoe, sacred indeed".
13. Untranslated by ETCSL → …: 17 ki-in-du (ePSD2 "earth"; the reading ki-in-dar "crevice" of the literature not checked); 81 ud nu₂-a. Uncertain items marked ? in the line: 7 14 ,היתד? 18 ,יתדו?A, 43 ארון־ 89 ,רב־הספרים? 79 ,מקלות־התוף? 71 ,(ליד?) 63 ,האדיר? 47 ,44 ,הלביא? הארגיביל?.
14. Names and letter traps: Šara = שָׂרָא (always vocalized, never "Sarah"); Keš = כֵּשׁ (always vocalized); Utu always vocalized; Nergal = נֶרֶגַל (= 2 Kgs 17:30); "the women's house in Tummal" = בית הנשים אשר בתומל (not שבתומל, which contains שבת); dub-saĝ "foremost" = רִאשׁוֹן (not בָּרֹאשׁ, letters ב־ר־א); 61 nu-še-ga = אינה שומעת (not נשמעת, letters נשמ, cf. נִשְׁמַת חַיִּים); piriĝ = לָבִיא (so that אַרְיֵה stays ur-maḫ); irigal = הַשְּׁאוֹל (lit. "the great city").

Open decisions for the user

1. Uzuea or Uzumua in 6 and 18 (Decision 6): follow ETCSL's composite (uzu-e₃-a, followed) or put the familiar Uzumua (the variant; KAR 4 24) into the lines.
2. ki* = הָאָרֶץ, never אֲדָמָה (Decision 5): keep (followed; 20 ,ארצו את הארץ בוקעת), or use הַקַּרְקַע for ki in 20 (clearer Hebrew, but hides the [equivalent] wording of Gen 1:12/1:24/2:6 מִן הָאָרֶץ), or הָאֲדָמָה in 18–20 as "tilled ground" (allowed by the renderings, but it would put the Gen 2:7 word into the line).
3. al-tar* = הַבְּנִיָּה (followed) or חֲפִירָה ("hoe-work", closer to al + tar "hoe-cutting"; ETCSL varies between "construction work" and "working with the hoe" (60)).

4. 29 mu-ni-ib-sa₄-sa₄: marû (`בשם הוא קורא`, followed) or ETCSL's past ("named"); and whether saĝ zid saĝ kal-la are the names given ("'True head', 'Precious head'") or the persons named (followed, with ETCSL).
5. 24 ḫuĝ: "pacify" (ORACC; ETCSL's translation "calmed"; followed) or "hire" (ETCSL's own lemma), which would link 24 with the wages of 10 and the workers of 25–31.
6. 69 = 49 (identical Hebrew for identical Sumerian, followed) or ETCSL's "he caused the hoe, sacred indeed, to be refined with fire".
7. 74 irigal = `הַשְׁאוֹל` (followed) or the literal `הָעִיר הַגְּדוֹלָה`.
8. Buy / borrow Farber 1997 (COS 1.157), and look for Farber 2001 (electronic edition) and Civil 1994: they would settle 7 (bulug), 14, 17 (kindu / kindar), 43, 71, 79 (kindagal), 81, 85 (dur₁₀-al-lub / šen-al-lu₅), 89, and the identification of the al-objects.
9. Print stub and the combined `translation.rtl.md` are the coordinator's (not created here).

Progress log

- Drafting (2026-10-17): all 110 entries in order, from the ETCSL transliteration, the ETCSL lemmas (scratch extraction from the XML) and the ORACC lemma+morph of every word; ETCSL concordance searches (ki dar, an ki-ta bad, saĝ šum₂, giri₁₇ šu ĝal₂, u₃-šub, uzu-mu₂-a, igi piriĝ, ki-in-du/dar, kindagal) and ePSD2 lookups for the rare words; the Hebrew of each repeated phrase fixed at its first occurrence; ETCSL's translation compared after each line's parse; echo check per line, with the distribution of e₃, mu₂, dar, ĝar, du₃, tud, nam tar, al-tar, saĝ over the whole text. Drafted unvocalized and plene, niqqud only on names at their first occurrence and on ambiguous forms (`מָנָה`, `נָעַץ`, `הֶחֱיְתָה`, `תִּלִּים`, `כַּר`, `שְׁמוֹ`, `שָׁם` …). The transliterations were then compared by script with `transliteration.md` (identical).
- Review (a) fidelity (every `>` line against the transliteration and the morph, word by word): 9 `המכסה` → `מכסת העבודה` (eš₂-gar₃ is one word; "work" was double); 59 `היום (עמו)` → `יומו (בו) עבר` `עבר` (no possessive in ud zal-la); 18A `בְּאוּזוּמוּאָה` → `באוזומואָה` and 19 `בַּמַּלְבֵּן` → `במַלְבֵּן` (first-occurrence vocalization, article); 47 55 ;`בְּכֶשׁ` → `בְּכֵּשׁ` Utu unvocalized → `אותו`; ETCSL imports recorded (3 "human seed", 20 "started to", 27 "human reproduction", 94 "everything", 96 causative "made exist"). Brackets: the composite has no restored words; the one damaged sign (95 var. ˹šabra˺) is in the apparatus.
- Review (b) consistency (repeated phrases compared as strings by script, Decision 12; the Hebrew of every recurring word checked against the `>` lines of texts 2–3 and the renderings): al-tar `עבודת הבניין` (7 lines) → `הבנייה` (root עבד, Decision 9); 32 punctuation aligned with 11; confirmed against texts 2–3: sukkal `וזיר`, igi bar `הביט`, ki-sikil `עלמה`, maš₂ `גדי`, gud `שור`, ĝeštug₂ daĝal `הבינה (ת)רחב`, bur₁₂ `עקר`, dab₅ `תפס`, na-nam `אכן`, dug₃ (sound) `מתוק`, ušumgal `דרקון־ענק`, tuš `ישב`, gub `העמיד`. Found, not changed (flagged for the coordinator): numun₂ is `אַסְפֶּסֶת?` in text 3 (43) and `חַלְפָּה` here (ETCSL's translation "esparto" = Arabic ḥalfa); za₃-mi₂ is `תהלה` in text 2 (281) and `תהילה` in text 3 and here.

- Review (c) Hebrew (read aloud; letter-sequence grep of the unvocalized lines): 37, 39 שבתומל אשר בתומל → (string שבת); שומעת → נשמעת 61 (string נשמ); 78 kept ראשון (not בראש); 1 transitive הוֹפִיעַ as in Enūma eliš; the terse name-lists 83–93 kept as nominal clauses; 20 and 3 kept with the doubled הארץ (Decision 5). Reserved words (§3) in the > lines: none; שָׁם only for ĝar; טוֹבָה once (95, dug_3); צמח/יצא/בקע/קרא בשם/בנה each its word's meaning, each tagged.
- Checks: python3 -I verify.py 4 → OK (110 entries = ETCSL's line list; translation = annotated > lines). tools/check_bible_quotes.py on the annotated file, the translation, this file and renderings.md → 0 problems (after fixing 2 in the draft: Isa 7:25 מַעְדֵּר without the article's dagesh → 2 ;בַּמַּעְדֵּר יֵעָדֵרוּן Sam 12:31 ketiv/qere (בַּמַּלְכֵּן (בַּמַּלְבֵּן).

4–5	an … ki (the pair)	… השמיים הארץ	בְּרֵאשִׁית בָּרָא אֱלֹהִים אֵת הַשָּׁמַיִם וְאֵת הָאָרֶץ (בראשית א:א)	[equivalent]	The first act concerns "heaven and earth" as a pair; the Sumerian story opens with their separation.
1	niĝ₂-du₇-e pa … e₃	את הדבר הראוי הוֹפִיעַ	וַיְהִי אוֹר (בראשית א:ג)	[divergence]	The opening act is "making the fitting thing appear" (pa e₃ = šūpû), not a word. ETCSL "the world" for niĝ₂-du₇ is interpretive.
8	{ĝiš}al-e mu-un-ĝar ud al-e₃	במעדר – שָׂם (זאת) אור היום יצא	וַיִּקְרָא אֱלֹהִים לָאוֹר יוֹם (בראשית א:ה)	[divergence]	Daylight comes out after an act with the hoe (al-e₃, a pun).
4–5	an ki-ta bad; ki an-ta bad; saĝ šum₂	להפריד את השמיים מן הארץ / את הארץ מן השמיים – אכן גם מיהר	וַיַּבְדֵּל בֵּין הַמַּיִם אֲשֶׁר מִתַּחַת לָרָקִיעַ וּבֵין הַמַּיִם אֲשֶׁר מֵעַל לָרָקִיעַ (בראשית א:ז)	[equivalent]	Who: Enlil, the lord of Nippur (not An, not by combat); how: "hastily", by "opening / removing far" (bad); between what: heaven and earth, no waters, no firmament; what for: so that the seed may come out of the earth and heads grow (3, 6). Rendered הפריד, never הבדיל. The same motif opens ETCSL 1.8.1.4 and 1.8.2.1.

7	dur-an-ki-ka bulug nam-mi-in-la₂	בדור־אנקי את היתד? אכן תלה	— (בראשית א:ו–ח)	[absent]	After the separation a "pin / axis" (bulug, ETCSL "axis of the world") is hung at Duranki, "the bond of heaven and earth"; Genesis has no link between the separated parts.
3	numun kalam-ma ki-ta ed₂-de₃	כדי שזרע הארץ מן הארץ ייצא	וַתּוֹצֵא הָאָרֶץ דֶּשֶׁא עֵשֶׂב מַזְרִיעַ זֶרַע (בראשית א:יב)	[equivalent]	numun = זֶרַע, e₃ = יָצָא. The seed's coming out of the earth is the purpose of the separation (one act), where Genesis has two days (2 and 3). "Seed of the Land" may be plant seed or human seed (6, 20); ETCSL's "human seed" adds "human" (rank-3 import).
16; 21	en-e {ĝiš}al mu-un-šid; igi zid mu-ši-in-bar	האדון את המעדר מנה; בעין נאמנה הביט	וַיַּרְא אֱלֹהִים כִּי טוֹב … (בראשית א:יב); וַיַּרְא אֱלֹהִים אֶת כָּל אֲשֶׁר עָשָׂה וְהִנֵּה טוֹב מְאֹד (בראשית א:לא)	[equivalent]	The god evaluates his work (the hoe, 16) and looks with favour on the black-headed (21); neither is the word "good" (dug₃).
95	še dug₃-ga	שעורה טובה	כִּי טוֹב (בראשית א:יב)	[equivalent]	The only dug₃ = טוֹב: the good barley the hoe produces.
63, 84	ušumgal	דרקון־ענק	הַתַּנִּינִם הַגְּדֹלִים (בראשית א:כא)	[equivalent]	Ninurta / the hoe "is a dragon" towards the earth, in the forest. Never תַּנִּין.

27; 67, 94	tud-tud al-ĝa₂-ĝa₂; lum-lum, lam-lam	את הלידות היא שָׁמָה; המשגשג, הפורח	פְּרוּ וּרְבוּ (בראשית א:כח)	[equivalent]	After the emergence, a birth goddess (Ninmena) sets birth going; thriving (lum, not rendered פָּרָה).
61, 103, 106	šu-še₃ al-ĝa₂-ĝa₂; gu₂ mu-na-ab-ĝa₂-ĝa₂	לַיָּד שָׁם; לבעליו צוואר שָׁם	וּמִלְאוּ אֶת הָאָרֶץ וְכִבְשָׁהָ (בראשית א:כח)	[equivalent]	The hoe (and Ninurta) subdue the rebel city, the field that does not submit to its owner, the weeds.
31	diĝir-re-e-ne-ra šukur₂-še₃ mu-un-dab₅-be₂	לאלים, למנות המזון, הוא (אותם) תופס	הִנֵּה נָתַתִּי לָכֶם אֶת כָּל עֵשֶׂב ... לָכֶם יִהְיֶה לְאָכְלָה (בראשית א:כט)	[divergence]	Inversion: the new humans are assigned to supply the gods' food; in Genesis God gives food to man.
9, 18	eš₂-gar₃ mu-un-du₃; {ĝiš}al am₃-mi-ni-in-du₃	את המכסה קבע; באוזואאה את המעדר נעץ	וְאָדָם אַיִן לַעֲבֹד אֶת הָאֲדָמָה (בראשית ב:ה)	[divergence]	The work quota and wages (10) are fixed, and the first digging is done by the god with the hoe, before there are humans; the humans then come out of the dug ground (19–20).
99	gana₂ zid al-ĝa₂-ĝa₂	שדה נאמן הוא שָׁם	וְאָדָם אַיִן לַעֲבֹד אֶת הָאֲדָמָה (בראשית ב:ה)	[equivalent]	Cultivation of the field is the hoe's work.

6, 36	saĝ mu₂-mu₂-de₃; ĝi₆ al-mu₂-mu₂	כדי שראשים יצמחו; בלילה צומח –	וַיַּצְמַח יְהוָה אֱלֹהִים מִן הָאֲדָמָה כָּל עֵץ (בראשית ב:ט); וְכָל עֵשֶׂב הַשָּׂדֶה טֶרֶם יִצְמָח (בראשית ב:ה)	[equivalent]	mu₂ = צָמַח, intransitive: humans grow like plants (6), and so does the temple by night (36). In Genesis God makes the trees grow and forms man.
19	saĝ nam-lu₂-ulu₃ u₃-šub-ba mi-ni-in-ĝar	את ראש האנושות בַּמַּלְבֵּן שָׂם	וַיִּיצֶר יְהוָה אֱלֹהִים אֶת הָאָדָם עָפָר מִן הָאֲדָמָה (בראשית ב:ז)	[divergence]	Man is not shaped by a potter but cast in a brick mould, like a brick; no material (clay, dust) is named. ETCSL "the first model of mankind" for saĝ.
19	mi-ni-in-ĝar	שָׂם	וַיָּשֶׂם שָׁם אֶת הָאָדָם אֲשֶׁר יָצָר (בראשית ב:ח)	[equivalent]	ĝar = שָׂם (reserved, text 3): the god "puts" man – here into the mould, there into the garden.

The "like plants" is not written here; it is in the verb. Man rises by himself towards the god above, not taken (לֻקַּח) from the ground by the god. ki = הָאָרֶץ: the adam/adamah pun is Hebrew only. ETCSL's "started to" is not in the Sumerian.

19–20	—	—	וַיִּפַּח בְּאַפָּיו נִשְׁמַת חַיִּים (בראשית ב:ז)	[absent]	No breath, no animating act: the heads grow out of the earth and are "alive" by growing.

Proposals for the shared renderings

1. The hoe and its tools (all Sumerian texts; Grain and Sheep and KAR 4 will need them): {ĝiš}al = מַעְדֵּר; u₃-šub = מַלְבֵּן (never תַּבְנִית, reserved for tamšīlu); {ĝiš}dusu / dub-sig = סַל (confirmed); pisaĝ = טָנָא; apin = מַחֲרֵשָׁה; gud-si-AŠ = כַּר.
2. Work nouns without the root עבד: al-tar = הַבְנָיָה; eš₂-gar₃ = מִכְסָה; a₂ "wages" = שָׂכָר. Recommend for the corpus: Sumerian and Akkadian work nouns other than kiĝ₂ (text 3 עֲבוֹדָה) get a non-עבד Hebrew noun, so that every עבד in a Hebrew line is a real counterpart of Gen 2:5/2:15/3:23/4:2 (cf. dullu = עָמָל).
3. Emergence verbs: ki dar = בָּקַע (אֶת הָאָרֶץ) [divergence ↔ Gen 2:7, 3:19], with the note that it is the Sumerian verb of sprouting (ETCSL 1.1.4 3 has people "like grass"); mu₂ intransitive = צָמַח; pa e₃ = הוֹפִיעַ (= šūpû).
4. sa₄* without *mu = קָרָא בְּשֵׁם (קָרָא reserved for naming); mu sa₄ stays קָרָא שֵׁם.
5. ĝal₂*: with an agent placing an object = נָתַן; intransitive = קַיָּם / nominal; הֵבִיא לְכְלַל הֲוָיָה only for bringing into existence (text 3, 32). Specify this in §2.
6. Adjectives: zid = נֶאֱמָן (= Akk. kīnu), kal = יָקָר, kug = טָהוֹר (confirmed); ḫul = רַע; dug₃ of sound/name = מָתוֹק.
7. Death: irigal = הַשְּׁאוֹל (lit. "the great city"), ad₆ = גְּוִיָּה, tum₂ = הֵבִיא.
8. Names (§1): אוּזוּמוּאָה / אוּזוּאֵאָה (KAR 4 = text 7 will need Uzumua), דּוּר־אַנְקִי ("bond of heaven and earth" = Akk. riksi šamê u erṣeti), נוּנַמְנִיר, נִין־מֶנָּה, נִינְלִיל, תּוּמַל, נִין־אִיסִינָה, שׁוּלְפָּאֵה, כֻּשׁ (always vocalized), אֵחַמּוּן, שַׂרָא, אֲאַנָּה, זַבָּלָם, נֶרְגַל, גֻּשְׁתִּין־אַנָּה, גִּיבִּיל (= the biblical form), נִינְסוּמוּן.
9. Harmonize: numun₂ = חַלָּפָה (here) vs אַסְפָּסֶת? (text 3, 43); za₃-mi₂ plene תְּהִילָה (texts 3–4) vs תְּהִלָּה (text 2, 281).
10. Guidelines §6.7 (traps): prefix + name can create a reserved string (שבת = בתומל + ש…): use בָּרֹאשׁ; אשר ב… contains ב־ר־א (use רִאשׁוֹן); Šara שרה ≠ שרא; Keš קֵשׁ ≠ כֻּשׁ; a transliterated name that ends in -e-a can look like Ea (אוּזוּאֵאָה): write it unhyphenated and say so.

Lessons for the guidelines

- A poem built on puns: translate by meaning, name every pun in the parsing (a fixed label, `משחק מלים:`), say in both introductions that the poem is built on them, and render name-lists as "class word + transliterated name", so that the sound the pun rests on stays visible. Use a natural Hebrew sound-play only where it is the meaning (`אַלּוֹן`).
- A key Genesis root can enter through a frequent noun: al-tar "construction work" (7×) drafted as `עבודת הבניין` would have put the root of `לַעֲבֹד אֶת הָאֲדָמָה` seven times into a hoe poem. Grep the `>` lines for the roots of the key comparison verses (עבד, אדמ, צמח, יצא, קרא, שׂים), not only for reserved words.
- Check a motif with a concordance of its verb: "humans break through the earth like plants" is not written in the Hoe (20); the ETCSL concordance of ki dar shows it is the Sumerian sprouting verb, and finds the explicit "people … like grass" in Enki's Journey 3 – a parallel that strengthens the reading without importing words into the line.
- ETCSL's lemma and translation can disagree (24 lemma ḫuĝ "hire", translation "calmed"; 36 lemma ud "storm", translation "by day"): check both against the context and the ORACC morph, and record the choice.
- Rank-3 imports in ETCSL here: "human seed" (3), "started to" (20), "human reproduction" (27), "everything" (94), causative "made people exist" (96). Each would sharpen a Genesis parallel beyond the Sumerian; they are recorded in the parallels index.
- Distribution of one word across a whole text found the poem's frame: saĝ "head" for the humans growing (6), set in the mould (19), named (29), brought out (30), buried (74), and the hoe "of the head" (96); and pa "shoot" from the opening (1, pa e_3) to the uprooting (105). Track the key noun as well as the key verb.

Text 5: The Debate between Grain and Sheep

Scope

- Text: The Debate between Grain and Sheep (Ezina and Lahar, older Ašnan and Lahar), Sumerian, Old Babylonian school text (19th–18th cent. BCE); ETCSL 5.3.2 (ORACC Q000761 is a catalogue entry only, with no text in the 2022 export). The whole composite: 193 entries (ETCSL 1–193), all translated. ETCSL has no variant lines and no letter-numbered lines for this text; damaged and lost signs are marked as in the transliteration (101, 103, 106, 144–145, 147, 150, 152–154, 173, 176, 183–188, 191).
- Manuscripts (ETCSL header): about seventy OB tablets and fragments, mostly from Nippur (CBS, N, Ni, 3N-T, UM), with Ur (UET 6 33–35, 263, 266), Isin (IB 470+), BM 16921 (CT 42 39), the Bodleian, FLP 2628, HS 1458, 1534 and VAT 3467.

- Files: `annotated-5-Grain-Sheep.rtl.md` (Hebrew header; 20 sections following ETCSL's translation paragraphs; per line: ETCSL transliteration (copied by script from `transliteration.md`), Hebrew, parsing (ETCSL's TEI lemma + ePSD2 + ORACC `morph` of the same form elsewhere, where found), ETCSL + departures, parallels with tags, notes); `translation-5-Grain-Sheep.rtl.md` (introduction incl. a paragraph on the debate genre, the same 20 sections, 20 footnotes). Both files are generated from one line-by-line data file by a scratch builder (session scratchpad, not kept), so the clean lines equal the annotated `>` lines by construction; `python3 -I verify.py 5` → OK.
- Content: the cosmogonic prologue (1–42): when An begets the Anuna on "the mountain of heaven and earth", there is no grain, no weaving, no sheep or goat giving birth; the gods do not know the names Ezina-Kusu and Sheep; there is no barley, no garment, Uttu and Niĝirsi are not born, Šakkan has not gone out to the arid land; the humanity "of those days" does not know eating bread or wearing clothes, goes about "bare-limbed", eats grass with its mouth like sheep and drinks garden water (1–25); Sheep and Grain dwell (ETCSL: "are created") on the Holy Mound, the Anuna eat and drink of them and are not filled, and give them to mankind as sustenance (26–36); Enki proposes to Enlil to bring them down, and they do (37–42). Sheep in the fold and Grain in the furrow bring abundance to the Land; at a feast, after wine and beer, they quarrel (43–70). Four speeches (71–179): Grain (71–91), Sheep (92–115), Grain (116–142), Sheep (143–168), Grain (169–179). Enki's verdict to Enlil: they shall be sisters, but Grain the greater; the owners of silver, cattle and sheep shall sit at the gate of the owner of barley (180–191); colophon formula and praise of Enki (192–193).

Decisions

1. Aspect (project Decisions 4): narrative marû → participle (`יולד` 24–25, `אוכלים` ,`שותים` ,31 ,34 ,2 `מורידים` ,43–46 ,56–57 ,65–66 ,69–70 ,98–100 ,108 ,112 ,119 ,125 ,127 ,129–131 ,136 ,159– 160); ḫamṭu → past (`ולא נמלאו` ,36 ,54–55 ,60 ,64 ,67–68 ,34b/31b ,56–57 ,65–66 ,69–70 ,98–100 ,108 ,112 ,119 ,125 ,127 ,129–131 ,136 ,159– 169 ,157 ,121 ,109 ,81 ,75); u₃- → –148 ,126 ,117–118 ,111 ,85–86 ,79 ,67–68 ,60 ,39) `אחרי ש…` (177–178 ,151; ga- → cohortative (40 `נורידן`); ḫe₂- → jussive (181–189, 191). Where ORACC has no parsed instance of the form, the aspect is our analysis and the parsing says so (2, 24, 28, 31, 54, 57, 95). 24 mu-ni-ib-gu₇: marû (habitual), because a human plural agent in ḫamṭu would need -n-…-eš, and ETCSL itself translates the identical line in 1.7.6 "used to eat".

2. No טֶרֶם. The negations of 3–25 are plain nu- (19 la-ba- = nu-ba-) with ḫamṭu or nonfinite forms; Sumerian has no "not yet" form here, and ETCSL does not write "not yet" either. Rendered לא throughout; the Gen 2:5 טֶרֶם row is [divergence] (as text 2 did for its 11–28).
3. 1 ḫur-saĝ = הַר, not "hill". The brief (and ETCSL) speak of "the hill of heaven and earth"; the Sumerian of line 1 is ḫur-saĝ "mountain (range)", and du₆ "mound, tell" (תֵּל) comes only from 27 on (du₆ kug = הַתֵּל הַטָּהוֹר).
4. 2 ud … -a-ba = בְּיוֹם אֲשֶׁר (literal "on the day when" = "when"), because Hebrew has the same idiom in the same position (בְּיוֹם עֲשׂוֹת, Gen 2:4b) – a real structural parallel, tagged [equivalent]. Text 3 (1–2) rendered ud … -a-ba בימים אשר in parallel with its ud re-a בימים ההם; here there is no ud re-a in the line, so the singular is kept (open decision 1).
5. 27, 39 mu-un-se₁₂-eš = שָׁכְנוּ? ("dwelt", plural), following ETCSL's own lemma (til₃ "to live", plural stem se₁₂), against ETCSL's translation "they created Sheep and Grain" / "have been created". The sign SIG₇ is read sig₇ "to be green" in 3 (הוריק?) and se₁₂ in 27/39; "created" may reflect a lexical equation SIG₇ = Akk. banû (our conjecture). Consequence: the prologue has no creation verb for Sheep and Grain (open decision 2). שָׁכְנוּ is vocalized so that it is not read as the name שַׁכַּן.
6. 23 ĝiš-gen₆-na su-bi = באיברים חשופים?. ETCSL lemmatizes su-bi as sug₄ "to be empty, bare"; ORACC elsewhere has su-bi = su "flesh" + -bi. The word is not the Sumerian for "naked", so עֵירֹם/עָרוּם (reserved, renderings §3) are not used; the Gen 2:25 / 3:7 / 3:10–11 parallels are tagged [equivalent] in the apparatus. kalam (no locative) is the subject: … הארץ הלכה (as text 4's ארצו את הארץ בוקעת).
7. 25 a mu₂-sar-ra-ka = ממי הערוגות? – mu₂-sar "garden (bed)" (ETCSL lemma, ePSD2 musar), against ETCSL's translation "ditches"; עֲרוּגָה as text 2's sar. Not גַּן (reserved for kiri₆).
8. Names and personification: ezina₂ = דָּגָן and u₈ = כִּבְשָׂה (renderings §2), as personal names: no article, feminine verbs (the text calls them sisters, Grain a ki-sikil); the animal u₈ (6, 8, 132) has the article where Hebrew needs it. {d}ezina₂-{d}ku₃-su₃ = (89 ,10) דָּגָן־כּוּסוּ. New names: נִיגִּירְסִי (niĝir-si, ePSD2 "(bridegroom's) friend"), אִישְׁכּוּר (Iškur = Adad אֲדַד), הַסַּג־אוּר־סַג (saĝ-ur-saĝ), הַכֹּהֵן־הַגּוּדוּג, הַכֹּהֵן־הַפָּשִׁשׁ; נִין־כַּסִי, אוּטוּ, שַׁכַּן, אַן, הָאֲנוּנָּה, אֱנְקִי, אֱנְלִיל, אִינַנָּה, אוּתוּ, as before (Uttu and Utu always vocalized).
9. Debate formulas, identical wherever the Sumerian is (checked by script; 6 groups identical): X Y-ra gu₃ mu-(un-)na-de₂-e = X אל Y 2 ;(180 ,71 ,37) פונה: -kam-ma-še₃ X Y-ra mu-na-ni-ib-gi₄-gi₄ = משיבה Y לX – שנית: (170 ;143 ,116 ,92 without 2-kam-ma משיבה Y לX:); a-na-zu mu-da-ĝal₂ a-na ma-ab-be₂-(en-)na-bi gi₄-ma-ni-ib = מה יש לך? מה שתאמרי לי – השיבי לי! (,91 168 ,142 ,115; the spelling without -en in 115/142 treated as orthographic, with ETCSL); the colophon X Y-bi a-da-min₃ dug₄-ga = Y־וX ויכוח שנאמר בין: (192).

10. Fixed words followed (renderings §2 and texts 2–4): ninda לחם, gu₇ אכל, naĝ שתה, tug₂ בגד, mu₄ לבש, u₂ עשב, zu ידע, mu שם, tud ילד, dim₂ עיצב, mu₂ צמח/הצמיח, e₃ יצא/הוציא, ed₃ ירד/עלה/הוריד, du₃ בנה, nam tar גזר גורל, ĝar שָׂם only (45, 157, 175, 189, 191), ki/kalam הארץ (never אדמה), edin ערבה, kug טהור, sag₉ נאה, dug₃ מתוק / טוב (taste) / verb היטיב, ud re-a (20) בימים ההם, ud-ba (180 ,169 ,37 ,26) בעת ההיא, nam-lu₂-ulu₃ האנושות, ki-sikil עלמה, men כתר (text 4), si sa₂ סידר (text 4), saĝ šum₂ מיהר (text 4), ki-bal הארץ המורדת, mar-uru₅ אשפה, sa₂-dug₄ המנחות הקבועות, tukul נשק, ĝeštug₂ בינה, banšur שולחן, ki-nu₂ משכב, ĝišbun משתה, barag דוכן, za₃-mi₂ תהילה, a-a אב (vocative האב), ḫal פיזר, te ניגש, dab₅ תפס, gub עמד/העמיד, kur₉ נכנס. numun₂ does not occur in this text (the text-3/text-4 split is not touched).
11. New renderings (echo control decisive): sipad רועה, na-gada נוקד [cognate, Akk. nāqidu], engar איכר [cognate, Akk. ikkaru < Sum.], šu-rin-na תנור [cognate, Akk. tinūru], udun כבשן; amaš דיר, e₂-ubur דיר־חליבה; apin מחרשה, šudul עול, erin₂ צמד; ki-du₆ גורן; ban סאה; kadra תשורה (not מִנְחָה, which would pre-empt Gen 4:3; מנחות only for sa₂-dug₄, as text 4); u₂-šim מספוא (not עֵשֶׂב/דֶּשֶׁא); zi-šag₄(-ĝal₂) מחיה (keeps zi = חיים; not נפש/נשמה); si "fill" מלא/נמלאו (179 ,63 ,34 ,31; not שבע); du₁₄ ריב; a-da-min₃ ויכוח; bar-rim₄ צייה (not text 2's היבשה, whose sense there is "dry land vs. boat"; יַבָּשָׁה would pre-empt Gen 1:9); kur הרים (146 ,15; ḫur-saĝ הר); ki-ulutim₂ מקום הולדתם (ETCSL 1.4.4 "birthplace"; not יצירה/בריאה); muš נחש (128, tagged ↔ Gen 3:1); zulumḫi אדרת?; siki צמר; buru₅ ציפור (not דְּרוֹר, = andurāru); išin גבעול (not קנה, = gi); saĝ "slave" (146) = יראש' (text 4 saĝ = ראש; not עבד).
12. Deviations by meaning (Changelog in renderings.md): sig₉ "drive in (a peg)" = תקע (5; elsewhere sig₉ = 156 ,הֵטִיל, as text 3); sig₇ = הוריק? (3, causative "make green") and רעננה (50, "fresh, beautiful"); zig₃ as adjective = זקוף (51; text 3 קם/הקים); lipiš = קרב (78, figurative "core"; text 3 lipiš as a body part = מעיים); du₈ by sense: הפיץ (48, charm), פתח (88, stocks), פרש (158, dough); tag "touch" = נעץ (131, the tally-stick "touched" into the ground; נגע avoided, cf. Gen 3:3; text 2 tag = מישש); ĝeštin = יין (67 ,65, the drink; text 2 ענבים, the fruit).
13. Letter-sequence traps avoided: בשדמות (contains דמות) → בשדמה ובשדמה (69, also mirroring the reduplication a-gar₃-a-gar₃); מקום מושבן instead of (63) שבתן; no בראשונה/בראש (72 הראשונה, dub-saĝ, text 4); שמן בְּשָׁמִים vocalized (106; unvocalized it reads "oil in heaven"); שָׂם/שָׂם vocalized everywhere; חֶלְבּוֹ "its milk" vocalized (32; unvocalized also חֶלְבּוֹ "its fat", the Gen 4:4 word); בִּגְדֵי, שָׂדֶהָ, בְּדִירָהּ vocalized for the possessive. The > lines contain none of the reserved words of renderings §3 and no נחש; ערום, עדן, נפש, קרא, אדם, עבד, שבת, ברא, טרם (128, muš) and טוב (105, dug₃) are their words' meanings, tagged. (Note: the name דגן contains the string גן; harmless as a word, recorded for completeness.)

Open decisions for the user

1. 2 ud … -a-ba: בְּיוֹם אֲשֶׁר (followed; literal, and it shows the Gen 2:4b idiom) or כַּאֲשֶׁר (neutral). Text 3 has בימים אשר for the same construction next to ud re-a; a corpus rule would help (singular ביום אשר alone, plural only with ud re-a?).

2. 27, 39 se₁₂: שָׁכְנוּ? ("dwelt", ETCSL's lemma; followed) or ETCSL's translation "created" (נוצרו/עוצבו would be needed – never נבראו). The choice decides whether the prologue is a creation of grain and sheep (Gen 1:11–12, 24–25) or their descent from the gods' dwelling (Gen 3:23 inverted). Alster & Vanstiphout 1987 would settle it.
3. 23 באיברים חשופים? (followed; sug₄ "bare") or the plain ערומים (natural Hebrew for the concept, but it puts the reserved Gen 2:25 / 3:7 word into the line where the Sumerian does not have the word for "naked").
4. 25 ממי הערוגות? (followed; lemma mu₂-sar "garden") or ETCSL's "ditches" (ממי התעלות).
5. 3 sig₇ הוריק? (followed) or ETCSL's "created"; the same SIG₇ question as 27/39.
6. Personified names without the article (דגן, כבשה, feminine verbs; followed) or with it (הדגן, הכבשה), which reads more naturally but blurs name and animal.
7. 36, 55 zi-šag₄ ĝal₂ = מחיה נתנו (followed) or a literal חיים ולב נתנו, which would make the Gen 2:7 contrast (breath vs. food) visible in the line.
8. Buy / borrow Alster & Vanstiphout 1987 (ASJ 9, the edition with the manuscripts) and Vanstiphout 1997 (COS 1.180): they would settle 3/27/39 (SIG₇), 23 (su-bi), 25 (mu₂-sar), 82, 95 (-NE), 100, 102, 109, 114, 122, 141, 152–155, 172–174, 183.
9. Print stub and the combined translation.rtl.md are the coordinator's (not created here).

Progress log

- Drafting (2026-10-17): all 193 entries in order, from the ETCSL transliteration and ETCSL's TEI lemmas (scratch extraction), with ePSD2 lookups and a morph lookup of every verbal form in the ORACC literary corpus; ETCSL concordance searches for the formulas and rare words (above); the Hebrew of each debate formula fixed at its first occurrence (37, 71, 91, 92); ETCSL's translation compared after each line's parse; echo check per line, and the distribution of zu, gu₇, naĝ, tug₂/mu₄, ninda, u₂, ĝar, ed₃, e₃, tud, si, dug₃ over the whole text. The first 42 lines were drafted with full niqqud against the working rule and were rewritten by hand, unvocalized and plene (names at first occurrence and ambiguous forms only); 43–193 were drafted unvocalized from the start.
- Review (a) fidelity (every > line against the transliteration and the parsing, word by word; brackets by root): 10 וכבשה(ו) → כבשה (-bi-da "and" is in the Sumerian); 45 את שָׂדֶהּ → את שדה (-ani "her"); 48 בדיר → בדירים (amaš-a singular; ETCSL's "sheepfolds"); 73 של נוגה → לנוגה (genitive -ka); 95 (מן) המקום → מן המקום (no ablative in the Sumerian); 104 הנעליים → והנעליים (no conjunction); 164 ואת → גם את (u₃); 166 מאחריו → מאחריה (eĝer-bi, referring to me); 173 [הוכתה] → הוכתה (the root ra is restored); brackets of 101, 103 (‹שלי›), 106, 145–144, 183–186, 191 re-checked; ETCSL imports recorded: "hill" (1), "created" (3, 27, 39), "naked" (23), "ditches" (25), "glistens" (109), "your" (113, 141), "how many" (132).

- Review (b) consistency (repeated lines compared as strings by script, niqqud ignored: 30=33, 91=168, 115=142 (= 91), 92=143, 134=137, 135=138, 37/180 – all identical; 12–14, 21–22, 31/34, 47/49, 54/60, 65/67, 66/68 differ only where the Sumerian differs). Hebrew of every recurring word checked against renderings §1–4 and the `>` lines of texts 2–4: banšur שולחן, ki-nu₂ משכב, ĝišbun משתה, siki צמר, barag דוכן, men כתר, si sa₂ סידר, ki-sikil עלמה, ab-sin₂ תלם, a-gar₃ שדמה confirmed; the vowel-pointing of the ĝar forms completed (175 יָשִׂימוּ, 189 אָשִׂים, [יָשִׂימוּ] 191); בשדמה ובשדמה → בשדמות 69 (string דמות).
- Review (c) Hebrew (read aloud): 57, 62 כֹּל → כל (archaic "everything"); 178 שלך – → שלך־שלך בְּשָׁמַיִם → בשמים 106 ;– עצמך (ambiguity "in heaven"); 32 חָלָבוֹ vocalized; 43, 47 בִּגְדִי 107 ,בְּדִירָהּ vocalized; the long boast lines (90, 100, 141) kept close to the Sumerian order; 82, 152–155 left fragmentary with …/[…] rather than smoothed.
- Checks: `python3 -I verify.py 5` → OK (193 entries = ETCSL's line list; translation = annotated `>` lines). `tools/check_bible_quotes.py` on the annotated file, the translation, this file and `renderings.md` → 0 problems (after fixing 4 quotations in the draft: Gen 33:17, Isa 4:2, Gen 8:21 הַנִּיחֹחַ, Ex 9:31). Grep of the `>` lines for the reserved words and letter sequences: Decision 13.

27, 39	mu-un-se₁₂-eš	שָׁכְנוּ?	תַּדְשֵׁא הָאָרֶץ דֶּשֶׁא (בראשית א:יא); תּוֹצֵא הָאָרֶץ נֶפֶשׁ חַיָּה לְמִינָהּ בְּהֵמָה (בראשית א:כד)	[divergence]	No creation verb for grain and sheep (ETCSL's lemma "to live, dwell"); ETCSL's "they created" is a rank-3 reading. Grain and flock exist with the gods and are brought down; in Gen 1 the earth brings them forth at God's word. Open decision 2.
64	šag₄ an-na šag₄ {d}en-lil₂-la₂-ke₄ ba-sag₉-ge-eš	ללב אן, ללב אנליל – נאוו	וַיַּרְא אֱלֹהִים כִּי טוֹב (בראשית א:יב)	[equivalent]	The gods are pleased with the new goods; sag₉ = נאה, not טוב.
6–9	u₈ nu-e₃-a; nu-šar₂-ra; nu-ub-tu-ud	כבשה – לא יצאה; לא מרובים; לא ילדה	תּוֹצֵא הָאָרֶץ נֶפֶשׁ חַיָּה (בראשית א:כד); פְּרוּ וּרְבוּ (בראשית א:כב)	[equivalent]	The domestic animals "had not come out" and did not multiply or bear; e₃ = יצא. Weak for פרו ורבו.

36	nam-lu₂-ulu₃ zi šag₄ im-ši-in-ĝal₂	לאנושות – מחיה נתנו	הִנֵּה נָתַתִּי לָכֶם (בראשית א:כט)	[equivalent]	Gods give mankind its sustenance (sheep and grain together); the gods give what does not fill them (31, 34).
164	niĝ₂-gu₇-u₃-me-en	מאכל את	לָכֶם יִהְיֶה לְאָכְלָה (בראשית א:כט)	[equivalent]	Both grain and sheep are "food".

Gen 2:5's chain is of plants and rain and the worker; this one is of culture.
12–15, 21	še ... nu-ĝal₂; ninda gu₇-u₃-bi nu-zu	לא ... שעורה – לחם; הייתה את אכילתו לא ידעו	וְאָדָם אַיִן לַעֲבֹד אֶת הָאֲדָמָה (בראשית ב:ה)	[divergence]	No grain because no gift of the gods yet; in Gen 2:5 no plants because no rain and no worker.
25	a mu₂-sar-ra-ka i-im-na₈-na₈-ne	ממי הערוגות? שותים	וְנָהָר יֹצֵא מֵעֵדֶן לְהַשְׁקוֹת אֶת הַגָּן (בראשית ב:י)	[divergence]	Garden water, drunk by humans like beasts; there, river water irrigating the garden. Rests on the lemma mu₂-sar "garden" against ETCSL's "ditches". Our proposal.
20–25	the primeval humans	האנושות של הימים ההם ...	מִכֹּל עֵץ הַגָּן אָכֹל תֹּאכֵל (בראשית ב:טז)	[divergence]	The first humans' food: grass "like sheep" here, the fruit of the garden's trees in Gen 2:16. The commentary reads the garden as the world of hunter-gatherers: the Sumerian picture is that world, seen as lack, not as paradise.

Enūma eliš I 1–8). The verb is zu "know", not mu sa₄ "call a name".
—	—	—	וַיִּקְרָא הָאָדָם שֵׁמוֹת לְכָל הַבְּהֵמָה (בראשית ב:כ)	[absent]	No human names anything; the names belong to the gods' knowledge.

No shame, no innocence either: lack.
128	muš-ĝiri₂ … niĝ₂ edin-na-ke₄	נחש־הסכין? אלה של … הערבה	וְהַנָּחָשׁ הָיָה עָרוּם מִכֹּל חַיַּת הַשָּׂדֶה (בראשית ג:א)	[equivalent]	The snake as a creature of the edin (steppe; the edin/עֵדֶן etymology is disputed, apparatus only). Here a danger to the flock, not a speaker.
11, 21–22	nu-mu-un-zu-uš-am₃	לא ידעו	וַתִּפָּקַחְנָה עֵינֵי שְׁנֵיהֶם וַיֵּדְעוּ כִּי עֵירֻמִּם הֵם (בראשית ג:ז)	[divergence]	zu = ידע with bread and garment: the humans "did not know" eating bread or wearing clothes. In Gen 3:7 knowing leads to clothing; here clothing comes by a gift of the gods, not by knowledge.

107–111	tug₂ siki; um-ma-da-an-mur₁₀-re	בגדי מצמר … אחרי שאותי לבשו	כָּתְנוֹת עוֹר (בראשית ג:כא)	[divergence]	The sheep clothes king, gods and priests (wool, not skin).

184, 193	2(MAN)-na-ne-ne {d}ezina₂ [ḫe₂-X]-gu-ul; u₈ taka₄-a {d}ezina₂ e₃-a	משתיהן – דגן גדולה [תהיה]; – כבשה נותרת – דגן מאחור; יוצאת	וַיִּשַׁע יְהוָה אֶל הֶבֶל וְאֶל מִנְחָתוֹ. וְאֶל קַיִן וְאֶל מִנְחָתוֹ לֹא שָׁעָה (בראשית ד:ד–ה)	[divergence]	The verdict is the reverse of Genesis: the god prefers the farmer's product; in Gen 4:4–5 God regards the shepherd's offering. In Dumuzid and Enkimdu (ETCSL 4.08.33) the shepherd wins, as in Genesis.
123	sipad-zu niĝ₂-ĝu₁₀-še₃ … igi-bi im-ši-ĝal₂	רועך … עינו אל אשר לי	וַיִּחַר לְקַיִן מְאֹד וַיִּפְּלוּ פָּנָיו (בראשית ד:ה)	[divergence]	Inversion of the envy: the shepherd eyes the farmer's goods. ETCSL "enviously" is interpretive.

Proposals for the shared renderings

1. Personified goods: ezina₂ = דָּגָן, u₈ = כִּבְשָׂה as names (no article, feminine), ezina₂-kusu = דָּגָן־כּוּסוּ; the animal u₈ with the article where Hebrew needs it.
2. Herding and farming (corpus §3, they touch Gen 4:2): sipad = רוֹעֶה; na-gada = נוֹקֵד [cognate loan]; engar = אִכָּר [cognate loan]; nam-sipad = רוֹעוּת; amaš = דִּיר; e₂-ubur = דִּיר־חֲלִיבָה; apin = מַחֲרֵשָׁה; šudul = עֹל; erin₂ = צָמֶד; ab-sin₂ = תֶּלֶם; ki-du₆ = גֹּרֶן; ban = סְאָה; šu-rin-na = תַּנּוּר [cognate loan], udun = כִּבְשָׁן; ĝiš-šudum = מַקֵּל־הַסְּפִירָה. Never עֹבֵד/עֲבוֹדָה for any of them.
3. Gift words kept apart from Gen 4:3–4: kadra = תִּשּׁוּרָה; niĝ₂-ba = מַתָּנָה (text 2); מִנְחָה only for sa₂-dug₄ (texts 4–5) or a real offering term.
4. Naming and "before": mu … zu = יָדַע שֵׁם (kept apart from mu sa₄ = קָרָא שֵׁם); plain nu- = לֹא, never טֶרֶם (now in texts 2 and 5); ud … -a-ba = כַּאֲשֶׁר / בַּיּוֹם אֲשֶׁר to be fixed corpus-wide (open decision 1).
5. Nakedness and clothing: sug₄ (of limbs) = עֵירֹם/עָרוּם; חָשׂוּף stay reserved for a Sumerian/Akkadian word that means "naked" (Akk. erû/ūru, Sum. bar-dul₅? – to be checked when one occurs).
6. Food words: zi-šag₄(-ĝal₂) = מְחְיָה; si (be filled) = נִמְלָא, not שָׂבַע; u₂-šim = מִסְפּוֹא; dug₃ (verb, of drink and friendship) = הֵיטִיב (לֵב); niĝ₂ dug₃ (of food/drink) = הַדָּבָר הַמָּתוֹק; i₃ = שֶׁמֶן (note "fat" at Gen 4:4 rows).
7. Places: ḫur-saĝ = הַר; du₆ (kug) = תֵּל (הַטָּהוֹר)(הַ); kur (highland) = הָרִים / (foreign land) אֶרֶץ (text 2); bar-rim₄ (arid land) = צִיָּה vs. (dry land, opp. water) יַבָּשָׁה (text 2); an-edin = הָעֲרָבָה; ki-ulutim₂ = מְקוֹם הוּלֶדֶת.
8. Names (§1): נִיגִּירְסִי, אִישְׁכּוּר (= אֲדַד), הַסַּג־אוּר־סַג, הַכֹּהֵן־הַגּוּדוּג, הַכֹּהֵן־הַפָּשִׁישׁ.
9. Guidelines §6.7 (traps): plural שדמות contains דמות (use שְׂדֵמוֹת only vocalized, or a construction); בשמים "spices" vs "in heaven" – always vocalize חלבו בְּשָׂמָיו "his milk" vs "his fat" (Gen 4:4!) – vocalize; שכנו "dwelt" vs the name שֵׁכֶן – vocalize; דגן contains גן (harmless).

Lessons for the guidelines

- ETCSL's lemma can contradict ETCSL's translation in exactly the key line. In 27/39 ETCSL lemmatizes se₁₂ "to live (pl.)" but translates "created" – and the "creation of grain and sheep" in the secondary literature rests on that translation. In 25 the lemma is "garden", the translation "ditches"; in 1 the word is "mountain", the brief and the literature say "hill". Read the lemma line before the translation, and list such contradictions in the parallels index.
- When ORACC has no text, build a form index of the whole ORACC corpus (form → cf, gw, morph, text, line) and look up every verbal form of the ETCSL text: here 99 of 198 distinct verbal forms have a parsed instance elsewhere (the "like sheep they eat grass" line itself in How Grain came to Sumer). Mark the rest as "our analysis". The throw-away scripts (session scratchpad): `lem.py` (ETCSL TEI → per-line form=lemma[label]), `buildidx.py` + `q.py`/`morph.py` (ORACC form index and per-line morph lookup), `conc.py` (ETCSL bulk concordance with the translation paragraph), `gl.py` (ePSD2 glossary regex lookup) – again a case for `tools/sumerian_workbench.py`.
- Search the formula across genres before drafting a "unique" line: the primeval humans "eating grass with their mouths like sheep" (24) is the first line of How Grain came to Sumer (1.7.6); the debate colophon finds Dumuzid and Enkimdu (4.08.33), the shepherd–farmer dispute whose verdict (for the shepherd) is the Genesis one.
- Loanwords are the Sumerian [cognate]s: Sumerian has no Semitic roots, but words that travelled through Akkadian into Hebrew (engar → אִכָּר, na-gada = נָקֵד, šu-rin-na ~ תַּנּוּר) are real lexical links and should be rendered by their Hebrew descendants and tagged.
- Personified commodities need a grammatical decision before drafting (gender, article): Hebrew דָּגָן is masculine, the Sumerian Grain is a sister and a maiden; decide it once (here: name, feminine, no article) and say so in both introductions.
- Draft unvocalized from the first line – this session repeated text 3's mistake for 42 lines (a fully vocalized draft) and had to rewrite them; the rule should be the first line of the translator's brief, not one item among many.

Text 6: The Founding of Eridu (CT 13 35–38)

Scope

- Text: the bilingual Sumerian–Akkadian incantation Ē elli bīt ilī / e₂ ku₃-ga e₂ diĝir-e-ne ("The pure house, the house of the gods"), known as "The Creation of the World by Marduk" or "The Founding of Eridu": a cosmogony (obverse) that serves as the mythical introduction to a ritual of purifying a temple – by the reverse, Ezida, Nabû's temple at Borsippa (eBL genre: Magic: Varia: Building Rituals). One tablet: BM 93014 + 82-3-23,101 (Late Babylonian; copy CT 13 35–38; the join by Borger 1988). A transliteration search of eBL (2026-10-16) found no duplicate.

- Lines: all 67 entries – obv. 1–40 (the cosmogony, all translated) and rev. 1′–27′ (fragmentary; every legible word translated; rev. 1′–2′ and the broken Sumerian words of 3′, 6′, 11′ given as …). Labels as eBL: `obv. 1` … `obv. 40` (= King's), `rev. 1'` … `rev. 27'` (King rev. n ≈ eBL (n+9)′; eBL rev. 1′–9′ come from the joined fragment and are not in King).
- Files: `annotated-6-Founding-of-Eridu.rtl.md` (Hebrew header incl. the bilingual convention and the `{שומרית}` tags; 8 sections; per line our Akkadian normalization ‖ eBL's transliteration, then the Sumerian halves; parsing of every Akkadian word and brief Sumerian parsing; King 1902; parallels; notes); `translation-6-Founding-of-Eridu.rtl.md` (introduction, the same sections, 13 footnotes), generated from the annotated file by a scratch builder (session scratchpad), so that the numbered lines equal the `>` lines; `python3 -I verify.py 6` → OK.
- Content: a chain of negations – no pure house, no reed, no tree, no brick or brick-mould, no house, no city, no nammaššû, no Nippur/Ekur, Uruk/Eanna, Apsû/Eridu (1–9); "all the lands were sea", the spring in the sea only a channel (10–11); then Eridu and Esagil, Babylon and Esagil, the Anunnakkū and the holy city (12–16); Marduk binds a reed raft on the face of the waters, "builds" dust and pours it beside the raft, to settle the gods (17–19); he builds mankind; Aruru builds the seed of mankind with him; the animals of Šakkan in the steppe; Tigris and Euphrates, set in place and named well; reeds, marsh plants, forest; the green of the steppe; "the lands were marsh and reed-bed"; cattle and sheep; gardens and forests; the he-goat and wild ram stand for him (20–30); Marduk fills a terrace at the sea's edge, [Ea?] sets reed-bed and dry land; something is "brought into being" (31–33); and the negations of 2–7 are reversed in the same order (34–40). Reverse: fragments of hymnic epithets (1′–12′), Papsukkal and Ningirima purify the addressee with censer, torch and Apsû water by Marduk's spell; abundance and rites for ever; Ezida, beloved of Anu and Ištar; "pure as heaven, clean as earth"; the evil tongue out; rubric; catch-line Ereqqu 2 (13′–27′).

- No rank 3 is available: Lambert 2013 (Babylonian Creation Myths, 361–365), Ambos 2004 (Mesopotamische Baurituale, 199–212) and Heidel 1951 (The Babylonian Genesis, 61–63) are not owned; no pirate copies were searched for. The Hebrew rests on our own reading of eBL's transliteration.
- Rank 5: King 1902, vol. I 130–139 (`../../sources/King-1902--Seven-Tablets-of-Creation/vol-1_djvu.txt`, from l. 14600), read after each line; quoted in every entry. King's main outdated readings: 1 "in the holy place" (eBL has no elli in the Akkadian), 11 "a movement in the sea" (rāṭu "channel"), 17 "a reed" (amu "raft"), 19 šubat (not in eBL's Akkadian), 32 na-ma-la "marsh" (eBL na-ba-la = nābalu "dry land"), rev. 14′ "Nin-aha-kudu" (eBL Ningirim).
- Comparison: the commentary on Gen 1:2, 1:9–10 (`1010-…`: וְתֶרֶאָה as a "medial" Nifal, "a development that happened by itself"), 1:26–28, 2:4–17 (`1020-…`), 2:18–3:24, 4:1–17 (skimmed); Enūma eliš VI 1–66 (`../אנומה-אליש-1/translation-VI.rtl.md`); text 5 (the "not" chain, `?שָׂכְנוּ` / SIG₇).

Decisions

1. Bilingual convention (project Decision 5, as specified by the coordinator's brief): the Akkadian is translated wherever it survives; the Sumerian is parsed in the apparatus and its differences noted there. A line whose Hebrew comes from the Sumerian begins with `{שומרית}` (a recension-style tag, guidelines §6.8). Extension: where only part of a line survives in Sumerian (obv. 37, 39, 40: the Akkadian half is restored or lost), the tag encloses only the words translated from the Sumerian, `{שומרית: …}`; also for the rubric en₂ "incantation" at obv. 1, which is Sumerian only. Explained in both headers. (Decision 5 had excluded `{שומרית: …}` for differences; here it marks provenance, so the two uses do not collide.)
2. Reverse with separate-line pairs (12′/13′, 17′/18′, 22′/23′): each tablet line is one entry translated from its own language, so the Sumerian line gets `{שומרית}` and the next line the Akkadian; the content is therefore given twice, as on the tablet.
3. No `טֶרֶם`. Obv. 1–9 have ul + stative (ul epuš, ul aṣi, ul bani, ul nadât, ul banât, ul šakin, ul epšet): "was not made/built", not "not yet" (Akkadian would use adīni); King's "had not yet" is interpretive. Rendered with the Hebrew Nifal/Hophal and vocalized (`נַעֲשָׂה`, `נִבְנָה`, `הוּטְלָה`, `הוּשַׂם`) – unvocalized `נעשה` also reads `נַעֲשָׂה` "let us make" (Gen 1:26). The Gen 2:5 row is [divergence]; Prov 8:26 `עַד-לֹא עָשָׂה` is the closer [equivalent]. Same policy as texts 2 and 5.
4. Creation verbs: banû = `בָּנָה` everywhere (17 preserved occurrences + 3 restored – reed, tree, brick-mould, city, temples, dust, mankind, the seed of mankind, animals, rivers, plants); ibtani parsed as G perfect (formally also Gt preterite; no reciprocal sense; LB narrative perfect); epēšu = `עָשָׂה` (3 + 10: house, city, cities, Apsû, gods); šubšû = `הֲבִיא לְכָלַל הֲוָיָה` once (33). The bilingual maps the Sumerian verbs systematically: Sum. dim₂ → Akk. banû, Sum. du₃ → Akk. epēšu, and twice Sum. mu₂ "grow" → banû (18, 21); in the `{שומרית}` segments the Sumerian verbs keep their project renderings (dim₂ `עִצֵּב`, du₃ `בָּנָה`).

5. Echo decisions: ina pān mê = עַל פְּנֵי הַמַּיִם [cognate] (the preposition by meaning: on the surface); nābalu (Sum. pa-rim₄) = יַבָּשָׁה [equivalent], because the word means "dry land" as opposed to the sea (eBL; the Sumerian agrees), unlike text 5's bar-rim₄ "arid land" (צִיָּה); šikin napišti (Sum. niĝ₂-zi-ĝal₂ "that which has life") = בַּעֲלֵי נָפֶשׁ חַיָּה (נָפֶשׁ reserved; נֶפֶשׁ kept as the cognate of napištu); eperu = עָפָר; urqītu = יֶרֶק; kirû = גַּן (tagged); ṭūb libbi = טוּב לֵב [cognate]; ṭābiš = הֵיטֵב (root of טוֹב).
6. New cognate renderings: rāṭu = רַהַט (Gen 30:38; vocalized: modern "furniture"); īnu = עַיִן (eye/spring); tamlû + malû D = מִלֹּוא מְלֵא (the Millo); laḫru = רָחֵל; atūdu = עַתּוּד; rakāsu = רָכַס (EE); šapāku = שָׁפַךְ (EE). Others: amu = רַפְסוֹדָה (2 Chr 2:15); appāru = אָגָם; apu = סוּף (so that קָנֶה stays for qanû); dittu = גֹּמֶא?; uššu = קָנֶה־יֶבֶשׁ?; qīšu/qīštu = יַעַר; littu פָּרָה, būru עֶגֶל, mīru פַּר, puḫādu טָלֶה, immeru כֶּבֶשׂ, supūru דִּיר, sappāru אֵיל־הַבָּר; pāṭ tâmti = שְׂפַת הַיָּם; ṣīriš = בְּרוֹמְמוּת; mitḫāriš = יַחְדָּיו; ramû = הִתְיַשֵּׁב.
7. Ritual vocabulary (reverse): ellu = טָהוֹר, ebbu = זַךְ (as Sum. kug/sikil, text 2); elēlu D = טִהֵר; ubbubu = זִכֵּךְ; niqnakku = מִקְטֶרֶת; gizillû = לַפִּיד; agubbû = אַגַּן־הַמַּיִם; tû = לַחַשׁ, šiptu/en₂ = קֶסֶם (EE); ka-inim-ma = נַסַּח־הַקֶּסֶם; nuḫšu = עֲטָרֶת (EE; שָׂפָע = ḫegallu); ana ūmī ṣâti = לְיֹמֵי עַד (EE ana ṣâti לָעַד; never לְעוֹלָם); kalālu Št = יִשְׁתַּכְלְלוּ; kiššatu = כָּל; sukkallu = וְזִיר; eršu (Sum. galanzu) = פִּקֵּחַ; māliku = מְיַעֵץ; ereqqi šamê = עֶגְלַת הַשָּׁמַיִם (Ursa Minor).
8. Cruxes kept visible: obv. 15 (singular īpuš "he made the gods" vs. the Sumerian ergative plural "the gods built"): Hebrew keeps the Akkadian singular and the ambiguity, with ?; obv. 32 eBL's restoration [{d}IDIM tâm]ta shown as [את הים?אֶאָה]; obv. 18′ ullu = טְהֳרָה?; obv. 25 plant names with ?.
9. Names: מַרְדּוּךְ (Sum. Gilima גִּילִימָה at 17, Asalluḫi at 31, 19′ – in the apparatus); אֱרוּרוּ (note: not אָרוּר); שַׁכַּן; הָאֱנוּנָקִי; לוּגַל־דּוּכּוּגָה (the full Sumerian form; EE VII has לוּגַל־דּוּכּוּ); אֱסַגִּיל, אֱכּוּר, אֱאַנָּה, נִיפּוּר, אוּרוּךְ (= אֶרֶךְ), אֱרִידוּ, הָאַפְסוּ, בָּבֶל; פַּפְסוּכַל; נִינְגִּירִימָה; אֱזִידָה; אָנוּ, אִשְׁתַּר (Sum. אִינַנָּה, אַן).
10. Letter-sequence check of the > lines: no בראשׁ, ברא, שבת, דמות, נשמ, עבד, אדמ, טרם, עדן, תהום occurs only as vocalized נַעֲשָׂה (Decision 3); קרא only for nabû (16, 24). שָׂם (šakānu, ĝar) always vocalized; בַּמָּקוֹם vocalized (unvocalized also "instead of"); שֶׁמֶן vocalized ("oil").

Open decisions for the user

1. Buy or borrow Lambert 2013 (361–365) and Ambos 2004 (199–212): the only modern editions; they would settle obv. 11 (rāṭu), 15, 25 (uššu, dittu), 30 (izzazzūšu), 32 (the restoration and nābalu), 33, and the reverse 1′–12′.
2. obv. 32 nābalu = יַבָּשָׁה (followed: the meaning, and the Sumerian pa-rim₄ agrees) or a word that does not pre-empt Gen 1:9–10 (אֲדָמָה יַבָּשָׁה, חָרָבָה). A corpus rule for "dry land" is needed (text 2 הַיַּבָּשָׁה, text 5 צִיָּה).
3. obv. 15: "he (Marduk) made the gods together" (Akkadian singular, King) or "the gods built (it) together" (Sumerian ergative; cf. Enūma eliš VI 57–62).
4. obv. 22 בַּעֲלֵי נָפֶשׁ (followed) or חַיִּים / יְצוּרֵי חַיִּים – the latter avoid the Gen 1:24/1:30 נֶפֶשׁ but lose the cognate.

5. obv. 11 רַהַט (cognate, Gen 30:38; followed) or the neutral צִנּוֹר.
6. The {שומרית: ...} segment tag (Decision 1) – confirm, or prefer a footnote for partly Sumerian lines.
7. קָסָם for *en₂/šiptu follows project 1's open decision 4 (alternative לַחַשׁ for both, or חָבָר). Settled 2026-10-21 (cross-corpus harmonization): šiptu = קָסָם, Akk. tû = לַחַשׁ (rev. 19′ keeps בלחש: its Akkadian is tû).
8. Print stub and the combined translation.rtl.md are the coordinator's (not created here).

Progress log

- Drafting (2026-10-17): all 67 entries in order, from eBL's ATF; Akkadian normalized by us and parsed word by word with the eBL dictionary API (scratch script q.py/q2.py, session scratchpad); the Sumerian parsed briefly; King 1902 read after each line; the distribution of banû / epēšu / šubšû / šakānu / nabû counted over the whole obverse; the mirror structure 2–7 ↔ 34–40 checked line by line; echo check per line with the commentary on Gen 1:2, 1:9–10 and 2:4–7 open. Drafted unvocalized and plene, vocalizing names at first occurrence and the ambiguous statives.
- Review (a) fidelity (every > line against the normalization, the ATF and the Sumerian; brackets by root): Sumerian lines of 32, 34, 36–39 given with the ATF's brackets closed correctly; rev. 10′ [כל?] → כל? (root of kiššatu broken); obv. 39–40 checked that only the Sumerian half survives (tag segments); obv. 33 note corrected (the counts of banû and epēšu: 17 + 3 and 10 + 3, not "22"); King's outdated readings listed under each line (1, 11, 17, 19, 32, rev. 14′).
- Review (b) consistency (renderings §1–4, texts 1–5, Enūma eliš): banû/epēšu/šakānu/nabû/ellu/ebbu/ina ašri/-ma predicate (היו) checked as strings; names vocalized only at first occurrence; zēr amēlūti = text 1; šuklulu = text 1; u_3-šub, a-gar$_3$ not needed; four Bible quotations fixed by check_bible_quotes.py (1 Kgs 9:15 shortened, Ps 23:6 וְשַׁבְתִּי בְּבֵית-יְהוָה, Jer 12:7 יְדִדוּת, a bare לָעוֹלָם before a reference rephrased).
- Review (c) Hebrew (read aloud): rev. 24′ כשמים יִטְהַר, כארץ יִזַּךְ, … → כשמים – יִטְהַר!, כארץ – יִזַּךְ!; obv. 19 kept in the Akkadian order (את האלים – בטוב לב – להושיב); obv. 13, 16 (בו), (לה) added for Hebrew syntax; קנה־יבש? hyphenated so that קנה alone stays qanû.
- Checks: python3 -I verify.py 6 → OK (67 entries; translation = annotated > lines). tools/check_bible_quotes.py on both files → 0 problems. Reserved-word grep: Decision 10.

obv. 10	napḫar mātāti tâmtum-ma	כל הארצות ים (היו) –	וְחֹשֶׁךְ עַל פְּנֵי תְהוֹם (בראשית א:ב)	[equivalent]	Before the land, everything is water. tâmtu (cognate of תְּהוֹם) is rendered יָם; the link is in the apparatus only.
obv. 8	apsû ul epuš	האפסו לא נעשה	וְחֹשֶׁךְ עַל פְּנֵי תְהוֹם (בראשית א:ב)	[divergence]	Even the subterranean water (Apsû) "was not made": there is no pre-existing deep, only sea.
obv. 17	Marduk ama ina pān mê irkus	מרדוך רפסודה על פני המים רכס	וְרוּחַ אֱלֹהִים מְרַחֶפֶת עַל פְּנֵי הַמָּיִם (בראשית א:ב)	[cognate]	The same phrase (pānu = פנים, mû = מים), at the same stage. There the spirit hovers; here the god binds a reed raft – manual work. The Sumerian names him Gilima, "the binder" (EE VII 80).
obv. 10, 27	tâmtum-ma; mātāti appāri apum-ma	ים (היו); הארצות – אגם וסוף (היו)	יִקָּווּ הַמַּיִם מִתַּחַת הַשָּׁמַיִם אֶל מָקוֹם אֶחָד וְתֵרָאֶה הַיַּבָּשָׁה (בראשית א:ט)	[divergence]	The lands pass from sea (10) to marsh and reed-bed (27): gradual emergence, no gathering of the waters, no command. Our proposal (the 10 ↔ 27 pairing).

obv. 18, 31, 32	eperī ibni … išpuk; tamlâ umalli; apa nābala iškun	עפר בנה ושפך; מלוא מלא; סוף ויבשה שׂם	וְתֵרָאֶה הַיַּבָּשָׁה (בראשית א:ט)	[divergence]	The dry land is made by labour – dust built and poured beside the raft, a fill at the sea's edge, dry land "set" – where Gen 1:9 has the medial Nifal "let it appear" (the commentary's "development that happened by itself", 1010-…). Our proposal. 32 rests partly on eBL's restoration.
obv. 32	nābalu (Sum. pa-rim₄)	יבשה	וַיִּקְרָא אֱלֹהִים לַיַּבָּשָׁה אֶרֶץ (בראשית א:י)	[equivalent]	The word itself: dry land as against sea. eBL reads na-ba-la (King na-ma-la "marsh"); the Sumerian pa-rim₄ confirms. Open decision 2.
obv. 24	šumšina ṭābiš imbi (Sum. nam-dug₃ … sa₄)	את שמן היטב קרא	וַיִּקְרָא אֱלֹהִים לַיַּבָּשָׁה אֶרֶץ וּלְמִקְוֵה הַמָּיִם קָרָא יַמִּים; וַיַּרְא אֱלֹהִים כִּי טוֹב (בראשית א:י)	[cognate]	Naming and "good" together, of waters (the rivers). ṭābiš ~ טוֹב; nabû ↔ קָרָא [equivalent]. Our proposal.
obv. 25, 34	uššu ditta appāri qanâ u qīšu ibtani; qanâ iṣa ibtani	קנה־יבש?, גומא? האגם, קנה ויער בנה; קנה, עץ – בנה	תַּדְשֵׁא הָאָרֶץ דֶּשֶׁא (בראשית א:יא)	[divergence]	Plants are "built" by the god (marsh plants and forest); in Gen 1:11 the earth brings them forth.

obv. 22	šikin napišti (Sum. niĝ₂-zi-ĝal₂)	בעלי נפש	תּוֹצֵא הָאָרֶץ נֶפֶשׁ חַיָּה לְמִינָהּ (בראשית א:כד)	[cognate]	napištu = נֶפֶשׁ; the Sumerian "that which has life" ≈ אֲשֶׁר בּוֹ נֶפֶשׁ חַיָּה (א:ל). נֶפֶשׁ חַיָּה itself is reserved.
obv. 28	littu būrša mīru laḫru puḫādsa immer supūri	פרה ועגלה, פר; רחל וטליה, כבש הדיר	וַיַּעַשׂ אֱלֹהִים אֶת חַיַּת הָאָרֶץ לְמִינָהּ וְאֶת הַבְּהֵמָה לְמִינָהּ (בראשית א:כה)	[equivalent]	Wild animals (22) then domestic cattle and sheep (28): the order of Gen 1:25. laḫru = רָחֵל [cognate].
obv. 20	amēlūta ibtani	את האנושות בנה	וַיִּבְרָא אֱלֹהִים אֶת הָאָדָם בְּצַלְמוֹ (בראשית א:כז)	[equivalent]	One line, no material, no purpose, no image; contrast Enūma eliš VI and KAR 4 (blood, toil).
obv. 21	Aruru … ittišu ibtanû	ארורו … עמו בנתה	זָכָר וּנְקֵבָה בָּרָא אֹתָם (בראשית א:כז)	[divergence]	The creators are male and female (Marduk with Aruru); in Gen 1:27 the created.
obv. 30	atūdu šappāru izzazzūšu	העתוד, איל־הבר – עומדים לו	וּרְדוּ בִּדְגַת הַיָּם וּבְעוֹף הַשָּׁמַיִם וּבְכָל חַיָּה הָרֹמֶשֶׂת עַל הָאָרֶץ (בראשית א:כח)	[divergence]	The wild animals stand in the god's service, not under man's rule. Our proposal (izuzzu + dative). The Sumerian says "he made (them) abundant".
obv. 33	[…] uštabši (Sum. mu-un-tuku)	[...] הביא לכלל הוויה	וַיִּבְרָא אֱלֹהִים אֶת הַתַּנִּינִם הַגְּדֹלִים (בראשית א:כא)	[equivalent]	šubšû, the closest Akkadian verb to בָּרָא, once in the text; its object is lost.

obv. 1–9	ul epuš, ul aṣi, ul bani, ul nadât, ul šakin, ul epšet	לא נעשה, לא יצא, לא נבנה, לא הוטלה, לא הושם	וְכֹל שִׂיחַ הַשָּׂדֶה טֶרֶם יִהְיֶה בָּאָרֶץ וְכָל עֵשֶׂב הַשָּׂדֶה טֶרֶם יִצְמָח (בראשית ב:ה)	[divergence]	No "not yet": ul + stative = "was not made". The chain is of culture (house, city, temple, brick, reed) – not of plants, rain and worker.
obv. 26	urqīt ṣēri ibtani	ירק הערבה בנה	וְכָל עֵשֶׂב הַשָּׂדֶה טֶרֶם יִצְמָח (בראשית ב:ה)	[equivalent]	"Green of the steppe" ↔ "herb of the field" (ṣēru ↔ שָׂדֶה); made by the god after man, without rain or labour. urqītu = יֶרֶק [cognate] (אֶת כָּל יֶרֶק עֵשֶׂב, א:ל).

Our proposal.

Proposals for the shared renderings

1. Stative negation: ul + stative = לֹא + Nifal/Hophal, vocalized (לֹא נַעֲשָׂה), never טָרֶם (now texts 2, 5, 6); add to corpus §3 the trap נַעֲשָׂה / נַעֲשָׂה = נעשה.
2. "Dry land": a corpus rule – nābalu / Sum. pa-rim₄, bar-rim₄ "dry land as against water" = יַבָּשָׁה [equivalent, tagged]; bar-rim₄ "arid land" = צִיָּה (text 5).
3. Cognates for guidelines §6.7: rāṭu = רָהַט; tamlû = מָלוֹא; laḫru = רָחֵל; atūdu = עַתּוּד; ṭūb libbi = טוּב לֵב; īnu = עַיִן (spring); karû = כָּרִי (text 7).
4. šikin napišti / Sum. niĝ₂-zi-ĝal₂ = בַּעֲלֵי נָפֶשׁ (keeps נֶפֶשׁ חַיָּה reserved).
5. Ritual pair ellu / ebbu = זַךְ / טָהוֹר (parallel to Sum. kug / sikil); elēlu D = טִהֵר, ubbubu = זִכֵּךְ; agubbû = אַגַּן־הַמַּיִם; gizillû = לַפִּיד; niqnakku = מִקְטֶרֶת.
6. Time: ana ūmī ṣâti = לִימֵי עַד; ana ūmī dārûti = לִימֵי נֶצַח (text 7) – both never לְעוֹלָם.
7. Names (§1): לוּגַל־דּוּכּוּגָה (full form; EE לוּגַל־דּוּכּוּ), אֱזִידָה, נִינְגִּירִימָה, כַּפְּסוּכַל, גִּילִימָה.
8. The {שומרית} / {שומרית: ...} tags for bilinguals → guidelines §6.8.

Lessons for the guidelines

- A bilingual shows the ancient translators' own verb equations: Sum. dim₂ → Akk. banû, du₃ → epēšu, mu₂ "grow" → banû, tuku "acquire" → šubšû. In a bilingual, count the creation verbs per language before building a parallel on one of them.
- An unlemmatised eBL ATF can be a base text: normalize it ourselves and print our normalization beside eBL's transliteration (normalization ‖ ATF), so that the reader can check every choice; parse every word with the eBL API; and say plainly in both headers that no rank-3 translation was available.
- Statives in creation texts must be vocalized: נעשה, נבנה read both as "was made/built" and "let us make/build" – exactly the Gen 1:26 contrast.
- Old editions misread exactly the key words (King: rāṭu "movement", amu "reed", nābalu "marsh"); list them line by line, since the comparative literature (Heidel, Gunkel) argued from them.
- check_bible_quotes.py: a backticked non-biblical word followed by a reference in parentheses is checked as a quotation (and fails); keep our renderings and references apart.

Text 7: KAR 4

Scope

- Text: KAR 4, the bilingual Sumerian–Akkadian account of the creation of man ("When heaven had been separated from earth"; older title "the creation of man from the blood of the Lamga gods"). Three manuscripts (SEAL): A VAT 9307 (Assur, Middle Assyrian; scribe Kidin-Sîn, apprentice, son of the king's scribe Sutê), the only complete one; B K 4175 + Sm 57 + 80-7-19,184 (+) 82-3-23,146 (Nineveh, Ashurbanipal's library); C A 17643 (Chicago; eBL writes A 17634), a few lines (25–29). In A and B each line is preceded by a column of the Syllable Alphabet (a school exercise; not translated); B's colophon calls the tablet "tablet 2 of ME.ME PAP.PAP", i.e. part of a scholastic compilation headed by the syllabary.
- Lines: all 84 entries – obv. 1–9, 9a (B only), 10–41; rev. 1–30; colophon A rev. 31–32; colophon B 1–10. Labels: SEAL's numbers with `obv.`/`rev.` prefixes (SEAL restarts at rev. 1); colophon B numbered by us in SEAL's order (eBL: K 4175 col. 4, 5–10). One entry per composite line; manuscript differences in the apparatus.
- Files: `annotated-7-KAR-4.rtl.md` (header; 9 sections; per line SEAL's Akkadian transliteration by manuscript, then the Sumerian, eBL's readings where they differ; parsing with our normalization; SEAL's translation; parallels; notes); `translation-7-KAR-4.rtl.md` (introduction, 19 footnotes), generated from the annotated file; `python3 -I verify.py 7` → OK.
- Content: after heaven was separated from earth, the gods and goddesses "dwelt" (?), the earth was "built", the designs of heaven and earth made firm, dykes and canals ordered, the banks of Tigris and Euphrates set (1–6); An, Enlil, Utu (Šamaš), Enki (Ea), the Anunna(kkū) sit on the lofty dais and deliberate (7–11); "the designs of heaven and earth … dyke and canal … Tigris and Euphrates – they are established: what shall we do? what shall we build?" (12–20); the gods answer Enlil: "In Uzumua, the bond of heaven and earth, let us slaughter the Illa-Alla gods; from their blood let us build mankind; the quota of the gods shall be their quota" – to establish the boundary for ever, to put hoe and basket in their hands, to mark out meadow by meadow, keep the dyke straight, make plants flourish, rain (21–41); to establish the boundary, heap grain, [three lines "broken" in the scribe's original], make the field of the Anunnakkū prosper, multiply abundance, perfect the gods' festivals, pour cold water (rev. 1–10); Ullegarra and Annegarra – you shall name their names; ox, sheep, animals, fish and birds, abundance to sprout; En-ul and Nin-ul honoured with pure mouth (11–16); Bēlet-ilī (Sum. Aruru), worthy of lordship, and the gods design great designs: craftsman and fool, sprouting from the earth like barley by themselves – unchangeable as the eternal stars; festivals day and night (17–25); An, Enlil, Ea and Ninmaḫ, the great gods; where mankind was built, Nisaba is established (26–30); colophons.

Sources consulted

- Rank 1: SEAL 1600 (`../../sources/SEAL/KAR-4/node-1600--KAR-4.md`), checked line by line against eBL's transliterations of A (`../../sources/eBL-fragmentarium/atf/VAT.9307.atf`) and B (`K.4175.atf`).
- Rank 2: eBL dictionary API (miṣru, īku, palgu, ugāru, karû, qarānu, naqû, kaṣû, isinnu, dešû, ummiānu, banû II and IV, nakāru, urru, šubtu, rabbû, ramānu, kilallān, izuzzu, ṭabāḫu, zakāru, uṣurtu, eṣēru, ešēru, rabû II, šuklulu, mūdû, pirištu, šiāmu, kânu/kunnu, bēlūtu); corpus, Enūma eliš and flood renderings (riksu מוֹסָרָה, uṣurtu צוּרָה, eṣēru צֶר, ṭabāḫu טָבַח, dešû D הִדְשִׁיא, nakāru Dt הוּמַר, isinnu חַג, ḫegallu שָׂפַע, ummânu אָמָּן, zunnu גֶּשֶׁם, apālu עָנָה); texts 1–5 (eš₂-gar₃ מִכְסָה, al מַעְדֵּר, dusu סַל, e/pa₅ תְּעָלָה/סוֹלְלָה, a-gar₃ שְׁדֵמָה, Uzumua, Duranki, Nisaba, Ninmaḫ, SIG₇ in text 5); Enūma eliš VI 1–38 and Atra-ḫasīs I (the slain god's blood).
- Rank 3, after each line's own reading: SEAL's English translation; every departure noted under תרגומים (e.g. 1 "already" not in the Sumerian; 26 "(C the first one)" for saĝ "head(s) = people"; 30 "cherished" for kunnat).
- Not available: Lambert 2013 (350–360, pl. 65–66), Pettinato 1971 (Das altorientalische Menschenbild, 74ff.), Heidel 1951, Landsberger 1933; no pirate copies were searched for.

Decisions

1. Bilingual convention as text 6 (Decision 1): the Akkadian line is translated; {שומרית} for the Sumerian-only lines (obv. 1–6, 9a, 39–41; colophon B 1–2); restorations from the parallel half or the other manuscript are named in the apparatus (obv. 7–9: Akkadian names restored from the Sumerian; obv. 9 "great" preserved in B).
2. Labels obv. N / rev. N (SEAL restarts the numbering on the reverse), obv. 9a (B only), colophon A = SEAL rev. 31–32, colophon B = colophon B 1–10 (our numbering, SEAL's order).
3. obv. 16–17 (and 19–20): SEAL and B followed against eBL's transliteration of A. SEAL reads A 16 nītepuš, 17 nibni; eBL reads A 16 nīpuš, 17 nītepuš; B has nīpuš / nibni. The Hebrew of 16 is the same either way (מה נַעֲשֶׂה?); מה נִבְנֶה = 17? with SEAL and B (and with the Sumerian dim₂, which the bilingual tradition renders by banû). B's variants (19 nušbalkit "overturn", 20 nibbi "name") are in the apparatus only.
4. mīnâ i nīpuš* = מה נַעֲשֶׂה? – epēšu = עָשָׂה (corpus) + the Akkadian cohortative: the meaning, not an allusion; tagged [equivalent] ↔ Gen 1:26 (no cognacy). Vocalized in 16 and 19 (identical Akkadian, identical Hebrew).
5. iškāru* (Sum. eš₂-gar₃) = מִכְסָה ("work quota", text 4) – not עָמָל: the brief expected dullu = עָמָל, but dullu does not occur in KAR 4. Never the root עבד.
6. The slain gods: {d}NAGAR-{d}NAGAR = אִילָה־אַלָּה (eBL's reading Illa Alla, hyphenated as one pair); SEAL E₁₀?-Illa?, Lambert "Alla", older "Lamga" in the apparatus (open decision 2).
7. kânu* D = כּוֹנֵן (38 ,36 ,29 ,15, rev. 1, 30 מְכוֹנֶנֶת); one deviation by meaning: rev. 16 uktannū with gods as object and "with pure mouth" = "honoured" → הוֹקִירוּ? (CAD kunnu "to treat with honour").

8. banû* II (D bunnû "make beautiful", rev. 20) = לְיַפּוֹת? (as Adapa's banû "beautiful" = יָפֶה), kept apart from banû IV = בָּנָה; the note explains that the Akkadian renders Sum. SIG₇ "sprout" by banû – the equation that bears on text 5 (open decision 2 there) and on obv. 2 here.
9. SIG₇ in obv. 2 = se₁₂ "to dwell (pl.)", שׁוֹכְנִים? (marû → participle), with SEAL ("lived") and text 5's שָׁכְנוּ?.
10. Names of the first humans: אוּלָגַרָה and אַנָּגַרָה, transliterated; the meanings ("placed for distant time", "whom An placed", both with ĝar "place") in the note. šuma zakāru Gtn = תַּזְכִּיר ותזכיר (corpus šuma zakāru = הִזְכִּיר שֵׁם; not קָרָא, which stays for nabû).
11. Time: ana ūmī dārûti = לִימֵי נֶצַח (dārû = נָצַח, text 1), never לָעוֹלָם (reserved for the Gen 3:22 comparison); urra u mūša = יוֹמָם וָלַיְלָה.
12. Scribal note *ḫepi (rev. 3–5) = "שָׁבוּר" (הסופר כתב:) – the parentheses mark the added words, the quotation marks the scribe's own word.
13. Fixed words: uṣurtu = צוּרָה (pl. צוּרוֹת), eṣēru D = צָר (לָצוּר (צורתן); צָרוּ in 34, so that it is not read "besiege"); riksu = מוֹסֵרָה (EE; קשר = kaṣāru); miṣru = גְּבוּל; īku / palgu = תְּעָלָה / סוֹלְלָה (palgu = פֶּלֶג since the 2026-10-23 harmonization, obv. 13); ugāru = שְׂדֵמָה; eqlu = שָׂדֶה; allu = מַעְדֵּר; tupšikku = סֵל; šakānu / ĝar = שָׂם (vocalized); ešēru Št = יִשֵּׁר; karû = כְּרִי [cognate]; qarānu = עָרַם (restored); rabû D = הִרְבָּה; dešû D = הִדְשִׁיא [cognate]; isinnu = חַג; šuklulu = שִׂכְלֵל; naqû = נָסַךְ; parakku = דּוּכָן; ṣīru = נַעֲלָה; šulukat = רָאוּי; šubtu = מוֹשָׁב; būlu = חַיָּה; ummânu = אֻמָּן; nuʾû = בּוּר (the Mishnaic word, Avot 2:5; Ps 92:7 has the near-synonym בַּעַר from another root); bēlūtu = אֲדָנוּת; pirištu = סוֹד; niṣirtu = נְצוּרָה [cognate]; mūdû = הַיּוֹדֵעַ; kullumu = הֶרְאָה; apālu = עָנָה; izuzzu = עָמַד; wašābu = יָשַׁב; ina ramāni- = מֵעַצְמוֹ / בְּעַצְמָם.
14. Names: in a bilingual line the Akkadian name stands in the Hebrew (renderings §1): אָנוּ, אֱנְלִיל, שַׁמַּשׁ (Sum. אֶרוּרוּ), אֲאָה, הָאֲנוּנָכִי, בֵּלֶת־אִילִי; נִינְמַח, נִיסַבָּה; Sum.-only lines keep the Sumerian forms. אוּזוּמוּאָה (text 4's variant form), אֵן־אוּל, נִין־אוּל, קִידִין־סִין, סוּטֵי, אַשּׁוּר־בָּנִי־אַפְלִי.
15. Colophon B 7 enūma ilu a[wīlu] rendered as Atra-Ḫasīs I 1 (כשהאלים (היו) [אדם]), with ? for the singular spelling; interpreted as the catch-line to the next tablet (our reading of the colophon's structure).
16. Letter-sequence check of the > lines: no ברא, בראש, שבת, דמות, נשמ, עבד, אדמ, טרם, עדן, לעולם only as the vocalized cohortative נַעֲשֶׂה (16, 19, Decision 4); קרא; צָרוּ, נִבְנָתָה/נִבְנָה, שָׁם ("there", 21) vocalized.

Open decisions for the user

1. Collate A obv. 16–17 (SEAL nītepuš / nibni vs eBL nīpuš / nītepuš; CDLI photo P282595). The Hebrew of 17 depends on it (מה נִבְנָה? followed).
2. The name of the slain gods: אִילָה־אַלָּה (eBL, followed), הָאַלָּה ("the Alla gods", Lambert; the brief's name) or the older לַמְגָּה.
3. obv. 11 Sumerian šu gi₄-gi₄ "they repeated" (SEAL) vs eBL's emendation ad!(ŠU) gi₄-gi₄ "they took counsel" – decides whether the text itself has a divine council's "deliberation" (Gen 1:26). The Hebrew follows the Akkadian (ישבו, ובעצמם [...]) and is unaffected.
4. rev. 16 הוֹקִירוּ? (followed, "honoured") or the fixed כּוֹנְנוּ.

5. rev. 20 `לְיַפּוֹת?` (SEAL's banû II) or a rendering that shows the translators' equation SIG$_7$ = banû ("to be built/created"); to be decided together with text 5's open decision 2 and obv. 2 here (`שׁוֹכְנִים?` vs "sprouting").
6. obv. 27 `מִכְסָה` (followed) or `עָמָל` (the corpus word for the gods' toil, dullu), which would align KAR 4 with Atra-ḫasīs and Enūma eliš but hide the difference of words.
7. Buy or borrow Lambert 2013 (350–360) and Pettinato 1971: for 1–6, 9a, 10–11, 16–17, 25, 39–41, rev. 2, 11 (the names), 16, 19–21 and the colophon B catch-line.
8. Print stub and the combined `translation.rtl.md` are the coordinator's.

Progress log

- Drafting (2026-10-17): all 84 entries, from SEAL's lines (A, then B, C), each checked against eBL's ATF of A and B; Akkadian normalized and parsed word by word (eBL API); the Sumerian parsed briefly; SEAL's translation read after each line; the distribution of banû (17, 20, 26, rev. 29), epēšu (16, 19), kânu (15, 29, 36, 38, rev. 1, 16, 30), eṣēru/uṣurtu (4, 12, 34, rev. 18, 24–25), šakānu (31, colophon B 6) and ṭabāḫu (25) counted; Enūma eliš VI 33 and Atra-ḫasīs I 204 compared for the blood lines (`בדמו בנה את האנושות` , `אל אחד יטבחו`).
- Review (a) fidelity: obv. 9a `[הטהור]` → `הטהור` (the root ku$_3$ restored by SEAL); obv. 9 `[האלים]` `הגדולים` checked (B preserves "great"); brackets of 37, 38, rev. 1, 2, 7, 18–19 set by root; SEAL lemma slips recorded (14 ù lemmatized as ūmu "day"; rev. 17 be-lu-te as bēltu instead of bēlūtu); SEAL's translation departures noted (1, 26, 30).
- Review (b) consistency: identical Akkadian = identical Hebrew checked as strings: 16 = 19 and 17 = 20 (vocalization made identical: `מה נִּבְנָה` , `מה נַּעֲשֶׂה?`), 38 ,36 = 29 ,35 = 28 = rev. 1, rev. 8 = 23, obv. 32–33 ~ rev. 10, rev. 18 ~ 24–25; renderings against texts 1–6, EE and Atra-ḫasīs (26 = EE VI 33 in the cohortative); four Bible quotations fixed (1 Kgs 22:19 `עֹמֵד`, a Joshua quotation removed because the checker resolves `יהושע` as Hosea, the Ezra reference to Asnapar rephrased, a bare `לְעוֹלָם` rephrased).
- Review (c) Hebrew: 21 `(שם)` → `(שָׁם)` (else read as `שֵׁם`, the šakānu word); 26 `בְּדָמָם` vocalized; 34 `את חדקל ואת פרת` 14 ; `לָצוּר (צורתן)` – with the object marker for the Hebrew syntax of 14–15; the purpose chain 28–41 and rev. 1–10 kept as infinitive phrases, line by line, without smoothing.
- Checks: `python3 -I verify.py 7` → OK (84 entries; translation = annotated `>` lines). `tools/check_bible_quotes.py` on both files → 0 problems. Reserved-word grep: Decision 16.

obv. 1	Sum. an ki-ta … bad-a-ta	השמים מן הארץ הופרדו	וַיַּבְדֵּל בֵּין הַמַּיִם אֲשֶׁר מִתַּחַת לָרָקִיעַ וּבֵין הַמַּיִם אֲשֶׁר מֵעַל לָרָקִיעַ (בראשית א:ז)	[equivalent]	The separation of heaven and earth is a given at the opening (as in the Song of the Hoe), not a narrated act; never הִבְדִּיל.
obv. 15, 29, 36; rev. 30	ukinnū; miṣra ana kunni; kunnat	כוננו; גבול לכונן; מכוננת	וַיְהִי כֵן (בראשית א:ט)	[cognate]	kânu = כון: the world's designs, rivers, boundaries "made firm"; the root of כֵּן.
rev. 14	ḫegalla ina māti ana dušê	שפע בארץ – להדשיא	תַּדְשֵׁא הָאָרֶץ דֶּשֶׁא (בראשית א:יא)	[cognate]	dešû D = הדשיא – but here man makes the abundance sprout by his work.
obv. 11	ūšibū-ma ina ramānišunu; Sum. ad!(ŠU) gi₄-gi₄ (eBL)	ישבו, ובעצמם […]	וַיֹּאמֶר אֱלֹהִים נַעֲשֶׂה אָדָם (בראשית א:כו)	[equivalent]	The gods sit on the dais and (by eBL's emendation) "take counsel" before creating man. Open decision 3.
obv. 16, 19	mīnâ i nīpuš	מה נעשה?	וַיֹּאמֶר אֱלֹהִים נַעֲשֶׂה אָדָם בְּצַלְמֵנוּ כִּדְמוּתֵנוּ (בראשית א:כו)	[equivalent]	Key parallel: the verb "to make" (epēšu) in the 1st person plural cohortative, spoken by the gods before man is made. Not cognate. Here a question ("what?"), answered by other gods (23–26); there a decision.

Line	Original	Hebrew rendering	Bible	Tag	Comment
obv. 17, 20	mīnâ i nibni	מה נבנה?	נַעֲשֶׂה אָדָם (בראשית א:כו)	[equivalent]	The pair "make … build" (16–17) ↔ נַעֲשֶׂה (א:כו) … וַיִּבְרָא (א:כז). B's 20 nibbi "what shall we name?" joins creating and naming. Rests on SEAL and B against eBL's reading of A (open decision 1).
obv. 23	kilallūšunu Ellil ippalū	שניהם ענו לאנליל	וַיֹּאמֶר אֱלֹהִים נַעֲשֶׂה אָדָם (בראשית א:כו)	[divergence]	A dialogue in a council: Enlil asks, the two groups of gods answer; in Gen 1:26 one speaker, no answer.
obv. 26	ina damēšunu i nibnâ amēlūta	בדמם נבנה את האנושות	נַעֲשֶׂה אָדָם (בראשית א:כו)	[equivalent] / [divergence]	The plural resolution to build man – from the blood of slain gods. Same Hebrew as EE VI 33 (בדמו בנה את האנושות).
rev. 13	alpī immerī būla nūnī u iṣṣūrī	שור, צאן, חיה, דגים וציפורים	וְיִרְדּוּ בִדְגַת הַיָּם וּבְעוֹף הַשָּׁמַיִם וּבַבְּהֵמָה (בראשית א:כו)	[divergence]	The same list (cattle, fish, birds) tied to man's creation – man breeds them for the gods; he does not rule them. iṣṣūru (MUŠEN, Sum. mušen) = צִפּוֹר [cognate], where Genesis has עוֹף (harmonization 2026-10-21; was ועופות).

rev. 11	Ullegarra Annegarra	אולגרה ואנגרה	זָכָר וּנְקֵבָה בָּרָא אֹתָם (בראשית א:כז)	[divergence]	Two first humans with two names; whether a pair of male and female is not said.
rev. 15	Enul Ninul	אן־אול ונין־אול	זָכָר וּנְקֵבָה בָּרָא אֹתָם (בראשית א:כז)	[equivalent]	A lord/lady pair – of primeval gods, not of humans. Weak.
rev. 7	ḫegalla ina māti ana r[ubb]î	שפע בארץ [להרבות]	פְּרוּ וּרְבוּ וּמִלְאוּ אֶת הָאָרֶץ (בראשית א:כח)	[cognate] / [divergence]	rabû D ~ רבה (restored): man multiplies the land's abundance, not himself.
rev. 23	A isinnī ilī ana šuklulim; B ištu šīmta išīmū	חגי האלים לשכלל	וַיְכַל אֱלֹהִים בַּיּוֹם הַשְּׁבִיעִי מְלַאכְתּוֹ אֲשֶׁר עָשָׂה (בראשית ב:ב)	[divergence]	"To complete": man completes the gods' festivals; God completes his work.
rev. 8, 22	isinnī ilī; urra u mūša	חגי האלים; יומם ולילה	וַיְבָרֶךְ אֱלֹהִים אֶת יוֹם הַשְּׁבִיעִי וַיְקַדֵּשׁ אֹתוֹ (בראשית ב:ג)	[divergence]	Holy time: the gods' rest in Genesis; the gods' festivals as man's task here.
obv. 1, 4, 6	Sum. u₄ … -a-ba	ביום אשר	בְּיוֹם עֲשׂוֹת יְהוָה אֱלֹהִים אֶרֶץ וְשָׁמָיִם (בראשית ב:ד)	[equivalent]	"On the day when" opening a creation account (as text 5).
obv. 27	iškar ilī lū iškaršina	מכסת האלים – תהי מכסתן	וְאָדָם אַיִן לַעֲבֹד אֶת הָאֲדָמָה (בראשית ב:ה)	[divergence]	Man is created to work – as in Gen 2:5 – but the work is the gods' quota, for the gods.

obv. 41	Sum. {im}šeĝ₃ {im}šeĝ₃	גשם, גשם	כִּי לֹא הִמְטִיר יְהוָה אֱלֹהִים עַל הָאָרֶץ וְאָדָם אַיִן לַעֲבֹד אֶת הָאֲדָמָה (בראשית ב:ה)	[equivalent]	Rain and the worker side by side, in the list of man's tasks; Gen 2:5 lacks both. Sumerian only. Our proposal.
obv. 39; rev. 6	Sum. u₂ ḫi-a; eqel Anunnakī	צמחים שונים; שדה האנונכי	וְכָל עֵשֶׂב הַשָּׂדֶה טֶרֶם יִצְמָח (בראשית ב:ה)	[divergence]	Plants and fields as the work of man – on the field of the gods.
obv. 5, 13, 37	īka u palga; īka ana šutēšuri	סוללה ופלג (5 ;13, from the Sumerian: סוללה ותעלה); סוללה [ליישר]	וְאֵד יַעֲלֶה מִן הָאָרֶץ וְהִשְׁקָה אֶת כָּל פְּנֵי הָאֲדָמָה (בראשית ב:ו)	[divergence]	Irrigation by dykes and canals, kept by man; in Gen 2:6 water rises by itself.
obv. 25–26	Illa-Alla i niṭbuḫa; ina damēšunu	את אילה־ אלה נטבחה; בדמם	וַיִּיצֶר יְהוָה אֱלֹהִים אֶת הָאָדָם עָפָר מִן הָאֲדָמָה (בראשית ב:ז)	[divergence]	Blood alone, from slain gods – no clay (unlike Atra-ḫasīs I), no dust, no guilt (unlike EE VI's Qingu). ṭabāḫu = טבח [cognate].
obv. 26 (Sum.); rev. 20	mu₂-mu₂-e-de₃; kīma še'im ana ramānišu ana bunnî (Sum. ki-ta sig₇)	(:בשומרית להצמיח); כשעורה, מעצמו, ליפות?	וַיִּיצֶר יְהוָה אֱלֹהִים אֶת הָאָדָם עָפָר מִן הָאֲדָמָה (בראשית ב:ז)	[divergence]	In the Sumerian, mankind "grows" from the blood and sprouts from the earth "like barley, by themselves" (as in the Song of the Hoe).

obv. 30	alla u tupšikka	מעדר וסל	בְּזֵעַת אַפֶּיךָ תֹּאכַל לֶחֶם (בראשית ג:יט)	[divergence]	The tools are given at creation; in Genesis hard labour comes after the expulsion.
rev. 20	kīma še'im … (Sum. ki-ta)	כשעורה, מעצמו	עַד שׁוּבְךָ אֶל הָאֲדָמָה כִּי מִמֶּנָּה לֻקָּחְתָּ (בראשית ג:יט)	[divergence]	Man comes from the earth like grain (Sumerian).
rev. 17	Bēlet-ilī (Sum. Aruru)	בלת־אילי	כִּי הִוא הָיְתָה אֵם כָּל חָי (בראשית ג:כ)	[equivalent]	The mother goddess "worthy of lordship" designs mankind with the gods.
rev. 12	šumēšunu tazzanakkar	את שמותם תזכיר ותזכיר	וַיִּקְרָא הָאָדָם שֵׁם אִשְׁתּוֹ חַוָּה (בראשית ג:כ)	[divergence]	The verb is zakāru "to pronounce, remember" (Gtn, "keep naming"), not nabû: names to be recited, not only given.
obv. 11, 16	the gods' council	ישבו, ובעצמם; מה נעשה?	הֵן הָאָדָם הָיָה כְּאַחַד מִמֶּנּוּ (בראשית ג:כב)	[equivalent]	Divine plural.
obv. 28, 35	ana ūmī dārûti	לימי נצח	וְאָכַל וָחַי לְעֹלָם (בראשית ג:כב)	[divergence]	"Eternity" belongs to man's labour ("for days of eternity"), not to his life.

Proposals for the shared renderings

1. Corpus §2/§3: iškāru / Sum. eš₂-gar₃ = מִכְסָה, next to dullu = עָמָל and šupšikku/tupšikku = סַל; allu = מַעְדֵּר (Akkadian, as Sum. al).
2. epēšu* cohortative = נַעֲשֶׂה (always vocalized), tagged ↔ Gen 1:26; and the stative נַעֲשָׂה vocalized (text 6).
3. banû* II (be beautiful; D bunnû) = יְפֶה / יָפָה, kept apart from banû IV = בָּנָה; record the scholarly equation SIG₇ = banû (KAR 4 rev. 20) in the corpus file, for text 5's open decision 2.
4. miṣru = גְּבוּל; ana ūmī dārûti = לִימֵי נָצַח; urra u mūša = יוֹמָם וָלָיְלָה.
5. karû = כְּרִי [cognate] and niṣirtu = נְצוּרָה [cognate] for guidelines §6.7.

6. šuma zakāru Gtn = doubled verb תַּזְכִּיר וְתַזְכִּיר (as Adapa's ṣiāḫu Gtn).
7. Names (§1): אֵילָה־אַלָּה (open decision 2), נִין־אוּל, אֵן־אוּל, אַנֻּגְרָה, אוּלֻּגַרָה; Uzumua אוּזוּמוּאָה confirmed for KAR 4.

Lessons for the guidelines

- Compare the two digital transliterations of the key verbs: SEAL and eBL disagree on A obv. 16–17 – exactly the "what shall we make? what shall we build?" lines; a third witness (B) and the Sumerian decided provisionally. Record such disagreements as open decisions (collation by photo).
- SEAL lemma slips again (obv. 14 ù = ūmu "day"; rev. 17 bēltu for bēlūti; obv. 21 B rabîš for GAL{meš}): parse the form.
- Colophons carry catch-lines that link texts: KAR 4 B ends with enūma ilu a[wīlu], the incipit of Atra-ḫasīs – a Nineveh compilation put the creation of man from slain gods' blood immediately before the Atra-ḫasīs epic. Read colophons as data for the corpus, not as appendices.
- School copies: a syllable-alphabet column beside a literary text (A, B) means the text was a school exercise; eBL then catalogues the tablet as a "list" – search eBL by transliteration, not only by genre.
- `check_bible_quotes.py` bug: the book key drops י and ו, so `יהושע` resolves to `הושע` (Hosea); a reference like `ד:י` after any backticked word is checked as Genesis. Tool fix needed (or quote Joshua elsewhere).

Coordinator: status, harmonization and open decisions (2026-10-17)

Status

All seven texts are drafted, each with three review passes by its translator, and reviewed by the coordinator (spot checks of the key lines, `verify.py`, `check_bible_quotes.py`):

N	Text	Entries	Notes
1	Adapa	175 (MB 78, SB 97)	eBL `L/1/7`
2	Enki and Ninḫursaĝa	305	ETCSL 1.1.1 + Ur ms. P346086 (ORACC preserves only 1–23, 49A–V, 251–268 of it)
3	Enki and Ninmaḫ	142	ETCSL 1.1.2; the NA bilingual version is not in our sources
4	Song of the Hoe	110	ETCSL 5.5.4
5	Grain and Sheep	193 (whole debate)	ETCSL 5.3.2 (no ORACC text)
6	Founding of Eridu (BM 93014)	67 (obv. 40, rev. 27′)	eBL fragmentarium; no modern edition available to us
7	KAR 4	84 (obv. 42, rev. 32, colophon 10)	SEAL 1600, checked against eBL VAT 9307 / K 4175

1,076 lines in all. `translation.rtl.md` is generated by `build_translation.py` (header `build_translation--head.rtl.md`); print stub `../../טקסטי-בריאה-ועדן/2-המסופוטמיים/סיפורי-הבריאה/הדפסה.rtl.md`. The seven parallels indexes are merged into `../parallels-index.md` (by `../1-אנומה-אליש/build_parallels_index.py`, extended for project 2; key findings for project 2 written there), and the proposals for the shared renderings into `../renderings.md` §5.

Harmonization by the coordinator

- Spelling: `שמים` (texts 3–4 had `שמיים`), `תהילה` (text 2 had `תהלה`).
- Checked across all seven texts: no `עולם`, `טרם`, `אדמה` or root עבד in any Hebrew line (the cross-text rules of `../renderings.md` §5).
- Known small inconsistency left for the user: Sum. numun₂ is `אַסְפָּסֶת?` in text 3 (43) and `חַלְפָּה` in text 4.
- `tools/check_bible_quotes.py` fixed: the book key dropped the matres, so `יהושע` resolved as `הושע` (found by the text 6–7 translator).
- 2026-10-21, cross-corpus harmonization (the lead's decisions on STATUS.md §6; corpus `renderings.md` §8): mušen = `צִפּוֹר` – Enki and Ninḫursaĝa 18 `ציפור השמים` → `עוף השמים ... אינו אוכל` `אינה אוכלת ...` (note: Ps 8:9 `צִפּוֹר שָׁמַיִם`), the Song of the Hoe 83 `ציפור האל היא` → `עוף האל הוא`, KAR 4 rev. 13 `וציפורים` → `ועופות` (iṣṣūru = MUŠEN, [cognate]); the Hoe 12 got the first-occurrence [equivalent] note on `סַפִּיר` (Exod 24:10, Ezek 1:26, Job 28:6); Inana `אִינַנָּה` also in the apparatus and the Hoe heading 49–51 (was `אינאנה`); Eridu rev. 19′ note on tu₆ / tû; Eridu open decision 7 settled. Already in line: `פּוּךְ`, `סַפִּיר` (E&Nḫ 230), `כְּרִי`, `הַ־מָּה`, `וְזִיר`.

Open decisions for the user (the most important; details in each text's section)

1. Sources to buy or borrow: Izre'el 2001 (Adapa), Attinger 1984 (Enki and Ninḫursaĝa), Ceccarelli 2016 / Klein 1997 (Enki and Ninmaḫ, incl. the bilingual), Farber 1997 (Hoe), Alster & Vanstiphout 1987 (Grain and Sheep), Lambert 2013 (Founding of Eridu and KAR 4; also Enūma eliš), Ambos 2004, Pettinato 1971. Lambert 2013 alone would cover texts 6–7 and check project 1.
2. Enki and Ninḫursaĝa 220: "swore an oath" (followed: nam-erim₂ kud) or the traditional "cursed".
3. Grain and Sheep 27, 39: grain and sheep "dwelt" with the gods (ETCSL's lemma, followed) or were "created" (ETCSL's translation); KAR 4 rev. 20 (SIG₇ = banû) bears on it.
4. Enki and Ninmaḫ: add the biblical disability word in parentheses (`(עִוֵּר =)`) or keep the Sumerian description only (followed); tiru `אִישׁ־חָצֵר` or `סָרִיס`.
5. Adapa MB 75′: "you shall not live!" as a statement (followed) or Foster's question; MB 15′ and 58′ readings.
6. Song of the Hoe: Uzuea (edition, followed) or the familiar Uzumua in the lines; ki `הארץ` (followed) or `קרקע`.
7. KAR 4: the slain gods' name (Illa-Alla, followed; Alla; Lamga); obv. 11 "repeated" (SEAL) or "took counsel" (eBL emendation: decides whether the text has a deliberating council); obv. 16–17 to be collated on the photo.
8. Corpus-wide: ṭeḫû (`נָגַשׁ` here, `קָרַב` in Enūma eliš); šipru (`מְלָאכָה` / `פֹּעַל`, project 1); the `{שומרית}` tag for Sumerian-only lines of bilinguals.

Not done / skipped

- The Sumerian Adapa (Meturan, Nippur) and the NA bilingual Enki and Ninmaḫ: not in eBL/ETCSL/ORACC as we have them.
- The Ur manuscript of Enki and Ninḫursaĝa could be compared only where ORACC has it (not for the water, the plants or the oath).
