Read `../../translation-guidelines.md` first, then `../corpus.md` and the shared `../renderings.md`. This file holds only what is specific to this text.

Scope

- Text: the Sumerian Flood Story, ETCSL 1.7.4 = ORACC epsd2/literary Q000357 ("Eridu Genesis" is Jacobsen's 1981 name). The whole surviving text: 89 composite lines in five segments (A–E), about 89 of an original ~300 lines.
- Plus the Ur manuscript P346146 (UET 6/1 61+503+691+701; Peterson, JCS 70, 2018): 32 line-stubs, translated as a separate section (see Decisions §3).
- Content: (lost beginning) → a god's speech about restoring mankind and having cities built (A 1–10) → An, Enlil, Enki and Ninḫursaĝa create the "black-headed" people and the animals (A 11–14) → kingship descends from heaven; five cities are given to five gods (B) → (lost: the reason for the flood) → the gods' oath; Inana laments; Enki deliberates; Ziusudra, the pious king; the warning through the wall (C) → (lost: building and loading the boat) → seven days and seven nights of flood; Utu's light enters the boat; the sacrifice (D) → the oath "by the life of heaven and earth"; the animals come out; Ziusudra prostrates himself before An and Enlil, receives "life like a god", and is settled in Dilmun "where the sun rises" (E) → (lost end).

Base text and manuscripts

- Base text (rank 1): ETCSL c.1.7.4 (Black, Cunningham, Zólyomi et al., revised 2006; composite after Civil 1969 and Jacobsen 1981). `../../sources/ETCSL/1.7.4--Flood-Story/` (`transliteration.md`, `translation.md`, `c.1.7.4.xml`). The XML is authoritative.
- Lexical/morphological data (rank 2):
  - ORACC Q000357 CDL JSON: per-word ePSD2 lemma, sense, base and morphological analysis (e.g. `mu.n:~;eš.a,bi.a`), extracted with a scratch script (`python3 -I`) from `../../sources/ORACC/epsd2-literary--Q000357--Flood-Story/Q000357.cdl.json`. The `morph` field is the best available guide to ḫamṭu/marû and to the prefix chain; it was used for every line.
  - ETCSL's own lemmatisation (`<w lemma label>` in `../../sources/ETCSL/_bulk/etcsl-unzipped/etcsl/transliterations/c.1.7.4.xml`), and ETCSL corpus-wide searches for parallels of rare words (`kab₂ dug₄`, `na de₅`, `ĝizzal ak`, `zi an-na`).
  - ePSD2 glossary (`../../sources/ORACC/_bulk/epsd2-literary.zip` → `gloss-sux.json`), read in place with `python3 -I`.
- Manuscripts:
  - N = CBS 10673 (+10867), Nippur, OB. Six columns of ~50 lines; only the lower third survives. The only manuscript of the ETCSL composite. Hand copy Poebel 1914 (PBS 5 no. 1); first edition Poebel 1914 (PBS 4/1, pp. 9–70).
  - Ur = P346146 (UET 6/1 61+...), OB, Ur. ORACC transliteration only (after Peterson 2018); not lemmatised; no correlation to the composite given.
  - Not available: MS 3026 (Schøyen; Volk, unpublished); CT 46, 5 (bilingual; Civil 1969: 138 suggests it may belong to the gap in col. iii); STVC 87 B (content similarity only).
- Comparison translations (rank 3–5), consulted only after drafting each line: ETCSL English (`translation.md`); Civil's numbering and short Spanish renderings of C 18–23, D 1–2, D 9–11 quoted by Jiménez Zamudio 2002 (`../../sources/Comparative-studies/Jimenez-Zamudio-2002--.../`); Poebel 1914 (historical: "Ziugiddu", Šamaš); paraphrase in Hammerly-Dupuy 1968. Civil 1969, Jacobsen 1981/1987, Kramer 1983, Römer 1993 (TUAT), Chen 2013 and Peterson 2018 are not in hand (`../../sources/_records-only--Sumerian-flood-secondary/`).

Line numbering

Primary: ETCSL segment + line (`A 1` … `E 12`) = ORACC `Seg.A, 1`. The Hebrew files keep the Latin segment letter (`A1`, `C20`), never a Hebrew letter, which would be read as a numeral; Civil's number follows in parentheses.

Map to Civil's numbering (Lambert & Millard 1969, followed by Kramer 1983, Jiménez Zamudio 2002) and to the tablet columns:

ETCSL	Civil	Column of N	Lost before (ETCSL "approx.")
A 1–14	37–50	i (end)	36 (Civil 1–36)
B 1–18	83–100	ii (end)	32 (Civil 51–82)
C 1–16	135–150	iii (end)	34 (Civil 101–134)
C 17–28	151–162	iv (beginning)	none: C 16/17 is only the turn of the tablet from obverse to reverse
D 1–17	201–217	v (beginning)	38 (Civil 163–200)
E 1–12	251–262	vi (beginning)	33 (Civil 218–250)
—	263–c. 300	vi (rest)	38 after E 12

How it was established:

- Civil = ETCSL + offset is verified for C (Jiménez Zamudio quotes C 18–23 as Civil 152–157) and D (D 1–2 = 201–202, D 9–11 = 209–211). A 1 = 37 follows from the 36 lost lines; E 1 = 251 from D 17 = 217 + 33.
- B: ETCSL's manuscript list says "84–100", but the gap counts (A 14 = 50, + 32 lost → B 1 = 83; B 18 = 100, + 34 → C 1 = 135, verified) require B 1 = 83. Either B 1 (a mere trace) is unnumbered in Civil, or the list is off by one. Treat B as 83/84–100 (±1).
- The six columns of 50 lines (300 in all) fit every figure: obverse columns preserve their ends (i 37–50, ii 83–100, iii 135–150), reverse columns their beginnings (iv 151–162, v 201–217, vi 251–262). Poebel 1914 confirms that C 16 is the last line of col. 3 and C 17 the first of col. 4.
- Jacobsen 1981 (and TUAT, which follows him) has a different numbering; not available here.

Sources consulted

See "Base text" above. Also: `../../sources/Poebel-1914--PBS-4-1/deluge-text-pp9-70.ocr-extract.md` (OCR, used for column structure and history of interpretation only); ETCSL 5.6.1 (Instructions of Šuruppag), 2.1.1 (King List), 1.8.1.3 (Death of Bilgameš), 1.8.2.3 (Enmerkar and the Lord of Aratta, the "spell of Nudimmud") for shared formulas.

Decisions

1. Aspect. ORACC's `morph` analysis decides ḫamṭu vs marû. Narrative ḫamṭu → Hebrew past. Narrative marû (D 1, D 2, D 11, E 3, E 7, E 8) → Hebrew participle (present), which keeps the imperfective/plural/solemn-present colour without inventing a nuance; each case is noted. Cohortative ga- → Hebrew cohortative (`אָשִׁיבָה`); precative ḫe₂- → jussive.

2. kab dug₄-ga (B 10, B 16, C 22, D 2): a recurring term of unknown exact meaning. ETCSL lemmatises kab₂ "gauge", and kab₂ dug₄ elsewhere in the corpus means "to measure, to check" (ETCSL 4.06.1: water measured with a 1-sila jug; 2.4.2.01: Šulgi "measuring" his strength). Rendered הַחֲלָקוֹת הַמְּדוּדוֹת? ("the measured plots"), identical in all four lines, with ?. ETCSL leaves it untranslated (.....); others render "cult centres" (Kramer) or "capitals/settlements" (Civil, via Jiménez Zamudio). Open.
3. The Ur manuscript is a separate section, not an apparatus layer. Reasons: (a) its 32 lines are mostly one- or two-word stubs and overlap the Nippur composite in wording only in the city ordinals (Ur r 2′–4′, 7′ ↔ B 11–15); (b) its sequence differs (Enlil, then "shepherdship", i.e. the appointment of the first king Alulim, per Peterson), so it is a different recension, and an apparatus layer would imply a line-alignment that we cannot verify without Peterson 2018; (c) its obverse ("no snake, no lion, no dog, [no wolf]") belongs to a part of the story that N has lost entirely, so there is nothing for an apparatus to hang on. Cross-references are given in the apparatus at B 11–16.
4. Names. Shared forms (../renderings.md). Sumerian city names follow the shared forms with a first-occurrence note: Eridug → אֶרִידוּ, Larag → לָרַךְ, Zimbir → סִיפַּר, Šuruppag → שׁוּרוּפַּךְ. Sumerian-only names: see renderings.md (project) and the proposals below.
5. iz-zi-da ("side-wall") → קִיר הַצַּד; e₂-ĝar₈ (C 17; the Sumerian source of Akk. igāru) → קִיר. The wall speech C 19–21 is marked as parallel to Atra-ḫasīs III i 20–21 and Gilg. XI 21–22, and C 20–21 as sharing a formula with the Instructions of Šuruppag 9–11 (father to Ziusudra).
6. niĝ₂-gilim (A 13, E 3, E 10): "small creature(s)" (ePSD2 "rodent"; ETCSL "small animal"; ETCSL translation simply "animals"). Rendered הַיְצוּרִים הַקְּטַנִּים, not שֶׁרֶץ/רֶמֶשׂ (echo control: these are Genesis's words; the parallel is tagged instead).
7. edin (A 14) "steppe" → עֲרָבָה, not עֵדֶן; the much-discussed etymological link (Sum. eden → Akk. edinu → Heb. עֵדֶן?) is put in the apparatus only.
8. dim₂ "to fashion" → עִצֵּב, not עָשָׂה/יָצַר (both Genesis creation verbs). The noun niĝ₂-dim₂-dim₂-ma → יְצוּרַי (the ordinary Hebrew noun; root echo noted).
9. ud-ba / ud-bi-a → בָּעֵת הַהִיא, not בַּיָּמִים הָהֵם (which would pre-empt Gen 6:4; parallel noted).
10. zi "life, breath": חַיִּים (E 1–2 oath "by the life of heaven/earth"; E 8 zi da-ri₂ = חַיֵּי נֶצַח, not חַיֵּי עוֹלָם, to avoid pre-empting Gen 3:22 לְעֹלָם).

Open questions

- C 12 (an saĝ NIĜIN mu-un-dim₂-dim₂): what Ziusudra "fashions" (an idol? Poebel/Kramer). Left as **….
- C 15 (ma-mu₂ nu-me-a): "something that was not a dream" (ETCSL) vs "in dreams that had not been before" (Poebel). Matters for the comparison with Atra-ḫasīs III i 11–14 / Gilg. XI 197 / Berossus (revelation in a dream).
- D 8 ba-an-kur₉-re-en: the -en ending (1st/2nd sg.) is anomalous for Utu as subject.

- E 1–2: the addressees of "you (pl.) shall swear by the life of heaven, by the life of earth" (the gods? the animals?) and the meaning of `za-e-da … la₂`.
- Get Civil 1969, Jacobsen 1981, Peterson 2018 and Chen 2013 (see `_records-only--Sumerian-flood-secondary/`) to check the cruxes above.

Progress log

- 2026-10-16: project created; sources read; line numbering mapped to Civil and the tablet columns; morphology extracted from ORACC.
- 2026-10-16: `renderings.md` written.
- 2026-10-16: `annotated.rtl.md` drafted, all surviving lines: A 1–14, B 1–18, C 1–28, D 1–17, E 1–12; Ur obv. 1′–18′, rev. 1′–14′ (121 lines).
- 2026-10-16: review passes done. (a) Fidelity: brackets re-checked against the ETCSL transliteration (B 9, C 20 corrected). (b) Consistency: repeated lines verified identical — A 9 = B 8; A 11 = C 9; D 9 = E 4; D 10 ≈ E 5; C 11 ≈ E 9 (opening); B 10 ≈ B 16; C 22 ≈ D 2; A 6 ≈ B 9. (c) Hebrew: read through; "הָרְעִיָּה" replaced (ambiguous with רַעְיָה "wife"). All Bible quotations checked mechanically against `תנך-מנוקד/`; Gilgameš XI line numbers checked against the eBL reading edition, Atra-ḫasīs references against SEAL 1517.
- 2026-10-16: `translation.rtl.md` produced (checked by script: its 121 lines are identical to the annotated renderings). Status: first complete draft. Next: check the cruxes against Civil 1969 / Jacobsen 1981 / Peterson 2018 if obtained.
- 2026-10-21: cross-corpus harmonization (the lead's decision 8, settled): me maḫ = `הַ֫מָּה הַנִּשְׁגָּבִים` instead of `הַכֹּחוֹת הַנִּשְׁגָּבִים` (A 9 = B 8, still identical). Decision 5: the "spell of Nudimmud" (nam-šub) is `קסם נודימוד` in the apparatus and the introduction. Decision 9: Inana was already `אִינַנָּה` (one partly vocalized note fixed).

D 6, 8 (206, 208)	{d}utu i-im-ma-ra-e₃ … / šul {d}utu ĝiš-nu₁₁-ni-da	אוּתוּ יָצָא … / הָעֶלֶם אוּתוּ, עִם אוֹרוֹ	8:1; 8:22	[divergence]	The sun-god appears and enters the boat; in Genesis God "remembers" Noah, and day and night "shall not cease".
D 7 (207)	ab-BUR₂ mu-un-da-buru₃	קָדַח חֲרַךְ	6:16; 8:6; 8:13	[equivalent]	An opening made in the boat ↔ צֹהַר , וַיִּפְתַּח נֹחַ אֶת חַלּוֹן הַתֵּבָה, וַיְסַר … אֶת מִכְסֵה הַתֵּבָה. Cf. Gilg. XI 137.
D 10–11 (210–211)	giri₁₇ ki su-ub ba-gub / gud im-ma-ab-gaz-e udu im-ma-ab-šar₂-re	הִשְׁתַּחֲוָה, אַפּוֹ אַרְצָה / שׁוֹחֵט שׁוֹר, צֹאן מַרְבֶּה	8:20–21	[divergence]	Prostration and sacrifice of oxen and sheep, to the sun-god, apparently still in/at the boat and before the animals come out (E 3); Noah builds an altar after leaving and offers עֹלֹת of clean animals and birds. No "pleasing odour" survives here.
E 1–2 (251–252)	zi an-na zi ki-a i₃-pad₃-de₃-en-ze₂-en	בְּחַיֵּי הַשָּׁמַיִם, בְּחַיֵּי הָאָרֶץ — תִּשְׁבָּעוּ	9:8–17	[divergence]	An oath "by the life of heaven and earth" after the flood ↔ the covenant (9:13) בֵּינִי וּבֵין הָאָרֶץ. Context unclear.
E 3 (253)	niĝ₂-gilim-ma ki-ta ed₃-de₃ im-ma-ra-ed₃-de₃	הַיְצוּרִים הַקְּטַנִּים — מַטָּה יוֹרְדִים	8:17–19	[equivalent]	The animals come out (if ETCSL's "disembarked" is right) ↔ כָּל הַחַיָּה … יָצְאוּ מִן הַתֵּבָה.
E 6 (256)	an {d}en-lil₂ zi-ud-su₃-ra₂ mi₂-e-eš₂ [X-dug₄-X]	אַן וְאֶנְלִיל בְּזִיּוּסוּדְרָה בְּחִבָּה [נָהֲגוּ]	6:8; 9:1	[equivalent]	Divine favour ↔ וְנֹחַ מָצָא חֵן, וַיְבָרֶךְ אֱלֹהִים אֶת נֹחַ. Cf. Gilg. XI 199–200 (Enlil blesses).

E 7–8 (257–258)	til₃ diĝir-gin₇ … / zi da-ri₂ diĝir-gin₇	חַיִּים כָּאֵל … / חַיֵּי נֶצַח כָּאֵל	3:22; 5:24; 6:3; 9:29	[divergence] / [absent]	The survivor becomes immortal "like a god" (cf. Gilg. XI 203–204); in Genesis eternal life is what man must not attain (וְחַי לְעֹלָם, 3:22), and Noah dies (9:29). Nearest: Enoch (5:24).
E 10 (260)	numun nam-lu₂-ulu₃ uru₃ ak	שָׁמַר עַל … זֶרַע הָאֱנוֹשׁוּת	6:19–20; 7:3	[equivalent]	Ziusudra "guarded the seed of mankind" and the small creatures ↔ לְהַחֲיוֹת זֶרַע עַל פְּנֵי כָל הָאָרֶץ. Reason for the reward = Noah's task.
E 11 (261)	kur-bal kur dilmun-na ki {d}utu e₃-še₃ mu-un-til₃-eš	בְּאֶרֶץ הַמַּעֲרָב, אֶרֶץ דִּלְמוּן, בִּמְקוֹם צֵאת אוּתוֹ – הוֹשִׁיבוּהוּ	2:8, 15; 3:24	[equivalent] / [divergence]	A far land "where the sun rises" where the gods settle the man ↔ גַּן בְּעֵדֶן מִקֶּדֶם; וַיָּשֶׂם שָׁם אֶת הָאָדָם, וַיִּנִּחֵהוּ בְּגַן עֵדֶן. But here paradise is the survivor's reward after the flood; in Genesis it is lost at the beginning. Gilg. XI 205–206: "they settled me far away, at the mouth of the rivers" (cf. Gen 2:10–14).
Ur o 3′–5′	ud-ba id₂ … / eg₂ pa₅-re … / {ĝeš}apin	בָּעֵת הַהִיא … / נָהָר … סוֹלְלוֹת / … וּתְעָלוֹת מַחֲרֵשָׁה	2:5–6	[equivalent?]	Probably a "not yet" description (no canals, dykes, plough) ↔ וְאָדָם אַיִן לַעֲבֹד אֶת הָאֲדָמָה. Negation is lost; weak.
Ur o 9′	tug₂ saĝ šu tag-…	בֶּגֶד …	2:25; 3:7, 21	[equivalent?]	Clothing in a primeval description; context lost.

Also Isa 11:6–8; 65:25.
Ur r 10′	nam-sipad	מִשְׁרַת הָרוֹעֶה	4:2	[divergence]	The first king is appointed to "shepherdship" (Alulim, per Peterson); in Genesis the first shepherd is Abel.

Lessons for the guidelines

- ORACC CDL JSON carries a `morph` field (e.g. `ha.Vmma.i.n:~`, `V:~;e.eš`) for Sumerian lemmatised texts. It decides ḫamṭu/marû and the prefix chain, and is the Sumerian equivalent of "check the stem" (§5 step 5.2). The existing `tools/cdl2md.py` does not print it; a reusable extractor should (field names: `f.form, f.cf, f.gw, f.sense, f.base, f.morph`).
- ETCSL's TEI XML is lemmatised too (`<w form lemma pos label>`), and the bulk corpus allows a concordance of any rare word in seconds. That is how `kab₂ dug₄` "to measure" and the Šuruppag formula in C 20–21 were found. Recommend a small `etcsl_concord.py` in `tools/`. (This session's throw-away versions, not copied into `tools/` because the brief forbids writing outside the project folder: `cdl.py` (ORACC CDL → form | lemma | sense | morph) and `etcsl_lem.py` (ETCSL XML → per-line lemmas) in the session scratchpad `sumtr/`.)
- Map line numbers by gap arithmetic and check against any quoted line. ETCSL's "approx. N lines missing" plus one verified anchor per column gave Civil's numbering for the whole text and exposed an off-by-one in ETCSL's own manuscript list (B "84–100").
- Tablet physics helps: on a tablet whose lower part survives, obverse columns keep their ends and reverse columns their beginnings; a "segment" boundary may be a mere column turn with no gap (here C 16/17).
- Sumerian marû in narrative → Hebrew participle is a workable default that shows the aspect without over-interpreting (see Decisions §1). Generalize to other Sumerian projects.
- Sumerian formulas recur across genres (wall speech ↔ Instructions of Šuruppag; flood epoch formula ↔ King List). Before drafting a Sumerian line, search ETCSL for its formula.
