Atraḫasis OB III (Sippar) | Sources of Early Akkadian Literature

Source: https://seal.huji.ac.il/node/1517 (SEAL – Sources of Early Akkadian Literature, ed. M. P. Streck & N. Wasserman). Retrieved 2026-10-16. Clean extraction of `_raw/node-1517.html`.

Conventions: line numbers exactly as in SEAL (manuscript siglum + column + line; primes = line count from first preserved line). `...` = determinatives/superscript signs; subscript digits in sigla rendered as Unicode (C_0). Italics (Akkadian vs. Sumerogram distinction) are NOT preserved here – see the raw HTML. Under each line, `lemmas:` lists SEAL's lemmatisation (lemma + gloss) for that line.

C_2i 10' [. . .] . . .

C_2i 11' –12' Atra-ḫasīs opened his mouth and addressed his lord:

C_2i 13'–14' “Teach me the meaning [of the dream], so that I may kn[ow its reason] and look for its purpose”.

C_2i 15' –16' [Enki] opened his mouth and addressed his servant:

C_2i 17' “Should you say: ‘How am I to search (for it) in (my) bedroom?’

C_2i 18'–19' Observe well, you, the task that I will tell you:

C₂i 20' –21' ‘Wall, listen to me carefully! Reed wall, reed wall, observe all my words!

C₂i 22' –24' Depart from (your) house, build a boat! Spurn property and save life!

C₂i 25'–26' The boat which you will build [. . .should] be equal [(. . .)]

C₂i 27' [. . .]

C₁ i 29'–30' Roof her over like the Apsû, so that the sun shall not see inside her.

C₁ i 31'–32' Let her be roofed over above and below, let (her) frame be very strong.

C₁ i 33' Let the bitumen be tough, thus strengthen (the boat).

C₁ i 34'–35' Later I will rain down upon you an abundance of birds, baskets of fishes’”.

C₁ i 36'–37' He opened the water-clock, filled it; He told him of the coming of the Flood, its seven nights.

C₁ i 38'–39' Atra-ḫasīs received the instruction. He assembled the elders to his gate.

C₁ i 40'–41' Atra-ḫasīs opened his mouth and addressed the elders:

C₁ i 42' “My god [came to a] dis[agreement] with your god,

C₁ i 43'–44' hence Enki and [Enlil] became steadily angry (with one another), (and) expelled me from [my city/land].

C₁ i 45'–46' Since I lastingly revere [Enki], [he told (me)] of th[is m]atter.

C₁ i 47'–48' I will [not] dwell in [your cit]y, I cannot [set my feet on] the earth of Enlil.

C₁ i 49' With my god I shall [go down to the Apsû]”.

C₁ i 50' [This] is what [my god Enki] told me.

C_1 iv 8 '–9' like a raft they leaned against a drenched land, like a raft they leaned against a steppe on a river bank.

C_1 iv 10'–11' I have seen and I wept over them, I have ended my lamentation for them”.

C_1 iv 12'–14' She wept and eased (the burden) of her heart. By wailing, Nintu brought her feelings to exhaustion.

C_1 iv 15' The gods wept with her over the land.

C_1 iv 16'–17' She was replete with grief and thirsted for beer.

C_1 iv 18'–19' Just where she sat weeping, they too sat:

C_1 iv 19'–20' like sheep, they filled the trough.

C_1 iv 21'–23' Their lips were dry with distress, they were unceasingly convulsed from
