Metropolitan Museum of Art — MMA 86.11.378a (Late Babylonian Atra-ḫasīs, Ms. z)

- Object: "Cuneiform tablet: Atra-hasis, Babylonian flood myth", MMA 86.11.378a; Neo-Babylonian or Achaemenid; 6.35 × 5.72 × 2.54 cm; purchased 1886.
- URLs: https://www.metmuseum.org/art/collection/search/321999 ; API https://collectionapi.metmuseum.org/public/collection/v1/objects/321999
- Retrieved: 2026-10-16
- License: Met Open Access — `isPublicDomain: true` → images CC0.

Files

- `met-object-321999.json` — Met API object record.
- `DP-16190-011.jpg` (4000×3987, primary photo), `DP-211-306.jpg`, `DP-211-307.jpg` — high-resolution photos.

Notes

Edited by W. G. Lambert in Spar & Lambert, CTMMA 2 (2005) no. 42, pp. 197–200, pls. 59–60 (paid). Online text: SEAL no. 27129 ("Atraḫasis LB Flood"), Wasserman 2020 Ms. z. CDLI P412215 (line art in `../CDLI/P412215/`). Line numbering: obverse/reverse lines per Lambert 2005 = Wasserman "z obv./rev. n".

Assessment

Free CC0 photos for checking readings of the only LB flood manuscript. Text itself is short (Ea's instruction about the boat and the flood).