Atraḫasis II (all periods) | Sources of Early Akkadian Literature

Source: https://seal.huji.ac.il/node/39732 (SEAL – Sources of Early Akkadian Literature, ed. M. P. Streck & N. Wasserman). Retrieved 2026-10-16. Clean extraction of `_raw/node-39732.html`.

Conventions: line numbers exactly as in SEAL (manuscript siglum + column + line; primes = line count from first preserved line). `…` = determinatives/superscript signs; subscript digits in sigla rendered as Unicode (C_0). Italics (Akkadian vs. Sumerogram distinction) are NOT preserved here – see the raw HTML. Under each line, `lemmas:` lists SEAL's lemmatisation (lemma + gloss) for that line.

Segment C

After segment B there is a gap of unknown length. Col. ii of the OB manuscript I is tentatively placed here as segment C, because Seg. C 1 seems to be parallel to Seg. A 16 and Seg. C 2 parallel to Seg. B 10. However, we could not identify any parallels for Seg. C 3–7. Therefore, the exact position of manuscript I remains uncertain.

Manuscript I iv 13–19 contains a reaction of Enki/Ea to a speech of Atra-ḫasīs. Since these lines follow directly manuscript I iv 12 = Seg. E 161, the end of a long speech of Atra-ḫasīs to Enki/Ea, it is most natural to assume that this reaction has to be placed here as Seg. E 161k–161r. The three manuscripts D, H and S+T+-NA skip these lines and jump directly to another speech of Atra-ḫasīs reported by the messengers to Enki/Ea (Seg. E 162ff.).

Segment F

After Seg. E there is a lacuna of unknown length. We estimate that manuscript D had 55–58 lines in each column. This means that between Seg. E 168 and Seg. G 1, 23–26 lines are missing in D. If manuscript I v is rightly placed here as Seg. F, as we believe, only 5–6 lines are missing before and after Seg. F. Note however that it is not certain that manuscript I and D had exactly the same text.

Seg. A 1 1200 (Q-NA: [36]00) years had not yet passed,

Seg. A 2 when the population of the country had grown numerous and the people multiplied.

Seg. A 3 The land was bellowing like a bull.

Seg. A 4 The god was disturbed with their uproar (bd: clamor; Q-NA: the [g]ods descended).

Seg. A 5 Enlil heard their clamor (Q-NA, S+T+-NA: summoned his assembly).

Seg. A 6 He addressed the great gods (Q-NA, S+T+-NA: the gods, his sons):

Seg. A 6a “Did you put on them a bad fate?

Seg. A 6b The people did not diminish, but have become more numerous than before!

Seg. A 7 The noise of mankind has become too intense for me (S+T+-NA: I got disturbed by their clamor),

Seg. A 8 With their uproar, I am deprived of sleep (S+T+-NA: sleep does not overcome).

Seg. A 9 Cut off sustenance for the people.

Seg. A 10 Let plants be to satisfy their hunger (bd, S+T+-NA: for their belly) in short supply.

Seg. A 11 (S+T+-NA: Above,) Adad should withhold (S+T+-NA: make scarce) his rain.

Seg. A 12 Let the flood not come up pleasantly (S+T-NA: Below, let the flood be blocked and not rise)

Seg. A 13 from the abyss.

Seg. A 14 Let the wind blow

Seg. A 15 and parch the ground.

Seg. A 16 Let the clouds grow thicker and thicker

Seg. A 17 but not release a drop.

Seg. A 18 Let the fields withhold their yields.

Seg. A 19 Let Nisaba stop up (S+T+-NA: turn away) her breast.

Seg. A 20 Let there be no rejoicing for them.

Seg. E 93 [He s]at down, constantly weeping.

Seg. E 94 The stream (D: the river), being quiet,

Seg. E 95 at midnight (D: at [night]), he made an offering.

Seg. E 96 Sleep, a twin one, was drawing near,

Seg. E 97 (and) he said to the river (be: the stream):

Seg. E 98 “Let the river take it and bear it along (X-MB: let the st[ream] take it; be: let the stream take it, let the river bear it along).

Seg. E 99 Let my [gi]ft pa[ss] (X-MB; be: let the gift be placed)

Seg. E 113 and ask him, how fares his land, and tell me!”

Seg. E 114 They crossed the wide sea and

Seg. E 115 arrived at the quay of Apsû (and(?))

Seg. E 116 they repeated Ea’s message to Atra-ḫasīs:

Seg. E 116a … […]

Seg. E 117 “Whoever you are who cry,

Seg. E 118 your wailing has descended to the Apsû.

Seg. E 119 Ea heard your voice,

Seg. E 120 and (be: omits) us he sent into your presence.”

Seg. E 121 “Did Enki hear me by somebody (X-MB, be: If Ea heard me)?

Seg. E 122 Did I make water (and) river bring (it) in the night? (X-MB, be: What in …)”.

Seg. E 123 Immediately they answered him,

Seg. E 124 saying to him, to Atra-ḫasīs:

Seg. E 125 “Sleep, a twin one, drew (be: was drawing) near,

Seg. E 125a (and) you(! text: he) spoke to the stream, the river.

Seg. E 126 The stream took it and the river bore it along.

Seg. E 127 The gift passed (be: was placed) before Enki (be: Ea), your lord.

Seg. E 128 Enki (be: Ea) saw it and reminded himself of you.

Seg. E 129 (be: And) Us he sent into your presence.”

Seg. E 130 He bowed down and kissed the ground before them.

Seg. E 131 The long-haired heroes […] to the midst of the seas.

Seg. E 132 Ea opened his mouth and spoke,
