Folder layout

Each text = raw page `node-NNNN--<name>.html` + clean extraction `node-NNNN--<name>.md` (UTF-8; diacritics and ⌈ ⌉ ⌊ ⌋ exactly as on the site; `<sup>` kept for determinatives; manuscript subscripts as Unicode C_0/C_1; under every line a `lemmas:` line with SEAL's lemma + English gloss). Italics (Akkadian vs. logogram) are only in the HTML.

Sub-folder	SEAL no.	Text	Content
	27129	LB Flood	Ms. z (MMA 86.11.378A)
`Gilgamesh-XI-Flood/`	27120	Gilg. XI Flood	Gilgameš XI flood section (lines numbered "Gilg. XI n"), translit. + translation

Line numbering

Manuscript siglum + column + line exactly as on the tablet (`C₁ i 2`, `C₂ i 11'`, `Ark 12`, `Gilg. XI 1`); identical to Wasserman 2020 (OBO 290). Translations are given per line-group (e.g. `C₀ iv 3'–4'`). The "all periods" composites interleave manuscripts per line (`B i 1`, `D i 1`, `Q-NA obv. 9`, …) using Lambert & Millard sigla.

Assessment

Excellent for translation work: authoritative (= Wasserman 2020 edition), every word lemmatised with gloss, fully searchable text. Best machine-readable base for OB Atra-ḫasīs III (node 1517) and all MB/NA/LB flood fragments, and for Tablets I–II via the composites. Caveats: sign-level conventions slightly idiosyncratic (e.g. erasures as `{AT{`); some catalogue nodes are empty; no Tablet III "all periods" composite (the Flood is split by manuscript).

`KAR-4/`	1600	KAR 4 ("When heaven had been separated from earth"), bilingual Sumerian–Akkadian, MA/NA	mss. A = VAT 9307 (Assur), B = K 4175+ (Nineveh), C = A 17643 (Chicago); 191 SEAL lines = about 75 composite lines with Sumerian line + Akkadian line (empty label `↳` = the Akkadian line), lemmatised Akkadian, line-by-line English translation (with "Akk." / "B" variants)
`Adapa-MB-EA-356/`	1557	EA 356, Adapa and the South Wind (MB, Amarna)	transliteration only (no translation), 71 lines; second opinion on eBL `L/1/7` MB

Downloaded with a browser User-Agent (SEAL returns an error page to curl's default UA) and converted with the new `../../tools/seal2md.py`.

Added 2026-10-17: `CH-Prologue-Epilogue--node-7520/`

- SEAL 7520, "CH Prologue and Epilogue (Hammurāpi)" (M. P. Streck): the prologue (col. i–v) and epilogue (col. xlvii–li) of the Laws of Hammurabi on the Louvre stele, 800 lines, transliteration, per-word lemmas, and Streck's English translation (one paragraph, numbered by line). Raw `node-7520.html` (930 KB) + `node-7520.md` (`tools/seal2md.py`). Gitignored (SEAL/*).
- Numbering: SEAL's columns use the continuous stele numbering (I–XXIII obverse, XXIV–LI reverse): col. i–v = CDLI stele obv. 1–5 = composite lines 1–303; col. xlvii–li = stele rev. 24–28 = composite 3144′–3641′. Lines match the stele lines one to one.
- Readings differ from CDLI in places (e.g. epilogue xlvii 1 ki-na-a-at where CDLI reads di-na-a-at): compare both.
- Used as the second opinion and the lemmatisation for the prologue and epilogue of `חוקים-ובריתות/2-חוקי-חמורבי/`.

Sub-folder	SEAL no.	Text	Content
`Gilgamesh-OB/`	1830	Gilg. OB II (Penn, UM 29.13.570)	transliteration with per-word lemmas, translation (George 2003's, as on SEAL)
	1831	Gilg. OB III (Yale, YBC 2178)	the same (the SEAL page has only part of the text)
	1534	Gilg. OB VA+BM (Sippar; Šiduri)	the same
	1532	Gilg. OB Schøyen 2	the same
	1530	Gilg. OB Nippur	the same
	1526	Gilg. OB Harmal 1	the same

Retrieved with a browser User-Agent and converted by `tools/seal2md.py`. Second opinion on the eBL OB chapters (`eBL/Gilgamesh-OB-*`, the base texts): the SEAL translation is George's, so it is not an independent rank-3 check; its lemmas and line labels (by column) are the value. Line labels: by column (`i 1'`), against eBL's running labels (`1'`, `a+1`, `b+1`): align by content.
